Course overview

Introduction

Our aim with American English File Third Edition has been to make every lesson better and to make the package more student- and teacher-friendly. As well as the main A and B Student Book lessons, there is a range of material that you can use according to your students' needs and the time and resources you have available. Don't forget:

- videos that can be used in class in every File: Practical English, Video Listening, and Can you understand these people?
- Quick Tests and File tests for every File, as well as Progress Tests, an End-of-course Test, and an Entry Test, which you can use at the beginning of the course
- photocopiable Grammar and Communicative activities for every A and B lesson, and a Vocabulary activity for every Vocabulary Bank

Online Practice and the Workbook provide review, support, and practice for students outside the class.

The Teacher's Guide suggests different ways of exploiting the Student Book depending on the level of your class. We very much hope you enjoy using American English File Third Edition.

What do Level 3 students need?

Level 3 is often a milestone for students: at this point, many students really begin to "take off" in terms of their ability to communicate. Some students, however, may see Level 3 as a "plateau" and feel that they are no longer making the progress they were before. Students at this level need fresh challenges to help them to realize how much they know and to make their passive knowledge active, together with a steady input of new language.

Grammar

- Reinforcement and extension of main grammatical structures
- Practice in using different tenses together
- Student-friendly reference material

We have tried to provide contexts for new language that will engage students, using real-life stories and situations, humor, and suspense. The Grammar Banks give students a single, easy-to-access grammar reference section, with example sentences with audio, clear rules, and common errors.

There are at least two practice exercises for each grammar point. Students can look again at the grammar presented in the lesson on Online Practice. The Workbook provides a variety of practice exercises and the opportunity for students to use the new grammar to express their own ideas.

Vocabulary

- Systematic expansion of topic-based lexical areas
- Building new words by adding prefixes and suffixes
- Opportunities to put new vocabulary into practice

Every lesson focuses on high-frequency vocabulary and common lexical areas, but keeps the load realistic. All new vocabulary is given with the phonemic script alongside, to help students with the pronunciation of new words.

Many lessons are linked to the Vocabulary Banks which help present and practice the vocabulary in class, give an audio model of each word, and provide a clear reference so students can review and test themselves in their own time. Students can review the meaning and the pronunciation of new vocabulary on Online Practice, and find further practice in the Workbook.

Pronunciation

- Practice in pronouncing sounds, words, and connected speech clearly
- Awareness of rules and patterns
- Focus on word and sentence stress

Clear, intelligible pronunciation (not perfection) should be the goal of students at this level. There is a pronunciation focus in every lesson, which integrates clear pronunciation into grammar and vocabulary practice. There is an emphasis on the sounds most useful for communication, on word stress, and on sentence rhythm. Online Practice contains the Sound Bank videos which show students the mouth positions to make English vowels and consonants. They can also review the pronunciation from the lesson at their own speed. There is more practice of pronunciation in the Workbook, with audio, which can be found on Online Practice.

Speaking

- Motivating and accessible topics
- The key words and phrases necessary to discuss a topic
- Confidence that their language is clear and intelligible
- Practice in more extended speaking
- Time to organize thoughts before speaking

Lack of self-confidence can be a barrier to successful speaking at this level. Each speaking task is supported by the necessary grammar, vocabulary, and pronunciation and designed to help students to feel a sense of progress and to show that the number of situations in which they can communicate effectively is growing.

6B Every picture tells a story

1 READING & SPEAKING

a Do you have a profile photo or photos that you use on social media? Show your class and tell them your partner. Why did you choose them? How often do you change them?

b Read the article about choosing profile photos. Tick (✓) the statements.

1 The writer only uses certain types of profile photos.
2 The writer is happy because the writer is able to make common types of profile photos.
3 The writer is happy because the writer is able to make common types of profile photos.

What your profile photo says about you

Choosing a profile photo is a serious business. It's not the first thing you think about when you create a new profile. You have to think about what you want to say about yourself. Your image depends on your choice of photo. Here are the most common types of profile photos on social media. Is yours one of them? And if not, what does it say about you?

The portrait
A close-up of your face. It's the most common type of profile photo. It's a simple, straightforward way to show who you are. It's also a good way to show your personality. If you're a serious person, a portrait is a good choice. If you're a fun, outgoing person, a portrait is also a good choice.

The childhood photo
A photo of you as a child. It's a nostalgic way to show who you are. It's also a good way to show your personality. If you're a serious person, a childhood photo is a good choice. If you're a fun, outgoing person, a childhood photo is also a good choice.

The pet
A photo of your pet. It's a way to show your personality. It's also a good way to show your personality. If you're a serious person, a pet photo is a good choice. If you're a fun, outgoing person, a pet photo is also a good choice.

A photo of you and your spouse. It's a way to show your personality. It's also a good way to show your personality. If you're a serious person, a wedding photo is a good choice. If you're a fun, outgoing person, a wedding photo is also a good choice.

GRAMMAR modals of deduction

1 Complete the sentences.

a I have your profile picture. (be/look like)

b I have your profile picture. (be/look like)

c I have your profile picture. (be/look like) d I have your profile picture. (be/look like)

VOCABULARY

1 Match the words with the definitions.

a I have your profile picture. (be/look like)

b I have your profile picture. (be/look like)

c I have your profile picture. (be/look like)

d I have your profile picture. (be/look like)

Listening

- Confidence-building, achievable tasks
- Practice in “getting the gist” and listening for detail
- Practice in dealing with authentic spoken language

At Level 3, students need confidence-building tasks that are progressively more challenging in terms of speed, length, and language difficulty, but are always achievable. Longer listenings are broken into separate parts with different tasks, to avoid memory overload. Students are exposed to a wide variety of accents, including some non-native speakers of English. On Online Practice, for each File students can find further listening practice related to the topic. They can also access the listening activities from every lesson, to practice on their own time, and to read the script to check anything that they have found difficult.

Reading

- Engaging topics and stimulating material
- Exposure to a wide variety of authentic text types
- Challenging tasks that help them read more skillfully

Many students need to read in English for their work or studies, and reading is also important in helping to build vocabulary and to reinforce grammar. The key to encouraging students to read is to provide material where they feel there is a reason to read and tasks that help them to get the most out of a text. This level contains a variety of readings from real sources (the newspaper, magazines, websites, forums, infographics) and have been chosen for their intrinsic interest and potential to generate a reaction. The opinions expressed in these texts do not necessarily reflect the view of the American English File authors or of Oxford University Press.

Writing

- Clear models for a variety of text types
- An awareness of register, structure, and fixed phrases
- A focus on “micro” writing skills

It is often difficult to motivate students to write at this level. In American English File Level 3, each guided writing activity flows out of a main lesson to ensure that students have plenty of ideas to start with and focuses on key areas of language, style, and organization to help break the writing process down into a series of achievable tasks.

Students can use Online Practice to develop their writing skills further. The Discussion board also provides opportunities for informal written interaction.

Practical English

- Reinforcement and extension of functional language
- Knowing what to say in typical social situations
- Getting used to listening to faster, more colloquial speech

The five Practical English lessons review and extend common situations such as introductions or making polite requests, and introduce and practice the language for new situations, like expressing opinions or apologizing. The story line involving the two main characters, Jenny and Rob, continues from where it left off in American English File Level 2, but it is self-standing, so it can be used equally with students who did not use the previous level. The lessons also highlight other key “Social English” phrases, for example, Could you tell me why...? and If you don't mind. On Online Practice, students can use the interactive video to record themselves and hear their own voice in the complete conversation. They can also listen and record the Social English phrases. The Workbook provides practice of all the language from the Practical English lessons.

Review

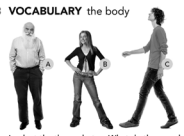

- Regular review
- Motivating reference and practice material
- A sense of progress

Students will usually only assimilate and remember new language if they have the chance to see it and use it several times. Grammar, Vocabulary, and Pronunciation are recycled throughout the course. After every two Files there is a two-page Review & Check section. The left-hand page reviews the grammar, vocabulary, and pronunciation of each File.

The right-hand page provides a series of skills-based challenges, including street interviews, and helps students to measure their progress in terms of competence. These pages are designed to be used flexibly according to the needs of your students. On Online Practice, for each File, there are three Check your progress activities. The first is a multiple-choice activity for students to test themselves on the grammar and vocabulary from the File. The second is a dictation related to the topic and the language of the File for students to practice the new language in context. Finally, there is a Challenge activity, which involves a mini-research project based on a topic from the File. Every two Files, the Workbook contains a Can you remember...? page, which provides a cumulative review of language students have covered in the Student Book.

e 6.19 Listen to Colin talking about what he learns. Check your answers to d.

Can you learn how to be charismatic?

Colin Drury and Danish Sheikh.

In the 21st century, charisma is the quality that people in all fields of life, from business to politics, would most like to have. But can you learn it? The man I have just met thinks so. His name is Danish Sheikh, and he is a charisma coach. He has worked with Microsoft, Yahoo, and the BBC, and he thinks he can turn anyone into George Clooney. He charges £500 an hour, and plenty of people are paying. And for two days, I'm going to be his student.

Yesterday, he followed me everywhere and watched how I behaved with people – in shops, in the hairdressers, and in work meetings. His impression of me are not good – for example, I can't make conversation, I have negative body language, and I don't smile enough. I also seem bored when I'm talking to people.

'But don't worry!' Sheikh says, cheerfully. 'We're going to fix all this.'

f Listen again. What does Colin say about...?

- 1 talking about yourself
- 2 remembering a past success
- 3 how to enter a room
- 4 what happens if you aren't really listening g 6.20 At the end of the two days, Colin has a practical test. Listen and summarize.

- 1 In the pub, Colin has to...
- 2 Sheikh helps him by...
- 3 In the end, Colin thinks that charisma is about...

h Look at these 'body' phrases from the listening. Can you demonstrate them?

stand with your feet apart have your chin up and your shoulders back make eye contact / use hand gestures cross your arms / shake hands / give a thumbs up... i Do you think it's possible to teach people to have charisma? Would you ever do a course like this? Why / not?

6 VIDEO LISTENING

a Watch Part 1 of A day with a personal stylist and pause when Sam has tried on four outfits. Which do you like best?

Course overview

For students

Student Book

The Student Book has 10 Files. Each File is organized like this:

A and B lessons

Each File contains two four-page lessons that present and practice Grammar, Vocabulary, and Pronunciation with a balance of reading and listening activities, and lots of opportunities for speaking. Practical English

Every two Files (starting from File 1) there is a two-page lesson that teaches high-frequency, everyday English (e.g., language for asking for permission and making requests) and social English (useful phrases like How come you're so late? and I think I'll go home if you don't mind). The video is in the form of a drama, featuring the two main characters, Rob and Jenny. The lessons have a storyline that runs through the level.

Review & Check

Every two Files (starting from File 2) there is a two-page section reviewing the Grammar, Vocabulary, and Pronunciation of each File and providing Reading, Listening, and Speaking. - G simple present and continuous, action and nonaction verbs
V food and cooking
P vowel sounds

Lesson plan

The topic of this first lesson is food and cooking. The lesson begins with some quotes about food, which lead into the Vocabulary Bank, where Sts extend their knowledge of words and phrases related to food and cooking. There is then a pronunciation focus on vowel sounds, which is relevant to this lexical area and will be especially useful if your Sts are not familiar with the American English File sound-picture system. Sts then do a food questionnaire before listening to six people, each answering one of the questions in the questionnaire. Sts read an article about new research that shows that eating at the right time can make us happier and healthier.

In the second half of the lesson, Sts listen to an interview with Marianna Leivaditaki, the head chef at Morito, a popular restaurant in London. Extracts from the interview lead to the grammar focus, which is on the simple present and present continuous, and Sts are introduced to the concept of action and nonaction verbs. The lesson ends with a speaking activity where Sts discuss statements related to food, cooking, and restaurants.

If you would like to begin the first lesson without the book, there is a Communicative photocopiable Getting to know you activity on pp.176–177 (instructions p.169), two photocopiable review Grammar activities on pp.147–148 (key p.144), and one Vocabulary photocopiable Classroom language activity on p.203 (instructions p.199).

There is an Entry Test in the Teacher Resource Center, which you can give Sts before starting the course.

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN (BOOKS CLOSED)

Put Sts in pairs or small groups. Write this puzzle on the board, or read the categories aloud one by one, and get pairs / small groups to write down their answers:

ONE RED FRUIT, ONE YELLOW FRUIT, ONE GREEN FRUIT

TWO KINDS OF FOOD THAT SOME PEOPLE ARE ALLERGIC TO

THREE KINDS OF FOOD THAT COME FROM MILK

FOUR VEGETABLES THAT YOU CAN PUT IN A SALAD

FIVE CONTAINERS THAT YOU CAN BUY FOOD IN

SIX THINGS THAT PEOPLE SOMETIMES HAVE FOR BREAKFAST

Elicit answers and write them on the board (eliciting the spelling from Sts if you want to review the alphabet).

1 VOCABULARY food and cooking

- a Books open. Focus on the instructions and make sure Sts know what a quote is and the website Pinterest.

Give Sts time to fill in the blanks with a word or phrase from the list.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers. Model and drill the pronunciation of any words your Sts find difficult to pronounce.

1 pear 2 pasta 3 onions 4 tomato, fruit salad
5 cake 6 cookie

- b Give Sts time to decide which quote they like best and why.

Put Sts in pairs and get them to tell each other their favorite quote.

Get some feedback from the class. You could also tell the class which quote is your favorite and why.

- c Tell Sts to go to Vocabulary Bank Food and cooking on p.152.

Vocabulary notes

Food

In this lexical group, as in many others, there are large numbers of useful words, and a selection has been made in order not to overwhelm Sts. However, words that are important in your Sts' country because they are very common or popular foods may have been left out and it is important to teach them and get Sts to add them to the Vocabulary Bank page, so that they are equipped with the vocabulary they need to do the speaking activities that follow.

Cooking

Sts may ask what the difference is between baked and roasted because both mean cooked in the oven: baked is used for bread, cakes, and most sweet things, and also fruit. Roasted always means cooked with fat, and is used especially for meat, potatoes, and vegetables.

Focus on 1 Food and get Sts to do a individually or in pairs.

 1.2 Now do b. Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

Get some feedback and write any new words on the board.

Focus on 2 Cooking and get Sts to do a individually or in pairs.

2 Cooking

- 6 baked
- 5 boiled
- 1 fried
- 2 grilled
- 4 roasted
- 3 steamed

Now either use the audio to drill the pronunciation of the words, or model and drill them yourself. Give further practice of any words your Sts find difficult to pronounce. Now focus on Activation and get Sts to tell a partner how they like the four items to be cooked.

Get some feedback from the class.

Finally, focus on 3 Phrasal verbs and get Sts to do a individually or in pairs.

1.4 Now do b. Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

3 Phrasal verbs

- 1 I eat out a lot because I don't really have time to cook. Luckily, there are lots of good restaurants close to where I live.
- 2 I'm trying to cut down on coffee right now. I'm only having one cup at breakfast.
- 3 The doctor told me that I should completely cut out all cheese and dairy products from my diet.

EXTRA CHALLENGE Get Sts to make a true sentence about themselves using each phrasal verb.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 1A.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Vocabulary photocopiable activity at this point.

d Tell Sts to look at the list of adjectives that are used to describe food. You might want to point out that hot here means the same as spicy.

Either put Sts in pairs or do this as a whole-class activity.

If Sts worked in pairs, elicit their ideas. Elicit the meaning of each adjective and drill pronunciation.

Possible answers

canned	tomatoes, tuna, etc.
fresh	fish, vegetables, etc.
frozen	peas, fish, pizza etc.
hot / spicy	sauce, chicken, etc.
low-fat	yogurt, cheese, etc.
raw	fish, vegetables, etc.

e 1.5 Focus on the instructions and make sure Sts understand what they have to do. Point out that the first one (raw salmon) has been done for them.

Play the audio for Sts to complete the task.

Check answers. You may want to point out to Sts that yogurt can also be spelled yoghurt. Model and drill pronunciation of any words your Sts find difficult to pronounce.

- 2 spicy shrimp, hot food 3 fresh tuna 4 low-fat yogurt
5 canned peaches 6 frozen raspberries

1.5

- 1 A Do you like salmon sushi?

- 3 A How should I cook this fresh tuna?
B Just grill it for a few minutes on each side.
- 4 A Are you going to the supermarket? Could you get me some low-fat yogurt?
B Sure. What flavor do you want?
A Just plain.
- 5 A What else can I put in this fruit salad?
B Well, we've got some canned peaches. How about those?
- 6 A I never buy frozen raspberries.
B No, they taste OK, but the texture just isn't the same.

2 PRONUNCIATION vowel sounds

Pronunciation notes

Sts work on distinguishing between two similar sounds and they look at the typical spellings for these sounds. Then there are exercises to show Sts how useful it is for them to be able to understand the phonetic transcription of words given in print or online dictionaries.

a Focus on the eight sound pictures. If your Sts are not familiar with them, explain that the sound pictures give a clear example of a word with the target sound, and they help Sts remember the pronunciation of the phonetic symbol (there is one for each of the 45 sounds of English).

Elicit and drill the first two words and sounds: fish /ɪ/ and tree /i/.

Now put Sts in pairs and get them to figure out the other six words and sounds.

Check answers.

3 cat /æ/ 4 car /ɑː/ 5 clock /ɑ/ 6 horse /ɔː/
7 bull /ʊ/ 8 boot /u/

b 1.6 Focus on the instructions and point out to Sts that they have to match the letters in pink in the phrases to the sounds in a.

Give Sts time, in pairs, to complete the task. Tell them that this kind of exercise is easier if they say the phrases aloud to themselves.

Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

crab salad 3 grilled squid 1 a large carton of milk 4 steamed green beans 2 a good cook 7 hot sausages 5 four forks 6 tuna with zucchini 8

1.6

3 cat /æ/ crab salad
1 fish /ɪ/ grilled squid
4 car /ɑː/ a large carton of milk
2 tree /i/ steamed green beans
7 bull /ʊ/ a good cook
5 clock /ɑ/ hot sausages
6 horse /ɔː/ four forks
8 boot /u/ tuna with zucchini

Now play the audio again, pausing after each phrase for Sts to listen and repeat.

EXTRA SUPPORT You could play the audio first for Sts to hear the phrases before they do the matching activity.

EXTRA SUPPORT If these sounds are difficult for your Sts, it will help to show them the mouth position. You could model this yourself or use the Sound Bank videos in the Teacher Resource Center.

3 LISTENING & SPEAKING understanding key words in questions a Focus on the questionnaire and give Sts time, in pairs, to try to guess what the words and phrases in bold mean. Check answers. Model and drill pronunciation.

topping /'tɒpɪŋ/ = a layer of food that you put on top of a dish, to add flavor filling /'fɪlɪŋ/ = food put inside a sandwich ready-made /'reɪdi 'meɪd/ = prepared in advance so that you can eat it immediately or after heating it takeout /'teɪkaʊt/ = a meal that you buy in a restaurant that cooks and sells food that you take out and eat somewhere else, usually at home allergic /ə'lɜːdʒɪk/ = when you react badly or feel sick when you eat sth intolerant /ɪn'tɒlərənt/ = not able to eat particular foods without becoming sick cheer yourself up = to make yourself happier miss /mɪs/ = feel sad because you can't have sth

b 1.7 Focus on the instructions and give Sts time to quickly read all the questions in Your food profile again, and make sure they understand them.

Point out that the first one has been done for Sts.

Play the audio once the whole way through for Sts just to listen.

Naomi

Definitely tea. I went to Aruba on vacation recently, and I was staying at a hotel and they didn't have any good green tea. I really missed it in the mornings.

Sarah

I absolutely love pasta, and I try and eat it whenever I can, so I would find it really difficult to, to live without pasta. Pasta and pesto is my favorite meal, and I have it at least twice a week, usually when my husband's away because he's always telling me not to eat so much pasta.

Emilio

Yes, uh, pretty often. My wife's from Asia, from Indonesia, so we often, we often eat hot food. Um, I love hot food, uh, curries, any Indonesian food. I also love Thai food, like a good green curry.

Tran

I guess, like a lot of people, I tend to eat chocolate in that situation – chocolate or ice cream, maybe. Definitely something sweet.

Austin

Only caffeine, actually which I didn't use to be, I used to drink a lot of coffee, but a few years ago I started noticing that it was, it was affecting me pretty badly when I drank coffee. I was getting headaches and, uh, I've never been tested for it, but, uh, I've stopped drinking caffeine – caffeine in coffee – and I think, I think I feel better.

Sean

I like spicy ones, and I like them with meat, so maybe pepperoni. That's what I always end up ordering in an Italian restaurant.

Now play the audio again, pausing after each speaker for Sts to match each one to a question. Play again if necessary.

Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

Sarah 6 Emilio 2c Tran 4a Austin 3 Sean 1b

c Tell Sts that they are going to listen to the six speakers again and that this time they must write down the food or drink the speakers mention.

Play the audio, pausing after each speaker to give Sts time to write.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

Naomi tea

Sarah pasta

Emilio curries, Indonesian food, Thai food

Tran chocolate, ice cream

Austin caffeine / coffee

Sean meat / pepperoni

- d Put Sts in pairs and get them to ask and answer the questions in Your food profile, giving as much information as possible. They should see if they have anything in common.

EXTRA SUPPORT Demonstrate the activity by answering one or two of the questions yourself before putting Sts in pairs.

Monitor and help with any food vocabulary.

EXTRA CHALLENGE Before Sts give feedback, you may want to teach them the phrases Both of us... and Neither of us..., which they can use to show what they have in common. Highlight that the verb is plural after Both of us and singular after Neither of us.

Get feedback from different pairs to find out if they have anything in common.

4 READING using your own experience to understand a text

- a Put Sts in pairs and get them to tell each other at what time they usually do each activity.

EXTRA SUPPORT Quickly review telling the time by drawing different clocks on the board and eliciting the times.

Get some feedback from various pairs.

- b Give Sts time to read the article and answer the question. Get feedback from various pairs.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the article the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

- c Give Sts time to read the article again. Then in pairs, get Sts to answer questions 1–6. Check answers.

- 1 Because you're less likely to be at risk of heart disease as an adult.
- 2 It can make us more mentally alert.
- 3 Having steak and French fries for lunch means we digest it better. Having it for dinner makes our blood glucose levels higher.
- 4 Because our sense of smell and taste are at their best at this time.
- 5 a yoga or going for a walk b running or bike riding
- 6 Because it helps us to go to sleep.

Help with any other new vocabulary, but not the words in d. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.

- d Focus on the instructions and make sure Sts know what they have to do.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- 1 heart 2 stomach 3 brain 4 muscles 5 lung
- a We have one heart, stomach, and brain.
- b We have two lungs.
- c We have more than two muscles.

- e Put Sts in pairs and get them to discuss the two questions. Get some feedback from various pairs. You could tell Sts what you think about the information in the article.

5 LISTENING predicting content using visual clues

- a Focus on the introduction and read it as a class. You may want to elicit from Sts that Cretan is the adjective used for someone from Crete, a Greek island.

EXTRA SUPPORT Ask Sts some comprehension questions, e.g., Where is Marianna's mother from? (Scotland), Who owned a seafood restaurant? (Marianna's parents), Where does Marianna work now? (Morito / London), etc.

Put Sts in pairs and get them to look at the photos and then tell each other how they think each extract finishes. Get some ideas from the class, but don't tell Sts if they are correct.

- b  1.8 Tell Sts they are going to listen to Part 1 of an interview with Marianna, and they must check their answers to a.

Play the audio once the whole way through.

Get Sts to compare with their partner, and then play again if necessary.

Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the scripts and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

- 1 my dad caught 2 lemon and olive oil 3 a small blue notebook 4 animals, a garden, olive trees, and grapes 5 Greek sandwich with pita bread

(script in the Student Book on p.125)

I = interviewer, M = Marianna Leivaditaki

Part 1

- I With me today I have Marianna Leivaditaki, head chef of the Morito restaurant in London. Marianna, what was your favorite food when you were a child?
- M Um, well, at home we ate a funny mixture because of my parents. Um, fresh fish, bacon and eggs for breakfast on Sundays, and traditional apple pies. But my favorite was fish. We ate fish every day, which my dad caught. In fact, my dad still goes fishing every night!
- I Wow!
- M Yeah, we were really lucky because not all families could do that – could eat fish every day. Even on an island, fish is expensive, unfortunately.
- I Did your dad catch fish for the family or for the restaurant?
- M For both. Um, except for lobsters. When he caught a lobster, he never sold it; it was always for us. We boiled it and ate it with lemon and olive oil. You don't need anything except lemon and olive oil when fish and seafood is really fresh. That's how I cook lobsters nowadays in the restaurant, in Morito.
- I Were you interested in cooking when you were a child?
- M Oh yes. I spent every evening in our restaurant, and instead of playing with the other children, I usually helped in the kitchen. I wrote down recipes which I wanted to cook for the family in a small blue notebook.
- I So your love of food and cooking came from your parents?
- M From my parents and also from my aunt, and from many inspiring ladies who surrounded me when I was growing up. My aunt, Thia Koula, had animals, a garden, olive trees, and grapes. In the summer, I often spent all day with her. She knew everything about wild food in Crete. She only ate what she had grown or found or made herself. Such a beautiful way to eat.
- I Did you ever eat out as a child?
- M Never in the evening, um, because our restaurant was open for dinner seven days a week, but occasionally my mum used to buy me and my brother souvlaki for lunch, a sort of Greek sandwich with pita bread. Inside it has pork, tomato, red onion, and lots of thick yogurt.

- c Now tell Sts to listen again and write down anything else about each photo.

Get Sts to compare with their partner, and then check answers.

See script 1.8

EXTRA SUPPORT Play the audio again, pausing after Marianna mentions each photo to give Sts time to make notes.

- d 1.9 Tell Sts they are now going to listen to Part 2 of the interview. Focus on the questions and quickly go through them.

Play the audio once the whole way through. You could pause after each question is answered to give Sts time to make notes. Play again if necessary.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- 1 She studied psychology at Kent University. She traveled around southern Europe and South America. She went back to Crete and worked in the family restaurant.
- 2 When she was a student, she used to save money and go and eat there. Because she wanted to work there.
- 3 She became head chef.
- 4 It has more Cretan dishes on the menu.
- 5 Four or five times a year. They share all the food and always order too much.

(script in the Student Book on p.125)

Part 2

- I So did you always want to be a chef, to have your own restaurant?
- M No, not at all. I wanted to be a psychologist, and when I was 18, I came to the UK to study at Kent University. Then I decided I didn't want to be a psychologist after all, and I went traveling for a bit – I'd saved some money at university because I worked in the evenings. I went all around southern Europe and also to South America, to Ecuador. I tried all sorts of different dishes and fell in love with food again, so I went back to Crete and worked in our family restaurant for two years.
- I Why did you come back to the UK?
- M Well, I wanted to continue working as a chef, but I needed a bigger challenge. And when I was a student in the UK and I missed good food, I used to save money and go to London to have dinner in a restaurant called Moro. It wasn't Greek food, but it was Mediterranean, Spanish, North African, and I loved it. So when I came back to London, I went to Moro and I said, "I want a job" – and they gave me one.
- I And what happened then?
- M Well, really slowly, through hard work, and after seven years, I became head chef. It was magic. And then the owners of Moro, Samantha and Samuel Clark, suggested that I help them open Morito.
- I How is Morito different from Moro?
- M It's the same inspiration, and um, many of the dishes are similar, but because I run the kitchen, I have been able to have more Cretan dishes on the menu – dishes from my childhood. This week, for example, I'm making ntakos, a Cretan salad made with fresh goat's cheese, tomato, and bread.
- I Do you go back to Crete much?
- M Yes, I go to Crete maybe four or five times a year. My family's restaurant is closed now, but I go out for lunch with my friends, the people I miss when I'm in London. Food comes, and we share everything. We always order too much, and by the end of it we feel incredibly full.
- I Well, Marianna, it's been great talking with you, and thanks for coming in.
- M Thank you very much for having me.

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the two scripts on p.125, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

- e Put Sts in pairs and get them to tell each other about the three questions.

Get feedback from various pairs, or simply ask the whole class. You could also tell them about yourself.

6 GRAMMAR simple present and continuous, action and nonaction verbs

- a Give Sts time to circle the correct form in each sentence. Then get them to compare with a partner.

- b 1.10 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Give Sts time, in their pairs, to say why they think each form is used.

Check answers, getting Sts to explain why (in their L1 if necessary) the other form is wrong. For 1, they may simply "feel" that need is correct without being able to explain why. This would be a good moment to explain about action / nonaction verbs (see Grammar notes).

- 1 don't need (It's a non-action verb, not usually used in the continuous.)
- 2 I'm making (It's a temporary action which is only happening this week.)
- 3 I go (It's a habitual action.)

1.10

- 1 You don't need anything except lemon and olive oil when fish and seafood is really fresh.
- 2 This week, for example, I'm making ntakos, a Cretan salad...
- 3 I go to Crete maybe four or five times a year.

- c Tell Sts to go to Grammar Bank 1A on p.132. If your Sts haven't used the American English File series before, explain that all the grammar rules and exercises are in this part of the book.

Grammar notes

Simple present

At this level, Sts should be clear about the form and use of the simple present.

Remind Sts of the difference in pronunciation of the third person -s, i.e., /s/ (verbs ending in an unvoiced consonant, e.g., cooks, eats), /z/ (verbs ending in a vowel sound or voiced consonant, e.g., plays, has), and /ɪz/ (verbs where you have added -es, e.g., watches, finishes).

Remind them too of the irregular pronunciation of (he / she / it) says /sez/ and does /dʌz/.

! The simple present is also occasionally used to refer to the future, e.g., The next train leaves at 7:30. This use is not dealt with here.

Present continuous

Sts who don't have a continuous form in their language may need to be reminded that this is the form they must use when they are talking about temporary actions in progress now, this week, this month, etc.

Remind Sts of the use of the present continuous for future arrangements. This will be reviewed fully together with the other future forms in 1B.

Action and nonaction verbs

These are often called dynamic / stative or progressive / nonprogressive verbs. We have called them action / nonaction because we think this helps to make the difference clearer for Sts.

When Sts look at the list of common nonaction verbs, you may want to point out that enjoy isn't there. It describes a state or feeling, so Sts might expect it to be a nonaction verb, but in fact it's an exception, and is an action verb, e.g., Are you enjoying your dinner? You could also point out that look is usually a nonaction verb (e.g., That looks delicious), but look at is an action verb (e.g., We're looking at the menu).

There are several other verbs that can be both action and nonaction, e.g., see, feel. The Grammar Bank uses have and think as clear examples.

Focus on the example sentences and play audio 1.11, 1.12 and 1.13 for Sts to listen and repeat. Encourage them to copy the rhythm.

Then go through the rules with the class.

Focus on the Verbs that can be both action and nonaction box and go through it with the class.

Now focus on the exercises and get Sts to do them individually or in pairs.

Check answers, getting Sts to read the full sentences.

- a
- 1 is coming 2 doesn't want 3 isn't working
4 seems 5 aren't speaking 6 thinks 7 Do we need
8 I'm having 9 I love 10 tastes
- b
- 1 I have high cholesterol, so I never eat fried food.
2 Are you taking any vitamins right now?
3 Don't eat the spinach if you don't like it.
4 Does your boyfriend know how to cook fish?
5 We order take-out pizza once a week.
6 What is / 's your mother making? It smells delicious!
7 You look sad. What are you thinking about?
8 I think the diet in my country is getting worse.
9 How often do you have seafood?
10 I don't usually cook red meat.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 1A.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Grammar photocopiable activity at this point.

- d Focus on the question prompts and elicit / explain the meaning of diet here (= the food that you eat and drink regularly). Model and drill its pronunciation.

Now elicit that the question prompts under On a typical day are habitual actions, so should be simple present, and Sts must add do you. The ones under Right now / Nowadays are things in progress, and if the verbs are action verbs, they should be present continuous; if they are nonaction, they should be simple present.

Elicit the questions from the class to check that they are forming the questions correctly, and that they are using the correct rhythm, i.e., stressing the "information" words.

On a typical day

- What do you usually have for breakfast?
- Do you drink soda, e.g., Coke? How many glasses do you drink a day?
- Where do you usually have lunch?
- What do you usually have for lunch during the week?
- Do you ever cook? What do you make?
- Do you prefer eating at home or eating out?

Right now / Nowadays

- Are you taking vitamins or food supplements right now?
- Are you trying to cut down on anything right now?
- Do you need to buy any food today?
- Do you want anything to eat right now?
- Is the diet in your country getting better or worse?

EXTRA SUPPORT You could write the full questions on the board and underline the stressed words to help Sts get the rhythm correct (see answer key above).

Monitor as Sts work in pairs, making sure they are using the simple present and continuous correctly. The focus here should be on accurate practice of the grammar.

Get some feedback from various pairs.

7 SPEAKING

- a Focus on the instructions and go through statements 1–6, making sure Sts understand each one.

Give Sts time to decide whether they agree with each statement and to think of three reasons or examples for each one.

- b Focus on the Agreeing and disagreeing box and go through it with the class.

Put Sts in pairs or small groups and tell them to spend at least two minutes discussing each topic.

Monitor and encourage Sts to use the phrases for agreeing and disagreeing. Don't over-correct, but make a note of any errors that you may want to focus on when they finish speaking.

Get some feedback from various pairs or groups.

EXTRA CHALLENGE If your Sts are confident, you could give them some more sophisticated language for agreeing and disagreeing, e.g., I completely / totally (dis)agree, I agree up to a point, I couldn't agree more.

- G future forms: present continuous, be going to, will / won't
V family, adjectives of personality
P sentence stress, word stress

Lesson plan

The context of this lesson is the family. Sts begin by reviewing family vocabulary and talking about family life in the US and in their country. The grammar focus is on the three most common future forms. Sts will have studied them all separately, but probably haven't had to differentiate them before. There is then a pronunciation focus on sentence stress patterns in future forms.

In the second half of the lesson, the focus shifts to relationships between siblings. Sts extend their knowledge of adjectives to describe personality, and also practice the word stress in these adjectives. Sts then read an article about how birth order affects our personality. The lesson ends with a listening and speaking about a time they or a sibling behaved badly, and a writing focus on describing a person.

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN (BOOKS CLOSED)

Review family words by drawing a quick family tree of your family (including, if possible, aunts, uncles, nephews, nieces, and cousins) and tell Sts a little about them.

Put Sts in pairs and get them to do the same.

1 VOCABULARY & SPEAKING family

- a Books open. In pairs, Sts discuss the difference between the words and phrases in 1–8.

Check answers.

- 1 A father is the male parent of a child. A parent is the mother or father.
- 2 A stepmother is married to your father, but she isn't your biological mother.
- 3 A brother-in-law is the brother of your husband / wife, or your sister's husband.
- 4 A stepsister is the daughter of your stepmother or stepfather and their previous husband or wife. She isn't biologically related to you. A half-sister shares one parent with you, either your mother or your father.
- 5 A grandfather is your father or mother's father. A great-grandfather is your father or mother's grandfather.

- 6 An adopted child is one who has become part of a family which is not the one in which he or she was born. An only child is a child who doesn't have brothers or sisters.
- 7 "Brothers and sisters" and "siblings" mean the same thing, but sibling is a more formal word and is used for both genders.
- 8 Your immediate family are your parents, children, brothers, and sisters. Your extended family is anyone related to you who is not your immediate family, e.g., your uncles, aunts, cousins, grandparents, etc.

- b Focus on the instructions. Then read the introduction together and make sure Sts understand survey (= an investigation of the opinions, behavior, etc. of a particular group of people) and statistics (= a collection of information shown in numbers).

Now give Sts time, in pairs, to fill in the blanks with the numbers from the list.

- c 1.14 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check. Check answers.

1 4% 2 21% 3 41% 4 27 5 29 6 10% 7 5% 8 6

The modern family

Family life is changing all over the world, and it's not just the structure of the family, but also its habits. The results of several recent American surveys showed some surprising statistics.

Family structure

69% of families have married parents.

23% are single-parent families. Only 4% of the single parents are men.

21% of families have one child, 41% have two, and 38% have three or more.

40% of families have stepchildren.

On average, women get married at 27 and men at 29.

Family habits

40% of families eat together fewer than three times a week, and 10% never eat at the same time.

They go on vacation together as a family seven days a year.

An estimated 5% of people have brothers or sisters who they never speak to or contact.

60% of parents say chores, discipline, and family activities are shared equally in homes with two full-time working parents. The average family has six arguments each day and the most common cause is children refusing to clean their messy bedrooms or complaining about food.

Remind Sts that this survey was done in the US. Give them time to think which results they think would be very different for their country.

Get some feedback.

- d Focus on the questions and make sure Sts know the meaning of argue (= to speak angrily to somebody because you disagree with them).

Give Sts time to think about their answers.

Now go through the Politely refusing to talk about something box. Point out that in class Sts do a lot of asking and answering questions, and if there are any that they would feel uncomfortable answering, to respond with this phrase.

Put Sts in pairs or small groups. Tell them to discuss the questions.

Monitor and help when necessary.

Get some feedback from various pairs or groups.

2 GRAMMAR future forms a 1.15 Focus on the instructions. Play the audio once the whole way through. Play again if necessary.

Check answers.

- A 2; They're talking about a party that she's going to.
B 3; They're talking about if he can borrow her car.
C 1; They're talking about what he's going to do next year.

(script in the Student Book on p.125)

- 1
A So what are you going to do next year, Adam? Are you going to go to college? Adam? Can you hear me?
B Sorry, Grandma. What did you say?
A I said, are you going to go to college next year?
B No, Grandma. I've already told you like 100 times. I'm not going to go to college. I'm going to look for a job. I need to earn some money.
A All right, dear, you don't need to shout. I can hear perfectly well, thank you. What time is it?
B Ten to three. I'll get you some coffee.
A Oh, thank you. That'd be nice.
A Bye. See you tomorrow.
B Bye. Hey, what do you mean tomorrow? Aren't you coming back tonight?
A No, I told you about it yesterday. I'm going to a party at Katie's. I'm staying overnight there.
B Who else is going?
A Oh, just the usual crowd. You don't know any of them.
B Well, make sure you don't go to bed too late. And don't forget to...
A Bye!
B Where's your coat? You can't go out like that. It's going to be cold tonight!
A Bye!
A Can I use your car tonight?
B No, you can't.
A You said you didn't need it. Why can't I borrow it?
B Because you won't take care of it. You'll drive too fast.
A I won't. I promise I'll drive really slowly. I'll be really careful.
B Oh, all right.
A Thanks. See you.

EXTRA IDEA Alternatively, you could pause the audio after each conversation, play it again if necessary, and check the answer.

b Give Sts time to go through sentences a–f and think what the missing words might be.

EXTRA CHALLENGE Get Sts, in pairs, to decide before they listen again how to fill in the blanks.

Play the audio again, pausing after each conversation.

Check answers.

- 1 a going to go
b I'll get 2 c 'm staying d 's going to be 3 e 'll drive
f 'll be

c Focus on the instructions and make sure Sts understand the difference between a plan or intention, and an arrangement (= a plan for which you have already made preparations, e.g., booking a ticket, a hotel, or a table in a restaurant).

Put Sts in pairs to complete the task.

Check answers.

a plan or intention: a a prediction: d, e an offer: b an arrangement: c a promise: f

From this, elicit from Sts that, generally speaking, we use going to for plans and predictions; will / won't for predictions, offers, and promises; and the present continuous for arrangements.

d Tell Sts to go to Grammar Bank 1B on p.133.

Grammar notes

Sts often have problems using future forms correctly in English, mainly because the future form used depends on what the speaker wants to say, e.g., whether he / she wants to express a plan or pre-arranged event, or make an "instant" decision at that moment. This means that Sts often can't use the same form that they would use in their L1.

The important thing to emphasize is that we use going to (or present continuous) for things we have already decided to do, i.e., our plans, intentions, or arrangements, whereas will + base form is used for decisions made at the time of speaking, and also for offers, promises, and future facts.

A typical mistake here is to use the simple present for offers: ~~I carry your bag for you.~~

! You may want to point out that in song lyrics, going to is usually transcribed as gonna (because that is how it sounds when sung quickly).

Focus on the example sentences and play audio 1.16, 1.17, 1.18, and 1.19 for Sts to listen and repeat. Encourage them to copy the rhythm.

Then go through the rules with the class.

Now focus on the exercises and get Sts to do them individually or in pairs.

Check answers, getting Sts to read the full sentences.

- a
1 ✓ 2 'll make 3 ✓ 4 Are you going to go 5 won't tell 6 're visiting 7 will go down 8 ✓ 9 I'll help
b
1 I promise I will / 'll call every day.
2 He is / 's going to get a degree in French.
3 No, I am / 'm working late.
4 Yes, I will / 'll have the shrimp, please.
5 OK. I will / 'll get some take out.
6 No problem, I will / 'll lend you some.
7 No, the weather forecast says it is / 's going to rain / will rain / 'll rain.
8 I will / 'll pick you up from the airport.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 1B.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Grammar photocopiable activity at this point.

3 PRONUNCIATION & SPEAKING sentence stress

Pronunciation notes

As Sts should already know, in English, words that are stressed more strongly are the ones that carry information, e.g., I went to the movies on Friday night. These are typically verbs, nouns, adjectives, and adverbs. The “non-information” words (e.g., personal pronouns, articles, and little words like to, of, on, as, etc.) are pronounced less strongly, and these words often get shortened when we speak, e.g., to becomes /tə/. It is this mixture of stressed and unstressed words that gives English its rhythm, and Sts need plenty of practice until correct stress and rhythm becomes instinctive.

- a  1.20 Focus on the Sentence stress box and go through it with the class.
- Give Sts time to read the sentence, and then elicit with a show of hands who thinks the pink words are stressed.
- Play the audio once the whole way through.
- Check the answer.

They are stressed.

-  1.20
See the sentence in the Student Book on p. 11

Then play the audio again for Sts to listen and repeat.

- b  1.21 Tell Sts they are going to hear four sentences and they should listen for the stressed words and write them in the pink boxes in the sentences.
- Play the audio, pausing after each sentence to give Sts time to write.
- Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- 1 sister's, having, baby, April
- 2 anyone, family, buying, car
- 3 see, parents, weekend
- 4 think, live, home, next, year

-  1.21
- 1 My sister's having a baby in April.
 - 2 Is anyone in your family buying a car?
 - 3 Are you going to see your parents on the weekend?
 - 4 Do you think you'll live at home next year?

- c Now tell Sts to look at the words they have written and try to remember what the complete sentence or question is.
- Tell Sts to listen to the audio again and fill in any blanks they have. Play the audio again.
- Check answers, eliciting the sentences onto the board.

- 1 My sister's having a baby in April.
- 2 Is anyone in your family buying a car?
- 3 Are you going to see your parents on the weekend?
- 4 Do you think you'll live at home next year?

- d Play the audio again, pausing after each sentence for Sts to listen and repeat, copying the rhythm. Encourage them to pronounce the stressed words (in the pink boxes) more strongly and not to stress the other words.
- Then repeat the activity, eliciting responses from individual Sts.

EXTRA SUPPORT Put Sts in pairs and get them to practice saying the sentences.

- e Put Sts in pairs and get them to ask and answer the questions, giving as much information as possible. You could demonstrate the activity by answering a couple of questions first.
- Get some feedback from various pairs.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts ask and answer the questions in pairs, get them to underline the content words in the questions. Check answers and drill the questions.

Is anyone in your family...?

- getting married in the near future
- traveling abroad this month
- having a baby this year
- celebrating their birthday soon

Are you going to...?

- do something with a family member this week
- have a big family get-together soon
- go on vacation with your family this year
- visit a relative this weekend

Do you think...?

- more couples will have just one child in the future
- more young adults will live with their parents in the future
- anyone in your family will live to be 90 or older
- you'll move away from (or back to) the area where your family lives

EXTRA SUPPORT Write possible short responses on the board to help Sts to answer the questions, e.g., MAYBE. / PROBABLY., I DON'T THINK SO., I HAVE NO IDEA. Tell them that they should then give a reason for their answer.

4 VOCABULARY adjectives of personality

- a Focus on the instructions. Point out the heading, Opposites attract, and tell Sts that the adjectives they have to complete are the opposites of the first adjectives. Give Sts time to complete the adjectives in 1–5.
- Check answers, eliciting from Sts what the adjectives mean. Model and drill pronunciation. You could ask Sts if they agree that opposites attract and if they can give any examples.

- 1 shy 2 cheap 3 lazy 4 quiet 5 serious

EXTRA SUPPORT First, elicit the meaning of the adjectives in the first half of sentences 1–5. Then give Sts time, in pairs, to complete the opposites.

- b Tell Sts to go to Vocabulary Bank Personality on p. 153.

Vocabulary notes

This Vocabulary Bank gives Sts adjectives to describe personality, and also introduces them to using negative prefixes to make opposite adjectives. A good print or online dictionary will give opposite adjectives, using prefixes. Encourage Sts to learn positive and negative adjectives with prefixes – this will help them to expand their vocabulary more quickly and effectively.

Focus on 1 What are they like? and elicit / teach that the question What are they like? = What kind of personality do they have?

Get Sts to do a individually or in pairs. You might want to point out that SYN stands for synonym.

EXTRA SUPPORT Let Sts use their dictionaries to help them with this section.

🔊 1.22 Now do b. Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

🔊 1.22

- 20 Moody people have moods that change quickly and often.
- 21 Competitive people always want to win.
- 22 Affectionate people show that they love or like other people very much.

Now either use the audio to drill the pronunciation of the sentences, or model and drill them yourself. Give further practice of any words your Sts find difficult to pronounce.

EXTRA IDEA If your Sts' L1 is a Latin-based language, many of these adjectives may be quite similar. Get them to underline the ones that are similar, and highlight or circle the ones that are completely different.

Now focus on Activation and tell Sts, in pairs, to decide which are positive.

Get feedback.

Suggested answers

mature honest charming sensible sociable imaginative independent patient reliable self-confident affectionate

EXTRA SUPPORT Tell Sts, in pairs, to cover the adjectives and look at the sentences. They must try to remember the adjectives.

Focus on 2 Negative prefixes and explain that with some adjectives of personality, the opposite is a completely different word, but for others you simply add a negative prefix.

Focus on the Negative prefixes box and go through it with the class.

Get Sts to do a individually or in pairs.

🔊 1.23 Now do b. Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

🔊 1.23

2 Negative prefixes

un- / dis-: unambitious, unclean, unfriendly, dishonest, unimaginative, unkind, disorganized, unreliable, unselfish, unsociable in- / im- / ir-: immature, impatient, irresponsible, insensitive

Now either use the audio to drill the pronunciation of the adjectives, or model and drill them yourself. Give further practice of any words your Sts find difficult to pronounce. Elicit that un- is by far the most common negative prefix. Explain also that im- is used before adjectives beginning with p or m, e.g., impossible, immature, and ir- is used before adjectives beginning with r, e.g., irregular. Finally, ask Sts which adjective + prefix has a positive meaning.

Unselfish has a positive meaning.

Focus on Activation and get Sts to cover the columns and test themselves.

Finally, focus on the False friends box and go through it with the class.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 1B.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Vocabulary photocopiable activity at this point.

EXTRA IDEA Tell Sts to write down the first three adjectives of personality that come into their heads.

Get Sts to compare their adjectives with a partner.

Then tell them that the activity they have just done is a personality test. The first adjective they wrote down is how they see themselves, the second is how other people see them, and the third is what they are really like.

Ask Sts if they agree with their results.

5 PRONUNCIATION word stress

Pronunciation note

Adjective prefixes and suffixes

Negative prefixes (e.g., un-, im-, and in- added to adjectives) are never stressed, e.g., unfriendly NOT unfriendly.

The common adjective endings -ous (e.g., jealous), -able / -ible (e.g., sociable, responsible) and -ive (e.g., talkative) are also unstressed. The pronunciation of -ous and -able / -ible is the /ə/ sound, while -ive is pronounced /ɪv/.

- a Focus on the task and remind Sts that with multi-syllable words, they must always learn which syllable is stressed. You may also want to point out that some of these adjectives may be very similar to ones in their language, but stressed on a different syllable, e.g., ambitious = Spanish ambicioso.

Now focus on the adjectives, and elicit / explain that 1–4 are grouped according to their endings, and that 5 is adjectives with negative prefixes.

Get Sts, individually or in pairs, to practice saying the adjectives aloud, and then to underline the syllable they think is stressed.

- b 1.24 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers by writing the words on the board and underlining the stressed syllable.

- 1 anxious, ambitious, generous, rebellious
- 2 sociable, reliable
- 3 responsible, sensible
- 4 competitive, talkative, sensitive
- 5 unfriendly, insecure, impatient, immature

See words in the Student Book on p. 12

Play the audio again, pausing after each group of words for Sts to listen and repeat.

Finally, ask Sts if the prefixes and suffixes are stressed.

No, prefixes and suffixes are unstressed.

EXTRA SUPPORT Put Sts in pairs and get them to practice saying the adjectives.

6 READING identifying reasons

- a Either put Sts in pairs or do this as a whole-class activity. If Sts worked in pairs, get some feedback from various pairs. You could also get a show of hands for each "category" to find out which is the most common.

- b Focus on the instructions and make sure Sts understand what they have to do.

Elicit some opinions from Sts, but don't tell them if they are correct.

- c Give Sts time to read the article to check their answers to b. Tell them not to worry about the blanks.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the article the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

- 1 the youngest child
- 2 the oldest child
- 3 the only child
- 4 the middle child

- d Now tell Sts to read the article again and fill in the blanks with sentences A–H. Point out that the first one (H) has been done for them.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- 2 C
- 3 A
- 4 B
- 5 E
- 6 F
- 7 D
- 8 G

Help with any other new vocabulary. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.

- e Give Sts time to re-read the paragraph that applies to them.

Put Sts in pairs and get them to tell each other if the description is true for them, and if the other descriptions are true for people they know.

Get feedback from various pairs. You could tell Sts about your own situation and how you feel about it.

EXTRA CHALLENGE If you want to focus on some useful phrases from the article, write these sentences on the board (without the answer in parentheses):

THEY GET IMPATIENT, ESPECIALLY WHEN THINGS GO WRONG. (ONLY CHILD)

THEY'RE GOOD AT FINDING SOLUTIONS FOR ARGUMENTS. (MIDDLE CHILD)

THEY GET ALONG WITH EVERYBODY. (MIDDLE CHILD)

THEY TEND TO BE AMBITIOUS. (OLDEST CHILD)

THEY CAN LACK DIRECTION IN LIFE. (MIDDLE CHILD)

THEY SPEND A LOT OF TIME BY THEMSELVES. (ONLY CHILD)

THEY TRY TO GET THE ATTENTION OF THEIR PARENTS. (YOUNGEST CHILD)

Ask Sts which category of child they describe (see answers in parentheses above), and what they mean.

7 LISTENING & SPEAKING understanding a story

- a Focus on the instructions and the words, making sure Sts understand all the vocabulary.

Put Sts in pairs to tell each other what they think the two stories are about.

Elicit some ideas for each story, but don't tell Sts if they are correct.

- b 1.25 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check their predictions in a.

Elicit each story.

See script 1.25

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

1.25

(script in the Student Book on p.125)

Dan

Well, I can remember one terrible thing I did to my brother when we were teenagers – I have a twin brother. Um, so we used to fight and argue a lot, as...as kids and teenagers. And one time, when we were about 15, we were fighting, arguing – we shared a bedroom, so we were in our room, um, fighting each other, and I accidentally stabbed him in the hand with a pen that I was holding in my hand. And it was, it was a total accident, and I was holding it and I was kind of threatening him, but I didn't really mean to, to stab him, obviously, um, but I did, and I was absolutely horrified at what I'd done. And of course, he, my brother, he looked down at his hand, with this blood coming out from where I'd stabbed him, and he looked up at me, and he said, "I'm going to tell Mom!", which sort of made me laugh because, you know, we were both 15 at the time, and it was a very childish thing to say. And he ran downstairs to tell our mom, and I was absolutely terrified that she was going to be really angry with me. Which she was, of course. But, um, he was fine, by the way, it was a very small wound. He didn't have to go to the hospital or anything; it was absolutely fine, but, um, he still now, this is, you know, we're in our late forties now, so this is thirty years ago, but he still sometimes tells people, when we meet them, about when I stabbed him. But yeah, it wasn't a very nice thing to do to him!

Marilyn

Well, my sister was four years older than me. She still is, actually. Um, I remember once when I was about ten years old, I had a pet, a bird. Um, it was a small green parrot named Charlie, and I really loved him. He lived in a cage, but I sometimes let him out to fly around the house, you know, so, so he could have some freedom. And one day, I was in my bedroom and I let him out, but then something happened – I can't remember what and I forgot about him for a, for a while, and then suddenly I couldn't see him anymore. And, well, I looked everywhere for him, I looked all over the house and I couldn't find him anywhere. Oh, I cried and I cried because I was sure that he had flown out of the window. And my parents started to help me because they felt awful about it as well. And just when I was completely hysterical, my sister admitted that, in reality, she had hidden him: she had shut him inside a cupboard. Can you believe that? Well, she opened the cupboard and poor Charlie was there; he was so frightened, but we were all really relieved to find him. My sister was so horrible that day. Of course, now we get along really well, but I still remember what she did to poor Charlie, and sometimes when she comes to see me, I hide her car keys or her purse or something just to remind her of it. Is that bad?

- c Tell Sts they are going to listen to the two stories again and this time they must answer questions 1–5. Give them time to read the questions.

Play the audio again, pausing after the first story to give Sts time to answer the questions.

Check answers.

Dan

- 1 15
- 2 In their bedroom
- 3 Dan accidentally stabbed his brother in the hand with a pen.
- 4 Their mother was very angry with Dan, but it was a very small wound.
- 5 Dan's brother still tells other people about when Dan stabbed him.

Now play the second story.

Check answers.

Marilyn

- 1 Ten
- 2 She was in her bedroom.
- 3 Her sister hid her parrot in a cupboard. Marilyn and her parents looked for it everywhere and she was very upset.
- 4 Her sister showed them where the parrot was, in the cupboard.
- 5 Marilyn sometimes hides her sister's things to remind her of the parrot incident.

Finally, ask the class who they think behaved worse, Dan or Marilyn's sister.

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the script on p.125, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

- d Put Sts in pairs, A and B. Tell Sts A that they are Dan's brother and Sts B that they are Marilyn's sister. They must retell the story from their point of view.

Monitor and help with vocabulary if necessary.

You could get a couple of Sts A and B to tell the class their story.

- e Focus on the instructions and give Sts time to think of a time when they were young and they or a sibling / friend behaved badly.

Put Sts in pairs or small groups and get them to tell each other their stories. Remind them to use the questions in c to help them.

Monitor and help if necessary.

Get some feedback from various pairs or groups. If you have a story, you could tell it to the class.

8 WRITING a description of a person

- a Focus on the instructions and make sure Sts know what a self-portrait is (= a painting, etc. that you do of yourself).

Read the poem together or give Sts time to read it alone.

Now focus on the instructions for lines 1–7 and give Sts time to write their own poems.

Monitor and help if necessary.

Get Sts to read their poems to each other. You could also display them around the classroom and get Sts to read them.

b This is the first time Sts are sent to the Writing section at the back of the Student Book. In this section, Sts will find model texts, with exercises and language notes, and then a writing task. We suggest that you go through the model and do the exercise(s) in class, but assign the actual writing (the last activity) for homework.

Tell Sts to go to Writing A description of a person on p.115.

Before Sts read the two emails, you might want to check they know what an au pair is. You could explain that the word is French. Model and drill its English pronunciation /ˌɑʊ 'peɪ/.

Now focus on a and give Sts time to read the two emails and answer the questions.

Check answers.

- 1 Because she is looking for an au pair and Sofia's friend, Marisol, told Angela she might be interested in working in the US as an au pair.
- 2 Yes, she does.

Now focus on b and tell Sts to read Sofia's email again and to correct the five spelling mistakes.

Check answers by getting Sts to spell the correct version and write it on the board.

~~interested~~ interested
~~responsable~~ responsible ~~forgetfull~~ forgetful
~~photography~~ photography
~~independant~~ independent

Now focus on c and tell Sts to read Sofia's email again and answer questions 1–4.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- 1 intelligent, hard-working, mature, responsible, friendly, independent
- 2 She likes going to the movies, listening to music, and taking photos.
- 3 She's really shy, a little forgetful, and her English isn't very good.
- 4 Yes, she does.

Now focus on d and tell Sts to look at all the highlighted expressions in the second email and explain that they are all expressions that modify adjectives. Point out that the sentences in the chart should go from very positive to negative. Show Sts that the first one (very) has been done for them.

Give Sts time to complete the other sentences in the chart.

Check answers.

incredibly really Kasia is very forgetful.
a little

i Highlight that we usually only use a little with negative adjectives.

Focus on the Describing a person box and go through it with the class.

Now focus on e and tell Sts to imagine they received the email from Angela and they need to write back.

Focus on the plan and go through it with the class.

Remind them to use the language in the Describing a person box as well as the Vocabulary Bank Personality on p.153.

You may want to get Sts to do the writing in class, or you could assign it as homework. If you do it in class, set a time limit for Sts to write their description, e.g., 15–20 minutes.

Finally, focus on f and get Sts to check their work for mistakes before turning it in.

Language What a pity!, Never mind., Really?, etc.

Lesson plan

This is the first in a series of five Practical English lessons (one every other File) in which Sts learn and practice functional language. All the content for these lessons is on video. There is also an audio version if you are unable to show the video in class.

There is a storyline based on two characters, Jenny Zielinski, an American journalist who works in the New York office of a magazine called NewYork 24seven, and Rob Walker, a British journalist who works in London for the same magazine, but who is now working in New York. If your Sts did American English File Level 1 or Level 2, they will already be familiar with the characters. If they aren't, the first episode begins with a brief summary of the story so far, so they will not be at a disadvantage.

In the first scene, Jenny takes Rob to meet her parents. They arrive late (because of Rob, who has also forgotten the chocolates). Jenny tells her parents about her new promotion, and Sts then practice reacting to what other people say (e.g., to good, bad, interesting, and surprising news). In the second scene, Rob struggles at first to impress Jenny's father, but then they find a shared interest – a jazz musician.

These lessons can be used with Class DVD, Classroom Presentation Tool, or Class Audio CDs (audio only). Sts can find all the video content and activities in the Online Practice.

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN (BOOKS CLOSED)

If your Sts did American English File Level 2, elicit anything they can remember about Rob and Jenny, and write it on the board in columns under their names. Leave it on the board so that when Sts do 1b, they can see if any of the points on the board are mentioned.

If your Sts didn't do American English File Level 2, introduce this lesson by giving the information in the Lesson plan.

1 INTRODUCTION

a Books open. Focus on the two photos and tell Sts that Jenny and Rob are the main characters in these lessons. Get Sts to describe them.

b 1.26 Focus on the American and British English box and go through it with the class.

Then give Sts a few minutes to read the text and think about what the missing words might be.

Now play the video / audio once the whole way through for Sts just to watch or listen.

Give Sts time to fill in the blanks. Then play the audio / video again if necessary.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before playing the video / audio, go through the listening scripts and decide if you need to pre-teach / check any vocabulary to help Sts when they listen.

J = Jenny, R = Rob

J My name's Jenny Zielinski. And New York is my city. I live here and I work for a magazine, NewYork 24seven.

R My name's Rob Walker. I'm a writer on NewYork 24seven. You can probably tell from my accent that I'm not actually from New York. I'm British, and I came over to the States a few months ago.

J I met Rob in London, when I was visiting the UK on a work trip. He was writing for the London edition of 24seven. We got along well right away. I really liked him.

R So why am I in New York? Because of Jenny, of course. When they gave me the opportunity to work here for a month, I took it immediately. It gave us the chance to get to know each other better. When they offered me a permanent job, I couldn't believe it!

J I helped Rob find an apartment. And now here we are. Together in New York. I'm so happy. I just hope Rob's happy here, too.

R I really loved living in London. A lot of my friends and family are there, so of course I still miss it. But New York's a fantastic city. I've got a great job, and Jenny's here, too.

J Things are changing pretty fast in the office. We have a new boss, Don Taylor. And things are changing in my personal life, too. This evening's kind of important. I'm taking Rob to meet my parents for the very first time. I just hope it goes well!

EXTRA IDEA Ask Sts some comprehension questions, e.g., Where are Rob and Jenny now? (In New York), Who is Don Taylor? (The new boss), etc.

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time and you are using the video, you could get Sts to watch again with subtitles, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

2 REACTING TO WHAT PEOPLE SAY

a 1.27 Focus on the photos and ask Sts some questions, e.g., Where are Jenny and Rob? (In a car), How does Jenny look? (Not very happy), Who are Jenny and Rob saying hello to? (Her parents), etc.

Now either tell Sts to close their books and write the questions on the board, or get Sts to focus on the two questions and cover the rest of the page.

Play the video / audio once the whole way through, and then check answers.

He left the chocolates on his desk at work.
She's gotten a promotion – she's now a manager.

1.27

J = Jenny, R = Rob, H = Harry, S = Sally

J I can't believe we got here so late.

R I'm sorry, Jenny. I had to finish that article for Don.

J Don't forget the chocolates.

R OK...Oh no!

J I don't believe it. Don't tell me you forgot them?

R I think they're still on my desk.

J You're kidding.

R You know what my desk's like.

J Yeah, it's a complete mess. Why don't you ever tidy it?

R We could go and buy some more.

J How can we get some more? We're already late!...Hi there!

H You made it!

J Sorry we're late. So, this is my mom and dad, Harry and Sally. And this, of course, is Rob.

R Hello.

S It's so nice to meet you at last.

H Yes, Jenny's finally decided to introduce you to us.

S Come in, come in!

J Mom, I'm really sorry – we bought you some chocolates, but we left them at the office.

S What a pity. Never mind.

H Yeah, don't worry about it. We know what a busy young woman you are. And your mom has made way too much food for this evening anyway.

S Oh, Harry.

J But I also have some good news.

S Really? What's that?

J Well, you know we have a new boss? He's still new to the job and needs support, so today he made me the managing editor of the magazine.

S So you've got a promotion? How fantastic!

H That's great news! Hey, does that mean Jenny's going to be your boss, Rob?

R Uh...yes, I guess so.

J Well, not exactly. I'm a manager, but I'm not Rob's manager.

S Let's go and have dinner.

J What a great idea!

Focus on the American and British English box and go through it with the class.

b Focus on sentences 1–6. Go through them with Sts and make sure they understand them.

Now play the video / audio again the whole way through, and get Sts to mark the sentences T (true) or F (false).

Remind them to correct the false ones.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

1 T

2 F (Rob's desk is always a complete mess.)

3 F (Rob is meeting Jenny's parents for the first time.)

4 T

5 F (Jenny's new job is managing editor.)

6 F (She is a manager, but not Rob's manager.)

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time and you are using the video, you could get Sts to watch again with subtitles, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

c 1.28 Give Sts a minute to read through the extracts from the conversation and to think about what the missing words might be.

Now play the video / audio again, and get Sts to fill in the blanks.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

1 no, believe, You're 2 pity, Never 3 Really

S Let's go and have dinner.

J What a great idea!

d 1.29 Focus on the Reacting to what people say chart and go through it with the class. You may want to point out that What a pity and Never mind are used to react to bad news, e.g., I've lost my book / My bus is stuck in traffic, but not to seriously bad news, e.g., NOT A My grandmother died last week. B Never mind.

Now focus on the How + adjective, What + noun box and go through it with the class.

Play the video / audio once the whole way through for Sts just to watch or listen.

See chart in the Student Book on p.15

Now play it again, pausing after each phrase for Sts to watch or listen and repeat with the correct intonation.

Then repeat the activity, eliciting responses from individual Sts.

e Put Sts in pairs and tell them to practice the conversations in c.

Monitor and help, encouraging Sts to pay attention to rhythm and intonation.

Make sure Sts switch roles.

- f Put Sts in pairs, A and B, and tell them to go to Communication How awful! How fantastic!, A on p.106, B on p.111.

Go through the instructions with them carefully.

Monitor and help, encouraging Sts to use appropriate intonation.

When they have finished, get some Sts to tell the class a piece of news (real or invented) and get Sts to react to it.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson Practical English 1.

3 HARRY FINDS OUT MORE ABOUT ROB

- a  1.30 Focus on the photos and ask Sts what they think they are talking about.

Now either tell Sts to close their books and write the question on the board, or get Sts to focus on the question and cover the rest of the page.

Play the video / audio once the whole way through, and then check the answer.

The evening ends well.

H = Harry, J = Jenny, R = Rob, S = Sally

H You know, our Jenny has done incredibly well, Rob. She's the first member of our family to study at Harvard. She's a very capable and ambitious young woman.

J Oh, Dad.

R No, it's true, Jenny.

H And what about you, Rob? How do you see your career? Do you see yourself going into management?

R Me? No. Not really. I'm more of a...a writer.

H Really? What kind of things do you write?

R Oh, you know, interviews, reviews...things like that...and I'm doing a lot of work for the online magazine.

J Rob's a very talented writer, Dad. He's very creative.

H That's great, but being creative doesn't always pay the bills.

J You know, my dad's a very keen photographer. He took all of these photos.

H Oh, Rob won't be interested in them.

R But I am interested. I mean, I like photography. And I think I recognize some of these people.

H That's because most of them are of Jenny.

R But there are some great jazz musicians, too....That's Miles Davis...and isn't that John Coltrane? And that's Wynton Marsalis.

H You know about Wynton Marsalis?

R Know about him? I've interviewed him!

H How incredible! I love that guy. He's a hero of mine.

R Well, he's a really nice guy. I spent a whole day with him, chatting and watching him rehearse.

H Really? I want to hear all about it.

S Have a cookie, Rob.

H Go ahead, son! Sally makes the best cookies in New York!

- b Focus on the instructions and give Sts time to read questions 1–6. Elicit / Explain the meaning of impressed by.

Play the video / audio again, pausing if necessary to give Sts time to answer the questions.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- 1 Harvard
- 2 No, he isn't, because he thinks creative people, like writers, sometimes don't earn enough to pay the bills.
- 3 He likes taking photographs.
- 4 Jenny
- 5 Famous jazz musicians
- 6 That he knows about Wynton Marsalis (Harry's idol) and has interviewed him and spent the day with him.

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time and you are using the video, you could get Sts to watch again with subtitles, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

- c Focus on the Social English phrases. In pairs, get Sts to see if they can remember any of the missing words.

EXTRA CHALLENGE In pairs, get Sts to complete the phrases before they listen.

5 That's because most of them are of Jenny.

6 How incredible!

7 Well, he's a really nice guy.

8 Go ahead, son!

Now play the video / audio again, pausing after each phrase for Sts to watch or listen and repeat.

- e Focus on the instructions and make sure Sts understand what they have to do.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- A 8 B 5 C 2 D 3 E 1 F 6 G 4, 7

Now put Sts in pairs and get them to practice the conversations.

Finally, focus on the CAN YOU...? questions and ask Sts if they feel confident they can now do these things. If they feel that they need more practice, tell them to go to Online Practice to watch the episode again and practice the language.

- G present perfect and simple past
V money
P o and or

Lesson plan

In this lesson, Sts review some important uses of the present perfect and how it contrasts with the simple past. They also learn common words and phrases to talk about money.

The lesson begins with a money quiz. This provides a lead-in to the vocabulary focus, which is followed by pronunciation practice highlighting different pronunciations of the letters o and or. The new vocabulary is reinforced through a reading activity that focuses on an article about a woman who tried to spend as little money as possible for an entire year.

In the second half of the lesson, a conversation where two people are arguing about money provides the context for the grammar focus. This leads into a money questionnaire with Sts asking and answering questions in the present perfect and simple past. Finally, Sts read and listen to true stories about three people who lost money in different scams.

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN (BOOKS CLOSED)

Write the verb SPEND on the board and elicit the two nouns most commonly used after spend (time and money).

Then elicit the form of a verb following spend time (the gerund), and the preposition after spend money (on).

Put Sts in pairs and get them to answer these questions:

What do you often spend a lot of time doing during vacations?

What do you usually spend money on weekends?

Get some feedback from various pairs.

1 VOCABULARY money

- a Books open. Put Sts in small groups and get them to do The money quiz.

Check answers, and with a show of hands, find out if any groups got all the answers correct.

- 1 Russia, rouble 2 China, lei 3 Japan, yen 4 Poland, zloty
 5 Brazil, real 6 Mexico, peso 7 Switzerland, franc
 8 Hungary, forint

e False (The British pound is the world's oldest currency still in use, at over 1,200 years old.)

- b Tell Sts to go to Vocabulary Bank Money on p.154.

Vocabulary notes

Verbs

Remind Sts of the difference between lend and borrow with these examples: Can I borrow your book? / Can you lend me your book?

Nouns

Make sure Sts are clear that loan is the general word for money lent by an individual or bank to another person, and mortgage is specifically money lent by a bank to buy a house or apartment.

Phrasal verbs

Highlight that take out and pay back are separable, i.e., you can also put the particles (out and back) after the noun, e.g., When can you pay me the money back?

Also highlight the difference between live on (= have enough money for your basic needs, e.g., I can live on $250 a week) and live off (= receive the money you need to live from somebody / something because you don't have any yourself, e.g., I have to live off my parents while I'm looking for a job.)

EXTRA SUPPORT Tell Sts to cover the sentences on the right and see if they can remember them.

Focus on 2 Prepositions and emphasize that Sts must write the preposition in the Preposition column, not in the shaded blank in the sentence (this is so they can test themselves later).

Check answers. Point out the silent b in debt /det/.

EXTRA SUPPORT Tell Sts to cover the words and see if they can remember what the definitions mean.

Finally, focus on 4 Phrasal verbs and get Sts to do a individually or in pairs.

🔊 2.4 Now do b. Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

🔊 2.4

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 2A.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Vocabulary photocopiable activity at this point.

2 PRONUNCIATION & SPEAKING o and or

Pronunciation notes

The letter o is quite tricky for Sts, as it has several different possible pronunciations. There are some spelling–pronunciation rules you might want to point out / elicit after you have done the exercises. You can also help Sts by highlighting the exceptions.

- o between two or several consonants is often /ɑ/, e.g., sorry, follow. There are some exceptions, e.g., worry.
- o + one consonant + e is usually /oʊ/, e.g., hope, alone, but there are several common words that have the /ʌ/ sound, e.g., some, money.
- The letters ol and oa between consonants are usually /oʊ/, e.g., told, road.
- The letters or between consonants are usually /ɔːr/, e.g., airport, but common exceptions are work and world, which are /əɹ/.

Encourage Sts to use a dictionary to check pronunciation when they are not sure.

- a Focus on the question and the three sentences, making sure Sts understand the word rhyme. Elicit the answers from the class.

1 sunny 2 funny 3 honey

- b Focus on the activity and elicit the three words and sounds, i.e., up /ʌ/, clock /ɑ/, and phone /oʊ/. Point out that the first one (borrow) has been done for them.

Give Sts two minutes to put the words in the correct column. Remind them that it is easier to do this kind of exercise if they say the words aloud to themselves.

Get Sts to compare with a partner.

- c 🔊 2.5 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check. Check answers.

🔊 2.5

up /ʌ/ done, from, money, nothing, some, won clock /ɑ/ borrow, contactless, dollar, honest, promise, shopping phone /oʊ/ clothes, go, loan, owe, sold

Play the audio again, pausing after each group of words for Sts to listen and repeat. Give more practice if these sounds are a problem for your Sts.

Then repeat the activity, eliciting responses from individual Sts.

EXTRA SUPPORT If these sounds are difficult for your Sts, it will help to show them the mouth position. You could model this yourself or use the Sound Bank videos on the Teacher Resource Center.

- d Now tell Sts to focus on the words with the letters or. In pairs, get Sts to answer the two questions.

EXTRA CHALLENGE Elicit the answers to d before playing the audio.

e 2.6 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

The letters or are normally pronounced /ɔː/ when they're stressed.

Work and worth are pronounced /ɜː/ (this applies to most words beginning wor- + consonant).

See words in the Student Book on p.16

Play the audio again for Sts to listen and repeat.

Elicit more words beginning wor- where the pronunciation is /wɜː/, e.g., word, worse, world.

f 2.7 Tell Sts they must listen and write the six sentences they hear.

Play the audio, pausing after each sentence to give Sts time to write.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then play the audio again if necessary.

Check answers, eliciting the sentences onto the board.

2.7

- 1 Let's go shopping for clothes.
- 2 Can I borrow some money?
- 3 He won a million dollars.
- 4 I've done nothing wrong.
- 5 They can't afford to pay the mortgage.
- 6 I work in a store.

Put Sts in pairs and get them to practice saying the sentences.

EXTRA SUPPORT Model and drill each sentence before putting Sts in pairs.

EXTRA SUPPORT If these sounds are difficult for your Sts, it will help to show them the mouth position. You could model this yourself or use the Sound Bank videos on the Teacher Resource Center.

g Put Sts in pairs, A and B, and tell them to go to Communication Money Q&A, A on p.106, B on p.111.

Go through the instructions with them carefully.

Sts A start with their first question. Sts B answer, giving as much information as possible, and then ask their first question to Sts A.

While Sts are doing the activity, monitor and help with any vocabulary problems, e.g., charity, bargain, etc.

Get some feedback from the class.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 2A.

3 READING understanding paragraphing

a Do this as a whole-class activity.

b Focus on the instructions and then give Sts time to read the article and match the paragraphs to topics 1–7.

Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the article the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

A 2 B 6 C 3 D 1 E 4 F 7 G 5

c Tell Sts to read the article again and then mark sentences 1–7 T (true) or F (false). Remind them to correct the false ones. You could point out that there is one sentence for each paragraph of the article.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- 1 F (She couldn't use buses or flights, etc.)
- 2 F (She had plenty of cheap food, but it was boring.)
- 3 T
- 4 F (She had French fries on a biking vacation.)
- 5 F (She is much slimmer and in better shape.)
- 6 T
- 7 T

Finally, help with any other new vocabulary. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.

d Do this as a whole-class activity.

e Focus on the Compound nouns box and go through it with the class. You might also want to tell Sts that occasionally compound nouns are hyphenated, e.g., carry-on, or one word, e.g., sunglasses.

Now tell Sts to look at the words in the circle and underline six more compound nouns in the article that start with a word in the circle.

Check answers.

olive oil electricity bills cleaning products bike trip beauty treatments tap water f Focus on the would for imaginary situations box and go through it with the class.

Put Sts in pairs and get them to answer the questions.

Get some feedback from various pairs. You could also tell Sts if you could do what Michelle did.

4 GRAMMAR present perfect and simple past a Focus on the picture and elicit what the relationship is between the two people (husband / wife or boyfriend / girlfriend).

Focus on the task and tell Sts to read the conversation quickly and answer the question.

Check the answer.

They are arguing about money.

b 2.8 Tell Sts to complete the conversation with the verbs in either the present perfect or the simple past. Point out that the first one (haven't seen) has been done for them.

Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

- 2 bought
- 3 did...cost
- 4 were
- 5 Have...seen
- 6 came
- 7 haven't paid
- 8 bought
- 9 didn't need
- 10 worked
- 11 needed
- 12 needed

2.8

D = Daniel, K = Keisha

K I haven't seen those sneakers before. Are they new?

D Yes. I bought them today. Do you like them?

K They're OK. How much did they cost?

D Oh, not much. They were a bargain. Under $100.

K You mean $99.99. That isn't cheap for a pair of sneakers. Anyway, we can't afford to buy new clothes right now.

- D Why not?
 K Have you seen this?
 D No. What is it?
 K The electricity bill. It came this morning. And we haven't paid the house insurance yet.
 D Well, what about the iPad you bought last week?
 K What about it?
 D You didn't need a new one. The old one worked just fine.
 K But I needed the new model.
 D Well, I needed some new sneakers.

- c Now tell Sts to answer questions 1 and 2 in pairs. Tell them to look at the conversation to help them.
 Check answers using the examples in the conversation in a to exemplify the rules.

- 1 SP (e.g., How much did they cost?)
 2 PP (e.g., Have you seen this?)

- d Tell Sts to go to Grammar Bank 2A on p.134.

Grammar notes

In Grammar Bank 2A the main uses of the present perfect are pulled together and contrasted with the simple past. This is all review from American English File Level 2, but it is the first time Sts have compared the two forms in such detail. If you know your Sts' L1, some careful use of L1 / L2 contrast could help here.

Present perfect

The most important point to emphasize is that we use the present perfect for a past action or actions where no specific time is mentioned or understood, e.g., I've been to Paris twice. I've already seen that movie. Have you ever met Jack's wife?

It is also used for very recent past actions. In this context, it is often used to give a piece of news or information, e.g., Did you hear? Lina has broken her leg. Guess what! I've found a new job! I'm sleepy. I've just gotten up. (No past time expression is used).

Typical mistakes: I've been to Paris last year. I already saw that movie. Lina has broken her leg this morning.

Simple past

The most important point to emphasize is that when we use the simple past, a specific time in the past is mentioned, e.g., Did you see the game last night?, or understood between the speakers, e.g., Did you see the game? (We both know it was last night). So, for example, a question beginning What time...? or When...? will usually be in the simple past.

Typical mistakes: Have you see the game last night? When have they arrived? What time have you gotten up today?

Refer Sts to the Irregular Verbs list on p.165 and explain that this is their reference list. Get Sts to go through the list quickly in pairs, checking that they know what the verbs mean. Encourage them to highlight verbs they don't know or for which they have forgotten the past form. Test them periodically on the past and participle forms.

Focus on the example sentences and play audio 2.9, 2.10 and 2.11 for Sts to listen and repeat. Encourage them to copy the rhythm.
 Then go through the rules with the class.

Now focus on the exercises and get Sts to do them individually or in pairs.

Check answers, getting Sts to read the full sentences.

- a
- 1 Have you ever booked a flight online?
 - 2 Soon. I have / 've already saved $1,000.
 - 3 Have you paid the phone bill yet?

 - 5 I don't know. I have / 've never used it.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 2A.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Grammar photocopyable activity at this point.

5 SPEAKING

- a This questionnaire practices the contrast between the simple past and present perfect and also provides an opportunity for free speaking.

Focus on the instructions and point out the two examples in the speech bubbles. Point out that the Have you ever...? questions in the questionnaire are in the present perfect because they are asking about your whole life until now. Point out that the first circle has been completed (saved). Give Sts time to fill in the blanks in the questions in the other circles.

Check answers, checking that Sts are pronouncing the past correctly, especially the regular verbs (/sɜːvd/, /'weɪstɪd/, /ɪn'heɪtɪd/).

- 2 lent 3 wasted 4 bought 5 inherited 6 lost 7 won 8 forgotten 9 lost 10 taken out 11 bought, sold

- b Focus again on the example speech bubbles. Remind Sts that the first question is in the present perfect, but if the answer is Yes, then the follow-up questions, asking for more information, should be in the simple past because you are now referring to a specific time in the past, e.g., How much was the deposit?

Put Sts in pairs. You could either get one student to ask all the questions and then Sts switch roles, or Sts can take turns asking each other a question, and the same question can be returned using What about you?

Get some whole-class feedback by finding out, e.g., how many people in the class have sold something on the internet and asking individual Sts to talk about their experience.

EXTRA SUPPORT You could model the activity first by getting Sts to choose a couple of questions to ask you and eliciting follow-up questions.

6 LISTENING listening for facts

- a Do this as a whole-class activity and elicit different scams from Sts. If you know of one, you could also tell the class about it.
- b Give Sts time to read the email and think about what they would do if they received one like that. Tell them not to worry about the mistakes in the email.
Put Sts in pairs to discuss what they would do.
Elicit some opinions from the class.

EXTRA SUPPORT You could pre-teach some vocabulary to make sure Sts understand the email, or ask some comprehension questions after Sts have read the email, e.g., Where does Naomi Cooper live? (In Nigeria), Who died last month? (Her parents), Why does she need your help? (She wants to take her parents' money out of Nigeria and needs an account in the US.), etc.

- c Focus on the instructions and then give Sts time to read the email again and correct the ten mistakes.
Check answers, by eliciting the answers onto the board.

Businness Business have died died there their
I am needing I need can to transfer can transfer dolars dollars account account him it
I want organize I want to organize you your

- d 2.12 Tell Sts they are going to listen to three people calling a radio show to talk about how they lost money in a scam. Tell Sts the first time they listen, they must write down how much money each person lost. They must also listen for the most important advice the presenter gives. Play the audio once the whole way through.
Get Sts to compare answers, and then play again if necessary.
Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

Tara lost over $3,000. Max lost about $300. Zeke didn't lose any money.

(script in the Student Book on pp. 125–126)

H = Host, T = Tara, M = Max, Z = Zeke

- H Hello, and welcome to Five-Minute Money. Today we're talking about scams and scammers. Millions of people a year are victims of scams in the US. In 2017, Americans lost $905 million because of scams, so we all need to know what to look out for. We're going to hear three listeners' stories, and for each scam, we'll explain how to stay safe.
Our first story is from Tara in Knoxville.
- T A few months ago, I got an email from my cousin who was studying abroad in South Africa. He said he'd lost his backpack with his ID and credit cards and needed money to get home. He asked for my credit card number, and I was like, well, it's my cousin, I have to help him! So, I sent him a reply with my credit card number and everything. But there was no reply. So, I got suspicious, and I checked my credit card balance, and somebody had stolen over $3,000. Of course, I never got it back.

- H Ah, the friend (or family member) abroad who needs help. But it isn't really a friend: it's a scammer who is using this friend's email account. Often this scam is obvious, either because you know your friend isn't abroad, or because the email has grammar and spelling mistakes. So always be suspicious of any strange emails from friends. The next story is from Max in Madison.
- M I got an email saying that I'd won a lot of money in the Mega Millions lottery. It looked official, and it was from "The Mega Millions Corporation," so I thought it was real. I did buy a Mega Millions lottery ticket last fall when the jackpot was close to $1 billion dollars, so I believed it. I emailed back and they replied and said the easiest thing was for me to send them my bank details, and they'd pay the money directly into my account. So, like an idiot, I did, and the next day my bank account was completely empty. Thank goodness my account only had three hundred dollars in it. I feel so stupid, but I definitely learned my lesson.
- H Yes, so again, never believe an email or message saying you've won a lottery, especially if you've never bought a ticket.
Our last story is from Zeke in Hartford.
- Z It was a Saturday morning and I'd just gotten back from the gym. The phone rang and a woman said she was from Citibank's security division. She said the bank was conducting its regular account verification process and that I needed to verify my credit card number and some other information. I thought it was weird that the bank was calling on a Saturday morning, but she was so nice and polite, so I gave her all my credit card information. A few days later, I tried to use my credit card and it was declined. I called the Citibank customer hotline and the bank representative said that my credit card was deactivated because of suspicious charges. The representative told me that Citibank never calls its customers to verify credit card information. Thank goodness I wasn't responsible for any of the suspicious charges, so I didn't lose any money.
- H It's natural to cooperate if you think your bank is calling you, but your bank will never ask you on the phone to verify your account details. If you get suspicious, just hang up, wait ten minutes, then call your bank to check if it really was them. So, what's the most important thing to remember if you don't want to be the victim of a scam? Be very suspicious of strange emails from friends or from someone saying that you've won a prize, and the same for phone calls from your bank. And above all, never, never give your bank account or credit card numbers to anybody, either in an email or on the phone, unless you are 100% sure who they really are.

- e Tell Sts they are going to listen again, and this time they need to fill in the blanks in the summaries with one or two words.
Give Sts time to read the summaries.
Play the audio again, pausing after each story to give Sts time to write.
Check answers.

1 email 2 backpack 3 credit card 4 money 5 believed
6 bank 7 phone call 8 bank 9 number
10 information

EXTRA CHALLENGE Get Sts to try to fill in the blanks before playing the audio again. Then play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the script on pp. 125–126, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

- f Do this as a whole-class activity.

- G present perfect + for / since, present perfect continuous
V strong adjectives: exhausted, amazed, etc.
P sentence stress

Lesson plan

In this lesson, Sts review the present perfect (with for and since) and they are introduced to the present perfect continuous. The context is provided by the story of a group of Spanish and British tourists whose vacation to Uganda changed their lives and led them to set up a charity, originally to help build a new school for orphan children, but that has now expanded into many different projects.

The lesson begins with a short radio show about the charity Adelante Africa, followed by an interview with Jane Cadwallader, one of the founding members. Then sentences from the listening are used to contextualize the grammar presentation. This is followed by a pronunciation focus on sentence stress in present perfect continuous sentences and a speaking activity where Sts put the grammar into practice. The first half of the lesson ends with a writing activity where Sts write an informal email.

In the second half of the lesson, Sts read a blog by a TV host who took part in a 500-mile challenge to the South Pole to raise money for charity. The lexical focus in this part of the lesson is on using strong adjectives, like furious and exhausted. The lesson ends with a video documentary about a charity bake sale at Oxford University Press.

Review the present perfect with for and since by writing these prompts on the board:

- 1 HOW LONG / BE A TEACHER?
- 2 HOW LONG / WORK AT THIS SCHOOL?
- 3 HOW LONG / LIVE IN THIS TOWN?
- 4 HOW LONG / KNOW YOUR BEST FRIEND?

Put Sts in pairs and give them two minutes to decide how to make the questions.

Check answers and then get Sts to ask you. Make sure they use the present perfect tense and not the simple present (NOT How long are you a teacher?).

- 1 How long have you been a teacher?
- 2 How long have you worked at this school?

- 3 How long have you lived in this town?
- 4 How long have you known your best friend?

Answer Sts' questions using for and since and elicit from the class when you use these words (for = period of time, since = a point in time).

Finally, you could get Sts to ask each other questions 3 and 4.

! If a student (who already knows the tense) uses the present perfect continuous to ask question 3, point out to the class that this is another form of the present perfect that they are going to study in this lesson.

Part 1

The charity Adelante Africa was started in 2008. That summer, a group of Spanish and British tourists had traveled to Uganda on safari to see the mountain gorillas. Halfway through the trip, in a small rural village called Igayaza, the truck they were traveling in broke down. While a mechanic repaired the truck, the group took shelter in a nearby building. It was a school for orphans, children without parents, but it was in a terrible shape. The walls were falling down, the blackboards were broken, and there weren't many desks. But the children were wonderful, very bright and friendly. One of the tourists was a school teacher, and she started teaching them English songs. She was amazed at how quickly they learned. When they left, they asked the principal how they could help, and he said, "What we need is a new school." When the tourists arrived home from their vacation, they decided to set up a charity to raise money to rebuild the school. Two years later, on March 14, 2010, the new school opened with 75 children – and since then, Adelante Africa hasn't stopped.

(script in the Student Book on p.126)

Part 2

I = interviewer, J = Jane

I I'm with Jane Cadwallader, the secretary of Adelante Africa.

J Hello.

I Hi Jane, how long have you been working with Adelante Africa?

J Well, for over ten years now. Since the beginning. I was the teacher who sang songs with the children back in 2008, when the lorry broke down.

I Jane, tell us what Adelante Africa has been doing since 2010, since the school was finished.

J Well, we've done a lot. Our next major project was to build a children's home for the orphans who don't have anybody in their extended family who can look after them. The children's home has been running since 2012, and now we have 57 children there. But we also realized that if we wanted to help the local children, we really needed to help their parents, too. Our primary school was beautiful, but many of the children were sick, they had malaria or malnutrition. So we started several small community projects, for example we tried to help people to improve their diet by giving them seeds to plant a variety of vegetables. Most people in rural Uganda, you see, erm, don't eat fruit and vegetables, except what they can find growing wild. We've also been building water tanks to collect rainwater, so that they have cleaner water to drink, and they don't have to walk the long distances to the nearest river. And we've started a small factory to make sunflower oil, which has helped local farmers, and also given some jobs to local people. Sunflower oil is much healthier than the palm oil that most people were using before, so really we've helped the whole community with this.

I And are any of your new projects related to education?

J Absolutely. In 2011 we started a FAL group in Igayaza – FAL stands for Functional Adult Literacy, so these are classes to teach adults – mainly women – to read and write, and to speak English, which is the official language in Uganda. Since then, we've started eleven more FAL groups in other nearby villages. And our other big project is that we've just built a secondary school so that children from our primary school and the other local children can get a good secondary education. We're very proud of it – it's not quite finished yet, though. We need to raise more money in order to finish all the buildings.

I And are all the volunteers, the people who work with you, from Britain and Spain?

J No, not at all. There are a few of us from Europe who visit regularly, but the people who make it all possible are the Ugandan volunteers. Without them, we couldn't do anything! In the future, we hope that all the projects will be run by them.

I And can you tell me about some of the children, some individual cases?

J Hmm, let me think. I know a good example. John Muzzei. He's a boy, an orphan, who was at the primary school when the lorry broke down. He was very bright, and when he finished primary in the new school he got very good grades and we sponsored him to go to secondary school. He worked very hard there as well and did very well, and now he's in the last year of nursing at a good nursing college. And I also have to tell you about Baby Rose. She was brought to our children's home with her brother. They were living alone in a hut with their mother, who was dying of AIDS. When they arrived, Rose was a year old. She was suffering from malnutrition and weighed only five kilos. Her little legs were so thin that we thought she'd never walk. And she never, ever smiled. Now, one year later, she's running around, laughing and smiling. Since she came here, she's changed completely into a healthy, happy child.

I So Adelante Africa has really changed their lives?

J Yes, it's changed their lives, but it's also changed the lives of the people who work for Adelante Africa. Most of us feel it's the most satisfying thing we've ever done. Have a look at the photos and videos on our website – it's www.adelanteafrica.org. Maybe it will change your life, too.

c Tell Sts they are going to listen to the interview again, and this time they need to correct any mistakes in sentences 1–9.

Give Sts time to read sentences 1–9.

Play the audio again the whole way through.

Check answers.

- 1 There are 57 children living in the children's home.
- 2 People in Uganda don't eat (a lot of) vegetables / eat very few vegetables.
- 3 They are building tanks to collect rainwater.
- 4 In the factory, they make sunflower oil.
- 5 In the FAL groups, adults learn to read and write.
- 6 They need to raise money to finish the (school) buildings.
- 7 Most of the volunteers are from Uganda.
- 8 John Muzzei is now studying to be a nurse.
- 9 When Rose first arrived at the children's home, she never smiled.

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the script on p.126, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

EXTRA SUPPORT Do questions 1 and 2 as a whole-class activity.

c Tell Sts to go to Grammar Bank 2B on p.135.

Grammar notes

Present perfect (How long...? and for / since)

This use of the present perfect was presented in American English File Level 2 and should be review for most Sts. Sts may need to be reminded that the simple present tense cannot be used here (NOT How long do you live in this town?).

Remind them how for and since are used and the different words or phrases that can be used after them, e.g., for two months, three years, a long time, ages; since October, I was born, last summer, I was a child, etc.

Present perfect continuous (with How long...? and for / since)

For many Sts, including those who used American English File Level 2, this will be the first time they have seen the present perfect continuous.

Point out to Sts that in the same way that there is a “simple” and “continuous” form of the present and the past, there are also two forms of the present perfect (simple and continuous).

The most important difference between the two forms for Sts at this point is that with How long...? and for / since, we usually use the continuous form with action verbs (e.g., learn, go, play, do, wait, etc.), and the simple form is used with nonaction verbs (e.g., be, have, know).

Some typical mistakes include:

- getting the form wrong, e.g., (forgetting to include been) How long have you learning English?
- depending on their L1, using the present continuous instead of the present perfect continuous, e.g., I am learning English for a long time.
- using the continuous form of the present perfect with nonaction verbs, e.g., I've been knowing my best friend for 15 years.
- confusing for and since

Present perfect continuous (for continuous or repeated recent actions)

We also use the present perfect continuous to talk about recent continuous actions that have either just stopped or are still continuing, e.g., A You look tired. B Yes, I've been cleaning the house all afternoon (= I've just finished).

A You look tired. B Yes, I haven't been sleeping well recently (= I still have problems sleeping at night).

Focus on the example sentences and play audio 2.16 and 2.17 for Sts to listen and repeat. Encourage them to copy the rhythm.

Then go through the rules with the class.

Focus on the live and work box and go through it with the class.

Now focus on the exercises and get Sts to do them individually or in pairs.

Check answers, getting Sts to read the full sentences.

- a
- 1 She's been studying English for three years.
 - 2 How long have they been watching TV?
 - 3 It's been raining since lunchtime.
 - 4 I haven't been living here for very long.
 - 5 How long have you been learning to drive?
- b
- 1 for 2 haven't seen 3 have you known 4 ✓
 - 5 I've been cleaning
- c
- 1 We've known each other since we were children.
 - 2 The children have been playing computer games for two hours.
 - 3 Has your sister had that hairstyle for a long time?
 - 4 I've loved her since the first day we met.
 - 5 My internet connection hasn't been working since yesterday.
 - 6 How long have you been waiting?
 - 7 I've been a teacher for three years.
 - 8 It's been snowing since 5:00 this morning.
 - 9 Sam hasn't been studying enough recently.
 - 10 Have you been living in Chicago for a long time?

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 2B.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Grammar photocopiable activity at this point.

3 PRONUNCIATION sentence stress

Pronunciation notes

Remind Sts that the words that are stressed more strongly in a sentence are the ones that carry the important information, e.g., I've lived in the suburbs for ten years. These are the words that you hear more clearly when somebody speaks to you and are typically verbs, nouns, adjectives, and adverbs.

The other “non-information” words are pronounced less strongly, and these words often get shortened when we speak, e.g., for becomes /fər/. Sts need plenty of practice with sentence rhythm, especially with longer structures, e.g., present perfect continuous sentences and questions, conditional sentences, etc.

a 2.18 Tell Sts that they are going to hear two present perfect continuous questions and answers. The first time they listen, they should try to write down the stressed words in the pink boxes.

Play the audio, pausing after each line to give Sts time to write.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- 1 learning, French
- 2 learning, French, three, years
- 3 How, long, raining
- 4 raining, lunchtime

2.18

- 1 How long have you been learning French?
- 2 I've been learning French for three years.
- 3 How long has it been raining?
- 4 It's been raining since lunchtime.

b Now tell Sts to look at the words they have written and try to remember what the complete question or sentence is.

Tell Sts to listen to the audio again and fill in any blanks they have. Play the audio again.

Check answers, eliciting the sentences onto the board.

- 1 How long have you been learning French?
- 2 I've been learning French for three years.
- 3 How long has it been raining?
- 4 It's been raining since lunchtime.

c Play the audio again, pausing after each question and sentence for Sts to listen and repeat, copying the rhythm. Encourage them to pronounce the stressed words (in the pink boxes) more strongly and not to stress the other words. Remind Sts that unstressed words are often contracted, e.g., to becomes /tə/ and for becomes /fər/.

Then repeat the activity, eliciting responses from individual Sts.

EXTRA SUPPORT Put Sts in pairs and get them to practice saying the sentences.

d 2.19 Focus on the instructions and example.

Play the audio, pausing after each sentence for Sts to listen and form the question.

2.19

- 1 It's snowing. (pause) How long has it been snowing?
- 2 I'm learning Chinese. (pause) How long have you been learning Chinese?
- 3 Jessie is working in Argentina. (pause) How long has Jessie been working in Argentina?
- 4 John is looking for a job. (pause) How long has John been looking for a job?
- 5 They're living with Maria's parents. (pause) How long have they been living with Maria's parents?
- 6 I'm going to salsa classes. (pause) How long have you been going to salsa classes?
- 7 It's raining. (pause) How long has it been raining?
- 8 Kenji is going out with Emily. (pause) How long has Kenji been going out with Emily?

EXTRA SUPPORT To help Sts make the questions, write the following on the board:

HOW LONG HAS _____ BEEN + -ING...?

HOW LONG HAVE _____ BEEN + -ING...?

Then repeat the activity, eliciting the questions from individual Sts.

4 SPEAKING

In this speaking activity, Sts practice using both the present perfect and the present perfect continuous.

a Focus on the instructions and give Sts time to write true information in as many of the squares as they can (e.g., WWF in the first square). Go around the class, making sure they have completed at least six of the squares.

b Focus on the instructions. Highlight that with an action verb, e.g., use, play, etc., Sts should ask the questions in the present perfect continuous. With nonaction verbs, e.g., be, know, etc., you can't use the continuous form, and the present perfect must be used, e.g., How long have you known your best friend? NOT How long have you been knowing...?

Remind Sts that with the verb live, you can use either of the forms.

EXTRA SUPPORT Go through the squares before you start, and elicit whether the verbs are action or nonaction and the question that Sts should ask in each case. You could demonstrate the activity yourself by copying a couple of squares on the board (one with an action verb, the other with a nonaction verb) and writing something true in them. Then the class could ask you three questions about each one.

Put Sts in pairs. Focus on the speech bubbles. Sts now compare their information and take turns choosing one of their partner's squares and asking him / her about the information in it. Remind them that the first question must be How long...?

Monitor and help.

If there's time, get feedback from various pairs about an interesting piece of information about their partner.

5 WRITING an informal email

Tell Sts to go to Writing An informal email on p.116.

a Focus on the photo and see if Sts can guess who they are (they are the people from Writing 1 – Marisol with Angela's children).

Now focus on the instructions and give Sts time to match the sentences to paragraphs A–F in the email. Tell them not to worry about the blanks in the email.

Check answers.

- A She apologizes for not writing before.
- B She thanks Angela for her stay.
- C She talks about the nice things they did together when she was with them.
- D She talks about what she's been doing recently.
- E She thanks them again and invites them to stay.
- F She sends greetings to another member of the family.

b Focus on the Informal emails box and go through it with the class.

Now tell Sts to read the email again and fill in blanks 2–8. Point out that the first one (Hi) has been done for them.

Check answers.

- 2 Thanks 3 time 4 miss 5 spending 6 hope 7 wishes
8 attached

c Tell Sts to imagine that they have some American friends in the US, and that they stayed with them for a week last month. Now they need to write an email to say thank you. Tell Sts to use the sentences in a in the correct order as their plan, and to use expressions from the Informal emails box.

You may want to get Sts to do the writing in class, or you could assign it as homework. Get them to write the email according to the model. If you do it in class, set a time limit for Sts to write their email, e.g., 15–20 minutes.

- d Sts should check their email for mistakes before handing it in.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 2B.

6 READING understanding the order of events

- a Focus on the questions and make sure Sts understand the phrases to raise money for a good cause and to take part in a charity event.

Sts could discuss the questions in pairs or you could do it as a whole-class activity.

If Sts worked in pairs, get some feedback from various pairs.

- b Focus on the instructions, making sure Sts know what a blog is (= a website where a person writes regularly about recent events or topics that interest them, usually with photos and links to other websites that they find interesting). Give Sts time to read the introduction and to answer the two questions.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the blog the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

- 1 She's run an ultra marathon in Namibia and she's kayaked down the Amazon.
- 2 A polar challenge – a 500-mile journey to the South Pole. It's different because the cold, rather than the heat, might be a problem.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the blog, ask them some comprehension questions, e.g., Where is Helen going on this challenge? (To the South Pole), How is Helen going to get there? (By skiing, kite-skiing, and cycling), etc.

- c Focus on the instructions and make sure Sts understand what they have to do. Point out that the first one (B) has been done for them.

Now give Sts time to number the entries 2–9.

Check answers.

2 D 3 I 4 C 5 E 6 H 7 F 8 A 9 G

- d Now tell Sts to read all the blog entries again and decide in which one Helen mentions the items in the list.

Give Sts time to complete the task.

Check answers.

feeling very emotional G (I cried)

how beautiful Antarctica is B (the scenery was incredible) looking forward to a wash H (lots of hot water so I can have a good wash) looking like a science fiction character A (I may look like Darth Vader) not being able to go outside D (we've had to stay in the tent) stopping bike riding because she was very tired C (we had to stop because I was completely exhausted) stopping using one method of transportation F (we've only been using bikes and cross-country skis, not kite-skis)

having to wear the same clothes every day I (I'm not going to get clean clothes again for three weeks!)

traveling quickly for the first time E (we set off...and straight away we were traveling fast.)

Help with any other new vocabulary. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.

- e Put Sts in pairs and get them to tell each other about an adventure sport they've done or an exciting experience they've had.

Get some feedback from various pairs. You could also tell the class if you have done any adventure sports.

7 VOCABULARY & SPEAKING strong adjectives

Vocabulary notes

Many strong adjectives are used in a non-literal sense, e.g., starving and boiling are often used to mean very hungry or very hot, although people are not dying of hunger and the temperature is not 212 degrees Fahrenheit.

Some of them can also be used as -ed or -ing adjectives, e.g., fascinating / fascinated. Sts should be aware of this, but there is also a focus on -ed / -ing adjectives later.

You may want to point out that amazed = very surprised, but amazing can mean either very surprising or very good, e.g., It was an amazing movie.

- a Give Sts time to read sentences 1–3 and complete each with an adjective.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- 1 exhausted (= very tired) 2 freezing (= very cold)
- 3 filthy (= very dirty)

Elicit / Explain that these are strong adjectives, i.e., that they mean very tired, very cold, etc.

Then focus on the Strong adjectives box and go through it with the class.

- b Give Sts time to read sentences 1–12, which all contain a strong adjective. From the context or their previous knowledge, Sts should be able to write synonyms for each one by writing the regular adjective. Sts could work in pairs or individually and then compare answers when they finish. Point out that the first one (angry) has been done for them.

- c  2.20 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers, making sure Sts are clear what all the adjectives mean.

- 2 small 3 afraid 4 interesting 5 hungry 6 big 7 hot
- 8 dirty 9 happy 10 funny 11 sure 12 surprised

2.20

- 1 A Was Lisa's father angry about the car accident?
B Yes, he was furious!
- 2 A Is Omar's apartment small?
B Yes, it's really tiny – just a bedroom and a living room.
- 3 A Are you afraid of flying?
B Yes, I'm terrified! I never fly anywhere.
- 4 A There was an interesting documentary about whales on TV last night.
B Yes, I thought it was fascinating.
- 5 A Are you very hungry?
B I'm starving! I haven't eaten all day.
- 6 A Is your parents' house big?
B It's huge. It has seven bedrooms.
- 7 A Was it hot in Dubai?
B It was boiling! 110 degrees.
- 8 A Was Jack's kitchen dirty?
B It was filthy. It took us three hours to clean it.
- 9 A Are your parents happy about the wedding?
B They're delighted. In fact, they want to pay for everything!
- 10 A Was the movie funny?
B It was hilarious. We laughed all the way through.
- 11 A Are you sure you locked the door?
B I'm positive. I remember turning the key.
- 12 A Were you surprised to hear that Tyler and Kimiko have broken up?
B I was absolutely amazed! I never thought it would happen.

Now play the audio again, pausing after each exchange for Sts to listen and repeat the questions and responses. Model and drill pronunciation of the adjectives where necessary. Encourage Sts to copy the strong stress on the strong adjectives.

Put Sts in pairs and get them to practice the conversations.

Get some pairs to perform in front of the class.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you want to give more practice, you could ask the class more questions using a regular adjective and get them to respond with a strong one, e.g., Is the water cold? Is an elephant big? Was the book good? Was the weather bad? Are you frightened of snakes?, etc.

- d Put Sts in pairs, A and B, and tell them to go to Communication Are you hungry?, A on p.106, B on p.111.

Go through the instructions with them carefully, and then demonstrate the activity with a B student (you take the part of student A).

Point out that when a pair has finished the activity, they should repeat it, this time trying to respond as quickly as possible and trying to stress the strong adjective strongly.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 2B.

- e Put Sts in pairs and get them to interview each other. Tell them to give as much information as possible and to use strong adjectives.

Monitor and help with vocabulary.

Get some feedback from various pairs.

EXTRA SUPPORT Choose one of the questions and tell Sts what you think, giving as much information as possible.

8 VIDEO LISTENING

This is the first of five Video Listenings, which are incorporated into the Student Book. If you are unable to show the video in class, remind Sts that they can find the video on Online Practice and ask them to watch the video and do the activities for homework.

- a Focus on the poster and the photos of the five cakes. Tell Sts that they are going to watch a video about an event at Oxford University Press – a sale of home-made cakes and cookies to raise money for charity.

Play the video once the whole way through for Sts to listen and answer the question.

EXTRA IDEA Pause the video before the winner is announced (after the narrator says And then to choose the winner at 05:27) and get Sts to predict which one it is.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check the answer. Ask Sts if they think that the winning cake looks the best.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts watch the video. You could teach the group of baking-related words, e.g., buttercream (a mixture of butter and sugar), a sponge cake, blueberries, cookies, a loaf cake (= a cake that has the same shape as a loaf of bread), and icing. You may also want to point out the British English use of the word speciality, which is specialty in American English.

The winning cake is number 2, the Neapolitan cake.

The Great OUP Bake Sale

N = narrator, E = Emma, J = James, D = Daisy, L = Laura

N People do many different things to raise money for charity. These runners are doing the New York Marathon. Every year, the race raises about forty million dollars.

And these people are doing a sponsored skydive. There are also ways to raise money without exercising or jumping out of an airplane.

These people are bringing cakes to a charity bake sale. The popularity of bake sales has increased dramatically over the last decade, thanks in part at least to the popularity of The Great British Baking Show. This show, which began in 2010, has encouraged people of all abilities to bake, especially when it's for charity.

Today's sale – at Oxford University Press – will raise money for two charities: Macmillan Cancer Support and Adelante Africa, a charity that supports education and other projects in a rural area of Uganda. But this bake sale is different – it's also a competition and will be judged by Daisy Watt and Emma Collen, who are chefs and professional bakers. And from the minute the posters appeared, people have tried to persuade their colleagues to join in. Emma is going to make Viennese Whirls – cookies with buttercream and jam.

- E I bake quite often, probably once or twice a month. It's one of my main hobbies that I enjoy – um, kind of a stress-reliever for me, just being in the kitchen by myself, with some music on, just enjoying baking. Um, and it's just an added bonus to do it for charity as well, combining one of my hobbies with raising some money for some really great causes. It's not the first time I've taken part in a bake sale. I've done several different kinds of bake sales for work and other things.

N James is going to make a sponge cake with blueberries.

- J I bake not that often, maybe about, I don't know, once a month or something I might bake. Um, when I, when I do, it's usually baking with my kids, I suppose, so, um, you know, we make something really easy like cookies or something like that. The cake that I've baked today – I have baked that one in the past before. And so I'm quite confident, that it's going to be OK at least, but, you know, I couldn't say that it's actually a speciality. I don't bake often enough to have a speciality to be honest. I mean I'm baking now, because it's for a charity, right, so, so I wouldn't say I have a speciality.

- N The finalists in this competition bake sale are a Baklava Cake, a Neapolitan Cake, Emma's Viennese Whirls, a loaf cake and a chocolate cake. Although this isn't The Great British Baking Show, Daisy is looking for certain criteria in the cakes.
- D There are a few things I was looking for – refinement. It sounds harsh, but there were good cakes out there, so it was really important to choose the cakes that looked like someone had put real effort into the decoration and you can see the ones that put the effort in.
- N And it's now time to judge the five finalists.
- D That's fantastic! Very clever and you've even done the different-colored icing in between – a labor of love. Really good sponge. The chocolate sponge is delicious. It's not over chocolatey, it's just...
- N And then to choose the winner.
- D So I've conferred enough, because it is really close, but there is one winner, who has obviously put so much effort, not just in the decoration, but also her sponge is technically brilliant. So, are you going to come up here?
- N And now the only thing left to do is to eat the cake – and give money to the two charities.
- L Obviously really happy that my cake was chosen and it's really nice to bake for such a great cause as well.
- E They were really complimentary about my bake, which was great. But a biscuit, I don't think, is going to stand up to those beautifully-iced cakes that we had, so the standard was really high.
- J I mean I'm not the best baker in the world. I know that, but you know, as I say, it came out really well and it raised loads of money for the charities, so no, I'm really pleased I did it, yeah.
- N The cake sale raised over two hundred and seventy pounds for Macmillan Cancer Support and Adelante Africa.

- b Give Sts time to read 1–10, which are mentioned in the video and make sure that they understand them, e.g., Viennese Whirls (= a kind of cookie).

Play the video again, pausing for Sts to decide why the items are mentioned.

EXTRA SUPPORT Pause the video after each thing to give Sts time to write.

EXTRA CHALLENGE First, put Sts in pairs and tell them to try to remember why 1–10 are mentioned. Then play the video again.

Check answers.

- 1 The New York Marathon is an example of one of the ways that people raise money for charity. It raises about $40 million every year.
- 2 The Great British Baking Show is a television show that has made baking and bake sales very popular.
- 3 Macmillan Cancer Support and Adelante Africa are the two charities that the OUP bake sale is raising money for.
- 4 Daisy Watt is a chef and is one of the judges of the baking competition.
- 5 Viennese Whirls are the cookies that Emma is making.
- 6 Emma says that baking is a stress-reliever for her – she enjoys baking and listening to music in the kitchen.
- 7 James is making a sponge cake with blueberries.
- 8 James says that when he bakes, it's usually with his kids, and they make something easy.
- 9 The decoration is one of the things that Daisy is looking for – she wants to see that the bakers have made a real effort with the decoration of their cakes..
- 10 The OUP bake sale raised over £270 for the two charities.

Finally, ask Sts some questions, e.g., Is there a similar show to "The Great British Baking Show" in your country? Do you like baking? What kind of things do you make? Do people do bake sales for charity in your country?, etc.

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time and you are using the video, you could get Sts to watch again with subtitles, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

EXTRA IDEA You could get the class to do a bake sale to raise money for a local charity.

1&2 Review and Check

There are two pages of review and reinforcement after every two Files. These exercises can be done individually or in pairs, in class or at home, depending on the needs of your Sts and the class time available.

The first page reviews the grammar, vocabulary, and pronunciation of the two Files. The exercises add up to 50 (grammar = 15, vocabulary = 25, pronunciation = 10), so you can use the first page as a mini-test on Files 1 and 2. The pronunciation section sends Sts to the Sound Bank on pp.166–167. Explain that this is a reference section of the book, where they can check the symbols and see common sound–spelling patterns for each of the sounds. Highlight the video showing the mouth position for each sound. If you don't want to use this in class, tell Sts to look at it at home and to practice making the sounds and saying the words. The second page presents Sts with a series of skills-based challenges. First, there is a reading text which is of a slightly higher level than those in the File, but which reviews grammar and vocabulary Sts have already learned. The listening is some unscripted street interviews, where people are asked questions related to the topics in the Files. Sts can either watch the interviews on video or listen to them on audio. You can find these on the Teacher Resource Center, Classroom Presentation Tool, Class DVD, and Class Audio CDs (audio only). Alternatively, you could assign this section / activity as homework. Sts can find the video on Online Practice. Finally, there is a speaking challenge which assesses Sts' ability to use the language of the Files orally. You could get Sts to do these activities in pairs, or Sts can check the boxes if they feel confident that they can do them.

I = interviewer, P = Philomena

- I What do you eat to cheer yourself up when you're feeling sad?
P I love roast potatoes, baked potatoes. They're warm, buttery, nice olive oil. They make me feel good.
I Does it make you feel better?
P Yeah, usually it does. I think they're quite refreshing, warm. When you're feeling down, I think they're the perfect remedy.

I = interviewer, M = Mark

- I How often do you eat out?
M Well, my wife would probably like me to eat out a little bit less, but probably about two to three times a week.
I What kind of places do you go to?
M You know, it always kind of depends. I think people like to eat in three or four different restaurants in their town no matter what, and it's usually one of those three or four, usually pizza, Mexican, or Asian.
I Why do you like these kinds of restaurants?
M I guess part of it is it's the type of food that you can't normally prepare at home, so it's something a little bit different. Otherwise it's just tasty.

I = interviewer, R = Ross

- I Do you have brothers and sisters?
R I have step brothers and sisters – two stepsisters and one stepbrother.
I Do you get along with them well?
R Yes, we didn't grow up together, but we're now all adults and we get on really well.

I = interviewer, T = Tyler

- I Have you ever won any money, for example, in a lottery?
T No, I haven't...ah well ...actually I've won like five dollars just from a scratch off lottery thing.
I What did you do with it?
T I'm pretty sure I went to McDonald's and treated myself.

I = interviewer, R = Richard

- I Have you ever taken part in a charity event?
R I have, yes. I ran the London Marathon, I think about eight years ago now. For Cancer Research.
I How much money did you raise?
S About six and a half thousand pounds.

G choosing between comparatives and superlatives

V transportation

P /ʃ/, /dʒ/, and /tʃ/, linking

Lesson plan

The context for this lesson is an episode of the well-known TV series about cars and driving, Top Gear, in which one of the show's hosts, Rutledge Wood, and his colleagues organize a race across southern Florida using several different modes of transportation.

The lesson begins with vocabulary, and Sts learn words and phrases connected to transportation, focusing particularly on road travel. This is followed by a pronunciation focus where the consonant sounds /ʃ/, /dʒ/, and /tʃ/ are contrasted. Sts then read about three of the participants in the race, who traveled by seaplane, scooter, car, and boat. The first half ends with Sts discussing what the result of the race would be if it were held in their nearest big city.

In the second half of the lesson, Sts begin by reviewing what they know about comparatives and superlatives, before going to the Grammar Bank, where this knowledge is extended. This leads into a listening activity about the causes of car accidents, based on detailed research from the US. There is another pronunciation focus on linking in fast speech, which will help Sts to understand the listening. Sts then discuss some statements to do with road transportation. The lesson ends with a writing focus where Sts write an article about transportation in their town or city.

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN (BOOKS CLOSED)

Play Hangman (see Level 1 Teacher Book p.24) with the phrase PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION.

Drill the pronunciation. Then get a show of hands to find out how many of the class regularly use public transportation to get to work / school.

1 VOCABULARY & SPEAKING transportation

a 3.1 Books open. Tell Sts they are going to hear eight forms of transportation and they must number them in order.

Play the audio once the whole way through.

Check answers, making sure Sts know each form of transportation. Model and drill pronunciation.

3.1

(Sound effects for the following forms of transportation)

- 1 train Tickets please!
- 2 car Does everyone have their seat belts on?
- 3 bike
- 4 motorcycle
- 5 truck
- 6 subway Stand clear of the closing doors please.
- 7 scooter
- 8 bus Does this stop at Broadway and 125th?

b Tell Sts to go to Vocabulary Bank Transportation on p.155.

Vocabulary notes

Public transportation and vehicles

You may want to point out that the underground is London's subway system, the London Underground. It's also called the Tube.

On the road

Sts may need to be reminded that compound nouns are two nouns together, where the first one describes the second.

Focus on 1 Public transportation and vehicles and make sure Sts know the meaning of vehicle (= something that is used for transporting people or things from one place to another). Model and drill its pronunciation /'vi:kl/. Then get Sts to do a individually or in pairs.

3.2 Now do b. Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

3.2

Transportation

- 1 Public transportation and vehicles
- 2 bus
- 6 freeway
- 9 motorcycle
- 8 platform
- 4 scooter
- 7 subway
- 5 train
- 3 truck
- 1 van

Now either use the audio to drill the pronunciation of the words, or model and drill them yourself. Give further practice of any words your Sts find difficult to pronounce.

EXTRA SUPPORT Tell Sts to cover the words and look at the photos to see if they can remember them.

Now look at 2 On the road and get Sts to do a individually or in pairs.

🔊 3.3 Now do b. Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

🔊 3.3

2 On the road

- 1 bicycle lane
- 2 car crash
- 3 crosswalk
- 4 gas station
- 5 parking ticket
- 6 pedestrian zone
- 7 road work
- 8 rush hour
- 9 seat belt
- 10 speed camera
- 11 speed limit
- 12 taxi stand
- 13 traffic jam
- 14 traffic light

Now either use the audio to drill the pronunciation of the words, or model and drill them yourself. Remind Sts that the strong stress falls on the first word in compound nouns, e.g., seat belt. Give further practice of any words your Sts find difficult to pronounce.

Focus on Activation and tell Sts to cover the compound nouns and look at the photos. Can they remember the compound nouns?

Now focus on 3 How long does it take? and go through the information box with the class. If you have a monolingual class, you could ask Sts what verb they use in their L1 to talk about how long things take.

Put Sts in pairs and get them to ask and answer the two questions.

Then get some feedback.

EXTRA IDEA With a show of hands, you could see who has the shortest / longest trip to work / school.

Finally, focus on 4 Phrasal verbs and get Sts to do a individually or in pairs.

🔊 3.4 Now do b. Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

🔊 3.4

4 Phrasal verbs

- 1 We set off at 7:00 in the morning to try to avoid the traffic.
- 2 I arrive at 8:15. Do you think you could pick me up at the train station?
- 3 Always check the address you put in your GPS or you may end up in the wrong place.
- 4 We're going to run out of gas soon. Let's stop at the next gas station.
- 5 Look out! You're going to crash!

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 3A.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Vocabulary photocopiable activity at this point.

c Put Sts in pairs, A and B, and tell them to go to Communication I'm a tourist – can you help me? A on p.106, B on p.111.

Focus on the instructions and set the scene. Sts A, who are foreign tourists wanting to use public transportation in the town, should ask Sts B, who live in the town, their five questions.

Monitor and help.

Make sure Sts switch roles. Now Sts B, who are foreign tourists wanting to use a rented car in the town, should ask Sts A, who live in the town, their five questions.

Monitor and help.

Get some feedback from the class on some of the information given by Sts B and then by Sts A.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 3A.

2 PRONUNCIATION /ʃ/, /dʒ/, and /tʃ/

Pronunciation notes

These three consonant sounds are often confused by Sts.

- sh is always pronounced /ʃ/ (e.g., shower, ship), as is -tion (e.g., station, pronunciation).
- j is always pronounced /dʒ/.
- ch is usually pronounced /tʃ/, but can also be pronounced /ʃ/ in some words, mainly of French origin, e.g., chef, machine. It is also sometimes pronounced /k/ in words like chorus, technology, etc.

a 🔊 3.5 Focus on the sound pictures and elicit the words and sounds: shower /ʃ/, jazz /dʒ/, and chess /tʃ/.

Play the audio once for Sts just to listen.

🔊 3.5

See words and sounds in the Student Book on p.26

Then play the audio again, pausing after each word and sound for Sts to listen and repeat.

b Get Sts to look at the list of words and put them in the correct column in a. Remind them that this kind of exercise is easier if they say the words aloud to themselves.

Get Sts to compare with a partner.

c 🔊 3.6 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

🔊 3.6

shower /ʃ/ crash, rush, station jazz /dʒ/ bridge, journey, traffic jam chess /tʃ/ adventure, catch, each

Now play the audio again, pausing after each group of words for Sts to listen and repeat.

Put Sts in pairs and get them to practice saying the words.

d 🔊 3.7 Focus on the pairs of words, and make sure Sts know what they mean.

Now play the audio once the whole way through for Sts just to listen. Ask if they can hear the difference.

🔊 3.7

See words in the Student Book on p.26

Play the audio again, pausing after each pair for Sts to listen and repeat.

- e 3.8 Now tell Sts that this time they will only hear one of the words in each pair and they must circle the one they hear.

Play the audio once the whole way through for Sts to complete the task.

Check answers.

- 1 b jeep 2 a chain 3 b joke 4 b chip 5 a shoes
6 b watch

3.8

- 1 jeep
2 chain
3 joke
4 chip
5 shoes
6 watch

EXTRA SUPPORT If these sounds are difficult for your Sts, it will help to show them the mouth position. You could model this yourself or use the Sound Bank videos on the Teacher Resource Center.

- f 3.9 Tell Sts they are going to hear five short sentences or questions and they need to write them down.

Play the audio once the whole way through for Sts just to listen.

3.9

- 1 Do you like potato chips?
2 I'm going to wash it.
3 You choose.
4 Don't joke about it.
5 Is it cheap?

Now play the audio again, pausing after each sentence or question to give Sts time to write.

Check answers by eliciting the sentences onto the board.

See script 3.9

3 READING & LISTENING confirming predictions

- a Focus on the photos and ask Sts if they know the TV show Top Gear. If they do, ask them what they think of it. If they don't, tell them that it is a TV show about cars and that the hosts do funny, adventurous, and sometimes dangerous things.

Now focus on the instructions and make sure Sts understand race (= a competition between people, etc. to see which one is faster or the fastest). Point out the Glossary and go through it with the class.

Get Sts to read the introduction and answer the four questions.

Check answers.

! When you check the answer to where they are going from and to, focus on the map so that Sts can see the places mentioned. Point out that it is a map of the south of Florida, and that the distances are approximate.

- 1 They go from Jones Boat Yard on the Miami River to the southern-most point in the US, Key West.
2 A motorboat, a car, and a combination of transportation including a taxi, an airplane, and a scooter

Now put Sts in pairs and get them to discuss question 4. Elicit Sts' opinions. You could write their predictions on the board.

- b Now give Sts time to read the three paragraphs and to see if they want to change their predictions in a.

When they have finished reading, they should tell another student what they think.

Find out if anyone has changed their prediction.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the article the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary, but not the highlighted verb phrases in d.

- c Focus on the instructions and get Sts to read about the two trips again and to answer questions 1–6.

Set the three-minute time limit, and when the time is up, get Sts to compare with a partner.

Check answers.

- 1 R 2 A 3 A 4 R 5 A 6 R

- d Focus on the task and get Sts to work with a partner to say what the words and phrases mean. Encourage them to go back and look at the words in context if they can't remember their meaning.

Check answers, either explaining in English, translating into Sts' L1, or getting Sts to check in their dictionaries. Model and drill pronunciation.

entered open water /entərd ɒpən wɔ:tər/ = traveled from protected water (a harbor or bay) to the ocean was ahead of /wəz ə'hed əv/ = was in front of someone reach /ritʃ/ to arrive getting worse /getɪŋ wɜ:rs/ = becoming more and more busy getting stuck /getɪŋ stʌk/ = being unable to move

Help with any other new vocabulary. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.

- e 3.10 Focus on the instructions and the map, and ask Sts how Tanner is going to travel (By seaplane). Give them time to look at the map carefully.

Play the audio once the whole way through for Sts to listen and mark Tanner's route on the map and answer the question. Play again if necessary.

Check answers, eliciting what transportation he took (seaplane, taxi, and scooter).

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the scripts and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

Tanner took a taxi from the boat yard to the airport where the seaplane was leaving from. After landing at the airport in Key West, he rented a scooter for the last three miles of the race to arrive at the southern-most point of the US.

N = narrator

N Tanner took a taxi from the boat yard to the airport where the seaplane was leaving from. It took 45 minutes to get from the boat yard to the airport. Once he got on the seaplane, Tanner quickly made up the time he spent riding in the taxi. With the plane flying close to 100 miles an hour, Tanner caught up to Rutledge and Adam near Seven Mile Bridge. After landing at the airport in Key West, Tanner rented a scooter for the last three miles of the race. Just a few more minutes until he arrived at the southern-most point of the US.

f 3.11 Write the three hosts' names and modes of transportation on the board: RUTLEDGE – MOTORBOAT, ADAM – CAR, TANNER – SEAPLANE.

Now tell Sts to number them in the order in which they think they arrive at the final destination (you may still have Sts' predictions from earlier in the lesson).

Get Sts to compare with a partner.

Play the audio once the whole way through.

3.11

Rutledge Wood, who had traveled in the boat, ran from the Key West boat yard to the streets of Key West. After running for a few minutes in the heat, he hailed a taxi which brought him to the southern-most marker in Key West and the US. Unfortunately, Adam and Tanner were already standing next to the marker. Rutledge couldn't believe it! He looked at the other men who were standing nearby laughing. It turns out that Adam, traveling in the Lotus Evora had reached the Key West marker just seconds before Tanner arrived on his rented scooter.

Adam's car had won—which is a good thing because Top Gear, is after all, a program about cars! Tanner's combination of taxi, seaplane, and scooter arrived second, several minutes before Rutledge, who ended his boat trip with a ride in a taxi.

First, elicit the order in which everyone arrived.

- 1 Adam (car)
- 2 Tanner (taxi, airplane, scooter)
- 3 Rutledge (motorboat)

With a show of hands, find out how many Sts had guessed correctly.

g If Sts all come from the same city / town, elicit the modes of transportation available in their city / town and ask them which one would win in a similar competition.

If Sts come from different cities / towns, put them in pairs or small groups, and get them to do the activity.

Get some feedback.

4 GRAMMAR choosing between comparatives and superlatives a Focus on the task and get Sts to do this in pairs or individually.

Get Sts to compare with a partner if they worked individually, and then check answers. Make sure Sts explain why the X phrases are wrong.

- 1 X the quickest way
- 2 ✓
- 3 X as fast as
- 4 ✓
- 5 X as many trains as
- 6 X the most exciting trip
- 7 ✓
- 8 X more carefully than

b Tell Sts to go to Grammar Bank 3A on p.136.

Grammar notes

Sts will almost certainly have been taught the basic rules regarding comparative and superlative forms of adjectives and adverbs, so this grammar focus should be mainly review and reinforcement. Sts may still mix up comparative and superlative forms (This is the older building in the town) and make mistakes with the rules for forming comparatives and superlatives.

Some other typical mistakes include:

- confusing as and than, e.g., The train isn't as cheap than the bus.
- omitting the definite article, e.g., He's best player in the team.
- confusing adjectives and adverbs, e.g., You drive more quick than me.

Focus on the example sentences and play audio 3.12, 3.13 and 3.14 for Sts to listen and repeat. Encourage them to copy the rhythm.

Then go through the rules with the class.

Focus on the two information boxes and go through them with the class.

Now focus on the exercises and get Sts to do them individually or in pairs.

Check answers, getting Sts to read the full sentences.

- a
- 1 I think skiing is easier than horseback riding.
 - 2 This is the hottest train I've ever been on.
 - 3 A motorcycle is more powerful than a scooter.
 - 4 I drive more slowly than my partner.
 - 5 The worst time to travel is on holiday weekends.
 - 6 The farthest / The furthest I've ever driven is from Washington DC to Chicago.
 - 7 The London Underground is older than the subway in New York.
 - 8 I think that traveling by train is the most relaxing form of transportation.
 - 9 Of all my family, my mom is the best driver.
- b
- 1 as 2 the 3 than 4 ever 5 him 6 most 7 as
 - 8 more 9 as 10 in

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 3A.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Grammar photocopyable activity at this point.

- c Focus on the task. Point out the example, explaining that first, Sts have to make a superlative sentence using the given adjective, i.e., Bike riding is the most dangerous. Then they must compare the other two remaining, i.e., Riding a motorcycle is more dangerous than driving.

Put Sts in pairs and get them to complete the task.

EXTRA CHALLENGE Get pairs to compare with another pair, to see if they agree. Get them to defend their choices.

Get some feedback from various pairs, asking them to give reasons where possible.

5 LISTENING & PRONUNCIATION linking

- a Tell Sts they are going to read a text about some research looking at the causes of road accidents. You might want to pre-teach / elicit the meaning of distracting (= taking your attention away from what you are trying to do).

Give Sts time to read the text.

EXTRA SUPPORT Ask Sts some comprehension questions, e.g., How did the scientists do their research? (They put video cameras and other gadgets into more than 3,500 cars.), How old were the drivers? (Between 16 and 98), How long did the research take? (Three years), etc.

Now put Sts in pairs and get them to discuss questions 1–3, making sure they understand the vocabulary, e.g., reliable. You might also want to check Sts understand the meaning of the eight things in the list (they may not know adjust and reach).

Elicit some opinions from various pairs, but don't tell them if they are correct.

Tell Sts they will find out the answers later in the lesson.

Pronunciation notes

The focus here is on understanding English rather than on production. One of the things that can make fast spoken English difficult for Sts to understand is linking. This makes words sound as if they're running into each other, and Sts can find it hard to identify individual words – and they may get lost altogether and not understand overall meaning. Here we focus on identifying and understanding linking, without trying to push Sts into producing it themselves. This is an important first step that will improve Sts' comprehension. There are many different kinds of linking in English, and here the focus is on three common types, examples of which frequently occur in superlative sentences.

- b 3.15 Focus on the Linking box and go through it with the class.

Now tell Sts they're going to listen to some extracts from an interview with a traffic safety expert and they must complete the seven sentences with words that are linked.

Give Sts time to read 1–7.

Play the audio once the whole way through, pausing after each sentence to give Sts time to write.

Check answers.

- 1 most dangerous 2 bad decisions
- 3 look at an accident 4 cause of accidents on
- 5 twice as, have an accident 6 What did, most interesting
- 7 keep your eyes on 3.15

- 1 What's the most dangerous thing you can do while you're driving?
- 2 ...you'll probably make bad decisions...
- 3 ...people slow down to look at an accident...
- 4 ...this is a really common cause of accidents on freeways...
- 5 This makes you twice as likely to have an accident.
- 6 What did you find most interesting?
- 7 ...always keep your eyes on the road!

Now play the audio again for Sts to listen and repeat.

You could then get individual Sts to say the sentences.

- c 3.16 Focus on the likely box and go through it with the class.

Now tell Sts they're going to listen to the full interview with the traffic safety expert. They must listen and number the eight actions or feelings listed in the text in a from 1 (= the most dangerous) to 8 (= the least dangerous).

Play the audio once the whole way through.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then play the audio again if necessary.

Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

- 1 feeling emotional
- 2 reaching for something in the car
- 3 looking at something by the road
- 4 adjusting the GPS
- 5 feeling tired
- 6 adjusting the radio or music system
- 7 eating or drinking
- 8 talking to a passenger

3.16

(script in the Student Book on p.126)

H = TV host, T = Tom

- H Hello and welcome. On today's show, we're talking about how to drive safely. A new book called Survive the Drive has just been published, and we asked Tom, our transportation and travel correspondent, to take a look. Welcome, Tom.
- T Thank you.
- H So, tell us – what's the most dangerous thing you can do while you're driving? Obviously, we're not talking about drinking alcohol, taking drugs, or using a handheld phone to make calls or text, which everyone knows you must never do.
- T Well, this is really surprising: at the top of the list is driving when you're feeling emotional. The researchers found that you're nearly ten times more likely to have an accident if you're feeling very sad or angry or stressed. If you're emotional, then you can't concentrate on the road, and you'll probably make bad decisions if you find yourself in a dangerous situation. In fact, if you're feeling very emotional, it'd be better not to drive at all!
- H Wow, OK. I'll try to remember that next time I have a bad day at work! What's the second most dangerous thing?
- T This one's less surprising – it's reaching for something in your car. It might be your phone, or a map, or some candy. If you're reaching down, or trying to get something from the back seat, then you aren't looking at the road, and you're nine times more likely to have an accident.

- H And number three?
- T Number three is looking at something interesting or something that's happening by the road. A really common example of this is when people slow down to look at an accident – they don't realize that by looking at the accident and not at the road, the chance of having an accident themselves goes up over seven times. In fact, this is a really common cause of accidents on freeways.
- H So the message is: don't be distracted.
- T Yes, exactly. If you're driving fast, you can travel over 300 feet in less than three seconds. And a lot can happen in three seconds.
- H So that's the top three – what about other things to avoid?
- T Well, at number four is adjusting your GPS, which can be very distracting, and makes you nearly five times more likely to have an accident. At number five is driving when you're tired. Sixty percent of drivers say they've driven when tired in the last year, so it's a big problem – and you can lose control of your car completely. At number six is adjusting your radio or music system. This makes you twice as likely to have an accident. Again, it's the distraction from the road that's the problem, and only having one hand on the wheel.
- H And the last two?
- T The seventh is eating or drinking, because again, you usually take one hand off the wheel, and the eighth is talking to a passenger, which can be distracting because the driver often turns to look at the passenger.
- H So how would you summarize the research? What did you find most interesting?
- T I think for me, the most interesting thing is that some of these things don't seem very dangerous, and good drivers often do them – but the research shows that they are. So next time you get in your car to drive somewhere, think about what you're doing, and always, always keep your eyes on the road!

Find out, with a show of hands, if anyone guessed the top three correctly; then find out if the class agrees with the expert's top three.

- d Tell Sts they are going to listen to the interview again and this time they must write down any numbers or facts related to the eight actions or feelings. Point out that the first one has been done for them.

Play the audio again the whole way through.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then play the audio again if necessary.

Check answers.

- 2 reaching for something in the car – nine times more likely to have an accident
- 3 looking at something by the road – seven times more likely to have an accident
- 4 adjusting the GPS – five times more likely to have an accident
- 5 feeling tired – 60 percent of drivers have driven when tired in the last year
- 6 adjusting the radio or music system – twice as likely to have an accident
- 7 eating or drinking – you usually take one hand off the wheel
- 8 talking to a passenger – the driver often turns to look at the passenger

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the script on p.126, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

- e Do this as a whole-class activity.

6 SPEAKING

- a Focus on the statements and go through them with Sts. Give Sts time to decide if they agree or disagree with them and to think of their reasons.
- b Focus on the Giving your opinion box and go through it with the class. Put Sts in small groups of three or four. Sts should take turns reading the statements aloud, giving their own opinion and reasons, and then inviting opinions and reasons from the other Sts in the group. Monitor and help, encouraging Sts to use the expressions in the box. Get feedback to find out if there was a general consensus of agreement or disagreement on each statement.

7 WRITING an article for a website

Tell Sts to go to Writing An article for a website on p.117.

- a Focus on the instructions and questions. Put Sts in pairs or small groups and get them to discuss the questions. Get some feedback from the class.
- b Tell Sts to read the article to check their answers to a and then answer 1–3. Tell them not to worry about the blanks in the article. Check answers.

the most expensive: taxi

the healthiest: bike

the best if you want to see New York City: (double-decker) bus the safest late at night: taxi

- 1 For the subway and buses
- 2 Cash (but no pennies and no paper money)
- 3 Ride sharing is a privately-owned car that works for a company, and which you have to use an app. Ride sharing is usually more expensive than a taxi.

- c Now tell Sts to read the article again and to fill in the blanks with prepositions from the list. Check answers.

2 on 3 next to 4 on 5 on the top of 6 with 7 in 8 at

- d Focus on the Transportation in your town box and go through it with the class.

Now tell Sts they are going to write a similar article about public transportation in their (nearest) town / city. Tell them to use headings as in the article, language from the information box, and the Vocabulary Bank Transportation.

You may want to get Sts to do the writing in class, or you could assign it as homework. If you do it in class, set a time limit for Sts to write their article, e.g., 15–20 minutes.

- e Sts should check their work for mistakes before handing it in.

G articles: a / an, the, no article

V collocation: verbs / adjectives + prepositions

P /ə/, two pronunciations of the

Lesson plan

This lesson examines common stereotypes about men and women, based on recent research. It begins with a speaking activity on stereotypes, with a special focus on generalizing. This leads to an article about whether certain common stereotypes are true or not. Next is the grammar focus on articles: when (and when not) to use an article, and which article to use. This is followed by a pronunciation focus on the schwa in unstressed syllables and words, and on the two pronunciations of the.

In the second half of the lesson, Sts listen to two people talking about children and stereotypes. This is followed by a speaking activity on toys Sts played with as a child and clothes they wore. The lesson ends with a vocabulary focus on verbs and adjectives with dependent prepositions.

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN (BOOKS CLOSED)

Write the following definition on the board:

A FIXED IDEA OR IMAGE THAT MANY PEOPLE HAVE OF A PARTICULAR TYPE OF PERSON OR THING, WHICH IS OFTEN NOT TRUE IN REALITY

Then ask Sts if they know what word is being defined. Elicit ideas, but if they don't get it, write:

ST _____ to help them to get stereotype.

Drill the pronunciation, and then ask Sts what kind of things can be stereotypes, e.g., fixed ideas about certain nationalities or about men and women.

1 SPEAKING & READING understanding the main point in a paragraph

- a ④ 3.17 Books open. Focus on the instructions and give Sts time to read the Generalizing box. Encourage them to guess what the missing words might be. You might want to check Sts know what a hypochondriac /haɪpəkəndriæk/ is (= somebody who worries about their health and believes that they are sick when there is nothing wrong with them). Model and drill pronunciation. Now play the audio, pausing after each speaker to give Sts time to fill in the blanks.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then either check answers or play the audio again.

Check answers. Point out that the highlighted expressions are useful for when you are talking in general.

1 speaking 2 on, tend 3 general, usually

④ 3.17

- 1 Generally speaking, I think it's true that women worry more about their appearance than men. They spend longer choosing what to wear, doing their hair, and things like that.
- 2 I don't think it's true that men are more interested in sports than women. However, on the whole, I think women tend to have fewer opportunities to actively participate in sports.
- 3 I think that in general, men worry about their health more than women. Hypochondriacs are usually men, not women.

Now give Sts a few minutes to read the comments again and decide if they agree or disagree with what the people said.

Elicit some opinions.

- b Focus on the instructions and the ten statements under Do you think it's true?, making sure Sts understand them. Then put Sts in groups of three or four and get them to discuss each statement.
- Monitor and check, correcting any misuse of articles and encouraging Sts to use the expressions for generalizing. Get quick feedback from a different group for each topic. Tell Sts if you agree or not, and why.
- c Focus on the task and, if you didn't do the Optional lead-in, make sure Sts know what a stereotype /'steriətaɪp/ is (= a fixed idea or image that many people have of a particular type of person or thing, which is often not true in reality).
- Give Sts time to read the article and complete it with five headings from the statements in b.
- Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the article the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary, but not the highlighted verbs, which are focused on in e.

- 1 Men are better at navigating than women.
- 2 Women talk more than men.
- 3 Women are more caring than men.
- 4 Women can multitask better than men.
- 5 Men are better at telling jokes than women.

- d Focus on the question and the three options.
- Tell Sts to now read the article again and match the stereotypes to the research.
- Check answers.

a 2 b 3 c 1, 4, 5

- e Focus on the instructions and give Sts time to complete the task.
- Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

1 show 2 discover 3 argue 4 turn out

Help with any other new vocabulary. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.

- f Focus on the task and make sure Sts understand the first sentence. Do this question as a whole-class activity.

Now put Sts in pairs and get them to think of more stereotypes about men and women and discuss whether they think they are true or not.

Get some feedback from various pairs.

2 GRAMMAR articles: a / an, the, no article

- a Focus on the four jokes, and tell Sts to fill in the blanks with a, an, the, or no article at all.

Get them to compare with a partner.

- b 3.18 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers. Don't give any grammar explanations at the moment, as this will come later.

1 – 2 – 3 A 4 a 5 a 6 an 7 the 8 the

Boy It was a great day! We made explosives!

Mother And what are you going to do at school tomorrow?

Boy What school?

Now ask the class if they think any of the jokes are funny.

- c Tell Sts to go to Grammar Bank 3B on p.137.

Grammar notes

Sts have learned rules for using articles before, but here the main ones are brought together. Most nationalities will have some problems using articles correctly, but especially those who don't have articles in their language.

In this lesson the basic rules are covered. Other more specific uses, e.g., with geographical names, are introduced in American English File Level 5.

Some typical mistakes include:

- omitting the article, e.g., I saw old man with dog.
- the incorrect use of the definite article when generalizing, e.g., The men usually love the football.

Focus on the example sentences and play audio

3.19, 3.20 and 3.21 for Sts to listen and repeat.

Encourage them to copy the rhythm.

Then go through the rules with the class.

Now focus on the exercises and get Sts to do them individually or in pairs.

Check answers, getting Sts to read the full sentences.

a

1 a nurse, The hospital 2 a horrible day, the car

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 3B.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Grammar photocopiable activity at this point.

3 PRONUNCIATION /ə/, two pronunciations of the

Pronunciation notes

/ə/ is the most common sound in English.

/ə/ can be spelled by any vowel. It always occurs in unstressed syllables, or unstressed words, e.g., articles and prepositions.

- a 3.22 Elicit the sound and picture word: /ə/ computer, and highlight that both the o and the e are pronounced /ə/.

Play the audio once for Sts just to listen.

3.22

See sound and words in the Student Book on p.31

Now play the audio again for Sts to listen and repeat.

- b 3.23 Focus on the instructions and the phrases in the list. Demonstrate clearly the two different pronunciations of the, /ði/ and /ðə/.

Play the audio once for Sts to listen and underline the five phrases where the is pronounced /ði/.

Check answers.

- 1 the office 2 the umbrella 3 the internet 4 the accident
5 the evening

3.23

See phrases in the Student Book on p.31

Now ask Sts why the is pronounced differently in those five phrases.

Because the noun starts with a vowel (a, e, i, o, u).

Now ask Sts which phrase in the list is an exception.

The universe is the exception because it starts with the /yu/ sound (not /ʌ/).

Play the audio again for Sts to listen and repeat the phrases.

- c Put Sts in pairs and get them to practice saying the phrases. You may want to point out that It's not the end of the world is used idiomatically to mean that something isn't a complete disaster.

EXTRA SUPPORT Model and drill each phrase first.

EXTRA SUPPORT If these sounds are difficult for your Sts, it will help to show them the mouth position. You could model this yourself or use the Sound Bank videos on the Teacher Resource Center.

4 LISTENING & SPEAKING understanding points of view

- a Focus on the list of toys and make sure Sts know what they all are. Model and drill pronunciation.
Put Sts in pairs and get them to discuss which toys fall into which of the three categories in the instructions.
Get some feedback from various pairs.

- b Focus on the two photos and ask Sts what they think the artist is saying. Elicit as many opinions as possible. There are many more "pink and blue" photographs on her website.

- c 3.24 Tell Sts they are going to listen to an interview about children and stereotypes. They must listen and answer the questions. You may want to point out that in British English, math is called "maths," as Sts will hear in this interview.

Check answers.

In the past, boys were dressed in pink and girls in blue. No, they don't.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

3.24

(script in the Student Book on p.127)

H = host, A = Alison Carr, N = Natasha Crookes

- H "Pink is for girls; blue is for boys." How many times have we heard that? And if you walk down the aisles of children's clothes stores, you'll see rows and rows of clothes in these two colors. But where does this rule come from, exactly? Are little girls genetically attracted to pink, and little boys to blue?

It seems not. You may be surprised to hear that 100 years ago, it was the exact opposite. In a popular magazine of the time, an article said, "The generally accepted rule is pink for boys and blue for girls. The reason is that pink, being a stronger color, is more suitable for a boy, while blue, which is more delicate, is prettier for a girl." The change to pink for girls and blue for boys happened only after World War II. The idea of women being equal to men emerged and, as a result, people started dressing little girls in pink. Soon, advertisers got a hold of the idea, and made blue the color for boys. Since then, the pink and blue stereotype has never gone away. And it's not only clothes, but all sorts of other things as well. Girls' rooms and furniture are painted pink, girls' accessories are made in pink, girls' toys are packaged in pink. South Korean photographer JeongMee Yoon was so struck by this that she created a series of photographs called The Pink and Blue Project, where children were photographed in their rooms with all the things they possessed in either pink or blue.

But is this something we really need to worry about? Alison Carr, from the Institute of Engineering and Technology, says yes.

- A When we're choosing between one toy or another to buy as a present for a child, we're influenced by stereotypes, and if the child is a girl, we'll probably choose something pink. And this is a problem, because not only are 89% of girls' toys pink, but also only a very few of them are connected with science or math. Most girls' toys are still based on dolls and dressing up, while boys' toys are more likely to be related to building and cars. And the problem is that the toys we play with influence our interests, and even the jobs that we end up getting. If girls don't have access to as many construction toys, or mechanical and scientific toys as boys, they'll think that science and technology is "not for them," so they'll be less likely to choose to study it at school and later in college. I think that if they were allowed to choose for themselves, girls and boys would choose the same sort of toys, and that parents need to forget about the stereotypes, about pink and blue. Toys should be the same colors for all children – red, yellow, green, whatever.
- P However, Natasha Crookes, from the British Toy & Hobby Association doesn't agree.
- N I think that instead of abandoning the pink and blue thing, we should use it. If we want girls to get interested in maths and science, we should package science and engineering toys in a pink box. Then maybe girls – or their parents – will start buying them.
- P Thank you, Natasha. And now we're moving on to...

- d Now tell Sts they are going to listen again and this time they must choose the correct options to complete 1–5. Give Sts time to read the sentences and options. Play the audio again the whole way through. Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

Practical English A difficult celebrity

Function giving opinions, agreeing / disagreeing / responses

Language To be honest... , I don't think that's right., etc.

Lesson plan

In this lesson, the functional focus is on learning more ways of expressing opinions and agreeing and disagreeing with other people's opinions.

In the first scene, Rob interviews Kerri, a British singer who is visiting New York. Then in the second scene, Don, the new boss, Jenny, and Rob take Kerri out to lunch. During the lunch, Kerri is critical of what she considers the "fake friendliness" of people in New York, and compares New York unfavorably to London. Don strongly disagrees; however, Rob sides with Kerri. In the final scene, Kerri has to eat her words, as a genuinely friendly taxi driver comes to the restaurant to bring her her phone, which she had left in the cab.

Alternatively, you could play the last scene of Episode 1.

She is happy to talk about her new album and what she's been doing recently, but not about what happened with the band or her private life.

3.28

K = Kerri, R = Rob, J = Jenny, D = Don

K (singing) You work hard, but your money's all spent. Haven't got enough to pay the rent.

You know it's not right and it makes no sense

To go chasing, chasing those dollars and cents,

Chasing, chasing those dollars and cents.

R That was great, Kerri.

K Thanks.

R Kerri, you used to be in a band; now you play solo. Why did you change?

K What happened with the band is private. I've already said I don't want to talk about it in interviews. All I'll say is that I have a lot more freedom this way. I can play – and say – what I want.

R Did your relationship with the band's lead guitarist affect the break-up?

K No comment. I never talk about my private life.

R Your dad was in a famous punk band and your mum's a classical pianist. Have they influenced your music?

K Of course they have – what do you think? Isn't everyone influenced by their parents?

R When did you start playing?

K I started playing the guitar when I was about four.

R Four? That's pretty young.

K Yeah, the guitar was nearly as big as me!

R I think that your new album is your best yet. It's a lot quieter and more experimental than your earlier albums.

K Thank you! I think it's my best work.

R So what have you been doing recently?

K Well, I've been writing and recording some new songs. And I've played at some of the summer festivals in the UK.

K And what are you doing while you're in the States?

K I'm going to play at some clubs here in New York, then I'm doing some small gigs in other places. I just want to get to know the country and the people. It's all very new to me.

J Good job, Rob. She isn't the easiest person to interview.

R She's OK. And this video clip will work great online.

D Well, thank you for coming in today, Kerri. Now I suggest we have some lunch. Rob, could you call a taxi?

R Uh, sure.

b Now focus on sentences 1–8. Go through them with Sts and make sure they understand them.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

3.29

D = Don, K = Kerri, W = waitress, R = Rob, J = Jenny

D So when will you be coming back to New York, Kerri?

K Oh, I don't know...

W Hi guys, is everything OK?

D Yes, it's delicious, thank you.

W That's great!

K New York waiters never leave you alone! I really don't like all this "Hi guys! Is everything OK?" stuff.

D What? You mean waiters aren't friendly in London?

R Oh, they're very friendly!

K Yes, they're friendly, but not too friendly. They don't bother you all the time.

W Can I get you anything else? More drinks, maybe?

D No, thanks. We're fine.

W Fantastic.

K See what I mean? Personally, I think people in London are a lot more easygoing. London's just not as hectic as New York.

D Sure, we all like peace and quiet. But in my opinion, New York is possibly...well, no, is definitely the greatest city in the world. Don't you agree?

K To be honest, I definitely prefer London.

D Come on, Rob. You've lived in both. What do you think?

R Oh, well, I have to say London's very special. It's more relaxed, it's got great parks, and you can cycle everywhere. It's dangerous to cycle in New York!

D Why would you cycle when you can drive a car?

K You can't be serious.

D OK, I agree, London has its own peculiar charm. But if you ask me, nothing compares with a city like New York. The whole world is here!

K But that's the problem. It's too big. There are too many people. Everybody's so stressed out. And nobody has any time for you.

J I don't think that's right, Kerri. New Yorkers are very friendly...

K Oh sure, they can sound friendly with all that "Have a nice day" stuff. But I always think it's a little bit...fake.

D You've got to be kidding me!

R I'm sorry. I'll just have to take this...Hello?...Yes...You're who?... The taxi driver?...What did she leave?...Her cell phone...right. OK. Yes, we're still at the restaurant. See you in about five minutes.

b Focus on the instructions and give Sts time to read questions 1–3.

Play the video / audio again, pausing if necessary to give Sts time to answer the questions.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- 1 a The waiters in New York never leave the customer alone. London waiters are friendly, but not too friendly. They don't bother you.
- b The people in New York are less easygoing.
- 2 Rob agrees. Don and Jenny disagree. Don thinks New York is the greatest city in the world, and Jenny thinks New Yorkers are very friendly.
- 3 The taxi driver calls Rob about a (cell) phone left in his taxi.

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time and you are using the video, you could get Sts to watch again with subtitles, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

J Did you mean what you said in the restaurant, Rob?

R Did I mean what?

J About missing London.

R Sure, I miss it, Jenny.

J Really?

R But hey, not that much! It's just that moving to a new place is always difficult.

J But you don't regret coming here, do you?

R No...no...not at all.

J It's just that...you seemed so homesick in there. For the parks, the cycling...

R Well, there are some things I miss, but – Oh, hang on a minute. Look over there. Our taxi's come back.

T Excuse me, Ma'am.

K Who, me? What is it?

T I believe this is your cell phone. You left it in my cab.

K What?...Oh, wow...thank you!

T Have a nice day!

G obligation and prohibition: have to, must, should

V phone language

P silent consonants

Lesson plan

The main topic of this lesson is manners in today's world – how people should behave in a variety of common situations.

In the first half of the lesson, the focus is on phone etiquette. The lesson begins with a vocabulary focus on words and phrases related to phones. A short article about a conductor asking a member of the audience to leave after their phone rings during a concert provides the context for Sts to practice common ways of expressing obligation using must, have to, and should. Sts will have seen these verbs separately, but will probably not have contrasted them before.

In Pronunciation, Sts work on silent letters in, for example, should and wrong. Then they put the new grammar into practice in a speaking activity about annoying things people do with their phones.

In the second half of the lesson, Sts read an article extracted from Debrett's Handbook about modern manners. In Listening, the focus is on people's problems with rude relatives. This leads into an extended speaking activity where Sts discuss "modern manners" and their relative importance in different situations.

1 VOCABULARY phone language

Vocabulary notes

As with all technology-related vocabulary, things change rapidly and you may find that there are more verbs / expressions that have come into use recently and that you would like to teach.

You may want to point out that although people no longer physically "hang up" their phones at the end of a conversation, the expression continues to be used for ending a phone conversation.

- a 4.1 Books open. Focus on the instructions and sentences A–K. Give Sts time to go through them in pairs and say what they think the bold words and phrases mean. Clarify the meaning of any words or phrases they don't know.

Now play the audio, pausing after the first one, and elicit that what Sts heard was someone saying goodbye and ending the call, so the answer is C.

Continue playing the audio to the end, pausing after each item to give Sts time to number the correct one.

EXTRA SUPPORT Alternatively, you could pause the audio after each item and let Sts, in pairs, choose the correct sentence.

Give Sts time to compare answers, and then play again if necessary.

 Play the audio for Sts to listen and answer the questions.
 Check answers.

A phone went off while he was playing. He stopped playing, and then played the ringtone on his viola.

4.3

(Audio to illustrate the following)

Lukáš Kmit is playing the viola at a recital in Prešov, Slovakia. A phone rings in the audience, and Kmit stops playing and then improvises around the Nokia ringtone instead.

- b Tell Sts they are going to read an article about another incident during a concert. Elicit / Explain the meaning of a conductor /kən'dʌktər/ (= a person who stands in front of an orchestra and directs their performance).
 Give Sts time to complete the task.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read the introduction together and ask Sts some comprehension questions, e.g., What happened during a performance of Messiah at the National Music Auditorium in Madrid? (A phone rang / went off.), Where was the person with the phone sitting? (Near the stage / the front), What did the conductor do? (He pointed and shouted at the owner of the phone.), etc.

 Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- d Tell Sts to go to Grammar Bank 4A on p.138.

Grammar notes

Obligation and necessity: have to and must

Have to / must and should / shouldn't were taught separately in American English File Level 2.

In this lesson, they are reviewed and contrasted in more detail.

Some typical mistakes include:

- saying must to, e.g., I must to be on time tomorrow.
- confusing must not (prohibition) and don't have to (not necessary / not obligatory)
- using must (not had to) in the past tense, e.g., I must study last night.

Advice or opinions: should / shouldn't

The important point to emphasize here is that should isn't as strong as have to / must, and it is usually used to express a personal opinion or give advice.

Compare:

- You should talk to your teacher about the problem.*
 (= I think it's a good idea.)
- You must talk to your teacher about the problem.*
 (= I think it's very important you do this.)

Focus on the example sentences and play audio 4.4, 4.5, 4.6 and 4.7 for Sts to listen and repeat.
 Encourage them to copy the rhythm.

Then go through the rules with the class.

EXTRA IDEA In a monolingual class, if you know your Sts' L1, you could get Sts to translate the example sentences and compare the forms / verbs they would use in their L1.

Now focus on the exercises and get Sts to do them individually or in pairs.

Check answers, getting Sts to read the full sentences.

- a

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Grammar photocopiable activity at this point.

- e Do this as a whole-class activity.

3 PRONUNCIATION

silent consonants

Pronunciation notes

Silent consonants are a feature of English. Sts will be aware of some of these, but probably not all of them. Sometimes Sts may have been pronouncing, for example, the l in calm, since they learned the word without realizing that it is a silent consonant (even though they don't perhaps pronounce the l in half or walk).

- a In pairs, Sts look at the words in the list and decide which consonant (or consonants) is silent in each one.
- b 4.8 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check. Check answers by writing the words on the board and crossing out the silent consonants (they are marked in green in the key).

calm design dishonest doubt foreign half hour island knowledge listen rhythm should talk walk whole wrong

4.8

See words in the Student Book on p.37

EXTRA CHALLENGE You could elicit the silent consonants in other words (in bold here), e.g., thumb, castle, science, knee, answer, sign, climb, scissors, exhausted, etc.

- c Focus on the sentences and put Sts in pairs to practice saying them.

EXTRA SUPPORT Model and drill the sentences before putting Sts in pairs.

Then get individual Sts to say the sentences.

4 SPEAKING

Focus on the instructions and make sure Sts can remember the meaning of annoy.

Now go through the 13 annoying things people do with their phones and make sure Sts understand all the vocabulary, e.g., selfie, tweet, swipe, etc.

Put Sts in small groups of three or four and get them to discuss each item in the list by answering questions 1–3. Get some feedback from various groups.

5 READING

assessing a point of view

- a Focus on questions 1–5 and make sure Sts understand them.

Put Sts in pairs and get them to discuss the questions. Get some feedback from various pairs. If your Sts come from different countries, you could find out if there are any cultural differences.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the whole article to check their answers to a, read the introduction together and then elicit / explain the meaning of some of the vocabulary (e.g., manners, etiquette, etc.), or ask Sts some comprehension questions, e.g., What information does the Debrett's book give? (Information on modern manners), Who is the book for? (The public), Is the book popular? How do you know? (Yes, because they receive more than 10,000 requests for information every year.), etc.

- b First, focus on the title, telling Sts they will find out what Debrett's is, and make sure Sts know the meaning of a dilemma /dɪ'lemə/ (= a situation in which you have to make a difficult choice). Model and drill its pronunciation. Then focus on the instructions and give Sts time to read the article to see if their ideas from a are there. Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the article the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary, but not the highlighted phrases in c.

- 1 At work or when meeting someone socially for the first time
- 2 You shouldn't eat smelly food or put on makeup.
- 3 Not on short flights
- 4 When you see that a person is pregnant, old, or in need.
- 5 Only if you have permission

- c Focus on the task and get Sts to work with a partner to say what the highlighted phrases mean. Encourage them to go back and look at the words in context if they can't figure out the meaning.

Check answers, either explaining in English, translating into Sts' L1, or getting Sts to check in their dictionaries. Model and drill pronunciation.

Possible answers

kissing is not appropriate in many professional situations = You shouldn't kiss people if you meet them at work.

It's inconsiderate to eat smelly food in a closed environment = It isn't very nice for other people if you eat smelly food in places like offices, trains, etc.

don't monopolize the armrest = Share the armrest – don't use it all yourself.

it is also rude to aggressively decline the offer of a seat = If somebody offers you a seat and you don't want it, say no politely.

unless the host or hostess (or in a restaurant, the other diners) gives their permission for people to start = Only start eating if the people who invited you, or the other people with you in a restaurant, tell you that it's OK.

Help with any other new vocabulary. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.

- d Do this as a whole-class activity.
- e Focus on questions 1–6 and give Sts time, in pairs, to discuss them. Get some feedback from various pairs. You could discuss question 6 as a class.

EXTRA IDEA Get Sts, in pairs, to write a question about manners like the questions in a. Then they pass their question to another pair, who write a Debrett's-style reply giving advice on how to behave. Get pairs to read their questions and advice aloud, and discuss which advice Sts think is the best.

6 LISTENING

understanding problems and advice

- a 4.9 Tell Sts they are going to listen to a radio show in which people call in to talk about a problem with a relative. Make sure Sts understand the phrase rude relatives.

Now play the audio once the whole way through, pausing after each story to give Sts time to make notes. Play again if necessary.

Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

- 1 Belinda's mother-in-law criticizes Belinda's cooking.
- 2 Damien's brother brings his dog when he comes to stay, but Damien and his girlfriend don't like dogs.
- 3 Miranda's young nephew behaves very badly when he comes to visit Miranda with his parents.

4.9

- 1 Belinda She's a nice woman, don't get me wrong, and on the whole, we get along well, but one thing she does that I think is really rude is that whenever she comes over for a meal, she criticizes my cooking. I'm not a professional, obviously, but I think I'm a pretty good cook, and it really annoys me, especially after I've spent hours making something really good.
- 2 Damien Well, he lives in New York City and he likes to come and stay with us from time to time, which is great. But he just called me saying he's coming next month and he's bringing his new dog. I know he just got this dog and he takes really good care of it, and doesn't like leaving it alone, but it's still a puppy, and my girlfriend and I aren't very into dogs. Also, we just redecorated our house, and we did a lot of work on the yard, and I'm pretty sure the dog's going to destroy them both.
- 3 Miranda He's eight years old and his parents don't set any rules for him. So he's really wild, and whenever they come to our house, he just shouts all the time, jumps on the furniture, makes a mess in the kitchen. He even writes on the walls! It's really exhausting, but my sister's very sensitive about me criticizing her son, so generally I don't say anything. But I've reached the point where I'd almost prefer it if they didn't come over.

- b Put Sts in pairs and get them to think of some advice for each caller.

Elicit some ideas for each caller.

- c 4.10 Tell Sts they are going to hear some extracts from an etiquette expert, Sarah, giving advice for each caller. They must listen and complete the missing words.

Play the audio, pausing after each piece of advice to give Sts time to write.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- 1 who behaves well
- 2 argue with her
- 3 say how you feel
- 4 give a reason
- 5 speak to his parents
- 6 calm down
- 7 write on the walls

4.10

Belinda

- 1 I think you should be the one who behaves well.
- 2 You shouldn't argue with her because she won't change her opinion.

Damien

- 3 I think you should politely but directly say how you feel.
- 4 To be honest, you don't really have to give a reason.

Miranda

- 5 You have to speak to his parents before their next visit.
- 6 Explain that he has to calm down a little when he's visiting.
- 7 "You must not write on the walls."

- d 4.11 Tell Sts they are now going to listen to the whole show, so they will hear the presenter, the caller, and Sarah giving advice.

Play the audio once the whole way through.

Elicit from the class what each piece of advice is and whether they agree with it or not. If not, ask why.

4.11

(script in the Student Book on p.127)

H = host, B = Belinda, S = Sarah, D = Damien, M = Miranda

- H Good afternoon, everyone. In today's Modern Manners show, the subject is family, and what to do with rude relatives. Our etiquette expert Sarah is here to take your calls, so if you have a family member who behaves badly and you don't know what to do about it, just call us here at 1-800-555-4545.
- And our first caller is Belinda from Walnut Creek. Hi, Belinda. Tell us about your rude relatives.
- B Well, I hate to say it because it's such a cliché, but it's my mother-in-law. She's a nice woman, don't get me wrong, and on the whole, we get along well, but one thing she does which I think is really rude is that whenever she comes over for a meal, she criticizes my cooking. I'm not a professional, obviously, but I think I'm a pretty good cook, and it really annoys me, especially after I've spent hours making something really good.
- H OK, so Sarah, over to you. How should Belinda deal with her mother-in-law?
- S Hi, Belinda. I know this won't be easy, but when she does this, I think you should be the one who behaves well. Stay calm, thank her as politely as possible for her advice, and change the subject. You shouldn't argue with her because she won't change her opinion – and it won't make you feel better, either. Instead, encourage your husband or another relative to say how great your cooking is in front of your mother-in-law. When she sees that her criticisms aren't having any effect, and that everybody else loves your food, she'll either stop criticizing or she'll start paying compliments herself.
- H Thanks very much, Sarah. Great advice! And our next caller is Damien, from Hudson. Hi, Damien. I think you're going to tell us about a problem with your brother – is that right?
- D Yes, that's right.
- H So what's the issue?
- D Well, he lives in New York City and he likes to come and stay with us from time to time, which is great. But he's just called me saying he's coming next month and he's bringing his new dog. I know he just got this dog and he takes really good care of it, and doesn't like leaving it alone, but it's still a puppy, and my girlfriend and I aren't very into dogs. Also, we just redecorated our house, and we did a lot of work on the yard, and I'm pretty sure the dog's going to destroy them both.
- H Sarah, what do you think Damien should do with his brother and his dog? Do you think it's rude to arrive at someone's house with a dog?
- S Yes, I have to say I do. It's bad manners for a guest to bring an uninvited pet, even to a relative's home. This is true even if you have one of your own and your house is already animal-friendly. I think you should politely but directly say how you feel. You can add a reason like, as you say, you just redecorated, but to be honest, you don't really have to give a reason.
- H Well, that's very clear advice, thanks Sarah. And finally, Miranda from San Pedro. Hi, Miranda. Tell us about your problem.
- M Hi there. My problem's with my nephew, my sister's son. He's eight years old and his parents don't set any rules for him. So he's really wild, and whenever they come to our house, he just shouts all the time, jumps on the furniture, makes a mess in the kitchen. He even writes on the walls! It's really exhausting, but my sister's very sensitive about me criticizing her son, so generally I don't say anything. But I've reached the point where I'd almost prefer it if they didn't come over.
- H Sarah, what should Miranda do with her nightmare nephew?
- S You have to speak to his parents before their next visit, or at least to your sister. But instead of being critical, say how great it is that their son has so much energy, and how much you love him, but then explain that he has to calm down a little when he's visiting. And at the beginning of his next visit, welcome him, but give him some rules for your house. Say, "Hi. It's great to see you again! But just a couple of house rules: no jumping on the furniture, and if you want to draw, please use a piece of paper – you must not write on the walls." He won't mind, and in the long run, your sister will be grateful.

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the script on p.127, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

7 SPEAKING

- a Focus on the questionnaire and make sure Sts understand all the statements.

Give Sts time to mark each statement GM (good manners), BM (bad manners), or NI (not important) according to their opinion.

- b Divide Sts into small groups of three or four.

Then focus on the Saying what you think is right box and go through it with the class.

Give Sts time to talk about each item in the questionnaire.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read the first situation in the questionnaire and elicit opinions from the whole class, encouraging Sts to use I think people should..., I don't think people should..., I don't think it's..., etc.

If there's time, get some feedback from various groups to see if Sts agree with each other.

- G ability and possibility: can, could, be able to
V -ed / -ing adjectives
P sentence stress

Lesson plan

The grammatical focus of this lesson is how to use be able to in the tenses / forms where can / can't cannot be used. The main context is how to learn a new skill, and the new grammar is presented through two conversations about people's abilities. This is followed by a pronunciation focus on sentence stress in sentences with can / could / be able to. Sts then listen to a journalist who tried to learn to play the trumpet in 20 hours. Then the new language is put into practice in Speaking, where Sts talk about how well they think they would be able to do certain things after 20 hours. In the second half of the lesson, there is a vocabulary focus on adjectives that have both -ed and -ing forms, e.g., disappointed / disappointing. Sts then read a forum with some tips on how to practice your English outside the classroom. This leads into a short grammar activity on the use of reflexive pronouns and a speaking activity where Sts talk about learning English. Finally, Sts watch a video about Alex Rawlings, a British language teacher with a talent for learning foreign languages (he can speak 11).

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN (BOOKS CLOSED)

Write on the board:

YES, WE CAN!

Ask the class which politician had this as his slogan, and when (Barack Obama during his US presidential campaign in 2007).

Ask Sts why they think he chose it (because it was a very positive message that showed that the people had power).

1 GRAMMAR ability and possibility

- a Books open. Focus on the instructions, and elicit / explain the meaning of skill (= the ability to do something well). Now focus on the list of skills, making sure Sts know what they mean.

Get Sts, in pairs, to name two of the activities for each of the four categories.

Get some feedback from various pairs.

EXTRA SUPPORT Demonstrate the activity by telling Sts about yourself first.

- b 4.12 Tell Sts to look at the photos, and elicit what they can see.

Now play the audio once the whole way through and tell Sts to fill in the blanks in the conversations.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

1 can, be able to 2 could, been able to 4.12

- 1 A I can speak Italian well.
B Lucky you! I'd love to be able to speak Italian.
 2 C When I was a child, I could draw really well.
D Really? I've never been able to draw!

- c Do this as a whole-class activity.

1 can 2 can

- d Tell Sts to go to Grammar Bank 4B on p.139.

Grammar notes

Sts should all be perfectly familiar with the verb can for ability and possibility (or permission). Can / can't is a modal verb, which has a past and conditional structure (could / couldn't), but has no present perfect or past perfect forms, nor does it have an infinitive or -ing form. In these situations, be able to must be used.

! For the future, you can often use can or will be able to, e.g., I can't go to the meeting tomorrow / I won't be able to go to the meeting tomorrow.

Some typical mistakes include:

- trying to use can where they should use be able to, e.g., I want to can speak English well. / I won't can come to your party on Saturday.
- leaving out to, e.g., I won't be able help you, or using it after can, e.g., I could to play the piano well.

! There is a very small difference between could and was able to. In a simple past sentence, if we want to refer to something that someone succeeded in doing – something difficult on a specific occasion – we use be able to (or managed to), e.g., Although the space was very small, he was able to (or managed to) park there. In this context, it is not possible to use could. With a strong class you may want to point this out.

Focus on the example sentences and play audio 4.13 and 4.14 for Sts to listen and repeat. Encourage them to copy the rhythm.

Then go through the rules with the class.

EXTRA IDEA In a monolingual class, you could get Sts to translate the example sentences and compare the forms / verbs they would use in their L1.

Focus on the exercises and get Sts to do them individually or in pairs.

Check answers, getting Sts to read the full sentences.

- a
- 1 ✓ 2 be able to 3 been able to 4 being able to 5 be able to 6 ✓ 7 ✓ 8 be able to 9 been able to
- b
- 1 Her cell phone has been turned off all morning, so I haven't been able to talk to her yet.
2 I like being able to / to be able to have a conversation without shouting.
3 I will / 'll be able to leave home when I get a job.
4 Will you be able to come?
5 You need to be able to swim before you can go in a canoe.
6 I hate not being able to communicate with people in their own language.
7 Fortunately, firefighters were able to rescue everybody from the burning house.
8 I'm very sorry, but we won't be able to come to your wedding next month.
9 Have you been able to contact the doctor yet?
10 The manager isn't able to see you right now because she's in a meeting.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 4B.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Grammar photocopiable activity at this point.

- e Focus on the instructions and on the things that Sts have to talk about, making sure they understand them all. You could demonstrate by choosing one of the topics and telling Sts about your experience.
Give Sts time to think about what they are going to say for two or three of the topics.
- f Put Sts in pairs and give them time to tell each other about each of the things they chose in e. Encourage them to ask each other for more information and to give as much detail as possible. If there is an odd number of Sts in the class, you can take part yourself, or have one group of three. Monitor and correct any misuse of can / could / be able to.
Get some feedback to find out how many people, for example, have learned to do something after a lot of effort, etc., or if anyone had the same or a similar answer to their partner.

2 PRONUNCIATION sentence stress

Pronunciation notes

If necessary, remind Sts about sentence stress in English (see Pronunciation notes in Lesson 2B on p.35).

- a 4.15 Tell Sts that they are going to hear four sentences using a form of be able to. The first time they listen, they should try to write in the pink boxes the stressed words they hear.

Play the audio, pausing after each line to give Sts time to write.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- 1 never, able, dance
2 won't, able, come
3 love, able, ski
4 hates, able, drive

4.15

- 1 He's never been able to dance.
2 We won't be able to come.
3 I'd love to be able to ski.
4 She hates not being able to drive.

- b Now tell Sts to look at the words they have written and try to remember what the complete sentence is.

Tell Sts to listen to the audio again and try to fill in any blanks they have. Play the audio again.

Check answers, eliciting the sentences onto the board.

- 1 He's never been able to dance.
2 We won't be able to come.
3 I'd love to be able to ski.
4 She hates not being able to drive.

- c Play the audio again, pausing after each sentence for Sts to listen and repeat, copying the rhythm. Encourage them to pronounce the stressed words (in the pink boxes) more strongly and not to stress the other words.

Then repeat the activity, eliciting responses from individual Sts.

EXTRA SUPPORT Put Sts in pairs and get them to practice saying the sentences.

- d 4.16 Go through the instructions. Focus on the two examples and explain that Sts will first hear an example sentence, e.g., I'd love to be able to ski. Then they will hear a verb or verb phrase (e.g., ride a horse). Sts then have to make a new sentence using that verb / verb phrase, i.e., I'd love to be able to ride a horse. At the same time, they should try to copy the rhythm of the original sentence. When Sts are clear what they have to do, play the audio and get the whole class to respond.

4.16

- 1 I'd love to be able to ski. Ride a horse (pause) I'd love to be able to ride a horse.
- 2 We won't be able to come. Park (pause) We won't be able to park.
- 3 I've never been able to dance. Speak French (pause) I've never been able to speak French.
- 4 She hates not being able to drive. Cook (pause) She hates not being able to cook.
- 5 Will you be able to find it? Afford it (pause) Will you be able to afford it?
- 6 He'd love to be able to snowboard. Windsurf (pause) He'd love to be able to windsurf.
- 7 I love being able to understand everyone. Speak to everyone (pause) I love being able to speak to everyone.
- 8 They haven't been able to finish. Come (pause) They haven't been able to come.

Then repeat the activity, eliciting responses from individual Sts.

3 LISTENING making inferences

- a Focus on the instructions and the title. Remind Sts of / Elicit the meaning of skill (= the ability to do something well).

Then give Sts time to read the text and answer the question.

First, elicit what both Malcolm Gladwell and Josh Kaufman stated (Malcolm Gladwell: it takes 10,000 hours to master a new skill; Josh Kaufman: it takes 20 hours) and then elicit who Sts believe. You could find out with a show of hands how many Sts believe each person.

- b Give Sts time to read the paragraph about Matt Rudd's experience of learning to play the trumpet, and then elicit answers to the question.

- c 4.17 Focus on the instructions and give Sts time to read the music words and phrases in bold.

Play the audio once the whole way through for Sts to listen and match the sounds to the words and phrases.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers. Make sure Sts understand all the words, explaining, for example, that an octave is the difference between the first and last notes in a series of eight notes. Model and drill pronunciation.

- 1 octave 2 a street performer 3 high note, low note
4 musical instruments 5 notes 6 tune

4.17

(Sound effects of the following)

- 1 an octave
- 2 a street performer
- 3 a high note and a low note
- 4 a string trio playing (violin, viola, cello)
- 5 five notes, from C to G
- 6 a traditional English folk tune

- d 4.18 Tell Sts they are now going to listen to Matt talking about learning to play the trumpet. They must listen and choose the best summary.

Play the audio once the whole way through.

Check the answer.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

- 2 He learned something, but not enough.

(script in the Student Book on p.127)

I haven't played a musical instrument for years. Five years ago, I got a trumpet for my birthday, and I tried to learn it, but I gave up after seven minutes, and it ended up in the garage. So here I am, a beginner again.

ONE HOUR

I have everything I need: YouTube trumpet lessons, and a book called Trumpet for Beginners. I plan to practice for 20 minutes a day, three times a week. I want to be able to play the trumpet, and I want to do it fast!

TWO HOURS

Well, that was optimistic. Playing the trumpet is more difficult than it looks! I can only play for ten minutes before I start seeing stars and my mouth hurts. I can get from C to G, but I can't get any higher. It's depressing.

FIVE HOURS

I'm now practicing for ten minutes at a time. I can play a whole octave, from C to C. I've watched a lot of trumpet lessons on YouTube. The teacher has a beard and wears very colorful shirts. He's beginning to annoy me, so I'm going to stop watching videos and use books instead.

NINE HOURS

I still can't play high notes. I can play some very simple tunes, but nothing I actually want to play. It isn't Rimsky-Korsakov.

FOURTEEN HOURS

I've been practicing three times a week, but I'm not getting any better. I've put the trumpet in the closet.

FIFTEEN HOURS

One evening, I'm at a school concert and I meet Matilda Lloyd, one of the best trumpet players around – she was a winner in the BBC Young Musician competition in 2014. I ask her for help, and the following week she gives me a trumpet lesson. I'm doing everything wrong. I need to forget everything I learned from the man with the beard and the colorful shirts. I need to start again.

SEVENTEEN HOURS

I'm getting better! My trumpet is starting to sound more like a musical instrument. I'm practicing for half an hour every day. I'm enjoying myself. And the neighbor's dogs have stopped barking.

TWENTY HOURS

I was planning to finish my 20 hours of practice by performing in the subway for an afternoon, but I can't do it. Twenty hours is too little. But give me 100 hours, and you'll see me playing the trumpet on a street near you...

- e Focus on the instructions and give Sts time to read all the stages.

Play the audio again, pausing after each stage to give Sts time to circle the correct word or phrase.

EXTRA CHALLENGE For each stage, get Sts to also make a note of Matt's reasons (See the answers in parentheses in the answer key below).

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

1 hour optimistic (Because he has everything he needs, and he has a plan.)
2 hours unhappy (Because playing the trumpet is difficult – he can't play for very long before getting tired, and he can't play the high notes.)
5 hours annoying (Because the online teacher wears colorful shirts.)
9 hours He's frustrated by how little he can play (Because he still can't play high notes, and he can't play any tunes he likes.)
14 hours He's depressed and wants to give up (Because he isn't improving.)
15 hours badly (Because he's doing everything wrong.)
17 hours optimistic again (Because he's improving and enjoying himself.)
20 hours He thinks he'll be able to improve (Because he says he'll keep practicing.)

1 depressed 2 exciting 3 amazing 4 disappointed
5 tiring 6 embarrassing 7 frightened 8 tired 9 boring
10 frustrated

4.19

- 1 What music do you listen to if you feel depressed?
- 2 What do you think is the most exciting sport to watch?
- 3 What's the most amazing scenery you've ever seen?
- 4 Have you ever been disappointed by a birthday present?
- 5 Which do you find more tiring, clothes shopping or grocery shopping?
- 6 What's the most embarrassing thing that's ever happened to you?
- 7 Are you frightened of heights?
- 8 Do you usually feel very tired in the morning?
- 9 What's the most boring movie you've ever seen?
- 10 Do you ever get frustrated by technology?

Remind Sts that amazing / amazed are strong adjectives (see the Student Book Lesson 2B, Vocabulary p.23).

This means that you cannot use very with these words.

Amazing can mean either very surprising or very good.

Now play the audio again and get Sts to underline the stressed syllable in the adjectives.

Check answers.

1 depressed 2 exciting 3 amazing 4 disappointed
5 tiring 6 embarrassing 7 frightened 8 tired 9 boring
10 frustrated

Give Sts practice in pronouncing the adjectives, making sure they stress them on the correct syllable. You could play the audio again, pausing after each question and getting Sts to repeat just the adjective.

- d Focus on the questions in b and get Sts to ask you a couple first. Make sure they ask for more information. Put Sts in pairs and get them to ask and answer the questions. Monitor and correct any mistakes with word stress. Get some feedback from various pairs for each question.

6 READING & SPEAKING understanding tips and examples

- a Do this as a whole-class activity or put Sts in pairs. If Sts worked in pairs, get some feedback. Write any useful tips on the board.
- b Focus on the instructions and give Sts time to read the tips on the forum. Elicit whether Sts do any of the tips already, and if so, what they think of them.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the forum the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

- c Now tell Sts to read the forum again and match each item to one of the tips. Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

5 All you need is love, love. Love is all you need.

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the script on p.127, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

f Do this as a whole-class activity.

4 SPEAKING

Focus on the instructions and on the skills that Sts have to talk about, making sure they understand them all.

Put Sts in small groups of three or four and give them time to tell each other how well they think they would be able to do each skill after learning it for 20 hours.

Monitor and correct any misuse of be able to.

Get some feedback from various groups. You could find out if Sts thought they would all be able to do a certain skill after 20 hours, or if they all thought that 20 hours definitely wasn't enough for a particular skill in the list.

5 VOCABULARY -ed / -ing adjectives

Vocabulary notes

Many adjectives related to feelings have two forms, ending in -ed for the person who experiences the feeling or ending in -ing for the thing or person that produces the feeling.

Sts should be familiar with some of these adjectives, e.g., interested / interesting, and here they expand their knowledge.

You may want to point out that not all adjectives for feelings exist in both forms, e.g., stressed – stressful NOT stressing, scared – scary NOT scaring.

- a Do this as a whole-class activity. Elicit / Explain / Translate the meaning of the two adjectives in each case.

1 annoying 2 annoyed

- b Focus on the -ed and -ing adjectives box and go through it with the class.

Give Sts a couple of minutes to choose the correct adjective endings for 1–10.

- c 4.19 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers, making sure Sts know what the correct adjective means.

- d Focus on the instructions and give Sts time to translate the two reflexive pronouns. If you know your Sts' L1, you could do this as a whole-class activity.

Focus on the Reflexive pronouns box and go through it with the class. Highlight that reflexive pronouns are made by adding -self (or -selves in the plural) to the possessive adjective (my, your, etc.). The exceptions are himself and themselves, where self / selves are added to the object pronouns him and them.

1 You may want to teach Sts the expression by + reflexive pronoun = alone, e.g., I like traveling by myself.

Help with any other new vocabulary. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.

- e Do this as a whole-class activity or put Sts in pairs. If Sts worked in pairs, check answers.

they she we you he it

- f 4.20 Go through the instructions. Focus on the example and explain that Sts will first hear an example sentence, e.g., She's cut herself. Then they will hear a new subject, e.g., You. Sts then have to make a new sentence using that subject and a reflexive pronoun, i.e., You've cut yourself. At the same time, they should try to copy the rhythm of the original sentence.

When Sts are clear what they have to do, play the audio and get the whole class to respond.

4.20

- 1 She's cut herself. You (pause) You've cut yourself.
- 2 I'm teaching myself Spanish. He (pause) He's teaching himself Spanish.
- 3 We introduced ourselves. They (pause) They introduced themselves.
- 4 He taught himself to play the guitar. She (pause) She taught herself to play the guitar.
- 5 He often talks to himself. I (pause) I often talk to myself.
- 6 I really enjoyed myself last night. We (pause) We really enjoyed ourselves last night.

Then repeat the activity, eliciting responses from individual Sts.

- g Focus on the three bullet points and make sure Sts understand them. Put Sts in pairs and get them to discuss the questions. Get some feedback from various pairs. Elicit other things Sts do to improve their English outside class.

7 VIDEO LISTENING

- a Do this as a whole-class activity. If you know someone yourself, tell Sts about him / her.
- b Tell Sts that they are going to watch a video about Alex Rawlings, a young man who studies languages in college and who speaks 11 languages fluently. Before they watch, ask Sts to try to match the 11 greetings in the speech bubbles to the 11 languages. Point out that the first one (Afrikaans) has been done for them. Get Sts to compare with a partner. Then play Part 1 of the video once the whole way through for Sts to watch and check answers. Tell Sts they will hear a short introduction before Alex does the greetings.

Check answers.

An interview with Alex Rawlings

Part 1

H = host, A = Alex

H Alex Rawlings became "Britain's most multilingual student" in 2012, when he won a national competition that tested his fluency in 11 different languages. At the time, he was studying German and Russian at Oxford University. Originally from London, Alex has lived in Germany, Russia, Hungary, and Spain, and he has gone on to learn more languages since he graduated.

- c Give Sts time to read items 1–6 that Alex mentions in the video.

Play Part 2 of the video once the whole way through and tell Sts just to watch and try to follow as much as possible of what he says.

Then play the video again, pausing after Alex answers each question to give Sts time to write.

Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the scripts and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts watch the video.

- 1 Alex says that every new language that he learns is a completely new adventure for him.
- 2 Greek and German are the two languages that he enjoys speaking the most.
- 3 Chinese and Slovene are two languages that he would like to learn at the moment.
- 4 Alex feels guilty that he's never learned other British and Irish languages – Welsh, Irish, or Scottish Gaelic. On a recent trip to Wales, he loved that everything was in two languages, Welsh and English.
- 5 Russian was the most difficult language for him to learn, because he had to learn a new alphabet.
- 6 YouTube has helped Alex to watch videos in other languages and immerse himself in other cultures. He says that there's a lot of technology to help with learning vocabulary and grammar.

Part 2

I've learned so many languages because I'm hooked basically on learning languages. I think every new language to me is like a new world, it's a completely new adventure and you meet totally different people, you have totally different experiences. I often say when, when you visit a country when you speak the language, you really get to know that country, you really get to explore it for yourself. But when you visit a country and you don't speak the local language, you're relying on other people to explain what's happening to you. They're kind of, they're showing you their version of the country, but you can't really see it for yourself.

All of the languages that I speak are fun. I think that's why I've stuck with them and enjoy speaking them. I think I have the, the deepest emotional connection with Greek because my grandmother was from Greece and so we use Greek in my family as well and I've heard it ever since I was a child. But, uhm, I also really like speaking German.

Uhm, there are so many languages that I would love to learn in the future. As I said, I'm hooked so... I'm, I'm very interested in Chinese at the moment. I work with someone from China, who's teaching me little bits. And I think it's really cool when I hear her speaking to her family or friends on the phone in Chinese and think, "Wow! Wouldn't it be really awesome to speak that?" I also, I organize an international conference for polyglots every year, which moves country, so last year it was in Iceland and this year it's going to be in Slovenia. So I'd like to learn some Slovene as well before we go there for the weekend.

I always feel a little bit guilty that I'm from the UK, but I've never really learned any of our local languages here. So I've never learned Welsh, I've never learned Irish, I've never learned Scottish Gaelic. And I went to Wales recently and loved that we had everything in two languages. You walk into the supermarket and you see all these languages everywhere. And I thought, "I think it would be really cool to learn a language which is very close to where I live and that I could use." So I'd love to learn Welsh one day, too.

The biggest challenge for me with learning a new language was with Russian. There were a number of things that I wasn't expecting to be hard that were. For example, there's a whole new alphabet, which, it's not too different to English – you get used to it – but when you're trying to learn a word, it's just an extra barrier to memorizing that word. First, having to read it and understand what all of the letters mean and then having to actually memorize it. So there's that extra layer there.

Technology has been an amazing resource for me, especially when I was growing up actually, with YouTube and things like that, I was able to sort of come home from school and immediately immerse myself in this world of another language. I could just watch videos in different languages all evening and it was like I was there, it was like I was living in the country. So the internet has brought all of those cultures much closer to me and made them much more accessible. And since then I think there's now a lot of technology out there to help you learn vocabulary or to teach you grammar.

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time and you are using the video, you could get Sts to watch again with subtitles, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

d Give Sts time to read the four questions.

Now play Part 3 of the video once the whole way through for Sts just to watch.

Then play it again, pausing after Alex answers each question to give Sts time to write.

Check answers.

- 1 Because they don't have enough time, they're not doing it for the right reasons, or they expect it to be easier than it actually is.
- 2 Because the grammar is very simple (there are almost no irregular verbs, and there are only three real tenses) and a lot of the vocabulary in Afrikaans is very similar to vocabulary in English.
- 3 Because they don't have much confidence and they never get a chance to practice other languages..
- 4 You never finish learning a language.
Try to spend 10–15 minutes a day on the language you are learning.

Part 3

H As well as learning languages himself, Alex has also taught intensive language courses, too. He appears in the media around the world and regularly posts about language on Twitter and The Memrise Blog. He has also written a book, How to Speak Any Language Fluently.

A Yeah, it's a good question. So, put it, put it this way. I've never met anyone who couldn't learn a language, you know, I mean, if they had the right motivation, the right time allocation, the right resources, and the right expectations, I've never met anyone who's had all of those things in place and still failed. But many of us fail to learn languages because one of those things is not there. We don't have enough time, we're not doing it for the right reasons, or we expect it to be a lot easier than it actually is. Well, the easiest language for me to learn was definitely Afrikaans, because the grammar's very, very simple, so there are almost no irregular verbs, there's only three real tenses you have to worry about and a lot of the vocabulary in Afrikaans is very similar to vocabulary in English. So for example, there's this sentence which is "My pen is in my hand and my hand is in warm water," which in Afrikaans is "My pen is en my hand and my hand is in warm water," which, you know is very, very easy for English-speakers to learn. So the easiest languages to learn are the languages which are most similar to the one you speak natively because you don't have to learn so many new concepts and maybe you can already understand a lot of the vocabulary because it's similar to what you already know.

I think British and American people think that they're not very good at languages. I think we don't have much confidence. Because when we go abroad to other countries, we, we expect people to speak English, people expect us to speak English, so we never get a chance to practice the little bits of other languages that we might know...

I think the most important thing for someone who wants to learn a new language to remember is that nothing happens overnight. Learning languages is a lifelong activity. And you basically, you never finish, you never get to that finishing line where you think, "Right, what should I do next?" When you learn a new language you need to accept the fact that there will always be more to learn, no matter how much you learn. And so the best approach is to just start doing it in little steps, just doing say 10–15 minutes a day, whenever you can find time around your routine. And then building that up over a year or two years before you really start to feel very confident using that language.

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time and you are using the video, you could get Sts to watch Parts 2 and 3 again with subtitles, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

Finally, ask Sts if they think that anything Alex said could help them with learning English or other languages.

I = interviewer, L = Lewis

- I How do you get to work?
L Um, I usually get to work by taking the bus or the subway.
I How long does it take?
L Usually about an hour.
I What do you think is the best way to get around New York?
L I definitely think the best way to get around New York is the subway.

I = interviewer, B = Butterfly

- I Do you think women are better than men with young children, or do you think that's just a stereotype?
B I think that, um, it is definitely a stereotype that women are just better with children than men are. I believe that both sexes provide children with valuable, equally valuable, experiences, um, so I definitely trust either sex to raise children and love children, you know, with the same styles and the same quality and, you know, respect and love.

I = interviewer, C = Coleen

- I Are there any stereotypes about men and women that you think are true?
C I think women do think differently to men, um, and I think conversations tend to be different as well. Women are much more into, um, "what did you say and what did he say, and what did you feel" and all the rest of it, and men are far more pragmatic and, you know, just want to know the score, as it were.

I = interviewer, J = Jenny

- I How many languages do you speak?
J I speak English and I also speak Afrikaans.
I Is there a language you'd like to be able to speak?
J I would very much like to be able to speak Spanish.
I Why Spanish?
J Because Spanish is spoken all over the world and I feel it's, it would be, it's important to be able to communicate with more people.

T It annoys me when people...like you're trying to have a conversation and they're just sitting there texting somebody else or having a conversation with people that aren't, you know, in front of them.

G past tenses: simple, continuous, perfect

V sports

P /ɔː/ and /əː/

Lesson plan

The topic of this lesson is sports. The lesson begins with a vocabulary focus on words and phrases connected with sports, and then a pronunciation focus on two vowel sounds that Sts often have problems with, /ɔː/ and /əː/. Sts then have a speaking activity about sports, which caters to both Sts who like and play sports, and those that do not. This is followed by a reading about the superstitions that many athletes have.

The angle in the second half of the lesson is sportsmanship. Sts listen to an interview with a soccer referee, and then the grammar, narrative tenses (simple past, past continuous, and past perfect), is presented through stories about people helping others in sports. Sts then practice telling anecdotes, and the lesson ends with a writing focus on stories.

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN (BOOKS CLOSED)

Write on the board the names of the three most popular sports in your Sts' country, and drill the pronunciation.

Then get a show of hands to find out a) how many people in the class like watching these sports, and b) how many play these sports.

Then ask Sts if they think the class statistics are typical of their country as a whole.

1 VOCABULARY sports

a Books open. Focus on the quiz In which sport...?

Put Sts in small teams of three or four and tell them to answer the questions as fast as they can.

Stop when the first team "crosses the finish line."

b 5.1 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers, getting Sts to spell the names of the sports, and checking pronunciation. Find out if the first team to cross the finish line got the most questions correct. If not, the team with the most correct answers is the winner.

- 1 swimming 2 basketball 3 baseball 4 rugby
5 table tennis / ping pong 6 golf 7 ice hockey 8 tennis
9 track and field 10 soccer

5.1

- 1 You can do the butterfly in swimming.
- 2 There's a shot called a slam dunk in basketball.
- 3 The person who throws the ball in baseball is called the pitcher.
- 4 There are two teams of 15 people and a ball that isn't round in rugby.
- 5 You hit the ball over a net on a table in table tennis (or ping pong).
- 6 Players walk about five miles and never run during a game of golf.
- 7 There are two teams of six who play on ice in ice hockey.
- 8 There are four main tennis tournaments in the world: in Melbourne, Paris, London, and New York.
- 9 You can do different activities, for example running, high jump or javelin, in track and field.
- 10 Brazil has won more World Cups than any other country in soccer.

c Tell Sts to go to Vocabulary Bank Sports on p.157.

Vocabulary notes

People and places

Highlight that the coach is the non-playing person in charge of a sports team. He / She is in charge of training, strategy, and team selection. In baseball, this person is called the manager.

Point out that you usually use both words (= a compound noun) to describe the place where you play sports, e.g., tennis court, baseball field.

Verbs

You may want to highlight that we often say nothing for a zero score in most sports (e.g., The Red Sox beat the Yankees three-nothing), but we say love in tennis (e.g., fifteen-love).

Focus on 1 People and places and get Sts to do a individually or in pairs.

5.2 Now do b. Play the audio for Sts to listen and check. Check answers.

Focus on 2 Verbs and go through the win and beat box with the class.

Make sure Sts know the meaning of the verbs, and then get them to do a and b individually or in pairs. Highlight that in b, Sts should write the verbs in the Verb column, not in the shaded blanks in the sentences. By doing this, they can use the sentences to test their memory later.

- 3 C "Was sent off" means "was told to leave the field, court, etc."
- 4 A "Was knocked out" means "was eliminated."

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 5A.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Vocabulary photocopyable activity at this point.

2 PRONUNCIATION /ɔɪ/ and /əɪ/

Pronunciation notes

Here the focus is on two long sounds that are often mispronounced because of the sometimes irregular relationship between sound and spelling. The biggest problem is -or, which is usually /ɔɪ/, but sometimes /əɪ/ after w.

a Focus on the sound pictures and elicit the words and sounds: horse /ɔɪ/ and bird /əɪ/.

Give Sts a few minutes to put the words in the correct row. Warn them to be careful with the -or words.

b 5.7 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

5.7

horse /ɔɪ/ course, court, four, score, shorts, sport, warm up bird /əɪ/ girl, hurt, serve, shirt, work out, world, worse

Play the audio again, pausing after each group of words for Sts to listen and repeat.

EXTRA SUPPORT If these sounds are difficult for your Sts, it will help to show them the mouth position. You could model this yourself or use the Sound Bank videos on the Teacher Resource Center.

c 5.8 Tell Sts they are going to hear six sentences and they must write them down.

Play the audio the whole way through for Sts just to listen.

5.8

- 1 I hurt myself when I worked out yesterday.
- 2 Her serve's worse than the other girl's.
- 3 It was a tie – the score was four to four.
- 4 It's the worst sport in the world.
- 5 We warmed up on the court.
- 6 They wore red shirts and white shorts.

Then play it again, pausing after each sentence to give Sts time to write it down. Repeat if necessary.

Check answers by eliciting the sentences onto the board.

See script 5.8

Put Sts in pairs and get them to practice saying the sentences.

EXTRA SUPPORT Play the audio again, pausing after each sentence for Sts to listen and repeat.

3 SPEAKING

This topic-based speaking activity takes into account the fact that not all Sts are interested in sports!

Focus on the instructions and the flow chart, and point out the two alternative “routes” and the last three questions for all Sts to discuss, whichever route they took.

EXTRA SUPPORT Get Sts to interview you with the first few questions from whichever group you belong to. Elicit extra questions to show possible follow-up questions.

Monitor while Sts interview each other. Correct any pronunciation errors with the vocabulary they have just learned, and help them with any new vocabulary they need. Make a note of any common mistakes, and give corrections at the end of the activity.

Get some feedback from a few individual Sts.

EXTRA SUPPORT You could do the last three questions as a whole-class activity.

4 READING understanding how examples support main points

- a Do this as a whole-class activity, making sure Sts understand all the expressions. If Sts come from different countries, they could tell the class the equivalent things they say in their country, e.g., Italians say touch iron, not knock on wood.
- b Focus on the instructions and elicit / explain the meaning of superstition /^{supərˈstɪʃn/} (= the belief that particular events happen in a way that cannot be explained by reason or science). Model and drill its pronunciation. Read the title of the article and explain / elicit the meaning of work here (= to have the result or effect that you want). Now tell Sts to read the article and find the answer to the title. Check the answer.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the article the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

Yes, because they increase confidence and control.

- c Now focus on the instructions and phrases A–D. Make sure Sts understand the words physical and psychological. Tell Sts to read the article again quickly and match each topic to a paragraph. Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

1 B 2 D 3 A 4 C

- d Put Sts in pairs. Tell them to read the article again and then discuss with their partner why the examples for paragraphs 1–4 are given.

Check answers.

- 1 They're examples of famous sportspeople's superstitions.
- 2 They were used in a study at the University of Cologne to show that people perform better when they have “lucky” things.
- 3 Adrenaline and other chemicals are produced as a result of sports rituals, helping athletes to focus better.
- 4 This is an example of how superstitions can cause problems – both players wanted to be the last person to leave the locker room.

Help with any other new vocabulary. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.

- e Put Sts in pairs and get them to discuss the questions. Get some feedback from various pairs. If you have any superstitions, you could tell the class.

5 LISTENING understanding an interview

- a Do this a whole-class activity, and elicit some opinions on referees in general.

EXTRA SUPPORT If Sts can't give any reasons, you could ask them if referees are a) well paid, b) respected, or c) unpopular.

- b 5.9 Focus on the photo and the instructions. Give Sts a few minutes to read questions 1–5 and their three options, and make sure they understand them.

Then play the audio (Part 1 of the interview) once the whole way through.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then play the audio again if necessary.

Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the scripts and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

5.9

(script in the Student Book on pp.127–128)

I = interviewer, JA = Juan Antonio

Part 1

- I What made you want to become a referee?
- JA My father was a referee, but that didn't influence me – in fact, the opposite because I saw all the problems that he had as a referee. But as a child, I was always attracted by the idea and at school I used to referee all kinds of sports – basketball, handball, volleyball, and of course football. I was invited to join the Referees' Federation when I was only 14 years old.
- I Were you good at sports yourself?
- JA Yes. I was a very good handball player. People often think that referees become referees because they're frustrated sportsmen, but this is just not true in most cases in my experience.
- I What was the most exciting match you ever refereed?
- JA It's difficult to choose one match as the most exciting. I remember some of the Real Madrid–Barcelona matches, for example, the first one I ever refereed. The atmosphere was incredible in the stadium. But really, it's impossible to pick just one – there have been so many.
- I What was the worst experience you ever had as a referee?
- JA The worst? Well, that was something that happened very early in my career. I was only 16, and I was refereeing a match in a town in Spain and the home team lost. After the match, I was attacked and injured by the players of the home team and by the spectators. After all these years, I can still remember a mother who had a little baby in her arms, who was trying to hit me. She was so angry with me that she nearly dropped her baby. That was my worst moment, and it nearly made me stop being a referee.

- I Do you think that there's more cheating in soccer than in the past?
- JA Yes, I think so.
- I Why?
- JA I think it's because there's so much money in football today that it's become much more important to win. Also, football is much faster than it used to be, so it's much more difficult for referees to detect cheating.
- I How do soccer players cheat?
- JA Oh, there are many ways, but for me, the worst thing in football today is what we call simulation. Simulation is when a player pretends to have been fouled when in fact he hasn't. For example, sometimes a player falls over in the penalty area when, in fact, nobody has touched him, and this can result in the referee giving a penalty when it wasn't a penalty. In my opinion, when a player does this, he's cheating not only the referee, not only the players of the other team, but also the spectators, because spectators pay money to see a fair contest.

EXTRA SUPPORT You could pause the audio after the referee has answered each question to give Sts time to answer the questions.

- c Tell Sts they are going to hear Part 2 of the interview, but before they listen, they must look at sentences 1–6 and see if they can predict what the referee is going to say. Get Sts to compare with a partner.
- d 5.10 Tell Sts to listen to Part 2 of the interview and check their answers. Play the audio once the whole way through. Then play it again, pausing after each answer is given. Check answers.

1 right decisions 2 fast 3 rules 4 exceptions
5 with the ball 6 typical superstar

5.10

(script in the Student Book on p.128)

Part 2

- I What's the most difficult thing about being a referee?
- JA The most difficult thing is to make the right decisions during a match. It's difficult because you have to make decisions when everything's happening so quickly – football today is very fast. You must remember that everything is happening at 100 kilometres an hour. Also, important decisions often depend on the referee's interpretation of the rules. Things aren't black and white. And, of course, making decisions would be much easier if players didn't cheat.
- I Do you think that the idea of fair play doesn't exist anymore?
- JA Not at all. On the contrary, I think fair play does exist – the players who cheat are the exceptions.
- I Finally, who was the best player you ever saw in your career as a referee?
- JA I have to say Leo Messi.
- I Why do you think he's so good?
- JA Well, a study was done on him which showed that Messi could run faster with the ball than many footballers can do without the ball. But apart from his great ability, what I've always admired about him is that he isn't a typical superstar footballer. In public and in his personal life, his behavior has always been very normal. That's unusual for such a famous player.

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the two scripts on pp.127–128, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

- e Put Sts in small groups to discuss questions 1–4. Before they start, elicit / explain the meaning of fair play (= the fact of playing a game or acting honestly, fairly, and according to the rules).

Encourage Sts to give reasons to justify what they say.

Get some feedback from various groups and find out if any Sts disagreed with each other on any of the topics.

6 GRAMMAR past tenses

- a Focus on the title of the article and the photo, and ask Sts what they think the article is about.

Now give Sts time to read the article about Alistair Brownlee and answer the question.

Check the answer.

He helped his brother, and as a result, he didn't win the race.

- b Focus on the instructions. Give Sts time to read paragraph 2 again and find the verbs. Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

Past continuous: he was winning; His brother, Alistair, was running

Past perfect: he'd gone very fast; he hadn't drunk enough; Jonny had stopped; who had been behind them

Now ask Sts why the different tenses are used.

The past continuous verbs show that these actions were in progress when the main events happened.

The past perfect verbs show that these things happened before the main events in the story.

- c Tell Sts to go to Grammar Bank 5A on p.140.

Grammar notes

In American English File Level 2, Sts learned the simple past, the past continuous, and the past perfect in separate lessons, so this will be the first time Sts have seen the three tenses together.

Highlight that these three tenses are the ones that we usually use to tell a story / anecdote in the past. Most verbs tend to be in the simple past when we are describing consecutive actions (First..., then..., etc.), but we often use the simple past in conjunction with either or both the past continuous and past perfect, e.g., I got home late and my wife had already finished her dinner and was watching the news on TV.

You may want to draw a timeline on the board to show Sts how the three tenses work together:

Focus on the example sentences and play audio 5.11, 5.12, 5.13 and 5.14 for Sts to listen and repeat.

Encourage them to copy the rhythm.

Then go through the rules with the class.

Now focus on the exercises and get Sts to do them individually or in pairs.

Check answers, getting Sts to read the full sentences.

1 had trained 2 was driving 3 wanted
4 had already started 5 hadn't scored 6 was playing
7 stopped 8 hadn't lost 9 was raining

b

1 The accident happened when they were driving home.
2 The crowd cheered when the referee blew the final whistle.
3 I didn't recognize Jane at first because she had changed so much.
4 The police stopped my sister on the freeway because she wasn't wearing a seat belt.
5 Some of the players weren't listening while the coach was talking to them.
6 We couldn't use the ski slope because it hadn't snowed enough.
7 They weren't able to play tennis because they hadn't booked a court.
8 The player got a yellow card because he had taken off / took off his shirt after scoring a goal.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 5A.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Grammar photocopiable activity at this point.

d Tell Sts they are going to read an article about a skier, Anton Gafarov. Tell Sts they must fill in the blanks with the verbs in the correct form. Point out that the first one (was competing) has been done for them.

Give Sts time to read the article and fill in the blanks.
Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

2 was doing 3 fell 4 damaged 5 fell 6 had broken
7 tried / was trying 8 ran 9 replaced 10 had brought 11 finished

e Put Sts in pairs, A and B, and tell them to go to Communication Good sportsmanship, A on p.107, B on p.112.

Tell Sts A to read about Kenyan runner Abel Mutai, and Sts B to read about Canadian sailor Lawrence Lemieux. When they have finished reading, Sts should underline all the verbs in the past continuous or past perfect.

Sts A then cover the story and tell it to their partner, using the prompts in the list.

Sts then switch roles.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 5A.

f Do this as a whole-class activity, making sure Sts know the meaning of heroic (= very brave). You could also tell Sts what you think.

7 SPEAKING

a Focus on the instructions and make sure Sts understand what an anecdote is (= an informal true story about something that happened to you). Model and drill its pronunciation.

Give Sts time to choose which two topics they are going to talk about, and to plan the stories. Encourage them to think about the vocabulary they are going to need, especially verbs.

Monitor and help Sts with their planning and with any specific vocabulary.

EXTRA IDEA Tell Sts that one anecdote should be true and the other invented. Sts A then tell both their anecdotes, one after the other, and Sts B must decide which one is true. They then switch roles. You could model the activity first by telling them two anecdotes of your own. Pause from time to time and encourage Sts to ask you questions. Then get Sts to guess which one is true.

b Focus on the Telling an anecdote box and go through it with the class.

Put Sts in pairs, A and B. Sts A should start by telling their first anecdote, giving as much information as possible, and Sts B should ask questions. Sts B then tell their first anecdote.

Monitor while Sts are telling their anecdotes, but don't correct too much since the goal here is to encourage fluency, and Sts are unlikely to use all the tenses perfectly.

EXTRA IDEA Tell Sts to look back at the language for reacting to what people say in Practical English Episode 1 on p.15. Encourage them to use this language when they listen to the anecdotes.

If Sts are enjoying the activity (and you have time), you could get them to change partners and tell their stories again.

8 WRITING telling a story

Tell Sts to go to Writing Telling a story on p.118.

a Focus on the instructions and give Sts time to read the story and answer the questions. Tell them not to worry about the blanks in the story.

Check answers.

They got lost because her husband followed the instructions given by the GPS, which sent them in the wrong direction. They also left their dog under the table in the café.

b Focus on the instructions and the connecting words or phrases in the list.

Give Sts time to read the story again and fill in the blanks.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

2 when 3 However 4 instead of 5 but 6 So 7 because 8 as soon as 9 although c Focus on the A bad trip box and go through it with the class.

Now tell Sts they are going to write about a trip when they had a problem. If Sts can't think of a trip, they can invent one.

Focus on the plan and go through it with Sts.

Sts should write three paragraphs, as in the model, and use the A bad trip box to help them.

You may want to get Sts to do the writing in class, or you could assign it as homework. If you do it in class, set a time limit for Sts to write their story, e.g., 15–20 minutes.

d Sts should check their work for mistakes before handing it in.

- G past and present habits and states
V relationships
P the letter s, used to

Lesson plan

Different kinds of relationships provide the main theme for this lesson. It begins with two stories from Instagram #thewaywemet about two couples who met their partner in unusual circumstances. Sts then listen to another person talking about where he met his partner, and extracts from the listening provide a lead-in to the grammar, which reviews and reinforces the use of used to for past habits and states, and contrasts it with the way we express present habits.

The pronunciation focus is on the different ways the letter s can be pronounced, and the pronunciation of used to. This is followed by a controlled oral grammar practice stage.

The topic of the second half of the lesson is friendships. It begins with a vocabulary focus on words and phrases related to relationships. Sts then listen to a radio show about friendships, and the lesson ends with a speaking activity where Sts present their opinion on a particular aspect of friendship.

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN (BOOKS CLOSED)

Write the following on the board:

- 1 I MET MY BEST FRIEND IN ELEMENTARY SCHOOL.
- 2 WHERE SHOULD WE MEET? HOW ABOUT IN THE CAFÉ BY THE TRAIN STATION?
- 3 WHEN I WAS OUT SHOPPING LAST WEEK, I MET AN OLD SCHOOL FRIEND WHO I HADN'T SEEN FOR YEARS.

Now elicit from Sts the meanings of the verb meet in each sentence.

- 1 To see somebody for the first time
- 2 To go to a place and wait there for somebody to arrive
- 3 To be in the same place as somebody by chance and talk to them

1 READING & LISTENING predicting the end of a story

- a Books open. Focus on the task and make sure Sts know what a partner is (= a husband / boyfriend, or wife / girlfriend).

Get Sts to number phrases A–E in order according to how likely they think people are to meet friends and partners that way.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then elicit opinions.

- b Tell Sts they are going to read the beginning of two stories from an Instagram site called #thewaywemet and they must find out where the two women met their partners. Give Sts time to read the stories and answer the question. Get them to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the stories the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

Tiffany met her partner in a supermarket parking lot.
 Kristina met her partner in an acupuncture clinic.

- c Now tell Sts to read the stories again and decide who each statement refers to.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

1 T 2 T 3 K 4 K 5 K 6 T

Help with any new vocabulary. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.

- d Focus on the question and elicit ideas for both stories. Now put Sts in pairs, A and B, and tell them to go to Communication The way we met, A on p.107, B on p.112.

Tell Sts A to read about Tiffany, and Sts B to read about Kristina.

When they have finished reading, Sts should close their books and tell their partner their story.

EXTRA IDEA Before Sts tell their partner how the story ends, they should first elicit from their partner what they think happened.

In their pairs, Sts decide what coincidence there is in each story.

Check answers.

Tiffany and her partner own exactly the same car.
 Kristina was studying creative writing and her partner's last name is Tolstoy (like the great Russian novelist).

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 5B.

- e Focus on the instructions and give Sts time to think about how a couple they know met. Put Sts in pairs and get them to share their stories. Get some feedback, and if you know a couple who met in unusual circumstances, tell the class.

2 GRAMMAR past and present habits and states a  5.15 Tell Sts they are going to listen to another story and they must answer the two questions. You could write the questions on the board and get Sts to close their books.

Play the audio once the whole way through.

Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

They met in a school hall, and it wasn't romantic.

5.15

Well, I used to be a teacher, and I taught English to adults in Indonesia for a few years, and I met my wife there, um, in the school that I was working in. She was a student at the school – not in my class, I should point out – just a student at the school, and one day in the hall I was walking to class, and she was running through the hall because she was late for her class – she didn't use to be very punctual in those days. And she crashed into me, and I was on my way to class, so I was carrying a whole load of things and I dropped all my books, all my papers, all my pens...they went all over the floor. And did she help me pick them up? Nope! She just ran off, laughing; she thought it was very funny. So...you could say it wasn't love at first sight. But we became friends after that, and we sometimes used to have tea together. And after being friends for, I think, three years, we got together – became boyfriend and girlfriend – and then a few years later, we got engaged, and then we got married – and now we've been married for 12 years.

b Now focus on the instructions and on sentences 1–8.

Go through them with Sts and make sure they understand them.

Play the audio again the whole way through, and get Sts to mark the sentences T (true) or F (false). Remind them to correct the false ones.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- 1 T
- 2 F (She was a student at the school, but not in his classes.)
- 3 F (She wasn't usually very punctual.)
- 4 T
- 5 T
- 6 F (She ran off, laughing.)
- 7 T
- 8 F (They've been married for 12 years.)

c Put Sts in pairs. Tell them to look at the three extracts from the listening and to answer questions 1 and 2.

Check answers.

- 1 We use used to to talk about things that were true over a period of time in the past.
We make questions with Did + person + use to + base form.
- 2 No

EXTRA SUPPORT Do this as a whole-class activity.

d Tell Sts to go to Grammar Bank 5B on p.141.

Grammar notes

Used to is a grammar point that was presented in American English File Level 2 and is reviewed and reinforced here. This is a "late assimilation" structure, as Sts can express more or less the same idea by using the past tense + a time expression. Compare I used to go to that elementary school and I went to that elementary school (when I was a child). In that sense, used to is a sophisticated structure and its correct use shows that Sts have a higher level of English. In this lesson, used to is contrasted with the use of the simple present with usually to talk about present habits.

Sts may have problems with this structure because their language may either use a tense that doesn't exist in English for past habits, or may have a verb that can be used both for present and past habits – unlike used to, which can only be used in the past.

Emphasize the way we often don't repeat the main verb, but just use the auxiliary verb with any more / any longer when we contrast the past and present habits, e.g., I used to like cartoons, but I don't any more.

Some typical mistakes include:

- using use to instead of usually for present habits and states, e.g., I use to go to bed about 11:00.
- making mistakes of spelling such as We didn't used to wear a uniform at my school.

Focus on the example sentences and play audio  5.16 for Sts to listen and repeat. Encourage them to copy the rhythm.

Then go through the rules with the class.

Focus on the information box and go through it with Sts.

Now focus on the exercises and get Sts to do them individually or in pairs.

Check answers, getting Sts to read the full sentences.

a

- 1 X didn't use to like 2 ✓ 3 X never used to want
- 4 X did you use to keep in touch 5 X usually go 6 **✓
- 7 X Did your parents meet 8 X used to work 9 X usually go

b

- 1 We used to have a lot in common, but now we're completely different.
- 2 We usually go to bed early during the week because we have to get up at 6:00 a.m.
- 3 I didn't use to watch TV on my phone, but now I often do.
- 4 Do you usually play soccer on Sunday mornings?
- 5 They love sushi, so they usually eat out in Japanese restaurants.
- 6 Where did your husband use to work before he got the job in the bank?
- 7 My sister has lost a lot of weight. She never used to be so slim.
- 8 Did you use to argue a lot with your parents when you were a teenager?
- 9 Laura usually gets along really well with her roommates, but they occasionally argue about housework.
- 10 My ex-boyfriend didn't use to speak to me, but now he calls me all the time.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 5B.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Grammar photocopiable activity at this point.

3 PRONUNCIATION & SPEAKING the letter s, used to

Pronunciation notes

Many learners of English tend to always pronounce the letter s as the unvoiced sound /s/, as in bus. In fact, s in the middle or at the end of a word is often pronounced /z/, e.g., music, jobs, and -se is very often pronounced /z/, e.g., lose, choose, etc. At the beginning of a word, s is almost always /s/, with the exceptions of sure and sugar, where the s is pronounced /ʃ/. Double s is always pronounced /s/.

Used can be pronounced both ways, with a /s/ or a /z/. When it is a main verb (e.g., I used Google maps to find the right way), it is pronounced /yuzd/, but when it is used to (e.g., I used to live in Los Angeles), it is pronounced /yust/.

- a 5.17 Focus on the task and elicit the four picture words (snake, zebra, shower, and television).

Now play the audio once the whole way through for Sts just to listen.

5.17

See sounds and words in the Student Book on p.51

Then get Sts to write the words in the correct column.

Get them to compare with a partner.

EXTRA SUPPORT Play the audio, pausing after each word for Sts to listen and write the words in the columns.

- b 5.18 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

5.18

snake /s/ used to, parents, promise, singer, sport, summer, supermarket zebra /z/ use, busy, friends, lose, music, raise shower /ʃ/ sugar, sure television /ɜ/ usually, decision, occasion, unusual

EXTRA SUPPORT Play the audio again, pausing after each group of words for Sts to listen and repeat.

- c Put Sts in pairs and get them to answer 1–3.

Check answers.

- 1 At the beginning of a word, the letter s is usually pronounced /s/. The two exceptions are sure and sugar /ʃ/.
- 2 At the end of a word, s can be pronounced /s/ or /z/.
- 3 In vowel + -sion, the letter s is pronounced /ɜ/.

EXTRA SUPPORT If these sounds are difficult for your Sts, it will help to show them the mouth position. You could model this yourself or use the Sound Bank videos on the Teacher Resource Center.

- d 5.19 Focus on the used to box and go through it with the class.

Tell Sts they are going to hear five short sentences or questions and they need to write them down.

Play the audio once the whole way through for Sts just to listen.

5.19

- 1 I'm sure you used to put sugar in your tea.
- 2 She didn't use to like classical music, but now she loves it.
- 3 We used to stay with my parents' friends during summer vacation.
- 4 Did you use to use your car more?
- 5 The singer usually practices for six hours a day.

Now play the audio again, pausing after each sentence to give Sts time to write.

Check answers by eliciting the sentences onto the board.

See script 5.19

Then play the audio again, pausing after each sentence for Sts to listen and repeat.

Finally, repeat the activity, eliciting the sentences from individual Sts.

EXTRA SUPPORT You could get Sts to listen and repeat after the audio, and then practice in pairs.

- e Focus on the task and give Sts a few minutes to choose their two topics and plan what they are going to say.

Put Sts in pairs, A and B. Tell Sts A to start talking about their first topic, giving as much information as they can. Sts B can ask for more information, too.

Then Sts B tell Sts A about their first topic, etc.

EXTRA SUPPORT Choose one of the topics yourself and tell Sts a little about it. This way, you demonstrate what you want them to do and give Sts extra listening practice.

As Sts are talking, move around, monitoring and helping, and correcting any mistakes with used to.

Get some feedback.

4 VOCABULARY relationships

- a Give Sts time to match the words or phrases to the photos.

Check answers, eliciting what each word or phrase means.

- 3 colleagues (= people that you work with)
- 4 friends (= people you know well and like)
- 6 argue with somebody (= to speak angrily to somebody because you disagree with them)
- 5 discuss something with somebody (= to talk about something with somebody, especially in order to decide something)
- 1 meet somebody (= to see somebody for the first time)
- 2 know somebody (= you have met before)

- b Tell Sts to go to Vocabulary Bank Relationships on p.158.

Vocabulary notes

People

Highlight that mate can be added to other words, e.g., housemate (= someone you share a house with), schoolmate (= someone you are / were at school with), workmate (= somebody you work with).

Tell Sts that fiancé(e) is a word "borrowed" from French, which explains the pronunciation, and why it has an accent. With one e, it refers to a man, and with two to a woman.

You might also want to point out that sometimes co-worker is used instead of colleague.

Focus on 1 People and get Sts to do a individually or in pairs.

🔊 5.20 Now do b. Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

🔊 5.20

Relationships

1 People

- 1 couple – two people who are married or in a romantic relationship
- 2 partner – your husband, wife, boyfriend, or girlfriend
- 3 fiancé(e) – the person that you are engaged to be married to
- 4 roommate – a person that you share an apartment with
- 5 colleague – a person that you work with
- 6 ex – a person that you used to have a relationship with
- 7 close friend – a very good friend that you can talk to about anything
- 8 classmate – a person who is in the same class as you at school or college

Now either use the audio to drill the pronunciation of the words, or model and drill them yourself. Give further practice of any words and phrases your Sts find difficult to pronounce.

Now do Activation and tell Sts to cover the definitions, look at the words, and see if they can remember what they mean.

Now focus on 2 Verb phrases and get Sts to do a individually or in pairs. Remind Sts to change the verb to the simple past.

EXTRA SUPPORT Elicit the past tense of all the verbs first.

🔊 5.21 Now do b. Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

🔊 5.21

2 Verb phrases

- 1 I met Mark when I was studying at Boston University.
- 2 We got to know each other quickly because we went to the same classes.
- 3 We soon became friends, and we discovered that we had a lot in common. For example, we both liked art and music.
- 4 We went out together in our second semester and we fell in love.
- 5 We were together for two years, but we argued a lot, and in our last semester of school we broke up.
- 6 After we graduated, we lost touch because I moved to Chicago and he stayed in Boston.
- 7 Five years later, we got in touch again on Facebook. We were both still single and Mark had moved to Chicago, too.
- 8 This time we got along better than before, maybe because we were older.
- 9 After two months, Mark proposed and I accepted.
- 10 We got married last summer. A lot of our old college friends came to the wedding!

Now either use the audio to drill the pronunciation of the verb phrases, or model and drill them yourself. Give further practice of any words and phrases your Sts find difficult to pronounce.

Finally, focus on Activation and tell Sts to look at the pictures and see if they can remember the story.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 5B.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Vocabulary photocopiable activity at this point.

c Focus on the task and give Sts a couple of minutes to think about a close friend and how they will answer the questions.

Put Sts in pairs; they take turns interviewing each other about their close friend. While they are doing this, go around monitoring and helping if necessary.

Get some feedback from individual Sts.

d Either put Sts in pairs to think of the four letters that can be added after the words in the list to make an abstract noun, or do it as a whole-class activity.

If Sts worked in pairs, check the answer. Make sure Sts know the meaning of all the words in the list with -ship added to them.

-ship

e Give Sts time to complete sentences 1–5 with an abstract noun from d.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- 1 relationship 2 membership 3 leadership 4 partnership
5 friendship

5 LISTENING understanding facts and supporting information

a Focus on the instructions and put Sts in pairs to guess the missing words in facts 1–5.

Elicit answers, but don't tell Sts if they are correct.

b 🔊 5.22 Tell Sts to listen to the radio show about friendship and check their answers to a.

Play the audio once the whole way through.

Check answers. Find out, with a show of hands, if any Sts got all the answers correct.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

🔊 5.22

(script in the Student Book on p.128)

R = Rickie, J = Joanna, C = caller

R You're listening to The Morning Show and I'm Rickie Hammond.

J And I'm Joanna Keys.

R Now, I wonder how many of you know what today is. Well, it's Friendship Day! All over the world today, people are celebrating those wonderful people called friends. We've been doing some research this morning about friends, and we've discovered five fascinating facts about friends for you. Just listen to these. Joanna?

J Friends fact number one:

Animals have friends, too! Yes, apparently, we humans aren't the only ones who have friends. There's strong evidence that animals, like chimpanzees, horses, elephants, dolphins, and even bats can form friendships for life. And they even make friends with animals that aren't from their species!

R Friends fact number two:

We have more real friends thanks to social media! You may find this hard to believe, but since the invention of the internet, and especially since social media came on the scene, we actually have more real-world friends than before. People always say we're so busy with all our online friends that we don't have time for our real friends. But in fact the opposite is true. A doctor in Psychology at Sheffield Hallam University has done some research that shows that the internet actually helps us to keep up friendships. And why is that? Because with social media, it's easier to stay in touch. In the past we used to lose touch with friends because of distance or lack of time. So now you know...

J Friends fact number three:

Having friends at work makes you more productive. Now, you probably think that if you have lots of friends at work, you waste a lot of time gossiping with them. Well, listen to this. According to various studies, having friends at work makes you more productive and more creative. And I can believe that, because you know, if you have friends at work, you're going to be happier, which in turn probably makes you work better. Just one thing, though – don't be friends with your boss! That might make your colleagues trust you less, and they might think you got your job because of your friendship.

R Friends fact number four:

Love can make you lose two friends. Yes, it's a sad fact that you can lose two friends when you fall in love. According to the anthropologist Robin Dunbar, who's studied the effect that love has on friendship, when a new person comes into your life, he – or she, of course – displaces two other people in your circle of friends. He says that when you're in love, you spend less time with your friends, and this means that friendships deteriorate. And you know something, from my experience that's true.

J Friends fact number five:

So this is the last one, and it's good news! Friendship is good for your health. It doesn't matter if you're a man or a woman. People who have a lot of friends are less stressed and live longer. Research shows that you are 50% more likely to have a long life if you have a good social network.

So now we're asking you to choose a song for a special friend. Call us or text us at 800-555-9176. The lines are open now, and our first caller is Mandy from Portland.

C Hi, Joanna! Can you play I'll Be There for You for my best friend? Her name's Annie and I love her to pieces...

c Tell Sts they are going to listen to the show again, and this time they must make notes on examples and reasons for the five facts.

Play the audio again, pausing after each fact to give Sts time to write. Play again if necessary.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- 1 Chimpanzees, horses, elephants, dolphins, and bats can form friendships.
- 2 Because with Facebook, it's easier to stay in touch with friends.
- 3 Because if you have friends at work, you're happier, and that makes you work better; the exception is your boss (it's better not to be friends with him / her).
- 4 Because when you're in love, you have less time to see your friends.
- 5 Because you're less stressed, and so you live longer; you are 50% more likely to have a long life.

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the script on p.128, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

d Do this as a whole-class activity.

6 SPEAKING

a Focus on the task and go through sentences A–G.

Give Sts time to check or cross each sentence according to their own opinions. Tell them to think about their reasons. They can write notes if they want to.

b Put Sts in small groups of three or four. Tell them to each choose one topic (A–G) in a that they want to talk about.

Now focus on the plan and go through it with the class.

Tell Sts to prepare what they are going to say for their chosen topic, using the plan.

c Focus on the Presenting an opinion box and go through it with the class.

In their groups, Sts now discuss their topics in turn, giving their opinion.

Get some feedback from the whole class.

Practical English Old friends

Function asking for permission, making requests, greeting someone you haven't seen for a long time

Language Is it OK if I...?, Would you mind...?

Lesson plan

In this third Practical English lesson, Sts learn some key phrases for asking for permission to do something, and asking other people to do something for you.

In the first scene, Jenny meets Monica, an old friend, in the street, and they have a coffee together. Monica tells Jenny she is going to get married, and Jenny tells Monica about Rob. In the next scene, Rob arrives and joins them, but Monica has to leave. Rob then tells Jenny that an old friend of his, Paul, is coming to stay, and asks Jenny if she could pick him up at the airport because he has to work late. Jenny agrees. In the third scene, Jenny brings Paul to Rob's apartment. She is tired because she had to wait a long time, and the traffic was terrible, and she leaves Rob and Paul to have a night out together.

1 JENNY HAS COFFEE WITH A FRIEND

a 5.23 Books open. Focus on the photos and elicit what is happening.

Now either tell Sts to close their books, and write the question on the board, or get Sts to focus on the question and cover the rest of the page.

Play the video / audio once the whole way through, and then check the answer.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before playing the video / audio, go through the listening scripts and decide if you need to pre-teach / check any vocabulary to help Sts when they listen.

She has gotten engaged. / She and her boyfriend are getting married.

J = Jenny, M = Monica

J Monica!

M Jenny!

J Wow! How are you? You look great!

M Thanks, Jenny! You look really good, too.

J Hey, why don't we get some coffee?

M I'd love to, but I'm on the way to meet...oh, come on. Five minutes!

J So, how is everything?

M Oh, great. Things couldn't be better, actually. Scott and I...we're getting married!

J You're what? Congratulations!

M Thank you!

J When did you get engaged?

M Only a few days ago. I'm glad I saw you, actually. I was going to call you. We've only told family so far.

J I can't believe it. Monica the wife! And to think you used to go clubbing every night!

M Well, that was a few years ago! All I want to do now is stay in and read wedding magazines.

J And how are the plans coming along?

M I haven't done anything yet. My mom and Scott's mom want to organize the whole thing themselves!

J That's what mothers are for!

M True. But what about you? You look fantastic.

J Well, I guess I'm kind of happy, too.

M Uh-huh. What's his name?

J Rob.

M You've been keeping him very quiet! Is it serious?

J It's kind of, you know...

M So it is!

J It's still early. We haven't been together for long. He only moved here a few months ago from London.

M What? He's British? And you think you can persuade him to stay in New York? That won't be easy!

J I think he likes it here. You know how guys are – you never know what they're thinking.

M When can I meet him?

J Uh...that's him now.

R Bye.

J Bye. Talk soon!

R She seems like a happy person.

J She is, especially right now – she's getting married.

R That's fantastic news!

J Yeah, it is. I guess we're at that age now when most of our friends are settling down and getting married.

R Yeah... Oh, speaking of friends, I want to ask you a favor. Is it OK if we change our plans a bit this week?

J Uh... sure. What's up?

R I've just had a call from an old friend of mine, Paul. I haven't seen him since we were at university, and he's traveling around the States at the moment. Anyway, he's arriving in New York this evening and... I've invited him to stay for the week.

J Cool! It'll be fun to meet one of your old friends! What's he like?

R Oh, Paul's a laugh. He used to be a bit wild, but that was a long time ago. He's probably changed completely.

J Well, I'm looking forward to meeting him.

R Just one other thing. Could you do me a big favor? I have to work late this evening, so... would you mind meeting him at the airport?

J Not at all. I'd like to meet him.

- G passive (all tenses)
V movies
P regular and irregular past participles

Lesson plan

The topic of this lesson is the movies. The lesson begins with a reading text about working as an extra in a movie. This provides the context for review and extension of the passive forms, and past participles are then focused on in Pronunciation.

In the second half of the lesson, movie vocabulary is presented, and then Sts listen to the true story of a young Polish student who, by chance (and because of her excellent English), got to work for a world-famous movie director. Movie language is then put into practice in a questionnaire where Sts talk about their own movie preferences and experiences. Finally, in Writing, Sts write a description of a movie they would recommend.

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN (BOOKS CLOSED)

Write the following questions on the board:

WHEN WAS THE LAST TIME YOU WENT TO THE MOVIES?

WHAT DO YOU THINK ARE THE ADVANTAGES OF SEEING A MOVIE IN THE THEATER RATHER THAN ON A DEVICE OR A TV?

DO YOU THINK MOVIE THEATERS WILL STILL EXIST TEN YEARS FROM NOW?

Get Sts to ask and answer the questions in pairs.

Get some feedback from various pairs.

1 READING understanding the main point in a paragraph

- a Books open. Focus on the definition and photos as a class, making sure Sts understand what an extra is.

Now put Sts in pairs and get them to think of three negative things about being an extra.

Elicit some ideas and write them on the board.

- b Tell Sts to read the article and find out if their ideas from a are mentioned.

Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the article the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

Days can be very long, and extras spend a lot of time waiting. They have to repeat scenes many times. They have to work in all kinds of weather, often in unsuitable clothes. They can't use phones on set. They aren't well paid.

- c Tell Sts to read the article again and complete the headings with words from the list. Make sure they understand all the vocabulary in the list before they start. Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

1 patient 2 miming 3 weather 4 secrets 5 expensive
6 real 7 ordinary

- d Tell Sts to cover the article. Go through questions 1–7, making sure they understand all the vocabulary. Now put Sts in pairs and tell them to answer the questions together from memory.

When they have finished, they should check their answers in the article.

Check answers.

- 1 They read or play cards.
- 2 They had to pretend to clap and cheer, but in silence.
- 3 The snow is real if you can see the breath coming out of people's mouths.
- 4 She took a photo of the set and posted it online. She's never been employed as an extra again.
- 5 Because extras are paid less there.
- 6 Because they look more real than digital extras, and can be stored and reused.
- 7 They look at the extras to see who's doing things right or wrong.

Help with any other new vocabulary. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.

- e Do this as a whole-class activity.

Then, with a show of hands, find out how many Sts would like to be an extra. Ask a few Sts why, and then find out from others why they wouldn't want to be an extra.

2 GRAMMAR passive (all tenses)

- a Either put Sts in pairs or do this as a whole-class activity.
If Sts worked in pairs, check answers.

1 simple present 2 past continuous 3 simple past
4 present continuous 5 infinitive 6 present perfect

- b Tell Sts to go to Grammar Bank 6A on p.142.

Grammar notes

If your Sts previously used American English File Level 2, they will already have had an introduction to the passive, although only in the present and past tenses.

The form of the passive (be + participle) is very straightforward, and the easiest way to approach this grammar point is to emphasize that there are two ways of saying the same thing (active and passive), but with a different emphasis or focus.

Depending on your Sts' L1, it may be worth pointing out that we often use the passive in sentences like These cars are made in Korea, Rice is grown in this area, where some languages use an impersonal subject. Some contrasting with their L1 may help Sts to see when to use the passive.

Some typical mistakes include:

- using the active instead of the passive, e.g., The tickets sell at a ticket booth.
- problems of form, e.g., leaving out the verb be or not using the participle correctly.
- thinking they always have to use by (somebody) when they make a passive sentence.

Focus on the example sentences and play audio  6.1 for Sts to listen and repeat. Encourage them to copy the rhythm.

Then go through the rules with the class.

Now focus on the exercises and get Sts to do them individually or in pairs.

Check answers, getting Sts to read the full sentences.

- a
- 1 are being made 2 inspired 3 hasn't been inhabited
4 is set 5 will be shot 6 aren't recording 7 wasn't being used
8 has transformed 9 hadn't owned 10 was taken

- b
- 1 A lot of foreign movies are subtitled.
2 Love in the Time of Cholera was written by García Márquez in 1985.
3 My laptop is being repaired.
4 The DVD of the movie hasn't been released yet.
5 The movie won't be finished until the spring.
6 The tickets have to be collected from the box office.
7 The actor hadn't been told about the changes in the script.
8 La La Land was directed by Damien Chazelle.
9 The soundtrack has already been recorded.
10 The director was being interviewed about the movie.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 6A.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Grammar photocopiable activity at this point.

3 PRONUNCIATION regular and irregular past participles

Pronunciation notes

Regular participles

You could remind Sts that the pronunciation of regular past participles is the same as the regular simple past. There are three pronunciations of -ed:

- 1 -ed is pronounced /t/ after verbs ending in unvoiced sounds, e.g., /k/ looked, /p/ hoped, /t/ laughed
- 2 -ed is pronounced /d/ after verbs ending in voiced sounds, e.g., /v/ arrived, /dʒ/ changed, /l/ failed
- 3 -ed is pronounced /ɪd/ after verbs ending in /t/ hated or /d/ decided

The most important of these three sounds for Sts to get correct is the third. If Sts mix up the first two sounds, it's unlikely to cause problems with understanding, but you may want to focus on accurate pronunciation with your Sts. If you do, it will be helpful to explain the difference between voiced and unvoiced sounds. Voiced sounds are made in the throat by vibrating the vocal chords. You can demonstrate this by getting Sts to hold their hand against their throat – they should feel a vibration when making a voiced sound. Unvoiced sounds have no vibration.

Irregular participles

The pronunciation of irregular past participles can be difficult for Sts because they show many of the irregularities associated with sound–spelling relationships in English. Encourage Sts to be sure they know how to pronounce irregular participles when they learn them – this is especially important, as many of the most common verbs in English are irregular.

- a Focus on the instructions and elicit all nine words and sounds: dog /d/, tie /t/, saw /ɔ/, etc.

Point out to Sts that all the words in the nine groups are past participles. They must find the groups in which all the pink letters are the same sound and circle the words with different sounds. Remind Sts that this kind of exercise is easier if they say the words aloud to themselves.

EXTRA SUPPORT Get Sts to work in pairs.

- b  6.2 Play the audio, pausing after each group of words, for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers by asking Sts if all the sounds in a group are the same, and if not, which word they circled.

1 recorded 2 directed 3 worn 4 done 5 forgotten
6 ✓ 7 fallen 8 put 9 ✓

6.2

See sounds and words in the Student Book on p.57

Now ask Sts what the sounds are in the past participles that they circled.

1 recorded = /ɪd/ 2 directed = /ɪd/ 3 worn = /ɔr/
4 done = /ʌ/ 5 forgotten = /ɑ/ 7 fallen = /ɔ/ 8 put = /ʊ/

EXTRA SUPPORT Play the audio again, pausing after each group of words, and elicit the sound of the circled past participle.

Finally, play the audio again, pausing after each group of words for Sts to listen and repeat.

- c 6.3 Focus on the instructions and the example. Make sure Sts understand that they must keep the same tense, but change the sentence to the passive tense.
Play the audio, pausing after each sentence for Sts to listen and form the passive.

6.3

- 1 They shot the movie in Canada. The movie (pause) The movie was shot in Canada.
- 2 They speak English here. English (pause) English is spoken here.
- 3 They didn't employ me. I (pause) I wasn't employed.
- 4 He wrote his first book when he was 20. His first book (pause) His first book was written when he was 20.
- 5 They do the work by hand. The work (pause) The work is done by hand.

- 7 They record the music in a studio. The music (pause) The music is recorded in a studio.
- 8 They don't use this office any more. This office (pause) This office isn't used any more.

Then repeat the activity, eliciting the passives from individual Sts.

Now, in Activation, tell Sts to cover sentences 1–6 and look at A–F to see if they can remember the verbs and verb phrases. They should try to think of another movie for each sentence.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 6A.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Vocabulary photocopiable activity at this point.

- c Put Sts in pairs and get them to discuss the difference between the pairs of words in 1–7.

Check answers.

- 1 a plot = the story of a movie
a script = the words of a movie

5 LISTENING listening for content words

- a Focus on the instructions. You could do this as a whole-class activity, or get Sts to read about the movie and then, in pairs, Sts answer the questions.

Find out, with a show of hands, how many Sts have seen Schindler's List. Then ask individual Sts if they liked it. Now ask some of the Sts who haven't seen the movie if they would like to see it.

Finally, ask the class if they have seen any other Spielberg movies and what they thought of them.

Possible answers

E.T. the Extra-Terrestrial, Jurassic Park, Saving Private Ryan, Minority Report, Indiana Jones and the Kingdom of the Crystal Skull, War Horse, Lincoln, Bridge of Spies, The BFG, The Post, Ready Player One

- b 🔊 6.7 Focus Sts' attention on the photos and the task. Get Sts to quickly discuss the questions in pairs. Elicit some ideas, but don't tell Sts if they are correct at this stage.

This interview is with a Polish woman, Dagmara, who became Steven Spielberg's interpreter when he was making the movie Schindler's List.

Play Part 1 of the interview for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers. You could tell Sts that the music they heard at the beginning of the audio is from the soundtrack of the movie Schindler's List.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the scripts and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

They were on the set of Schindler's List. Dagmara was interpreting for Spielberg.

🔊 6.7

(script in the Student Book on p.128)

I = interviewer, D = Dagmara

Part 1

- I So tell me, how did you get involved in the movie, Dagmara?
- D Well, as you probably know, Schindler's List was shot in Krakow, in Poland, which is where I live. I was a university student at the time, studying English. And the film company set up their production office here three months before they started shooting the film, and I got a job there as a production assistant, preparing and translating documents and the script.
- I But how did you get the job as Steven Spielberg's interpreter?
- D Well, it was a complete coincidence. Just before the shooting started, um, was a big party in one of the hotels in Krakow for all the actors and the film crew, and I was invited, too. When I arrived at the party, the Polish producer of the film came up to me and said, "The woman who was going to interpret for Steven Spielberg can't come, so we need you to interpret his opening speech."
- I How did you feel about that?
- D I couldn't believe it! I was just a student – I had no experience of interpreting – and now I was going to speak in front of hundreds of people. I was so nervous that I drank a couple glasses of champagne to give myself courage. Um, I must have done a pretty good job, though, because soon afterwards Spielberg came up to me to say thank you, and then he said, "I'd like you to be my interpreter for the whole film." I was so stunned I had to pinch myself to believe that this was happening to me.

- c Tell Sts they are now going to listen to the first part of the interview again and they must mark the sentences T (true) or F (false). Give them time to read 1–6. Remind them to correct the false ones.

Play the audio once the whole way through.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then play the audio again if necessary.

Check answers.

- 1 F (She was a student.)
- 2 T
- 3 F (It was a party for all the actors and the crew.)
- 4 F (The interpreter couldn't come.)
- 5 T

EXTRA SUPPORT You could get Sts to listen again with the script on p.128, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

- d 6.8 Focus on the Making notes box and go through it with the class.

Now tell Sts they are going to listen to three extracts from Part 2 of the interview and they must fill in the blanks.

Give Sts time to read 1–3.

Play the audio, pausing after each extract to give Sts time to write.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then play the audio again if necessary.

Check answers.

6.8

- 1 I had to go to the film set every day and translate Spielberg's instructions to the Polish actors, and also to the extras.
- 2 It was really exciting, and I often felt as if I was a director myself.
- 3 The worst thing was when we had to shoot a scene again and again because Spielberg thought it wasn't exactly right.

- e 6.9 Tell Sts they are now going to listen to all of Part 2 of the interview. They need to listen and make notes for questions 1–6.

Give Sts time to read the six questions, and make sure they understand them. Remind them that they need to write key words and not full sentences.

Play the audio once the whole way through.

6.9

(script in the Student Book on p.128)

Part 2

- I So what exactly did you have to do?
- D I had to go to the film set every day and translate Spielberg's instructions to the Polish actors, and also to the extras. I had to make them understand what he wanted them to do. It was really exciting, and I often felt as if I was a director myself.
- I So, was it a difficult job?
- D Sometimes it was really hard. The worst thing was when we had to shoot a scene again and again because Spielberg thought it wasn't exactly right. Some scenes were repeated as many as 16 times – and then sometimes I would think that maybe it was my fault – that I hadn't translated properly what he wanted, so I'd get really nervous. I remember one scene with lots of actors in it which we just couldn't get right, and Spielberg started shouting at me because he was stressed. Eventually we got it right, and then he apologized and I cried a little, because I was also very stressed – and after that, it was all right again.
- I So, was Spielberg difficult to work with?

- D Not at all. I mean, he was very demanding – I had to do my best every day – but he was really nice to me. I felt he treated me like a daughter. For instance, he was always making sure that I wasn't cold – it was freezing on the set most of the time – and he would make sure that I had a warm coat and gloves and things.
- I Did you ever get to be an extra?
- D Yes, twice! I was going to be in two party scenes, and I got to wear beautiful long dresses and high heels. Unfortunately, one scene didn't make it to the final cut of the film, and before we started shooting the other one, I tripped walking down some stairs and twisted my ankle really badly. I was in so much pain that I couldn't take part in the filming. And that was the end of my "acting career." I still have the photos of me looking like a girl from the 40s, though!
- I Have you ever worked with Spielberg again?
- D Yes. A year later he invited me to interpret for him again, this time during the premiere of Schindler's List in Poland, which was broadcast live on national television! Before that, he had also asked me to come to work as a production assistant on his next movie in Hollywood. I was very tempted and thought really hard about it, but I hadn't finished my studies yet, and all my family and friends were in Poland – so in the end, I decided not to go.
- I Do you regret it?
- D Not at all. I had my moment, and it was unforgettable, but that was it!

- f Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then play the audio again.

EXTRA SUPPORT Elicit the key words before Sts answer the questions in full in g.

Possible key words

- 1 16 times; think, my fault, nervous
- 2 stressed; apologized; cried a little; all right again
- 3 demanding; really nice, like a daughter; freezing on set; warm coat, gloves
- 4 party scenes; one scene, didn't make final cut; other scene, tripped, twisted ankle, in pain
- 5 interpret, premiere, Schindler's List, Poland
- 6 work, production assistant, next movie, Hollywood; not at all

- g Now put Sts in pairs and get them to answer questions 1–6 in e with full sentences, using their notes. Check answers.

- 1 Some scenes were repeated 16 times. It made Dagmara think it was her fault and it made her nervous.
- 2 He was stressed. He apologized; she cried a little; all was right again.
- 3 He was demanding; he was really nice, he treated her like a daughter; it was freezing on set; he made sure she had a warm coat and gloves.
- 4 Two party scenes; one scene didn't make the final cut, and before the other scene, she tripped, twisted her ankle, and was in pain.
- 5 Yes, she interpreted at the premiere of Schindler's List in Poland.
- 6 He offered her work as his production assistant for his next movie in Hollywood. No, not at all

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the scripts on p.128, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

- h Finally, do the questions as a whole-class activity.

6 SPEAKING

- a Focus on the movie interview and quickly go through the questions.
Give Sts time to think about what they are going to say.
- b Put Sts in pairs and tell them to take turns interviewing each other to find out if they have similar tastes.
Emphasize that they should give and ask for as much information as they can.
Get some feedback.

EXTRA IDEA If there's time, you could get the class to interview you.

7 WRITING a movie review

Tell Sts to go to Writing A movie review on p.119.

- a Focus on the movie title and, with a show of hands, find out how many Sts have seen it. Don't ask any questions about the movie or Sts' opinions because they will be doing this later.
Then elicit / explain the meaning of classic in the title (= something that is accepted as being of very high quality and one of the best of its kind).
Now tell Sts to read the movie description and fill in the blanks with the words in the list.
Check answers.

1 directed 2 stars 3 nominated 4 set 5 filmed
6 recommend 7 action 8 soundtrack 9 special effects

- b Tell Sts to read the description again, paying particular attention to layout. They must number the paragraphs 1–4 in the order in which they appear.
Check answers.

Paragraph 1 the name of the movie, the director, the stars, and any prizes it won Paragraph 2 where and when it is set, where it was filmed Paragraph 3 the plot
Paragraph 4 why you recommend the movie

- c Do this as a whole-class activity.

The simple present

- d In pairs, get Sts to answer the questions.
Get some feedback. If possible, ask at least one student who has seen the movie and another who hasn't.
- e Focus on the Describing a movie box and go through it with the class.
Now tell Sts they are going to write a similar movie description for a movie they would recommend. They should write four paragraphs, as in the model, and use the language in the Describing a movie box and the Vocabulary Bank Movies to help them.
You may want to get Sts to do the writing in class, or you could assign it as homework. If you do it in class, set a time limit for Sts to write their description, e.g., 15–20 minutes.
- f Sts should check their work for mistakes before handing it in.

- G modals of deduction: might, can't, must
V the body
P diphthongs

Lesson plan

The overall topic of this lesson is the image that people give of themselves to the world, both on social media and in person, and how we tend to judge people at first sight, according to their appearance.

The lesson begins with a light-hearted article about what people's profile photos on social networking sites say about them. This is followed by a short speaking activity with Sts interpreting their own profile photo and those of friends and family. This leads to the grammar of modals of deduction, which is presented through a conversation about a photo.

In the second half of the lesson, Vocabulary focuses on the body and verbs related to parts of the body, like touch and point. Pronunciation looks at diphthongs (combinations of two vowel sounds). In Reading and Listening, Sts read an article about a journalist who met a charisma coach, and then they listen to what happened when the coach followed the journalist for a couple of days, and the tips he gave him. The lesson finishes with a video about a personal stylist.

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN (BOOKS CLOSED)

Review the difference between look and look like by asking Sts to complete these sentences with the correct form of either verb:

- DO YOU _____ YOUR MOTHER OR YOUR FATHER?
- YOU _____ VERY TIRED. ARE YOU OK?
- YOUR GRANDMOTHER _____ VERY YOUNG FOR HER AGE. SHE DOESN'T _____ 70!
- JACK _____ A RUGBY PLAYER – HE'S ENORMOUS.
- "WHAT _____ MARK'S WIFE _____?"
"SHE'S VERY TALL, WITH LONG, DARK HAIR."

- 1 look like 2 look 3 looks, look 4 looks like 5 does...look like

Ask Sts if they can remember the grammatical difference between look and look like (look is followed by an adjective, and look like by a noun).

1 READING & SPEAKING understanding humor

- a Books open. Focus on the questions and make sure Sts understand them, especially profile photo. Put Sts in pairs and get them to answer the three questions.
 Get some feedback.
- b Focus on the instructions and the photos, and elicit Sts' opinions as to why the people have chosen these photos. Focus on statements 1–3 and make sure Sts can remember the meaning of rude.
 Now give Sts time to read the article and find out which two statements are true.
 Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the article the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

2 and 3

- c Tell Sts they are now going to read some positive reasons for choosing each type of profile photo. They must match reasons 1–8 to the photo types.
 Give Sts time to read the headings again and complete the task.
 Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

1 C 2 A 3 E 4 H 5 F 6 G 7 D 8 B

Help with any other new vocabulary. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.

- d Put Sts in pairs and get them to discuss the questions.
 Get some feedback from various pairs. If you have a profile photo, you could tell Sts which type you are and whether you agree with either of the interpretations.

EXTRA IDEA Get Sts to use their phones to look at the profile photos of family members or friends. This will help them to discuss the last question.

2 GRAMMAR modals of deduction

- a 6.10 Focus on the instructions, and give Sts time to read the conversation and look at the photo.
 Play the audio for Sts to listen and fill in the blanks.
 Check answers.

1 must 2 might 3 can't 4 could

6.10

- A I love your profile picture. How old are you in the photo?
B I must be about five or six. Definitely not more than that.
A Where are you?
B Do you know, I can't remember. It might be the Outer Banks in North Carolina. My grandparents had a house on Hatteras Island, so we sometimes spent the summer there.
A It can't be the Outer Banks – not in summer. You're wearing boots and a sweater! And it doesn't look like a North Carolina beach.
B No, you're right. It could be Maine, then. We sometimes went there.

EXTRA SUPPORT Write the missing words in random order on the board, e.g., CAN'T, COULD, MIGHT, MUST.

- b Focus on the task and point out that the first one (might) has been done for Sts. Get them to answer the questions either individually or in pairs.

Check answers.

1 could 2 must 3 can't

- c Tell Sts to go to Grammar Bank 6B on p.143.

Grammar notes

Sts are already familiar with these modal verbs in other contexts, e.g., may / might to express a possibility (e.g., I might go), must for obligation (e.g., You must wear a seat belt), and can't for permission (e.g., You can't take photos in the museum). Here the same modal verbs are used in a different way to speculate and make deductions.

Although these verbs are used with be in the presentation, they can be used with any verb, e.g., She must have a lot of money since she wears very expensive clothes.

The most typical mistakes include:

- using must not instead of can't for something that's impossible, e.g., It must not be true.
- using can instead of might / may for a possibility, e.g., I think he's speaking Spanish, so he can be Spanish or South American.

Focus on the example sentences and play audio 6.11, 6.12 and 6.13 for Sts to listen and repeat. Encourage them to copy the rhythm.

Then go through the rules with the class.

Now focus on the exercises and get Sts to do them individually or in pairs.

Check answers, getting Sts to read the full sentences.

1 I 2 J 3 A 4 C 5 H 6 B 7 F 8 E 9 G

b

- 1 Yes, my nephew. I don't know his salary, but he must earn a fortune!

- 8 She can't be working very hard if she gets such bad grades.
- 9 I'm not sure, but she might have a new partner.
- 10 I don't know, but he can't live near the office because he commutes every day by train.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 6B.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Grammar photocopiable activity at this point.

- d Focus on the instructions and the photos, and make sure Sts understand what they have to do. Point out that they don't have to use all the phrases in the list – they should just choose the ones they want, and they can use them more than once.

Give Sts time to make deductions orally or to write them.

Elicit some deductions about each photo, but don't tell Sts if they are correct.

EXTRA SUPPORT Focus on the first photo and make the deductions as a whole-class activity.

- e Tell Sts to go to Communication Judging by appearances on p.107 to check their guesses.

Sts read the information and then, in pairs, tell each other what they think, e.g., whether they are surprised.

Get some feedback from the class.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 6B.

3 VOCABULARY the body

- a This exercise reviews the basic language of physical appearance, which Sts learned in American English File Level 2.

Tell Sts to focus on the three photos and answer the questions.

Check answers. You could remind Sts that thin and slim are both the opposite of fat, but slim means thin in an attractive way.

1 C 2 B 3 A 4 C 5 A 6 B

- b Tell Sts to go to Vocabulary Bank The body on p.160.

Vocabulary notes

Parts of the body

Highlight the difference between fingers and toes – in some languages, the same word is used for both.

Verbs related to the body

All the verbs are regular except for bite (bite /baɪt/, bit /bɪt/, bitten /'bɪtən/).

Focus on 1 Parts of the body and get Sts to do a individually or in pairs.

6.14 Now do b. Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

6.14

The body

1 Parts of the body

EXTRA SUPPORT Get Sts to cover the words, look at the photos, and test themselves or a partner.

Focus on Activation and put Sts in pairs, A and B. Sts A point to a part of their body for Sts B to name. Make sure they switch roles.

Finally, focus on the Possessive pronouns with parts of the body box and go through it with the class.

Now focus on 2 Verbs related to the body and get Sts to do a individually or in pairs. Remind them to put the verb in the correct form.

6.15 Now do b. Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

6.15

Now either use the audio to drill the pronunciation of the sentences, or model and drill them yourself. Give further practice of any words your Sts find difficult to pronounce. Point out the silent t in whistle.

Now elicit which parts of the body you use for each verb.

bite: teeth clap: hands kick: feet nod: head

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 6B.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Vocabulary photocopiable activity at this point.

- c 6.16 Tell Sts they are going to hear some instructions and they must act out what they are told to do. Play the audio for Sts to listen and follow the instructions.

6.16

Clap your hands.
 Stare at the person next to you.
 Point at the board.

4 PRONUNCIATION diphthongs

Pronunciation notes

Diphthongs consist of two short vowel sounds that are combined to make one longer sound. The most common problem for Sts is that they may not make the sound long enough, or may pronounce it as just one sound.

- a 6.17 Focus on the Diphthongs box and go through it with the class.

Now play the audio for Sts to listen and repeat the five words and sounds.

6.17

- 1 bike /aɪ/
- 2 train /eɪ/
- 3 phone /əʊ/
- 4 owl /aʊ/
- 5 boy /ɔɪ/

EXTRA SUPPORT First, play the audio for Sts just to listen to the five words and sounds. Then play it again, pausing for them to listen and repeat.

Then repeat the activity, eliciting responses from individual Sts.

- b In pairs or individually, Sts put the words in the list in the correct columns in a. This exercise recycles words from Vocabulary Bank The body that have diphthongs.

- c 6.18 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check. Check answers.

6.18

- 1 bike /aɪ/ bite, eyes, smile
- 2 train /eɪ/ face, taste
- 3 phone /əʊ/ nose, shoulders, throw, toes
- 4 owl /aʊ/ mouth, outgoing
- 5 boy /ɔɪ/ pointy, voice

Then play the audio again, pausing after each group of words for Sts to listen and repeat.

Now focus on the six phrases and elicit / explain what a Roman nose is (= a nose with a bump at the top).

In pairs, Sts now practice saying the phrases.

Get individual Sts to say them.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read each phrase first and get Sts to repeat after you. Then put Sts in pairs and get them to practice saying the phrases.

- d Put Sts in pairs and get them to do the quiz.

Then put two pairs together and get them to compare answers.

Check answers.

- 1 You wear a ring on your fingers / thumb; you wear gloves on your hands; you wear socks on your feet; you wear a cap on your head.
- 2 Ballet dancers stand on their toes.
- 3 Soccer players often injure their legs / feet / knees.
- 4 Women put makeup on their face, neck, lips, and eyes.
- 5 People brush their hair and teeth.
- 6 People carry a backpack on their back / shoulders.

5 READING & LISTENING checking assumptions

- a Read the definition of charisma as a class and make sure Sts understand it. Model and drill the pronunciation /kə'rizmə/.
Find out if Sts know any public figures who they think have charisma.
- b Focus on the instructions and make sure Sts know what the two jobs are.
Elicit from the class who they think is who and why. Point out to Sts that Danish is an Indian name and is pronounced /daniʃ/.
- c Before Sts read the article, you could focus on the title, Can you learn how to be charismatic?, and point out that charismatic is the adjective and is pronounced /kə'riz'mætɪk/. Model and drill its pronunciation.
Tell Sts to read the article to find the answer to b and then to answer questions 1–4.
Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the article, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

The charisma coach is Danish Sheikh.

- 1 He's worked with Microsoft, Yahoo, and the BBC.
- 2 Yes – he charges $200 an hour, and plenty of people are paying.
- 3 He followed Colin everywhere and watched how he behaved because Colin is going to be his student.
- 4 He can't make conversation, he has negative body language, he doesn't smile enough, and he seems bored when he's talking to people.

Help with any other new vocabulary. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.

- d Focus on the instructions and tell Sts, in pairs, to check the things they think a charismatic person does.
Elicit from various pairs what they have checked.
- e 6.19 Tell Sts they are going to listen to Colin talking about what he learns and they must check their answers to d.
Now play the audio once the whole way through.
Get Sts to compare answers with a partner.
Play the audio again if necessary, and then check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the scripts and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

A person with charisma does 1, 2, 5, 6, 7, and 10.

6.19

(script in the Student Book on pp.128–129)

Danish Sheikh tells me that people with charisma do two basic things. They project their own personality, but at the same time they also make other people feel important. Sheikh's lessons are designed to help me to do both of these things, and in the next 48 hours I learn a lot.

Projecting your own personality is difficult to learn. Nobody likes people who talk about how fantastic they are, but nobody remembers people who don't say anything about themselves. Sheikh says the solution is to talk about yourself enough, but not too much. People with charisma also feel confident. Sheikh gives me advice to help me feel more confident, for example, when I walk into a meeting or a party. He tells me to remember a time in the past when I was successful. This positive memory will stop me from feeling afraid or anxious.

Body language is also important. We practice it together, including how to stand like a gorilla, with your feet apart and your arms wide – this shows that you're an important person. Sheikh also tells me how to enter a room. You have to have your chin up and your shoulders back. He tells me to make eye contact with the people I'm talking to, but not for too long – maximum four seconds – it's important not to stare. We also study hand gestures – you shouldn't use them too much.

Finally, conversation. I learn that it's important not to speak too fast or too slowly. You need to vary your speed to keep your listener's attention. But the most important thing of all is listening carefully. If you show interest in people, it makes them feel special. But if you're not really listening, the person you're talking to notices very quickly, so you need to make sure you really concentrate on what they're saying.

At the end of the two days, I have a test...

- f Tell Sts they are going to listen to Colin again, and this time, they must answer questions 1–4.
Play the audio again the whole way through.
Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- 1 Talk about yourself enough, but not too much.
- 2 Remembering a past success will help you to feel more confident.
- 3 You have to have your chin up and your shoulders back.
- 4 The person you're talking to notices very quickly.

- g 6.20 Focus on the task and tell Sts to listen and complete 1–3.

Now play the audio once the whole way through.

Get Sts to compare with a partner.

Play the audio again if necessary, and then check answers.

- 1 talk to strangers.
- 2 giving him advice, e.g., make eye contact, don't cross your arms, etc.
- 3 understanding who you really are.

6.20

(script in the Student Book on p.129)

At the end of the two days, I have a test. I go to a club with Sheikh, and I have to talk to strangers. I start talking to people and it goes OK. I don't think people really like it when a stranger starts speaking to them, but we laugh and I have some interesting conversations. Occasionally, Sheikh gives me advice. He reminds me to make eye contact with everyone I'm talking to, and tells me not to cross my arms, that kind of thing.

As we leave the club, we shake hands. He says that the course has been good for me, and he gives me a thumbs up. So have I changed? Am I more charismatic? Not exactly – I'm never going to stand like a gorilla again, for example. But perhaps charisma is simpler than that, anyway; it's about understanding who you are better, and showing the best version of yourself.

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the scripts on pp.128–129, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

- h Do this as a whole-class activity, getting all the Sts to demonstrate the phrases.
You could repeat the activity, getting individual Sts to act out some of the phrases.
- i Do this as a whole-class activity. You could also tell Sts what you think and if you would take a charisma course.

6 VIDEO LISTENING

- a Focus on the instructions and tell Sts that they are going to watch a video about Sam, an actor who has a session with Elin Mai, a personal stylist. Elicit / Explain the meaning of a personal stylist (= someone who advises people on what kind of clothes to wear for them to look good and feel more confident) and outfit (= a set of clothes that you wear together, e.g., pants and a shirt).

Now focus on the four photos of Sam and elicit what he's wearing in each photo, including items of clothing and colors.

Play Part 1 of the video up to the point where Sam's four outfits are on-screen (where  is in the script). Pause the video and ask Sts which outfit they like best and why.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the scripts and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts watch the video. You may want to point out that trainers is the British English word for the American English word sneakers.

A day with a personal stylist

Part 1

N = narrator, S = Sam, E = Elin

- N Sam Alexander is an actor. He lives in London. Today he's going to visit a personal stylist, Elin Mai, at the Westfield Shopping Mall in Shepherd's Bush.
- S I thought my wardrobe was getting quite boring and I dress up a lot for my job as an actor. Sometimes I don't give any thought to my own wardrobe, so I was keen to sort of refresh things a bit and get a new opinion.
Hi, Elin.
- E Hello, Sam! Welcome!
- S Thank you very much. Nice to meet you.
- E Nice to meet you too. Welcome to the Fashion Lounge.
- E I think having your unique personal style is something that's incredibly important to each and every individual. And everyone should ideally try and find their own personal style as well.
- N Before this session Sam has filled out a questionnaire with everything from his sizes to his dress sense.
- E OK, tell me how today came about... With every session, we sit down at the beginning and we have a chat about their questionnaire, so we go into a bit more depth. And then we would ask them more questions about their lifestyle as well. When you're actually working, how many days a week work are you actually at work?
- S Well, the thing about being an actor is that you don't have any routine, so sometimes I'm in a play, in which case I work six days a week and I'd have a routine. But then that stops suddenly and then I might be between jobs, in which case I'm at home a lot or I might be doing filming, which means fewer days but very long hours.
- E Now the consultation usually lasts, you know, fifteen to twenty minutes, but the consultation actually continues throughout the session as well. So those little questions about their lifestyle – and I find out things about what they like and what they dislike and about the shops that they've gone to in the past and about their relationship with clothes.
- N After Sam and Elin have visited a few stores, they return to the Fashion Lounge and Elin divides the clothes into four outfits.
- E Ready, Sam? Wow!
- S Here we are. Number one.
- E OK! This looks fantastic. How do you feel?
- S I really like it. It is quite bold – the shirt – but yeah.
- E How do the jeans fit?
- S Great. Jeans that stretch. They feel very comfy.
- E What I wanted to show you now as well is actually how useful this outfit's going to be, so I want you to put this smart blazer on just to show you that you can elevate this outfit and make it look smart by putting a blue blazer on top. Yeah, really, really nice. Have a look at yourself here then as well. What do you think?
- S That's very nice. Yeah, I really like it – very smart.

- N Sam likes the second outfit, too.
- E Let's see this next one. Wow! Oh my goodness! Give me a twirl in this one as well. Fabulous. How do you feel?
- S Yeah really good. This is not something I would dare to go for normally, but I really, I really like it. I love it.
- E OK, fantastic, so what I really like about it as well is the fact that none of the colours are actually matching, but they all work in harmony with each other really nicely.
- N Sam then tries on outfit three.
- E Oh wow, another completely different outfit.
- S I really like this one.
- E You like this one?
- S Absolutely. It's a very good idea, putting trainers with smarter trousers. I wouldn't think to do that.
- N And finally, he tries on outfit four.
- E Wow! What another entrance!
- S So this is a staple – everyone should have one of these.
- E Everyone should have a denim shirt.
- S See, I haven't. Brilliant.
- N But which outfit does Sam like best? Outfit one... Outfit two... Outfit three... Outfit four...
- ***
- S I think outfit two really, because it was quite bold. I felt very smart in it and I wouldn't have worn those kind of things.

- b Now play the rest of Part 1 and elicit from the class which outfit Sam liked best and why.

Sam liked outfit 2 best because it was very bold, he felt very good, and he wouldn't usually wear clothes like that.

- c Put Sts in pairs and get them to number the events in order 1–5.

Now play Part 1 of the video again for Sts to watch and check.

Check answers.

- 1 Sam fills out a questionnaire.
- 2 Sam meets Elin at the Fashion Lounge.
- 3 Elin asks Sam questions about his lifestyle.
- 4 Sam goes shopping with Elin.
- 5 Sam tries on four outfits.

- d Focus on the instructions and give Sts time to read Elin's four golden rules for dressing well. Get Sts to predict what they think the missing words might be, but don't tell them if they are right at this stage.

Play Part 2 of the video the whole way through. Then play it again, pausing if necessary for Sts to complete the rules.

Check answers. You may want to explain that we can use wardrobe to refer not just to the piece of furniture, but also to the clothes in it.

- 1 Look at your own wardrobe before you go shopping.
- 2 Stay true to yourself when you go shopping.
- 3 It doesn't matter how much money you have – you can look good.
- 4 Everyone should have a good pair of jeans in their wardrobe.

Part 2

N So what are Elin's golden rules?

E I would say my golden rules would be to look at your own wardrobe to begin with before even going shopping, because without knowing what you've got, you can't go out and buy the right things.

OK, fantastic!

I think a lot of the mistakes that people make are, they're not staying true to themselves when they actually go out shopping. So perhaps they've seen kind of a lot of different things in magazines and online. And sometimes that can be really confusing. I truly believe that it doesn't matter how much money you've got you can look good. It's about where you shop and how you put things together.

N Is there one item that Elin thinks everyone should have?

E I do think that everyone should have a good pair of jeans in their wardrobe that fits them perfectly, that makes them feel good about themselves.

Did you enjoy today?

S I did. It was absolutely brilliant. It exceeded my expectations. It was really great fun.

N Although not everyone needs Elin's help, for Sam the day with a personal stylist has clearly changed his wardrobe and his attitude to it.

E No problem.

S Bye.

E Bye!

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to watch Parts 1 and 2 of the video again with subtitles, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

e Discuss Elin's rules together as a class and ask Sts if they would like to have a session with her, or with another personal stylist.

Lesson plan

This lesson is about education and provides two different angles on the topic. The lesson begins with a vocabulary focus that reviews and extends Sts' knowledge of vocabulary related to education. This is followed by a pronunciation focus on the letter u, and a speaking activity where Sts talk about their own education. Sts then read and listen to the account of an educational experiment, which was televised, where five teachers from China go to a British school for four weeks and teach three subjects to half of the Year 9 Sts. Sts then have a discussion on the Chinese education system, the British, and their own.

In the second half of the lesson, the grammar – first conditional sentences and the use of the present tense in future time clauses – is presented through the context of exams. Sts then read an online forum where people discuss whether or not it's worth going to college, and also read about two people's contrasting experiences. Finally, Sts have a debate on various topics related to education.

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN (BOOKS CLOSED)

Write the following on the board:

_____ SCHOOL

Ask Sts how many words they can think of to describe a kind of school, e.g., elementary.

Possible answers

elementary secondary public private language

1 VOCABULARY education

- a Books open. Focus on the eight questions and give Sts two minutes to answer them individually or in pairs. You may want to explain that $\sqrt{36}$ = "the square root of 36." Check answers.

1 1939 2 South Korea's 3 six 4 universal serial bus
 5 Isaac Newton 6 three 7 leg 8 hydrogen

Find out which Sts or pairs got the most answers correct.

- b Tell Sts to complete each school subject.

Check answers by eliciting the words onto the board.

- c 7.1 Now give Sts time to match questions 1–8 in a to the school subjects in b by writing the number from a in each box.

Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers. Model and drill pronunciation, especially geography /dʒi'ɑgrəfi/ and literature /'lɪtərətʃər/.

Now get Sts to underline the stressed syllable in each school subject.

Play the audio again for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

See underlining in script 7.1

EXTRA CHALLENGE Get Sts to underline the stressed syllables as they do the matching exercise. Then check both at the same time.

- d Tell Sts to go to Vocabulary Bank Education on p.161.

Vocabulary notes

Highlight that in the American system, grades refer both to the marks you get on exams and classes, e.g., He got an excellent grade in chemistry, and to the year you are in, e.g., first grade. In the British system, grades are only the marks you get on exams when they are letters, not numbers.

College also has different meanings in the two systems. In the American system, college is synonymous with university. In British English, however, a college is a place where people can study or receive vocational training after school, e.g., a secretarial college or a teacher training college.

There are several words that can be used as synonyms of principal, e.g., headmaster (for a man), headmistress (for a woman), or head of school.

Education

1 The school system in the US and the UK

In the US

Many children start their education between the ages of two and four in preschool. Once a child turns five, he or she enters the US school system, which is divided into three levels, elementary school, middle school (sometimes called junior high school), and high school. In almost all schools at these levels, children are divided by age groups into grades. The youngest children begin in kindergarten (followed by first grade) and continue until twelfth grade, the final year of high school. The school year is divided into two semesters. Most US schools (about 75%) are public schools, which means they are supported by US tax dollars and education is free. The other 25% are private schools, where parents have to pay. Many of these schools are religious schools, where the teachers may be priests or nuns.

If you want to go to college, you have to apply. Admission depends on high school grades, college aptitude test scores, and extracurricular activities. A person who has completed college and has earned a degree is called a college graduate.

Sts now do c individually or in pairs.

🔊 7.3 Now do d. Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

1 primary 2 nursery 3 secondary 4 boarding
5 pupils 6 head 7 terms 8 university

🔊 7.3

In the UK

Children start primary school when they are five. Before that, many children go to nursery school. From 11–18, children go to secondary school. Some children go to boarding schools, where they study, eat, and sleep. School children are usually called pupils (not “students” which only refers to people who are at university), and the person who is in charge of a school is called the head teacher. The school year is divided into three terms. Higher education is often called university.

For Activation, put Sts in pairs and tell them to cover the two texts. Sts then tell each other about the school system in both countries.

EXTRA IDEA Get the class to tell you about the school system in their country.

Now focus on 2 Discipline and exams. You could elicit / explain the meaning of discipline /ˈdɪsəplɪn/ (= training people to obey rules, and punishing them if they do not), and model and drill its pronunciation. Then get Sts to do a individually or in pairs. Remind them to put the verb in the correct form.

🔊 7.4 Now do b. Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

A

2 let 3 misbehave 4 be punished 5 make
6 cheat 7 be suspended

B

1 take 2 pass 3 study 4 fail 5 grade

🔊 7.4

2 Discipline and exams

- A Discipline is very strict in our school. We aren't allowed to take our phones to school, and they don't let us bring junk food for lunch, like potato chips or soda. Most students behave well, but if you misbehave, for example, talk too much in class, you'll be punished, and the teacher will probably make you stay behind after class. If you do something more serious, like cheat on an exam, you might even be suspended.
- B Marc has to take an important English exam next week. He hopes he'll pass, but he hasn't had much time to study, so he's worried that he might fail. He won't get his grade until July.

For Activation, get Sts to cover the texts and look at the verbs, and try to remember as much information as possible from them.

Finally, focus on the make, let, and allow box and go through it with the class.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 7A.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Vocabulary photocopyable activity at this point.

2 PRONUNCIATION the letter u

Pronunciation notes

The letter u has several different pronunciations, but between consonants it is usually (but not always) /ʌ/, e.g., sun, luck, summer, or /yʊ/, e.g., music, usually.

Sts often don't realize that there is a kind of “hidden sound” – /y/ – in words like music, and tend to pronounce them /ˈmuzɪk/.

You might want to remind Sts about the rule governing the use of the indefinite article a or an before words beginning with u. If the u is pronounced /ʌ/ (i.e., a vowel sound), then an is used, e.g., an umbrella, an uncle, but if u is pronounced /yʊ/ (i.e., a consonant sound), then a is used, e.g., a uniform, a university, a useful book.

- a Focus on the box The letter u and go through it with the class.

Elicit the three words and four sounds: /yʊ/, up /ʌ/, boot /u/, and bull /ʊ/.

Give Sts time to put the words in the correct column.

- b 🔊 7.5 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers. You may want to point out here that the /ʊ/ pronunciation is the least common.

🔊 7.5

boot /u/ rude, rules, student, true up /ʌ/ lunch, nun, study, subject bull /ʊ/ full, put

/yʊ/ future, music, uniform, university

Then play the audio again, pausing after each group of words for Sts to listen and repeat.

Give Sts time to practice saying the words.

EXTRA SUPPORT If these sounds are difficult for your Sts, it will help to show them the mouth position. You could model this yourself or use the Sound Bank videos on the Teacher Resource Center.

- c 7.6 Focus on the task and tell Sts that they are going to hear four sentences that they need to write down.
Play the audio once the whole way through for Sts just to listen.

7.6

- 1 What subjects did you study in high school?
- 2 Do students at your school wear uniforms?
- 3 Most students have lunch in the cafeteria.
- 4 I usually get good grades on my music exams.

Then play it again, pausing after each sentence to give Sts time to write.

Play the audio again for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers by eliciting the sentences onto the board.

See script 7.6

EXTRA SUPPORT Play the audio again, pausing for Sts to repeat and copy the rhythm. Put Sts in pairs and get them to practice saying the sentences.

3 SPEAKING

Education vocabulary is now put into practice in a free-speaking activity. Sts interview their partner, asking the questions in the questionnaire.

Focus on the question prompts, making sure Sts understand them all. Explain / Elicit that PE stands for physical education (= sports and exercise that are taught in schools). Remind Sts that if they are currently in high school, they should use the present tense (i.e., add do or is / are to the prompts). If they are no longer in school, they should use the past tense (i.e., add did or was / were to the prompts).

EXTRA SUPPORT Elicit the questions in the questionnaire before you start the activity, by getting Sts to ask you the questions.

Sts take turns interviewing each other. Remind the student who is interviewing to react to the interviewee's answers and ask for more information where possible (Really? / That's interesting. / Why didn't you like it?, etc.).

Get some whole-class feedback at the end, by finding out, e.g., how many people liked / didn't like their school and what their best / worst subjects were.

4 LISTENING listening for numbers

- a Focus on the photos and elicit from Sts what they can see.
Tell Sts to read the description of a TV show and answer questions 1–3.

Check answers for questions 1 and 2 and elicit opinions for question 3. You could find out, with a show of hands, how many Sts think the Chinese system will prove to be better.

- 1 Because in some subjects, Asian students are three years ahead of Western students of the same age.
- 2 Five Chinese teachers are going to teach a group of British students for four weeks. They will then take tests to see who does better, the students taught by the British teachers or the students taught by the Chinese teachers.

- b 7.7 Tell Sts they are going to listen to Week 1 of the show about the experiment. Make sure they understand the question. Tell Sts to listen and make notes for each time and number.

Play the audio once the whole way through.

Get Sts to compare with a partner.

Now play the audio again, and then check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the scripts and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

7:00 a.m. They start the day at 7:00 a.m., much earlier than usual.

30 minutes a day They do 30 minutes of physical exercises every day instead of two hours a week.

50 There are 50 students in one class instead of 30.

11:30 a.m. They have lunch, and it's early for them.

5:00 p.m. Lessons end at 5:00, but they can't go home.

7:00 p.m. They clean the classroom before they go home.

12 hours The school day is 12 hours long, which is very tiring for British students.

7.7

(script in the Student Book on p.129)

Week 1

On the first day of week one, students change their usual clothes for Chinese-style tracksuits. They start the day much earlier than usual, at 7:00 in the morning, with 30 minutes of physical exercise. In the UK, PE is usually fun, and students only have two hours a week, but in the Chinese system, students have PE every day. Then lessons begin, and students get another shock – all 50 of them are together in one class. In Western countries like the US and the UK, the maximum is usually 30. In China, it's common to have 50 kids in one room. They stop for lunch early, at 11:30. Classes end at 5:00, but they're not allowed to go home. They have dinner at school, and after dinner they still have a lot of homework and self-study. When they finish, at 7:00, they have to clean the classroom. The school day is 12 hours long. Western students find this exhausting!

- c 7.8 Sts now listen to Weeks 2 and 3 of the show and check the sentences that are true about the Chinese teachers in the experiment. Give Sts time to read 1–10, making sure they understand all the vocabulary.

Play the audio once the whole way through.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then play the audio again if necessary.

Check answers.

Sts should check: 1, 2, 5, 6, 8, 10

7.8

(script in the Student Book on p.129)

Weeks 2 and 3

There are big differences between Chinese and Western teaching styles. The Chinese teachers teach very fast. Everything is done in books and on paper, and there is a lot of copying from the board. In the UK and the US, for example, in science, the approach is to let students do experiments and discover things by themselves, with less help from the teacher.

Discipline is also very different in Western and Chinese schools. In China, the teachers have complete authority, but in the UK, the same teachers are having problems. They're surprised that the students don't take school seriously. When her students don't pay attention, Miss Yang, the science teacher, makes them stand and look at the wall, but it doesn't seem to work very well. As Rosie, one of the students, says, "It probably works in China, because everybody does what their teacher says. But here we don't care. We think it's funny."

By week three there is a serious problem with discipline. Some students like the Chinese system, but a lot of others are behaving badly in class, and some students stop coming to class completely. The Chinese teachers are losing control, and realize they need to change the way they are teaching or their students will fail the tests in week four. They start to teach the students about Chinese culture and food, and they add Chinese face-massage to their daily lessons. They also try to teach patience and concentration using traditional Chinese games.

During a meeting with the parents, the Chinese teachers try to get them to help and to encourage their children to work hard. The parents are impressed, and the Chinese teachers are filled with new energy and confidence.

d 7.9 Sts now listen to Week 4 of the show, complete the numbers in the chart, and answer the question. First, check that Sts know what Mandarin is.

Now play the audio once the whole way through.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then play the audio again if necessary.

Check answers.

Test results	Students with Western teachers	Students with Chinese teachers math	54%	68%
science	50%	58%
Mandarin	37%	46%

The Western teachers learned that the Chinese method got good results, but that their discipline was too strict for some Western students.

The Chinese teachers learned that their method didn't help to develop personality or creativity.

7.9

(script in the Student Book on p.129)

Week 4

During the last week of the experiment, the students in the Chinese class are behaving better. At the end of the week, all the students from the classes with Chinese teachers and the classes with British ones take tests in math, science, and Mandarin. These tests will decide which style of teaching has worked better. So what do the results show?

On the math test, the students taught by British teachers get an average of 54%, and the class taught by Chinese teachers gets...68%. In science, British-taught students get 50% and Chinese-taught students get...58%. And in Mandarin, British-taught students get 37%, and Chinese-taught students get...46%. The Chinese teachers are delighted, and their students are really grateful and happy.

So the Chinese teachers get better results, but does that mean their teaching methods are better? Neil Strowger, the principal of the school, says, "It clearly gets good results, but the discipline is too strict for some students." The Chinese teachers agree that their method doesn't help to develop personality or creativity. Perhaps the last word should go to Miss Li, the Mandarin teacher. As she says, "It's very hard to say which system is better...but I think we both learned from each other."

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the scripts on p.129, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

e Put Sts in small groups of three or four and get them to discuss the questions.

Get some feedback from various groups. You could also tell Sts where you would prefer to teach and why.

5 GRAMMAR

first conditional and future time clauses + when, until, etc.

a Focus on the questions and make sure Sts understand them. Then get Sts, in pairs, to answer them.

Get some feedback from various pairs, and tell Sts how you feel or felt about exams.

b 7.10 Tell Sts they are going to listen to interviews with two students who took some important exams – the first interview is before they get their grades, and the second after. In the interviews, the speakers use several examples of time clauses with if, when, as soon as, etc.

First, focus on the Exams box and go through it with the class.

Now give Sts time to read questions 1–5.

Play the audio, pausing if necessary after each answer is given.

Get them to compare with a partner, and then play the audio again if necessary.

Check answers.

Olivia

- 1 She's sure she did OK, but she's worried about what scores she'll get.
- 2 She gets her scores online next week.
- 3 She doesn't want to plan any celebrations until she knows the results.
- 4 She wants to study medicine at the University of California.
- 5 She will apply to some schools that don't require such high scores.

Woo-sung

- 1 He is optimistic and thinks he did pretty well.
- 2 Online in about ten days.
- 3 He will go out for dinner with his girlfriend.
- 4 He wants to go to college with a good air traffic controller program.
- 5 He will take the test again in June.

7.10

J = journalist, O = Olivia

- J What test did you take?
O I just took the main parts of the SAT—the Scholastic Aptitude Test—um, the evidence-based reading and writing, and the math parts.
J When will you get your results?
O They'll go online next week. Believe me, as soon as they're online, I'll look up my scores.
J And how will you celebrate if you get high scores?
O I don't want to plan any celebrations until I get the results.
J Why?
O Because I want to be a doctor, and I want to get into a pre-med program at one of the big universities, like maybe the University of California. They probably won't admit me unless I get a 1450 or higher.
J Do you think you'll get the scores you want?
O I don't know. I think I did OK, but I'm a little worried about math.
J What will you do if you don't get the scores you need?
O I don't want to think about it. If I don't get into a good college, my parents will kill me. No, I'm joking. I suppose I could apply to some schools that don't require such high scores.
J Well, good luck!
O Thanks.

7.11

J = Journalist, W = Woo-sung

- J What exam did you take?
W The TOEFL iBT®. That's the Test of English as a Foreign Language internet-Based Test.
J Was it difficult?
W Well, not really, but I need at least 65 to get into a college. One of the schools I've applied to requires 79!
J Do you think you'll get it?
W I think so. I'm optimistic. I think I did pretty well.
J When will you get the results?
W When they score the tests, they'll post the results online. It takes about ten days.
J How will you celebrate if you get a high score?
W I'll go out for dinner with my girlfriend.
J What do you want to do if you get a good score?
W I want to go to a college with a good air traffic controller program. That's what I want to be—an air traffic controller.
J And what will you do if you don't get a high enough score? Will you continue studying English?
W Yes, of course, I need it. I'll continue studying, and I'll take the test again in June.
J Good luck.

- c 7.12 Tell Sts they will now find out what results Olivia and Woo-sung got. They must listen for the results and find out what they are going to do.

Play the audio once the whole way through.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

Olivia got a 700 on evidence-based reading and writing and 580 on math. She is going to wait and see if one of the universities she wants will still accept her. If not, she'll try to find other schools that will take her.

Woo-sung got an 85, which was better than he expected. His girlfriend has booked the restaurant, and they're going to his favorite place.

7.12

- J Olivia, I can see from your face that the results, uh, weren't exactly what you wanted—am I right?
O Yeah. I got a 700 on evidence-based reading and writing, but only 580 on math.
J So what are you going to do now?
O Well, my reading score was pretty good, so I'm going to wait and see if one of the universities I want will still accept me. If not, I'll try to find other schools that will take me.

J Were your parents angry?

- O No, they've been really nice about it. They know how disappointed I am. Besides, it's not like my scores were really bad.

J Well Woo-sung, how did you do?

W I got an 85. I'm really, really happy. It's even better than I expected.

J So have you booked the restaurant?

W Yes—well, my girlfriend has! We're going to my favorite place, and I'm really looking forward to it.

- d 7.13 Focus on the five sentences from the interviews and give Sts time to fill in the blanks.

Then play the audio, pausing after each sentence to give Sts time to listen and check.

Check answers. Elicit / Explain the meaning of unless (= if not) and as soon as (= the moment when).

- 1 I get a 1450 2 they're online 3 I get 4 my parents will kill me 5 they score the tests

7.13

- 1 They probably won't admit me unless I get a 1450.
2 As soon as they're online, I'll look up my scores.
3 I don't want to plan any celebrations until I get the results.
4 If I don't get into a good college, my parents will kill me.
5 When they score the tests, they'll post the results online.

e Tell Sts to go to Grammar Bank 7A on p.144.

Grammar notes

Sts should be familiar with basic first conditional sentences (if + present, future (will)) from their Level 2 class. Here they also learn to use unless (instead of if...not) in conditional sentences, and that other future time clauses (i.e., beginning with when, as soon as, unless, etc.) work in the same way as if-clauses, i.e., they are followed by the present tense although they actually refer to the future. This may be new for your Sts.

Emphasize that in the other (main) clause, the verb form is usually will + base form, but it can also be an imperative or going to.

A typical mistake includes using a future form after when, unless, etc., e.g., I'll call you when I'll arrive.

Focus on the example sentences and play audio 7.14 and 7.15 for Sts to listen and repeat. Encourage them to copy the rhythm.

Then go through the rules with the class.

Now focus on the exercises and get Sts to do them individually or in pairs.

Check answers, getting Sts to read the full sentences.

a

- 1 That girl will get into trouble if she doesn't wear her uniform.
- 2 If you hand in your homework late, the teacher won't grade it.
- 3 Don't write anything unless you are / 're sure of the answer.
- 4 Gary will be suspended if his behavior doesn't improve.
- 5 They'll be late for school unless they hurry.
- 6 Ask me if you don't know what to do.
- 7 Johnny will be punished if he shouts at the teacher again.
- 8 My sister will graduate from college this year if she passes all her exams.
- 9 I won't go out tonight unless I finish my homework quickly.
- 10 Call me if you need some help with your project.

b

- 1 until 2 before 3 when 4 after 5 unless
- 6 as soon as 7 until 8 when 9 unless 10 before

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 7A.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Grammar photocopyable activity at this point.

- f Put Sts in pairs and focus on the questions. Tell Sts that they should make true sentences beginning with the phrases in the question, e.g., As soon as I get home I'll..., If I don't get a good grade on my next test, I'll..., etc.
- Give Sts a few minutes to think about their sentences. Then they ask each other the questions, and answer with full sentences.
- Get some feedback.

6 READING & SPEAKING understanding points of view

- a Focus on the instructions and make sure Sts can identify which of the three categories they belong to.
- Now put Sts in pairs and get them to tell their partner the answers to the questions that match their situation.
- Get some feedback from various pairs.

EXTRA SUPPORT You could demonstrate the activity by answering the questions about yourself first.

- b Do this as a whole-class activity.

Is it really a good idea / a good use of your time, effort, and money?

- c Focus on the instructions and make sure Sts understand the difference between the three symbols.
- Give Sts time to read the comments and complete the task.
- Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the comments the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

1 S 2 ✓ 3 X 4 X 5 ✓

- d Give Sts time to read the comments again and then think about college education in their country.
- Get some feedback.
- e Do this as a whole-class activity.
- f Put Sts in pairs, A and B, and tell them to go to Communication College or not?, A on p.108, B on p.112.

Go through the instructions. Sts A read about Darius while Sts B read about Emily-Fleur. As they are reading, walk around monitoring and helping with any questions.

When they have finished reading, Sts A should start by asking their questions about Emily-Fleur. Sts B can have their books open, but should try to answer from memory. Then they switch roles and Sts B ask their questions about Darius.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 7A.

EXTRA SUPPORT When Sts have finished, elicit as much information as possible from the class about Darius and Emily-Fleur.

- g Do this as a whole-class activity.

7 SPEAKING

- a Put Sts in small groups of three or four. Go through the instructions and the discussion topics in the list, making sure Sts understand them.
- Give Sts time in their groups to each choose a different topic from the list.
- Focus on the Organizing and presenting your opinions box and go through it with the class.
- Then give Sts time (e.g., five minutes) to think of at least three reasons why they agree or disagree with the topic they have chosen and to prepare what they are going to say. Help Sts with any vocabulary they may need.
- b Sts in each group now take turns saying whether they agree or disagree with the sentence they have chosen in a and why. The other Sts should listen, and at the end say if they agree or disagree with the student who introduced the topic, and why. Finally, each group votes on whether they agree or disagree.
- If there's time, get feedback to find out who argued which topic in each group, and if they managed to convince the others in their group.

- G second conditional, choosing between conditionals
V houses
P sentence stress, the letter c

Lesson plan

The topic of this lesson is people's homes. In the first half of the lesson, Sts start by reading an article about the advantages and disadvantages in the US of living with your parents as an adult. This leads to Sts discussing the situation in their own country. The grammar, second conditionals, is presented through online comments where young people respond to the article and say whether they would like to leave home and live independently or not. This is followed by a pronunciation focus on sentence stress and rhythm, and oral practice of the second conditional.

In the second half of the lesson, there is a vocabulary focus on words related to houses and where people live. This leads to a pronunciation section on the letter c and its three possible pronunciations, /s/, /ʃ/, and /k/. Sts then listen to an audio guide about a London building (now a museum) where both the composer George Handel and the musician Jimi Hendrix once lived. Sts then describe their own dream houses. The lesson ends with writing, where Sts write a description of their house / apartment for a home rental website.

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN (BOOKS CLOSED)

Write the following on the board:

PLACES TO LIVE WHEN YOU'RE A COLLEGE STUDENT

Elicit the three most common places, e.g., at home, in a shared apartment with friends, in a residence hall / dormitory. If any of your Sts are in, or have been to, college, ask them where they live(d).

1 READING & SPEAKING understanding pros and cons

- a Books open. Give Sts time to look at the photos and answer the questions in pairs.
 Check the answer to the first question and get some feedback for the others.

- b Focus on the title of the article, Things you know if you still live with your parents, and get Sts, in pairs, to think of one advantage and one disadvantage of living with your parents as an adult.
 Elicit some advantages and disadvantages onto the board.
- c Now tell Sts to read the article and see if the advantages and disadvantages they mentioned are included. Tell them not to worry about the blanks.
 Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the article the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

- d Now tell Sts to read the article again and this time fill in each blank with the correct words from 1–10.
 Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

1 matter 2 embarrassing 3 let 4 awake 5 hear
 6 wrong 7 afford 8 realized 9 remove 10 bills

- e Focus on the task and make sure Sts understand pros and cons. Get them to close their books.
 Put Sts in pairs and get them to tell each other all the pros and cons they just read about living with parents as an adult.
 Elicit all the pros and cons from the class.
 Help with any other new vocabulary. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.
- f Put Sts in pairs and get them to discuss the four questions.
 Get some feedback from various pairs.

2 GRAMMAR second conditional, choosing between conditionals

- a Tell Sts that some people have written online comments after reading the article Things you know if you still live with your parents in 1. Tell them to read the comments and find out whether they want to leave home and why (not).
 Check answers.

Vivienne Yes, she wants to have her own things, and not be told what to do.

Mauro No, because somebody else cooks and cleans and he has a nice room.

Andrea Yes, she doesn't feel independent.

Carlos Yes, his mom drives him crazy and he'd like a dog.

EXTRA IDEA Depending on the age of your class, you could ask Sts how many of them live with their parents and whether they agree with any of the writers.

- b Tell Sts to look at the highlighted phrases in the comments. In pairs, Sts answer questions 1–3.
 Check answers.

1 The simple past
 2 The conditional form (would + base form)
 3 b (a situation they are imagining)

c Tell Sts to go to Grammar Bank 7B on p.145.

Grammar notes

Sts who previously used American English File Level 2 or a similar-level course will have already been introduced to second conditional sentences: if + past, conditional (would / wouldn't). Here they both review the second conditional and contrast it with the first conditional. What is also introduced here is the use of the conditional form without if in sentences like I would never buy an apartment next to a club or restaurant. This use should not be too problematic, as Sts may well have a conditional form of the verb in their L1. They have also already met this use of the conditional in the phrase I would like...

Focus on the example sentences and play audio  7.16 for Sts to listen and repeat. Encourage them to copy the rhythm.

Then go through the rules with the class.

Focus on the information box and go through it with the class.

Now focus on the exercises and get Sts to do them individually or in pairs.

Check answers, getting Sts to read the full sentences. In b, ask Sts after each sentence if it is a first or second conditional.

a

- 1 Nick wouldn't have to commute every day if he worked from home.
- 2 If they didn't have such a noisy dog, they'd get along better with their neighbors.
- 3 I wouldn't buy that bike if I were you – it's too expensive.
- 4 Would we sell our house if somebody offered us enough money?
- 5 If my mother-in-law lived with us, we'd get divorced.
- 6 Would you share an apartment with me if I paid half the rent?
- 7 If my sister cleaned her room more often, it wouldn't be such a mess.
- 8 You wouldn't treat me like this if you really loved me.
- 9 If we painted the kitchen white, would it look bigger?
- 10 I wouldn't buy a house with a yard if I didn't enjoy yard work so much.

- 3 If you don't pass your exams, what will you do? (1st)
- 4 I'd buy a bigger house if I was sure we could afford it. (2nd)
- 5 We couldn't have a dog if we didn't have a yard. (2nd)
- 6 How will you get to work if you sell your car? (1st)
- 7 If we sit in the shade, we won't get sunburned. (1st)
- 8 If you could change one thing in your life, what would it be? (2nd)
- 9 He won't be able to pay next month's rent if he doesn't find a job soon. (1st)
- 10 If she made less noise, her neighbors wouldn't complain so often. (2nd)

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 7B.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Grammar photocopiable activity at this point.

d Put Sts in pairs, A and B, and tell them to go to Communication Guess the sentence, A on p.108, B on p.113.

Demonstrate the activity by writing in large letters on a piece of paper the following sentence:

IF I HAD A JOB, I'D RENT MY OWN APARTMENT.

Don't show the piece of paper to Sts yet. Then write on the board:

IF I HAD A JOB, I _____ MY OWN APARTMENT. (+)

Tell Sts that they must guess the exact sentence that you have written on a piece of paper. Elicit ideas. If they are wrong, say Try again, until someone gives exactly the correct answer. Then show them your piece of paper with the sentence on it.

Tell Sts to look at instruction a. Give them a few minutes to complete their sentences in a logical way in their heads – remind them not to write anything yet. Explain that their partner has the same sentences, already completed, and the idea is to try and complete the sentences in the same way. Monitor and help while they are doing this.

Now tell Sts to look at instruction b. Sts A read out sentence 1, and Sts B tell A if he / she has guessed the sentence correctly. If not, A has to guess again. When A guesses the sentence correctly, he / she should write in the answer.

When Sts A have finished, Sts B read their sentences to Sts A and do the same thing.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 7B.

3 PRONUNCIATION & SPEAKING sentence stress

Pronunciation notes

Sts continue to work on sentence stress and are given practice in pronouncing more strongly the words in a sentence that convey important information (e.g., nouns, verbs, adjectives, and adverbs). Other, shorter words (e.g., articles and pronouns) should be pronounced less strongly. Getting this balance right will help Sts pronounce English with the correct rhythm.

For more notes, see Pronunciation p.20 in Lesson 1B and p.35 in Lesson 2B.

- a  7.17 Tell Sts they are going to work on sentence stress. Play the audio once the whole way through for Sts just to listen, and elicit that the bold words are stressed.

7.17

See sentences in the Student Book on p.71

Now play the audio again, pausing after each sentence for Sts to listen and repeat.

Then repeat the activity, eliciting responses from individual Sts.

EXTRA SUPPORT In pairs, Sts practice saying the sentences.

- b Focus on the task and give Sts time to choose their six sentence beginnings and complete them. Go around making sure that Sts are writing correct sentences.

- c Focus on the speech bubbles. Put Sts in pairs, A and B.
Sts A tell Sts B their first sentence. Sts B should ask for more information. Then Sts B say their first sentence, etc.
Monitor and encourage Sts to get the correct sentence rhythm.
Get some feedback from the class. Find out if any Sts had the same endings as their partner.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before they say the sentences, Sts could underline the stressed words in the completed sentences for you to check.

4 VOCABULARY houses

- a Put Sts in pairs and get them to write down three things / pieces of furniture, etc. for each room in the chart. Point out the example in each column.
Elicit answers and write them on the board in columns.
b Tell Sts to go to Vocabulary Bank Houses on p.162.

Vocabulary notes

Where people live

Some languages have a word similar to suburbs, but that has a negative connotation like slums. You may want to point out that in English, suburbs simply means a residential area where people live outside of the city. The outskirts is the area around a city that is the furthest from the center, e.g., They live on the outskirts of Milan.

Parts of a house

You may want to make sure Sts are clear about the difference between a patio and a balcony. A patio is an outside area on the ground floor, whereas a balcony is always outside a window on an upper floor.

Focus on 1 Where people live and get Sts to do a individually or in pairs. Make sure they write in the Preposition column and not in the sentences.

- 🔊 7.18 Now do b. Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.
Check answers.

Either use the audio to drill the pronunciation of the sentences, or model and drill them yourself. Give further practice of any words your Sts find difficult to pronounce. Do c and tell Sts to cover the Preposition column. Can they remember sentences 1–6 with the prepositions?
In Activation, Sts, in pairs, describe where they live.

Either use the audio to drill the pronunciation of the highlighted phrases, or model and drill them yourself. Give further practice of any words your Sts find difficult to pronounce.

Focus on the chimney or fireplace? and roof or ceiling? box and go through it with the class.

Finally, focus on Activation and tell Sts to cover the descriptions and look at the photos. They can test themselves or a partner by describing the rooms.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 7B.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Vocabulary photocopiable activity at this point.

- c Put Sts in pairs and get them to discuss the difference between the words.
Check answers. Model and drill pronunciation.

- 1 the outskirts = the area around a town or city that is the furthest from the center

- 7 wood = noun; the hard material that the trunk and branches of a tree are made of; this material when it is used to build or make things, or as a fuel wooden = adjective; made of wood

5 PRONUNCIATION the letter c

Pronunciation notes

Some consonants in English have a single pronunciation – m is always /m/, b is always /b/, j is always /dʒ/, etc. But some consonants can have more than one pronunciation, depending on the surrounding letters, and c is a good example. The two most common pronunciations of c are /k/ and /s/. /f/ isn't very common, and is only when the letter c is before i + vowel. Sts will have come across lots of words with the two main pronunciations of c, but this is the first time in American English File that they've focused on the difference. This section gives spelling rules for how c is pronounced, and these will help Sts to figure out pronunciations for themselves.

You may want to point out that c can very occasionally be silent after the letter s, in words like science and scene.

With words with double c, if the second c comes before e or i, the pronunciation is /ks/, e.g., success. If the second c comes before a, o, or u, the pronunciation is /k/, e.g., account.

- a Put Sts in pairs and get them to say all the words in groups 1–5 to each other.
- b Focus on the instructions and give Sts time, in pairs, to complete rules 1–5.
- c  7.21 Play the audio for Sts to listen to how the words in a are pronounced and to check their answers to b.

6 LISTENING using prediction to understand content

- a Do this as a whole-class activity. Don't worry if Sts don't know anything about Handel or Hendrix because they will find out some information in the listening.
- b Now tell Sts to read the information on the poster and check their answers to a.

Check answers.

They are both musicians.

They both left their countries to live in London. Handel came to London in the 18th century and Hendrix in the 1960s.

They lived in the same building in London.

Now find out which bedroom Sts like best, and why.

- c Focus on the instructions and eight extracts, making sure Sts understand all the vocabulary.

Then focus on the Glossary and go through it with the class.

Now give Sts time to decide who each extract (1–8) is about.

- d  7.22 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

7.22

(script in the Student Book on p.129)

Welcome to the Handel Hendrix house

Handel's House

In 1712, the German composer George Frideric Handel decided to settle permanently in England, where he was employed as musician to the English court. After living in Surrey for some years, he moved to London, and during the summer of 1723, he rented a house at 25 Brook Street. He was the first occupant of the house, but as a foreigner, he was not allowed to buy it. However, after becoming a British citizen five years later, he decided to continue renting the house. In 1742, his annual rent for Brook Street was £50. The plan of the house in Brook Street was usual for a modest London townhouse of the period. There was a basement containing the kitchens and on the first floor there was a room at the front for receiving visitors. On the second floor there were bigger rooms where Handel entertained and worked. In the largest room, he kept his instruments (a harpsichord and a little house organ) and he occasionally rehearsed there. The room next to it is where he composed many of his most famous works, including the Messiah. The third floor contained the bedroom at the front, with a dressing room at the back, where he kept his clothes. In the attic at the top of the house, the servants had their rooms. During the last decade of his life, Handel's eyesight got worse, and by 1754 he was completely blind. He died at his Brook Street house on April 14, 1759. He was buried in Westminster Abbey and more than three thousand people attended his funeral.

Hendrix's Apartment

Although Jimi Hendrix's career only lasted four years, he is widely regarded as one of the most influential electric guitarists in the history of rock music.

The apartment on the upper floors of 23 Brook Street was found by Jimi's girlfriend, Kathy Etchingham, when she saw an ad in one of the London evening newspapers in June 1968, while he was in New York. He moved in briefly in July before returning to the United States for an extensive tour. He spent some time decorating the apartment to his own taste. He bought curtains and cushions from the nearby John Lewis department store, as well as ornaments from Portobello Road market and elsewhere. He told Kathy that this was "my first real home of my own."

In January of the following year, he gave a series of press and media interviews and photo shoots in the apartment. He also appeared on the BBC and gave two concerts in February at the Royal Albert Hall.

In March 1969, he went back to New York again, and although Kathy stayed at Brook Street for a while longer, Jimi did not live there again. He died in London in 1970, at the age of 27, but in a hotel, not in the Brook Street apartment.

Over the years, his apartment was used as an office, until it was taken over in 2000 by the Handel House Trust. It opened to the public on Wednesday, February 10, 2016.

The whole house is now a museum and a concert venue where both men's music can be heard in live performances.

- e Tell Sts they are going to listen again and they must answer questions 1–10. Give them time to read the questions.

Play the audio again, pausing after Sts have heard about Handel to give them time to answer questions 1–5. Then play the rest of the audio.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the script on p. 129, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

- f 7.23 Tell Sts to read the six extracts from the listening and to fill in the blanks. They can do this in pairs or individually.

Play the audio, pausing after each extract to give Sts time to check their guesses.

Check answers, making sure Sts understand the meaning of the words. Model and drill pronunciation.

7.23

- 1 Handel decided to settle permanently in England...
- 2 After living in Surrey for some years, he moved to London...
- 3 He was the first occupant of the house...
- 4 The apartment on the upper floors of 23 Brook Street was found by...
- 5 He spent some time decorating the apartment to his own taste.
- 6 The whole house is now a museum and a concert venue...

- g Do this as a whole-class activity. If you have visited a house where a famous person lived, tell the class about it.

7 SPEAKING & WRITING describing a house or an apartment

- a Focus on the speaking task and give Sts a few minutes to think about what they are going to say. Go around the class, helping Sts with any vocabulary they might need that isn't in Vocabulary Bank Houses.

- b Put Sts into small groups of three to five. They take turns describing their "dream house" in as much detail as possible. They must also say which of the other houses they like best.

When the activity has finished, you could get feedback from each group to find out which house was the most popular.

- c Tell Sts to go to Writing Describing a house or an apartment on p. 120.

Focus on the instructions for a and tell Sts to read the two posts and decide which one they would choose for a vacation. You might want to elicit / teach what a villa is (= a house where people stay on vacation, especially in southern Europe).

In pairs, Sts tell each other which one they have chosen and why.

Get some feedback from various pairs. You could have a show of hands for each place to see if there is a favorite.

For b, focus on the instructions and make sure the task is clear. Give Sts time to read about the apartment in Mexico City.

Check answers, making sure Sts can remember what the adjectives mean (spacious = open, with lots of space). Model and drill pronunciation.

In c, Sts now read about the Thai villa and improve the description with the adjectives they underlined in b.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

Possible answers

a well-equipped kitchen a quiet street beautiful view a spacious yard beautiful beach ideal for a family

Focus on the Describing location box and go through it with the class.

For d, tell Sts they are going to write a description of their house or apartment for the website. If Sts don't want to write about their own home, they can invent one.

Focus on the plan and go through it with Sts.

Sts should write four paragraphs, as in the model, and use the language in the Describing location box and the Vocabulary Bank Houses to help them.

You may want to get Sts to do the writing in class, or you could assign it as homework. If you do it in class, set a time limit for Sts to write their description, e.g., 15–20 minutes.

In e, Sts should check their work for mistakes before handing it in.

Practical English Boys' night out

Function making and responding to suggestions, making an excuse and apologizing

Language Why don't we...?, What about...?, That's a great idea., etc.

Lesson plan

In the fourth episode, the main functional focus is on expressions for making and responding to suggestions. In the first scene, Rob and Paul are playing pool and reminiscing about old times. Paul thinks that Rob has changed a lot and is becoming very "American," which he suggests is because of Jenny. In the next scene, Jenny joins them for a meal, and they then decide what they are going to do. They can't agree, and in the end, Paul and Rob decide to go to a gig Kerri (from Episode 2) is doing, and Jenny, rather upset, calls Monica and goes over to see her. The last scene takes place in the office. Jenny is at work and ready for a meeting with Don, but Rob calls in saying that he doesn't feel well and isn't going to make it.

Alternatively, you could play the last scene of Episode 3.

1 ROB AND PAUL CATCH UP

Now either tell Sts to close their books, and write the question on the board, or get Sts to focus on the question and cover the rest of the page.

Play the video / audio once the whole way through, and then check the answer.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before playing the video / audio, go through the listening scripts and decide if you need to pre-teach / check any vocabulary to help Sts when they listen.

P = Paul, R = Rob

P Bad luck, mate.

R Nice shot.

P I've had years of practice.

R You used to play pool a lot at university.

P You did, too.

R Yeah. I don't really have the time any more...

P Or anybody to play with.... So what do you do in your free time?

R The magazine keeps me pretty busy. And when I'm free, I'm usually with Jenny...

P Tch. Your turn. Don't blow it.

R What is it?

P I was just thinking about you.

R What about me?

P Do you remember the great times we had at uni? You had such crazy hair – last time I saw you it was blond!

R Don't remind me.

P Those were the days. Look at you now, with your girlfriend and your nine-to-five job. If you don't come back to London soon, you'll become an all-American boy!

R Come off it.

P It's true! I mean, just look at that shirt.

R What's wrong with my shirt?

P You look like a businessman! Did you buy it?

R Me? No. It was... it was a present from Jenny.

P I thought so.

R What does that mean?

P It's Jenny's taste.

R Yes, and I really like it.

P Jenny seems to know what she wants – and she probably gets it.

R That's one of the things I like about her... Terrible.

P You said it.

R Sorry, Paul. We've got to go.

P Oh come on, Rob. We haven't even finished the game.

R Another time. Jenny's waiting for us.

P Jenny. Right.

J I'm going running in the morning. Why don't you join me?
P No, thanks. I'm not very keen on running. But I've read about this place called Deep Space, where they play great music. We could go there.
J A club?
P Don't you feel like dancing?
J Not on a Wednesday night. What about going to the late show at MOMA?
P MOMA? What's that?
J MOMA. It's the Museum of Modern Art. There's a Kandinsky exhibition.
P That isn't exactly my idea of a great night out.
J What about staying in and watching a movie on TV?
P I'm in New York. I can watch TV anywhere.
J Who's that?
R It's a text from Kerri. She's doing a gig at the Bowery Ballroom.
P Kerri who?
R Kerri Johnson. I interviewed her last week.
P Kerri Johnson? I've seen her play live. She's cool. Do you like her, Jenny?
J I have to admit I'm not crazy about her music...or her, for that matter.
P I didn't think so. So shall we go there?
R Why not? Actually, Kerri's staying very near here and she doesn't know New York very well. We could meet her outside and go together.
P That's a great idea!
R I'll send her a text.
J I think I might have an early night. You two can go on your own.
R Are you sure you don't mind?
P Of course she doesn't mind!
J No, Rob, it's fine. I have another busy day tomorrow. You do, too, actually.
R I know, we're meeting Don. I haven't forgotten...Oh, it's Kerri. She's on her way now.
P What are we waiting for? Let's go!

- M Hello?

J Are you OK? Where are you, anyway?
R I'm at home. I'm feeling terrible. We got back really late last night.
J Why doesn't that surprise me? You know, you're not a student any more.
J I know. There was a party after the gig – Kerri invited us, and of course Paul said yes.
J And this morning's meeting? In...ten minutes?
R That's why I'm calling. I'm not going to make it. I'm really sorry.
J Rob! It's a very important meeting! I'll cover for you this time, but I won't be able to do it again.
R It won't happen again. I promise. Anyway, Paul's leaving.
J He's leaving?
R That's right. He's off to Boston this afternoon.
J Maybe that's a good thing. I mean, it's not that I don't like Paul, but...
R I know, I know...
J I have to go. Talk to you later.
D Jenny, have you seen Rob? I wanted to have a word with him before the meeting, and he isn't even here.
J I know. He just called to say he can't make it.
D He what?
J I was with him last night. He wasn't feeling very well. But it's OK – he told me everything I need to know for the meeting.
D Oh. OK, then.
J You know Rob. He's such a professional.

- G choosing between gerunds and infinitives
V work
P word stress

Lesson plan

The topic of this lesson is work. In the first half of the lesson, Sts learn words and phrases related to work, and these are recycled and practiced orally in Pronunciation and Speaking. The grammar focuses on when Sts have to use a gerund (or -ing form) or an infinitive, and the context is a questionnaire that helps people to see what kind of job would most suit their personality. The grammar is practiced in a speaking activity. The first half of the lesson ends with Sts writing a cover email to go with a job application.

In the second half of the lesson, Sts read about a TV show called Shark Tank, in which contestants try to convince a panel of business people to invest in a product or service. In Listening, they hear a contestant talking about his experience on the British version of the show, Dragons' Den. Finally, in Speaking, Sts take part in a roleplay where they present a new product to the class, as if they were appearing on the show.

Vocabulary notes

Point out that:

- set up = start (a business)
- we use apply for when sending a letter or a completed form to a company to ask for a job (usually in response to an advertisement).
- overtime = extra hours that you work over and above your usual working hours
- fired can be used with either be or get. If you are fired, you lose your job.

Now get Sts to cover the sentences and look at the pictures. Then get them to retell the story, in their pairs, from memory, A testing B and then switching.

- c Focus on the task and give Sts time to read the questions and think of the answers for the person they are thinking of.
- d Focus on the example.
Put Sts in pairs, A and B. Get Sts B to start by telling their partner who they are going to talk about. Then get Sts A to ask the questions in c. Encourage Sts to give, and ask for, as many details as they can.
Make sure Sts switch roles.
Get some feedback.

EXTRA SUPPORT To help Sts with the task, tell them about a real person you know for two or three of the questions.

3 GRAMMAR choosing between gerunds and infinitives

- a Focus on the instructions and the questionnaire. Quickly go through the questionnaire with Sts and make sure they understand all the vocabulary, e.g., instincts, improvise, etc.
Get Sts to complete it individually or in pairs.
Check answers. They should be able to do this reasonably well from what they already know and by instinct. If Sts ask for a reason why a particular verb has to be in the gerund or infinitive, tell them that they will see all the rules in the Grammar Bank.

- b Now tell Sts to read each sentence in the questionnaire individually, and check the sentences that they strongly agree with.
When they have finished, get them to compare their answers with a partner, explaining why they have checked certain statements.

- c Focus on the instructions and tell Sts to go to Communication Match your personality to the job on p.108.

Get Sts to read the "answer" paragraph corresponding to the section where they have the most checks. Some Sts may have an equal number of checks in two sections, in which case they should read both answer sections.

Get feedback from some Sts to find out what kind of job, according to the questionnaire, would suit them, and if this is the kind of job that they would actually like to do. If some of your Sts already have jobs, ask them what they think of the results of the questionnaire.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 8A.

- d Now focus on the rules and give Sts time to complete them individually or in pairs.
Check answers.

- 1 the gerund 2 infinitive 3 infinitive
- 4 the gerund 5 the gerund

- e Tell Sts to go to Grammar Bank 8A on p.146.

Grammar notes

Sts who used American English File Level 2 have learned rules for using gerunds (or -ing forms) and the infinitive before, but separately. In this lesson, they are brought together.

Sts will see in this lesson that there are three common verb forms in English: to go (infinitive), go (base form), and going (gerund or -ing form).

I Like is listed as a verb that takes the gerund; however, Sts may hear or see it used with the infinitive. Compare:

I like getting up early in the morning.

I like to get up early in the morning.

Both sentences mean the same thing = I enjoy getting up early.

Verbs that can take either the gerund or infinitive, but with a different meaning, will be focused on in more detail in American English File Level 4.

Emphasize the importance of learning which verb form to use after a particular verb or construction, and give Sts plenty of practice. In time, they will develop an instinctive feel for whether a gerund or infinitive is required.

Focus on the example sentences and play audio 8.6, 8.7 and 8.8 for Sts to listen and repeat. Encourage them to copy the rhythm.

Then go through the rules with the class.

Focus on the three information boxes and go through them with the class.

Now focus on the exercises and get Sts to do them individually or in pairs.

Check answers, getting Sts to read the full sentences.

a

- 1 to spend 2 Applying 3 to do 4 to open
5 not to ask 6 working 7 solving 8 not going
9 modeling 10 to learn

b

- 1 My parents are planning to retire before they are 65.
2 Rob spends three hours commuting to work and back every day.
3 Mark's wife told him not to worry about the problems he had at work.
4 Did you remember to lock the door?
5 In the end I decided not to buy the shoes because they were very expensive.
6 The manager lets us leave early on Fridays.
7 All employees must wear a jacket and tie at work.
8 Please try not to make any more mistakes in the report.
9 I don't mind working overtime during the week.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 8A.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Grammar photocopiable activity at this point.

- f Focus on the instructions and then give Sts time to choose five topics and to write a couple of words and think about what they are going to say. Demonstrate the activity by talking about a couple of the topics yourself.
- g Put Sts in small groups of three or four and get them to tell the other people in the group what they have written. The others should listen and ask for more information when possible. Monitor to check that Sts are using the correct forms of the verbs.
Make sure Sts switch roles.
Get feedback from various groups.

4 WRITING a cover email

In this writing lesson, Sts practice writing a formal "cover" email, i.e., the email you include with your résumé when you send it to a company or organization in response to a job advertisement. The layout and style apply both to letters and emails.

Tell Sts to go to Writing A cover email on p.121.

- a Focus on the job advertisement and make sure Sts understand all the vocabulary.
In pairs, Sts tell each other which position they could apply for and why.
Get some feedback and get Sts to tell you what a résumé is. You could have a show of hands for each position, to see if one is more popular than the others.
- b Focus on the task and explain / elicit what a cover email (or cover letter) is (= an email / letter you send when you also attach / enclose something else, e.g., a résumé or a form, where you explain what you are sending and why). Remind Sts that the email is formal, and that they should circle the expression that they think is more formal in each pair.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers. You might want to point out that enclose in 4 would be the correct verb if Ricardo were sending a letter, not an email.

- 1 I am writing 2 I have been working
3 I speak English fluently 4 attached
5 I look forward to hearing from you. 6 Sincerely yours,

Focus on the information box A formal email and go through it with the class.

- c Tell Sts they are going to apply for one of the jobs in the next Olympic Games, so they need to write a cover email. Sts should use Ricardo's email as their model to help them, and the box A formal email. If Sts have not had any work experience, tell them to invent the details.
You may want to get Sts to do the writing in class, or you could assign it as homework. If you do it in class, set a time limit for Sts to write their cover email, e.g., 15–20 minutes.
- d Sts should check their work for mistakes before handing it in.
Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 8A.

5 READING predicting from evidence

- a Focus on the instructions and the four questions.
Point out the Glossary and give Sts time to read the first paragraph and answer the questions.
Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers to 1–3. Elicit answers to 4 and find out if Sts like the show.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the article the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

- 1 They are five multi-millionaires who have made their fortunes through business.
2 In the "Tank," the room where the show is filmed
3 The contestants present their product to the "Sharks" in ten minutes. The Sharks ask them questions and decide whether or not to invest in the contestants' businesses. If they decide not to invest, they say "I'm out."

Help with any other new vocabulary. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.

- b Sts now look at the photos, read about three products that were presented on the show, and answer the three questions.
Put Sts in pairs or small groups and get them to discuss their ideas.
Elicit opinions from various groups. Don't tell them if they are correct.
- c Put Sts in groups of three, A, B, and C. Tell them to go to Communication Shark Tank, A on p.109, B on p.113, and C on p.114.
Sts A read about Wallet Buckle, Sts B read about Scrub Daddy, and Sts C read about Proof Eyewear. Go through the instructions and make sure Sts know what to do.

When they have finished reading, they must tell their group about their product.

Finally, check the answers to the three questions in b in the main lesson.

- 1 The product the Sharks invested in and has been successful: Scrub Daddy
- 2 The product the Sharks didn't invest in and has been a failure: Wallet Buckle
- 3 The product the Sharks didn't invest in, but has been very successful: Proof Eyewear

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 8A.

d Do the questions as a whole-class activity.

6 LISTENING listening and making notes

a Point out to students that Dragon's Den is the British version of Shark Tank. Focus on the photo of two Dragons' Den contestants and their product. Elicit from Sts if they think the contestants were successful, but don't tell them yet if they are correct. You could elicit opinions with a show of hands.

b 8.9 Focus on the task and give Sts time to read sentences 1–8.

Play Part 1 of the interview.

Give Sts time to mark the sentences T (true) or F (false).

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

8.9

(script in the Student Book on p.129)

I = interviewer, J = Joe Kenyon

Part 1

- I Today, we're talking to two contestants who appeared on Dragon's Den, the UK version of Shark Tank. While the business people are called Sharks on the US show, they're called the Dragons on the UK show.
- So, Jake and Joe, whose idea was it to go on the show?
- J It was my idea. I applied without telling my business partner Jake. Of course, I never really expected to get on it. But then they called me and said, "you're on the show," so that's when I told him.
- I Did you spend a long time preparing your pitch?
- J Yes. We worked really hard, and we practiced a lot so that we knew the pitch word for word. The evening before the show, we actually went for a run where the show is filmed—just repeating the pitch over and over again.
- I How did you feel when you arrived at the Den?
- J Um, well, we were told to get to the set at about 11:00 the night before because you had to prepare everything in advance, like any furniture you need, things like that. It was freezing cold, and we were exhausted – we didn't get back to our hotel until the middle of the night – and a car came to pick us up a few hours later, at 5:30 in the morning.
- I What time did you actually do your pitch?
- J Um, 11:30. So we were lucky because we were the first on that particular show.
- I Why lucky?
- J Because we didn't have to wait too long. The other contestants spent a long time just waiting around. Some of them – the ones who are on last – had to wait 12 hours!
- I Did you meet the Dragons before you went in to do the pitch?
- J No. You're not allowed to. Like, if you go to the bathroom before you go on, someone has to escort you in case you meet a Dragon. So the first time you see them is when you go into the Den.

EXTRA SUPPORT You could check whether answers are true or false before Sts listen again and correct the false ones.

c Tell Sts they are going to listen to the interview again and this time they must correct the false sentences.

Play the audio again the whole way through.

Check answers.

- 1 F (Joe applied without telling Jake.)
- 2 F (They worked very hard and practiced a lot.)
- 3 T
- 4 F (They practiced their pitch the night before and they prepared the furniture they needed.)
- 5 T
- 6 F (They were the first contestants.)
- 7 T
- 8 F (Contestants aren't allowed to meet the Dragons before they go on.)

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the script on p.129, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

d 8.10 Now tell Sts to listen to what happened in Part 2 and answer the question.

Play the audio once the whole way through. Then play again if necessary.

Check the answer.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

They were offered a job, not investment in their business.

8.10

(script in the Student Book on pp.129–130)

Part 2

- I What were the Dragons like?
- J Well, they're obviously told by the producers to be really unfriendly and aggressive. So I remember thinking, when the doors opened, and we walked in, what I wanted to do was just to smile at one of them. That was my way of making myself relaxed. And I looked at Deborah Meaden because she was in the middle, and I smiled at her, but she just, you know, stared at me, stony-faced, to make me feel nervous. And it worked.
- I Did you think you made a good presentation?
- J Yeah, we did. But Jake, who usually never gets anything wrong, he forgot his first words, and he just never does that. So we both thought, when he got the introduction wrong, that it was going to go badly, but it didn't.
- I So what happened after you'd made your pitch?
- J Yeah, well, four of the Dragons said, "I'm out." They said they weren't interested. So, we were feeling pretty depressed, pretty negative.
- I And then?
- J The last Dragon was Peter. And he's kind of scary – he's incredibly tall—over six feet. And at first, he really criticized us. But then he told us he had a big chain of camera stores called Jessops and they were starting online printing and photo framing as part of their business. And then he said, "I've got 15 guys in Hong Kong trying to do what you guys are doing, but you guys are doing it better. I'm going to offer you both a job."
- I Were you very surprised?
- J Totally, because it had never happened on the show before. In ten years they'd never offered someone a job.
- I So, he offered you jobs, just like that?
- J Well, his offer was that he wanted to have our business, and for us to work with him at Jessops.
- I With a good salary?
- J Very.
- I So, what did you do?

e Tell Sts they are going to listen to Part 2 again and they must make notes for questions 1–6.

Play the audio again. You could pause it each time Joe has answered the interviewer's question, to give Sts time to write.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- 1 He smiled at her to help himself to relax, but she just stared at him to make him feel nervous.
- 2 Jake forgot his first words, which he never usually does.
- 3 Four of the Dragons said, "I'm out," to show that they weren't interested in investing.
- 4 Peter is incredibly tall – more than six feet – which makes him scary.
- 5 Peter owns a big chain of camera stores called Jessops.
- 6 Peter offered them a job, which has never happened on Dragons' Den before.

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the script on pp.129–130, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

- f 8.11 Focus on the task and elicit some opinions to the first question.

Now play the end of the interview once the whole way through.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

Joe and Jake decided not to accept the jobs because it wasn't a good time and they were enjoying running their own business. Yes, they think it was the right decision, and they don't regret it.

8.11

(script in the Student Book on p.130)

Part 3

- J It was very stressful because we knew we had to make a decision immediately. So Jake said, "Yes, let's take the jobs," but I said, "You don't want to work for Jessops." And he stayed silent and I said, "I don't want to work for Jessops." I mean neither of us were in a position where we could have dropped everything and gone and worked for Jessops full-time. It was completely... it was ridiculous.
- I So you said no?
- J That's right.
- I Have you ever regretted saying no?
- J No, not for a second. It was still in the early days for us then, so we were still kind of having fun and enjoying running our own business. And things worked out well for us. Frame Again was successful, and eventually we sold the business this year.
- I But not to one of the Dragons?
- J No, but that would have been perfect!

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the script on p.130, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

7 SPEAKING

- a 8.12 Tell Sts they are now going to listen to Joe and Jake on Dragons' Den. They must listen and order questions A–E in the order that Joe and Jake answer them. Give Sts time to read A–E. Make sure they understand all the vocabulary, e.g., slogan.

Play the audio once the whole way through.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then play again if necessary.

Check answers.

(script in the Student Book on p.130)

Ja = Jake Hayman, J = Joe Kenyon

- Ja Good morning. I'm Joe and this is Jake. Oh no, I'm sorry, I'm Jake and this is Joe, and we're here to tell you about our new product, Frame Again.

- J One photo, printed, framed, and delivered to your door, will cost £12.99.
- Ja Our slogan is "Printed, framed, and delivered in 24 hours."

- b Focus on the instructions and put Sts in pairs.

Give Sts time to think about their product and answers to questions A–E in a.

- c Focus on the Presenting a product box and go through it with the class.

In their pairs, Sts prepare their pitch, taking turns speaking.

- d Focus on the instructions and get Sts to "invest" in the products or say "I'm out" (and explain why).

Now get all the pairs to present their product to the class.

- G reported speech: sentences and questions
V shopping, making nouns from verbs
P the letters ai

Lesson plan

Shopping and customer service are the main themes for this lesson, which reviews and extends Sts' knowledge of reported speech.

At the beginning of the lesson, Sts read an article about someone's shopping experience and then discuss how helpful or unhelpful salespeople can be. This article provides the context for the presentation of reported speech. Grammar is followed by shopping vocabulary and a questionnaire.

In the second half of the lesson, Sts read five stories about good customer service. This leads into a spot on the different pronunciations of the letters ai. In Listening, Sts listen to a true story about bad customer service, and then talk about their own experiences. Vocabulary focuses on how to make nouns from verbs. Sts then watch a video about complaining, and how to do it politely and successfully, and role-play making complaints. Finally, in Writing, Sts are shown how to write an email of complaint.

1 READING & SPEAKING

- a Books open. Focus on the instructions and make sure Sts know what a customer and a salesperson are. Give Sts time to mark 1–10 C (customer) or SP (salesperson).

Check answers, making sure Sts understand all the vocabulary. You may want to point out that fitting rooms are also sometimes called changing rooms.

9 SP 10 SP

- b Give Sts time to read the article and answer the question. Check the answer.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the article the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

No. The second one talked too much and kept asking questions.

- c Focus on the instructions, making sure Sts understand appropriate /ə'prəʊpɪət/ (= acceptable for the particular circumstances).

Now give Sts time to read the article again and underline all the questions the second salesperson asks, and decide which ones they think aren't appropriate.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

He asks seven different questions (he repeats one):

- Hello, do you need any help?
- Are you going anywhere nice? (x 2)
- Where do you work?
- Do you like college football?
- Are you going to watch the Colorado game?
- What are you doing after work?
- Are you doing anything for the rest of the day?

Many people would think that only the first one is appropriate.

Help with any new vocabulary. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.

- d Do this as a whole-class activity.

2 GRAMMAR

reported speech: sentences and questions

- a Focus on the instructions and the example.

Give Sts time to write the sales assistant's questions for 2–5 and the customer's answers.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- 2 "Where do you work?" "I work in an office around the corner."
 3 "Do you like college football?" "It's OK."
 4 "Are you going to watch the Colorado game?" "No, I'm not."
 5 "What are you doing after work?" "I'm having dinner with a friend."

b Tell Sts to go to Grammar Bank 8B on p.147.

Grammar notes

Reported sentences

This is a structure that may be new for some Sts and not for others (it was introduced in American English File Level 2, in File 12). The basic principle of reported speech is very straightforward – when you report what someone else said, you move the tenses / forms “backwards,” i.e., present to past, will to would, etc.

! Must changes to had to BUT must not stays the same, e.g., “You must not touch it.” She said I must not touch it.

Point out that that after say and tell is optional.

You should point out that when direct speech is reported at a later time or in a different place from when / where it was originally said, some time / place words may change as well, e.g., tomorrow may change to the next day, this to that, etc.

! In conversation, people sometimes do not change the past to the past perfect.

Some typical mistakes include:

- confusing tell and say, e.g., He said me that he was ill.
- forgetting to change the tenses, e.g., The waiter said he will call the manager.

Reported questions

These will probably be new to most Sts. The most important things to emphasize are the change in word order and the use of if / whether in yes / no questions.

Some typical mistakes include:

- forgetting to change the word order in reported questions, e.g., She asked him what was his name.
- using did in reported questions in the past, e.g., They asked me where I did live.

Focus on the example sentences and play audio 8.13 and 8.14 for Sts to listen and repeat. Encourage them to copy the rhythm.

Then go through the rules with the class.

Focus on the two information boxes, and go through them with the class.

Now focus on the exercises and get Sts to do them individually or in pairs.

Check answers, getting Sts to read the full sentences.

a

- 1 My friend Tim said (that) he was selling all his books.
- 2 Samin told me (that) she had booked the flights.
- 3 My mother told me (that) my new dress didn't suit me.

- 5 Jenny said (that) she wouldn't wear those shoes again.
- 6 My brother told me (that) he hadn't bought me a present.
- 7 Ahmet told me (that) he couldn't find anywhere to park.

- 5 We asked him if / whether he had worn a suit to the job interview.
- 6 I asked Laila if / whether she ever went to the theater.
- 7 Priyanka asked the policeman if / whether he could help her.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 8B.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Grammar photocopiable activity at this point.

c 8.15 Focus on the task and the example. Tell Sts they are going to hear a question being asked by a man to a woman, or vice versa, and they will also hear the answer. Then they will hear the question again, and they must change it to either He asked her or She asked him and put the question in reported speech. They will also need to change the answer to reported speech. Tell Sts they will hear each mini conversation once before they need to make the changes.

Play the example and make sure Sts understand what they have to do.

Then play the audio, pausing if necessary after each question and answer to give Sts time to make the change.

8.15

EXTRA SUPPORT To help Sts, write on the board:

HE ASKED HER... / SHE ASKED HIM...

HE SAID THAT HE... / SHE SAID THAT SHE...

Now play the audio again, eliciting responses from individual Sts.

3 VOCABULARY & SPEAKING shopping

- a Focus on the task and put Sts in pairs to discuss the difference between the pairs of words.
Check answers. Alternatively, you could give Sts a minute or so to discuss them one by one, and elicit answers before moving onto the next pair of words. Model and drill pronunciation of the words.

- 1 A basket is a small container for holding or carrying things; a car is a large basket on wheels.
- 2 When you use a credit card, you don't have to pay the money immediately; with a debit card, you do.
- 3 A receipt is a piece of paper to prove you've paid for something; a refund is money you get back if you return something you've bought.
- 4 A discount is money taken off the usual cost of something; a bargain is a thing bought for less than the usual price.
- 5 A chain store is one of a series of similar stores owned by the same company; a department store is a large store divided into different sections, which sell a lot of different things.
- 6 A library is a place where you can borrow (but not buy) books; a book store is a store where you can buy books.
- 7 To put on a shirt is to get dressed; to try on a shirt is to put it on before buying it.
- 8 It fits you means it's the right size for you; it suits you means it looks good on you.

- b Focus on the questionnaire and quickly go through the questions with the whole class.
Give Sts time in their pairs to answer all the questions. Encourage them to give as much information as they can. Monitor and help Sts with any vocabulary they need. When they have finished, get some feedback.

EXTRA IDEA Get the class to interview you first, with some or all of the questions in the questionnaire.

4 READING predicting the end of a story

- a Focus on the instructions and give Sts time to read the introduction to the article and answer the question.

EXTRA CHALLENGE Elicit some ideas before Sts read the introduction.

Check the answer.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the article the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

Because people can use social networks to tell millions of other people about good or bad service.

- b Before Sts read the five stories, focus on the title of the article, Going the extra mile, and elicit / explain what it means (= to make a special effort to help somebody). Now tell Sts to read each story and try to complete the last sentence in each one. Tell Sts that the goal isn't to guess the exact words, but how the story ends.
Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then elicit some ideas from Sts, but don't tell them if they are correct or not.
- c Tell Sts to go to Communication Going the extra mile on p.109 to check their answers to b.
When Sts have finished reading, find out with a show of hands how many Sts had guessed the endings correctly. Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 8B.

- d Focus on the instructions and give Sts time to answer questions 1–4.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

1 B, D, E 2 C, E 3 B, D 4 A, B, D

Help with any new vocabulary. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.

- e Focus on the five questions and give Sts time to think of their choice for each one.
Now ask each question to the whole class and elicit some opinions and answers.

5 PRONUNCIATION the letters ai

Pronunciation notes

The letters ai between consonants are usually pronounced /eɪ/ if they are stressed, e.g., main, complain. Remind Sts that this sound is a diphthong. If you want to remind them what a diphthong is, refer them back to the information box on diphthongs in Lesson 6B, 4 Pronunciation on p.87.

Said has an irregular pronunciation /sed/.

The letters ai between consonants but unstressed are pronounced /ə/, e.g., bargain /'bɑ:gən/.

! The word again is pronounced by some native speakers as /ə'geɪn/ and by others /ə'geɪn/.

The letters air are pronounced /eɪr/.

- a 8.16 Focus on the words in the list and tell Sts to listen to the audio and underline the stressed syllable.
Play the audio, pausing after each word to give Sts time to complete the task.

EXTRA CHALLENGE Get Sts to underline the stressed syllable in each word before you play the audio.

8.16

See words in the Student Book on p.82

Now focus on the three sound pictures and elicit the words and sounds: train /eɪ/, chair /eɪr/, and computer /ə/.
Give Sts time to put the words in the list in the correct column. Remind them that this kind of activity is easier if they say the words aloud to themselves.

- b 8.17 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.
Check answers, eliciting the words onto the board in columns and getting Sts to tell you the stressed syllable in each word.

/eɪ/	claim, complain, contain, email, explain, paid, waiter
/eɪr/	airline, repair
/ə/	bargain, captain

8.17

train /eɪ/	claim, complain, contain, email, explain, paid, waiter
chair /eɪr/	airline, repair
computer /ə/	bargain, captain

Now either elicit the answers to questions 1–3 as a class, or put Sts in pairs to answer them.
If Sts worked in pairs, check answers.

- 1 a ai when stressed is usually /eɪ/. b ai when unstressed is usually /ə/. Email is the exception.
- 2 air is pronounced /eɪ/.
- 3 Said is pronounced /sed/.

EXTRA SUPPORT Play the audio again for Sts to listen and repeat after each group of words. Then get them to practice individually or in pairs.

EXTRA SUPPORT If these sounds are difficult for your Sts, it will help to show them the mouth position. You could model this yourself or use the Sound Bank videos on the Teacher Resource Center.

6 LISTENING understanding the order of events

- a Do the questions as a whole-class activity. If you have ever had a problem with luggage when traveling, tell Sts about it.
- b 8.18 Tell Sts they are going to listen to a story about bad customer service, but first they must listen to six extracts from the show and fill in the blanks.
Play the audio once the whole way through.
Check answers.

- 1 throwing 2 complained 3 claim 4 produced
- 5 contacted, offered 6 reported, dropped

8.18

- 1 My goodness! They're throwing guitars out there!
- 2 They immediately complained to United Airlines.
- 3 For nine months, he tried to claim compensation.
- 4 Dave wrote a song about his experience and produced a music video to go with it.
- 5 United Airlines contacted Dave and offered him a payment.
- 6 The BBC reported that United Airlines' share price had dropped by 10%.

- c 8.19 Now give Sts time to read questions 1 and 2.
Then play the audio the whole way through.
Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then play the audio again if necessary.
Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

- 1 To complain about the experience he'd had with United Airlines
- 2 Because the video went viral on YouTube and was watched by millions of people, who found out about United Airlines' bad customer service

8.19

(script in the Student Book on p. 130)

Hello and welcome to How's Business? Today, we're going to look at how social media can affect businesses. And I'd like to start with the story of Dave Carroll, an American singer-songwriter, who had a very bad experience with United Airlines.

Dave and his band were flying with United Airlines from Halifax, in Nova Scotia, to Omaha, in Nebraska, with a stopover in Chicago. As they were waiting to get off the plane in Chicago, they heard another passenger say, "My goodness! They're throwing guitars out there!" As Dave and the other band members looked out of the plane window, they were horrified to see that the baggage handlers, who were taking the luggage off the plane, were throwing the band's guitars to each other. They couldn't believe what they were seeing.

They immediately complained to United Airlines employees in Chicago, but nobody listened to them.

When they arrived in Omaha, Dave discovered that the neck of his very expensive Taylor guitar had been broken. It cost him $1,200 to get it repaired. For nine months, he tried to claim compensation from United Airlines. He called and emailed their offices in Halifax, Chicago, and New York without success. In the end he even suggested that instead of money, they could give him $1200 of flight tickets. But after all his complaints and suggestions, United simply said "No."

So, what else could a singer-songwriter do? Dave wrote a song about his experience, and produced a music video to go with it. The song was called United Breaks Guitars. He posted it on YouTube and it was a huge hit. The song reached number 1 on the iTunes music store within a week, and the video has had over 16 million views.

After 150,000 views, United Airlines contacted Dave and offered him a payment if he agreed to take the video off YouTube. He refused, and suggested they give the money to charity. Of course, the impact of Dave's song went far beyond YouTube. Soon newspapers, websites, TV and radio stations all over North America were doing stories about the song. Dave was interviewed on many radio and TV shows, where, of course, he retold the story of how "United Breaks Guitars." He did over 200 interviews in the first three months!

Dave Carroll's favorite guitar was broken, but in the end, United Airlines were the bigger losers. After the video had gone viral, the BBC reported that United Airlines' share price had dropped by 10% within four weeks of the release of the video, which means that the company lost an incredible $180 million. It would have been much cheaper to repair Dave's guitar!

- d Tell Sts to read events 1–10 and then put them in the order in which they happened. Make sure they understand all the vocabulary, and point out that the first and last ones have been done for them.
Get Sts to compare with a partner.
Now play the audio again for Sts to listen and check.
Check answers.

- 2 They saw the baggage handlers throwing their guitars and complained to airline staff.
- 3 They got their connecting flight to Omaha, Nebraska.
- 4 Dave discovered that his guitar was broken.
- 5 He complained again to United Airlines by phone and email, but they didn't help him.
- 6 He wrote a song about his experience.
- 7 He put a video of the song on YouTube.
- 8 United Airlines contacted him and offered him money.
- 9 He did lots of media interviews.

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the script on p. 130, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

- e Do this as a whole-class activity. If you have any experience of very good or bad customer services, tell Sts about it.

7 VOCABULARY making nouns from verbs a Focus on the instructions and the three nouns from the listening. Elicit the verbs from the class.

compensate complain pay

b Tell Sts to go to Vocabulary Bank Word-building on p.164.

Vocabulary notes

Making nouns from verbs

Sts have come across word-building in English many times before, e.g., study / student and teach / teacher, and American English File Level 2 has focuses on -ed / -ing adjectives and noun formation (e.g., decide → decision, invite → invitation). The examples in this Vocabulary Bank are more advanced, and show two common patterns of word-building that are useful for Sts to know, as well as nouns that are related to verbs, but that are not made by word-building.

Point out to Sts that whenever they learn a new word, they should also see if there are related parts of speech that they could learn at the same time – this is a very good way of expanding their vocabulary at the intermediate level and beyond. To demonstrate this, you could look back at the 1 Verb phrases section of Vocabulary Bank Work on p.163, and point out that the verb apply becomes the noun application, that promote becomes promotion, resign becomes resignation, and retire becomes retirement.

One important thing for Sts to notice is that word stress very often changes when making nouns from verbs, so it's important that they note pronunciation as well as meaning.

Focus on 1 Making nouns from verbs and get Sts to do a individually or in pairs. Before Sts start, check they know the meaning of all the verbs.

8.20 Now do b. Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

Either use the audio to drill the pronunciation of the words, or model and drill them yourself. Give further practice of any words your Sts find difficult to pronounce.

For Activation, put Sts in pairs, A and B. Sts A (book open) tell Sts B (book closed) a verb. Sts B say the noun. Then they switch roles.

For c, tell Sts to fill in each blank with a noun from a. Tell them to be careful with singular and plural nouns.

8.21 Now do d. Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

- 1 Have you ever been in a demonstration? What were you protesting about?
- 2 Have you ever opened an email attachment that contained a virus?
- 3 Do you often have arguments with your family? What about?
- 4 Do you prefer reading grammar explanations in your own language, or do you think it's better to read them in English?
- 5 Have you ever made a complaint to a company and gotten compensation?
- 6 Do you think that there's too much choice when you're shopping, e.g., for a new phone?
- 7 In a restaurant, what's more important for you, the food or the service?

Put Sts in pairs for Activation and get them to interview each other using the questions in c.

Get some feedback.

Tell Sts they will be doing Part 2 in a later lesson (9A) and tell them to go back to the main lesson 8B.

1 The Vocabulary photocopiable activity for this Vocabulary Bank includes Part 2, so should be done in 9A.

8 VIDEO LISTENING

- a Focus on the questions and ask Sts to share their experiences of complaining. You could also ask if they usually complain about problems, and if they think they are good or bad at complaining.
- b Tell Sts that they are going to watch a video that gives tips on how to complain effectively, but first, they will hear the top five things people complain about in hotels. Put Sts in pairs to discuss the question. Elicit ideas from various pairs.
- c Play Part 1 of the video once the whole way through for Sts to watch and check their answers to b. Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts watch the video.

- 1 Air-conditioning (24% of complaints)
- 2 Wi-fi (14% of complaints)
- 3 Noise (11% of complaints)
- 4 Rooms not being clean (10% of complaints)
- 5 Slow or bad service (9% of complaints)

How to complain

Part 1

Joanne

Hello, and welcome to Ten-Minute Travel for all your travel tips, news, and reviews. Many of us travel a lot, on vacation or for work, and that often means staying in a hotel. So today we're looking at hotel problems, and what we should do when things go wrong. The hotel industry is a competitive one, and hotels really do want you to enjoy your stay, especially in this digital age, where guests can leave good or bad reviews instantly. But sometimes things go wrong. Let's start by looking at the top five complaints.

Air-conditioning is at the top of the list, with nearly a quarter of all the complaints. At number two, is wi-fi, with fourteen percent of people complaining that the hotel wi-fi is too slow or that they can't connect. Eleven percent of hotel guests have had problems with noise, either from the street outside or from neighboring rooms. And a similar number have complained about their room not being clean enough. And finally, in fifth place – service. Nine percent of guests have suffered from slow or bad service, especially with hotel breakfasts or room service.

So what should you do if you have one of these problems?

- d Tell Sts that they are going to watch Phil, a hotel guest, complaining in three different situations. First, he complains in the wrong way, then he does it the right way.

Play Part 2 of the video and pause after Situation 1, when the screen says "What did Phil do wrong?"

Elicit ideas.

Situation 1 – the air-conditioning doesn't work.

Phil complains to the wrong person, the woman from the cleaning staff, but she can't fix it, and it isn't her job to ask somebody else to fix it.

Now play the rest of Situation 1, including the host's advice and Phil complaining the right way.

Pause again and elicit how he complains better.

The second time Phil complains to the right person, the receptionist, who can arrange for the air-conditioning to be fixed.

Then repeat for Situations 2 and 3 (including the host's final comments).

Situation 2

The waiter brings Phil the wrong things for breakfast – he wanted wheat toast and a cappuccino. Phil complains to the right person, the waiter, but he then accepts the white toast and the cappuccino. There's no point complaining if you don't want a solution to the problem.

The second time Phil asks the waiter to bring the right toast and coffee, as soon as possible, so his problem is solved.

Situation 3

Phil's room was noisy and the wi-fi was slow. Phil complains when he's checking out at the end of his stay, so it's too late to do anything about it. He's also rude and aggressive.

The second time he complains politely and at the right time, so the receptionist can give him a new room and investigate the problem with the wi-fi.

Part 2

J = Joanne, M = maid, P = Phil, R = receptionist, W = waiter

- J So what should you do if you have one of these problems? What's the best way to complain? Let's look at three examples of how not to do it. Here's Phil, a hotel guest who's on a work trip.

M Oh, sorry, sir! I'll come back later.

P No, it's fine, go ahead. It's so hot in here, I couldn't sleep. I can't get the air-conditioning to work. Can you see if you can fix it?

M I'm sorry, sir, I don't really know about the air-conditioning.

P Well, I'm afraid I don't know about it either.

M I'll tell reception later.

- J So what did Phil do wrong? The first rule of complaining is to complain to the right person. The cleaning staff can't fix Phil's air-conditioning and it isn't her job to get it fixed. Phil needs to go down and complain to reception. It's always better to complain in person, rather than just calling. So, let's take a look at how Phil should have complained.

R Good morning, sir.

P Good morning. I think there's a problem with the air-conditioning in my room – room 42. It's very hot and I can't get it cooler. Could you ask someone to take a look at it before this evening?

R Of course, sir. I'll do it right away.

W Here you are, sir. Eggs, toast, and an espresso.

P I think I asked for wheat toast. And a cappuccino, not an espresso.

W Wheat toast and a cappuccino? I'm very sorry, sir. The order must have gotten mixed up.

P Never mind. I'm in a hurry. I'll have the espresso.

W And the toast? I can bring you some wheat toast in a few minutes.

P OK then. Oh, it doesn't matter. White toast will be OK.

W Thank you, sir.

- J Here Phil complains to the right person, but there's no point complaining if you don't want somebody to do something about it. If you want to complain successfully, you need to know what your ideal solution is and make it clear. So, let's take a look at how Phil should have complained.

W Here are eggs, toast, and an espresso.

P I think I asked for wheat toast. And a cappuccino, not an espresso.

W Wheat toast and a cappuccino? I'm very sorry, sir. The kitchen must have made a mistake.

P If you could change them, that would be great. And as quickly as you can, please. I don't have much time.

W Of course, sir. I'll be right back.

R Good morning, sir. Can I help you?

P Yes, I'd like to check out, please.

R Of course, sir. I hope you enjoyed your stay.

P No, I didn't enjoy it at all. My room was noisy and the wi-fi was slow. It was impossible to get any work done. I certainly won't be recommending this hotel; you can be sure of that.

R I'm very sorry to hear that, sir.

- J Why complain about your room and the wi-fi when you're checking out? You should always complain as soon as you notice a problem. If you wait till later, the hotel might not have the chance to make the problem right. Above all, and this is probably the most important tip, never be rude or aggressive. If you complain politely, you're far more likely to be successful. A smile will always make people want to help you. So, let's take a look at how Phil should have complained.

R Hello again, sir. Can I help you?

P Yes, I've been trying to do some work in my room, and there's a lot of traffic noise from the street. Would it be possible to move to a different room, maybe at the back of the hotel?

R I'll see what we have. Yes, we do have a room free...overlooking the garden.

P That sounds perfect. I also noticed the wi-fi seems to be very slow. It's like being at home.

R I'll get someone to look at that right away, sir. Here's your new room key. Just let me know if you're still having problems with the wi-fi in ten minutes.

P Thanks very much.

- J Finally, remember that if you're staying in a good hotel, they'll always want the chance to make things right. But they can't help you if they don't know there's a problem, so you should always complain. And now you know how!

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to watch the video again with subtitles, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

- e Put Sts in pairs, A and B, preferably face-to-face. Tell them to go to Communication I want to speak to the manager, A on p.109, B on p.113.

Go through the instructions for the first role-play situation. Remind Sts that in the first roleplay, Sts A are the customer and Sts B are the salesperson. Tell Sts A to start first, saying, Excuse me, I bought...

When they have finished role-playing the first situation, tell Sts to read the instructions for the second situation.

This time Sts A are the restaurant manager and Sts B are the customer. B starts, Good evening. Are you the manager?

Get feedback to see whether different customers achieved their objectives or not.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 8B.

9 WRITING an email of complaint

Tell Sts to go to Writing An email of complaint on p.122.

- a Focus on the task and tell Sts to read the email and then answer the four questions. Tell them not to worry about the blanks.

Check answers.

- 1 Sandra Adams, the Head of Department of John Leavis Customer Service
- 2 A coffee machine. He ordered it two weeks ago and it still hasn't arrived, but payment has been charged to his credit card.
- 3 The customer service line
- 4 The person he spoke to was rude and could not give him any information.

- b Tell Sts to match the three paragraphs (A–C) in the email to what they are about.

Check answers.

- C something positive about the company (if possible), and that you expect them to do something
A an introduction that gives the context of the problem
B a detailed explanation of the problem

- c Now tell Sts to read the email again and to fill in the blanks with a word or phrase from the list.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- 1 Dear 2 number 3 in stock 4 delivered 5 However 6 unhelpful 7 service 8 forward 9 yours

- d Tell Sts they are going to write a similar email of complaint about something they bought online. They should follow the model and use the A formal email box on p.121 to help them.

You may want to get Sts to do the writing in class, or you could assign it as homework. If you do it in class, set a time limit for Sts to write their email, e.g., 15–20 minutes.

- e Sts should check their work for mistakes before handing it in.

I = interviewer, P = Philomena

- I What was your favorite subject when you were in school?
P History, predominantly modern history. That's the main reason, my history teacher is the reason why I became a teacher. She was really inspiring and she made the subject come alive.
I Were there any subjects you hated?
P Maths, again due to bad teachers, and predominantly I just don't have a mathematical brain, so I found it very difficult.

I = interviewer, A = Adina

- I What kind of things do you often buy online?
A I buy online clothes, food to get delivered to home, um, and also a lot of beauty products as well.
I Is there anything you would never buy online?
A I don't think there is anymore, I don't think there is anything anymore that I wouldn't buy online.

I = interviewer, D = Daniel

- I Have you ever had really bad customer service?
D Yes, I have had very bad customer service before.
I What happened?
D Um, I've had a waiter be very rude to me and sort of drop the plate on the table when they served the dish.
I What did you do?
D I did not tip that waiter.

I = interviewer, J = Julie

- I If you could change one thing about your home, what would it be?
J I would probably change my home's location. I really love my house, but it's very isolated. We live in the forest and there's no sidewalks. So, I'd probably put it in a slightly more urban setting.

I = interviewer, S = Shrenik

- I What's more important to you about a job, having a good salary or doing something you really enjoy?
S Doing something you... you really enjoy, um, is something that I prioritize, when looking for a job or working a job. And also having a good work to life balance.
I Why do you think that's important?
S Because a job isn't everything. You have to have time for yourself and your life and do things that you love and you're passionate about... or else you'll never grow.

- G third conditional

P sentence rhythm, weak pronunciation of have

Lesson plan

This lesson presents the third conditional in the context of different aspects of luck. The lesson begins with Sts saying what they would do in different situations where a stranger needed help. This leads into Sts reading and listening to the writer Bernard Hare talking about how he was helped by a stranger when he was a student. Sts then listen to three more people talking about being helped by strangers. Extracts from the stories provide an introduction to the grammar, which is then further practiced in pronunciation, focusing on the stress patterns in third conditionals.

The second half of the lesson opens with Sts talking about how lucky or unlucky they consider themselves to be. This leads to a reading activity on some research done by Richard Wiseman on how to improve your luck. There is then a vocabulary focus on adverb and adjective formation, and this is reinforced through a writing game.

Draw a horseshoe on the board, with the open part at the top. Ask what it is, and tell Sts that in the US and Britain, people believe that if you find a horseshoe, it will bring you good luck, and people often hang them up on the wall. Ask if horseshoes also mean good luck in your Sts' country.

Then put Sts in pairs and ask them to think of things that in their country are considered either good luck or bad luck.

Get feedback and write the things in two columns, GOOD LUCK / BAD LUCK, on the board. Then ask Sts if they really believe in this.

1 LISTENING & SPEAKING listening to summarize

- a Books open. Focus on the questions and go through them, making sure Sts know the meaning of hitchhiking. Put Sts in pairs and get them to discuss the six situations. Get some feedback.
- b 9.1 Focus on the instructions and the words and phrases in the list, making sure Sts know what they mean. You might want to tell Sts that Bernard Hare was born in 1958 in England, into a mining family. Play the audio for Sts to read and listen at the same time.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the story and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

9.1

See story in the Student Book on p.86

Then put Sts in pairs and tell them to summarize what happened using the words and phrases in the list.

Elicit the summary from the class.

- c 9.2 Elicit some ideas about what Sts think happened next, but don't tell them if they are correct.

Now tell Sts they are going to listen to the end of the story. Play the audio once the whole way through.

Elicit what really happened, and ask Sts if any of them guessed correctly.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

9.2

(script in the Student Book on p.130)

The ticket inspector touched my arm. "Listen," he said, "when we get to Peterborough station, run as fast as you can to platform 1. The Leeds train will be there."

I looked at him, without really understanding what he had said.

"What do you mean?" I said. "Is the train late or something?" "No, it's not late," the ticket inspector said. "I've just radioed Peterborough station. The train is going to wait for you. As soon as you get on, it'll leave. The passengers will complain, but let's not worry about that. You'll get home, and that's the main thing." And he walked away.

I suddenly realized what an amazing thing he had done. I got up and went after him. I wanted to give him everything I had, all the money in my wallet – but I knew he would be offended. I grabbed his arm.

"I, uh, just wanted to...", but I couldn't continue.

"It's OK," he said. "No problem."

"I wish I had a way to say thank you," I said. "I really appreciate what you've done."

"No problem," he said again. "Listen, if you want to thank me, the next time you see someone in trouble, help them. That will pay me back. And tell them to do the same to someone else. It'll make the world a better place."

When the train stopped, I rushed to platform 1 and, sure enough, the Leeds train was there, waiting, and a few hours later I was with my mum in hospital.

Even now, years later, whenever I think of her, I remember the Good Ticket Inspector on that late-night train to Peterborough. It changed me from a young man who was nearly a criminal into a decent human being. I've been trying to pay him back ever since then.

- d Tell Sts to read the four questions, and play the audio again. Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- 1 The ticket inspector radioed Peterborough station and asked them to make the train to Leeds wait for Bernard.
- 2 He was incredibly grateful. He wanted to give the ticket inspector everything he had.
- 3 He asked Bernard to help the next person he sees who's in trouble, and to tell them to do the same to someone else.
- 4 It changed him from a young man who was nearly a criminal into a good human being.

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the script on p.130, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

- e 9.3 Tell Sts they are now going to listen to three more people telling stories about being helped by strangers. Make sure Sts know the meaning of stranger /'streɪndʒər/ (= a person who you do not know). Model and drill the pronunciation. Sts must listen and decide which stories happened when the speaker was traveling. Ask Sts to look at the three photos and think of words they expect to hear in each story. Now play the audio once the whole way through. Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

Stories 1 and 3

9.3

(script in the Student Book on p.130)

Story 1

When I was seven, my family was on vacation in the US and one day we drove to the Grand Canyon. The car window was open, and at one point, my favorite blanket flew out the window and was gone. I was devastated. It was my security blanket and I couldn't sleep without it. Soon after, we stopped for gas at a service station. I was sitting in the car feeling miserable eating a sandwich when a biker gang, you know, a group of guys on motorcycles in leather jackets, drove into the gas station. A huge, frightening man with a gray-and-black beard got off his bike and came to the car. He knocked on the window and then pulled my blanket from his jacket pocket and handed it to my mom. He then went back to his motorcycle. I was so happy I ran up to him and gave him my sandwich.

Story 2

This happened about 20 years ago, but the memory is still really vivid. I was recently married, my wife was pregnant, and we had very little money because I only had a part-time job. It was a few days before payday and I went to a food store to get only what we absolutely needed. In all, I bought about $10 worth of stuff. At the checkout, I swiped my debit card. The cashier said, "Sorry. It says Declined. Try again." I asked her to take one item out of the basket, and then I swiped again. There was now a line of customers behind me. The cashier said, "Sorry. Declined again." I went on taking things out until the only thing I had left was a loaf of bread, and then the card was accepted. I took my bread and I left – I was feeling absolutely humiliated. A few seconds later, I heard the voice of a little girl behind me, a girl who was standing with her mother right behind me in the line. She gave me a grocery bag full of all the things I'd put back. Her mother had bought them for me. I still cry when I remember that moment and think how such a small act can mean so much for a person in need.

Story 3

I'm a painter, and a couple of years ago I was traveling by plane to see friends, and I'd taken my painting things with me. I forgot about the rules about not being able to take liquids in carry-on bags, so when I got to security at the airport, the man took away all my paints. I was really angry with myself for being so stupid. But when I came back a week later, the security man was there at the baggage reclaim area with my paints. Not only had he kept them for me, but he'd also looked up the date and time of my return flight so that he could be there to meet me.

- f Tell Sts they are going to listen to the three stories again and this time they must match three sentences from A–I to each story. Give Sts time to read the nine sentences.

Play the audio again, pausing after each story to give Sts time to complete the task.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

A 3 B 2 C 3 D 1 E 2 F 1 G 3 H 1 I 2

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the script on p.130, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

- g In pairs, get Sts to answer the questions. Check Sts understand the meaning of the adjective moving (= causing you to have deep feelings of sadness or sympathy). Get some feedback. You could also tell Sts what you think.

EXTRA SUPPORT Do these as a whole-class activity.

- h In pairs, small groups, or as a whole class, Sts answer the questions.

EXTRA SUPPORT Write the following on the board to help Sts:

- WHERE IT HAPPENED
- WHAT THE PROBLEM WAS
- WHAT YOU DID TO HELP A STRANGER / WHAT THE STRANGER DID TO HELP YOU

Now get Sts to tell their partner / group about their story using the prompts to help them.

Get some feedback. If you have a story of your own, tell the class. You could also ask Sts if, after listening to the four stories, they would change any of their responses to the situations in 1a.

2 GRAMMAR third conditional

- a Focus on the instructions and get Sts to match the sentence halves.

Check answers.

1 C 2 B 3 A 4 D

- b Focus on the questions and the two sentences. Then either get Sts to answer the questions in pairs, or elicit the answers from the class.

If Sts worked in pairs, check answers.

2 describes what happened.
1 describes an imaginary situation.

- c Tell Sts to go to Grammar Bank 9A on p.148.

Grammar notes

If Sts have a similar structure in their own language, they may not have too many problems with the concept, but most Sts will have problems with the "mechanics" of the structure, i.e., remembering which verb form goes in each part of the sentence, and also in understanding and producing contracted forms.

Some typical mistakes include:

- using would have in the if-clause, e.g., If I would have known, I would have done something about it.
- using the past perfect in both clauses, e.g., If I had known, I had done something about it.

Focus on the example sentences and play audio 9.4 for Sts to listen and repeat. Encourage them to copy the rhythm.

Then go through the rules with the class.

Now focus on the exercises and get Sts to do them individually or in pairs.

Check answers, getting Sts to read the full sentences.

- a
- 1 I 2 F 3 H 4 E 5 A 6 J 7 B 8 G 9 C
- b
- 1 If you hadn't taken me to the airport, I would have missed my plane.
 - 2 We wouldn't have won the game if the referee hadn't given us a penalty.
 - 3 You would have enjoyed the weekend if you had come with us.
 - 4 If I hadn't bought the theater tickets online, they would have been more expensive.
 - 5 Mike would have forgotten his wife's birthday if she hadn't reminded him.
 - 6 If the police had arrived five minutes later, they wouldn't have caught the thief.
 - 7 If you hadn't lent me the money, I wouldn't have been able to go away for the weekend.
 - 8 That girl would have fallen in the river if you hadn't caught her arm!
 - 9 We wouldn't have found the hotel if we hadn't seen the signpost.
 - 10 If I had known about the job, I would have applied for it.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 9A.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Grammar photocopiable activity at this point.

- d Focus on the six sentence beginnings and make sure Sts understand all the vocabulary.
Now give Sts time to complete each one in their own words. Monitor and help, especially with the third conditional.
- e Put Sts in pairs and get them to compare sentences.
Elicit some sentences for each sentence beginning in d.

3 PRONUNCIATION sentence rhythm, weak pronunciation of have

Pronunciation notes

The main focus here is on getting Sts to say third conditional sentences with good rhythm by stressing the information words. You may also want to highlight the weak form of would have /wədəv/ and the contraction of had in these kinds of sentences. These forms are often used by native speakers, but at this level, it is more important for Sts to be able to understand them rather than produce them themselves.

- a 9.5 Focus on the instructions and give Sts a minute to read the sentences.
Play the audio the whole way through for Sts just to listen.
Ask Sts how have is pronounced after would.

Have is pronounced /əv/.

9.5

See sentences in the Student Book on p.87

Now play the audio again, pausing after each sentence for Sts to listen and repeat.

Then repeat the activity, eliciting responses from individual Sts.

- b 9.6 Focus on the task and tell Sts that they are going to hear five third conditional sentences and they need to try to write them down.

Play the audio, pausing after each sentence to give Sts time to write.

Play the audio again for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers by eliciting the sentences onto the board.

9.6

- 1 It would have been much quicker if we'd taken a taxi.
- 2 She wouldn't have found out if you hadn't told her.
- 3 The tickets would have been cheaper if we'd booked them earlier.
- 4 If you hadn't done your homework so quickly, you wouldn't have made so many mistakes.
- 5 I would have lent you some money if you'd asked me.

EXTRA IDEA Play the audio again, pausing for Sts to listen and repeat, copying the rhythm. Then put Sts in pairs and get them to practice saying the sentences.

- c Put Sts in pairs, A and B, and tell them to go to Communication Guess the conditional, A on p.109, B on p.113.

Demonstrate the activity by writing in large letters on a piece of paper the following sentence: IF I'D KNOWN IT WAS YOUR BIRTHDAY, I WOULD HAVE BOUGHT YOU A PRESENT.

Don't show the sentence to your Sts.

Then write on the board: IF I'D KNOWN IT WAS YOUR BIRTHDAY, I _____ YOU A PRESENT (+).

Tell Sts that you have this sentence completed on a piece of paper and they have to try to guess exactly what it is.

Elicit possible completions with a \pm verb phrase (e.g., would have gotten / would have given). Say Try again if Sts say something different, until someone says the phrase I would have bought you a present. Then say That's correct.

Now go through the instructions. Emphasize that Sts should only fill in the blank when their partner says That's correct.

Sts continue in pairs. Monitor and help.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 9A.

4 READING & SPEAKING understanding topic sentences

- a Do this in pairs or as a whole-class activity. Make sure Sts know what lucky means.

With a show of hands, find out how many Sts think they are lucky. Get a few Sts to explain why (not).

- b Tell Sts that they are going to read an article about luck. First, focus on the Topic sentences box and go through it with the class.

Then go through topic sentences A–E, making sure Sts understand them.

Now get Sts to read the article and complete each paragraph with one of the topic sentences.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the article the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

1 B 2 E 3 C 4 D 5 A

- c Focus on the instructions and quickly go through 1–5, making sure Sts understand all the vocabulary.
Give Sts time to read the article again and then choose the best option in the five multiple-choice questions.
Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

1 a 2 b 3 a 4 b 5 c

Help with any new vocabulary. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.

- d In pairs, Sts discuss the four questions.
Get some feedback from various pairs.

EXTRA SUPPORT You could do question 1 with the whole class, and then elicit answers to the other questions from individual Sts.

5 VOCABULARY making adjectives and adverbs

- a Focus on the sentences from the article, and elicit that luck is a noun and lucky / unlucky are adjectives.

! The phrase be lucky may be a problem for some Sts who express the same concept in their L1 as have luck.

Now focus on questions 1 and 2 and get Sts, either in pairs or individually, to answer them.

Check answers.

1 luckily 2 unluckily

- b Tell Sts to go to Vocabulary Bank Word-building on p.164.

Vocabulary notes

Making adjectives and adverbs

Point out that:

- -y and -able are both typical endings for adjectives
- un- and im- are common prefixes to make an adjective negative, but adjectives formed with the suffix -ful, e.g., careful, sometimes (but not always) make the opposite adjective with -less, e.g., useful – useless
- the suffix -ful = full of or with, -less = without
- sometimes there are spelling changes, e.g., the final e is dropped before an -ly suffix in, for example, comfortably, possibly, etc., and with adjectives ending in consonant + y, the y changes to i before adding the suffix, e.g., lucky – luckily, healthy – healthily, etc.

Focus on 2 Making adjectives and adverbs and go through the Adjective prefixes and suffixes box with Sts.
Get Sts to do a individually or in pairs.

9.7 Now do b. Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

9.7

Word-building

2 Making adjectives and adverbs, b

luck lucky, unlucky, luckily, unluckily

fortune fortunate, unfortunate, fortunately, unfortunately comfort comfortable, uncomfortable, comfortably, uncomfortably

patience patient, impatient, patiently, impatiently

care careful, careless, carefully, carelessly

Now either use the audio to drill the pronunciation of the adjectives and adverbs, or model and drill them yourself.
Give further practice of any words your Sts find difficult to pronounce.

EXTRA SUPPORT Get Sts to underline the stressed syllable in all the words in the chart.

luck lucky, unlucky, luckily, unluckily

fortune fortunate, unfortunate, fortunately, unfortunately comfort comfortable, uncomfortable, comfortably, uncomfortably

patience patient, impatient, patiently, impatiently

care careful, careless, carefully, carelessly

Focus on c and get Sts to fill in each blank with the adjective or adverb made from the noun in bold. Tell them to be careful because some are positive and some negative.

9.8 Now do d. Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers.

9.8

d

- 1 The beach was beautiful, but unfortunately it rained almost every day.
- 2 My new shoes are very comfortable. I wore them all day yesterday and they didn't hurt at all.
- 3 He did the exam quickly and carelessly, and so he made lots of mistakes.
- 4 We were really unlucky. We missed the flight by just five minutes.
- 5 Jack is a very impatient driver! He can't stand being behind someone who is driving slowly.
- 6 It was a bad accident, but luckily nobody was seriously hurt.
- 7 It was raining, but fans waited patiently in the line to buy tickets for tomorrow's concert.
- 8 The roads will be very icy tonight, so drive carefully.
- 9 The temperature dropped to 20 degrees, but fortunately, we were all wearing warm coats.
- 10 The bed in the hotel was incredibly uncomfortable. I hardly slept at all.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 9A.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Vocabulary photocopiable activity at this point.

- c Tell Sts they are going to play The sentence game, and read the rules together as a class. Make sure everything is clear. You could demonstrate the activity by writing on the board: FRIEND (7 WORDS), and then PEOPLE IN MY COUNTRY ARE VERY FRIENDLY.
- d Put Sts in teams of three or four and give them five minutes to write five sentences. If you can see that they need more time, extend the limit.
- e When the time is up, get each team to read out their sentences. The teams with five correct sentences are the winners.

EXTRA SUPPORT You could write each team's sentences on the board and get the other teams to say if they are correct or not.

- G quantifiers
V electronic devices
P linking, ough and ough

Lesson plan

This lesson reviews and extends Sts' knowledge of quantifiers, e.g., a lot of / plenty of, too much, not enough, etc. through the topic of digital detoxes.

The first half of the lesson starts with a vocabulary focus on electronic devices and phrasal verbs associated with these devices, and this is followed with pronunciation practice on linking words. Then Sts listen to a journalist who decided to go on a three-day digital detox course. The first half ends with Sts discussing digital detoxes and whether they can live without the internet.

The second half starts with grammar, which is presented through sentences related to the internet and electronic devices. There is then a pronunciation focus on the frequently problematic combinations -ough and -ough. Sts then read and discuss an article about how to "clean up" their digital life, i.e., how to deal with emails, old software, etc. The lesson ends with a writing focus where Sts write a magazine article analyzing the advantages and disadvantages of smartphones.

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN (BOOKS CLOSED)

Bring into class as many of the items in 1b as you can and put them on the table, e.g., an adaptor, a charger, a plug, a mouse, a speaker, a USB cable.

Ask Sts to come up and look at what's on the table for a minute.

Then tell them to go back to their places and, in pairs, try to write down the objects that were on the table (meanwhile, put the objects in a bag or cover them).

Then take the objects out one by one and see if Sts had remembered them, and if any Sts knew how to say them in English.

1 VOCABULARY & PRONUNCIATION

electronic devices; linking

Vocabulary notes

Sts may ask about the difference between switch on / off and turn on / off. Explain that they both mean the same thing, but they originated because of the way in which power was connected or disconnected. Turn on came into use because of things that had knobs that were turned right or left to connect or disconnect, and switch on for things that had switches. Today they are synonymous and can be used for anything, no matter whether it has a switch, a knob, or a button.

However, we use turn + up / down, as many devices still use a knob that must be turned to increase power, volume, etc.

- a Books open. Focus on the questions and elicit the meaning of devices. Model and drill the pronunciation of device /dɪ'vaɪs/ and the plural devices /dɪ'vaɪsɪz/. Do the questions as a whole-class activity. You could tell the class which device you use the most.
- b Focus on the instructions and the words. Point out that the first one (a flash drive) has been done for them. Give Sts time, individually or in pairs, to match the words and photos.
- c  9.9 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check. Check answers.

9.9

- 2 an adaptor
 4 a charger
 1 a flash drive
 5 a keyboard
 13 a mouse
 11 an outlet
 6 a plug
 8 a printer
 10 a remote control
 3 a router
 9 a speaker
 7 a switch
 12 a USB cable

Then play it again, pausing after each word for Sts to listen and repeat.

Now put Sts in pairs and tell them to test each other by covering the words and looking at the photos.

EXTRA CHALLENGE Ask the class if they know any other technology words, e.g., a joystick, a screen, hardware, software, etc.

- d Tell Sts that all the sentences refer to electronic devices and the verbs or phrases we commonly use to talk about them. Now give Sts time to match 1–10 to A–J according to their meaning. Get Sts to compare with a partner.

- e 9.10 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.
Check answers.

1 H 2 F 3 D 4 A 5 G 6 I 7 J 8 C 9 E 10 B

9.10

- 1 H I changed the heat from 70 degrees to 62 degrees. I turned it down.
- 2 F I disconnected my printer from the computer. I unplugged it.
- 3 D I made the volume on the TV louder. I turned it up.
- 4 A I pressed the "off" button on the TV. I switched it off.
- 5 G I programmed the alarm on my phone for 7:30. I set it.
- 6 I I put my phone charger into an outlet. I plugged it in.
- 7 J I pressed the "on" button on my laptop. I switched it on.
- 8 C I got the latest version of an app. I updated it.
- 9 E I put antivirus software on my computer. I installed it.
- 10 B I removed a photo I didn't like. I deleted it.

- f 9.11 Focus on the Separable phrasal verbs box and go through it with the class.
Play the audio for Sts to listen and notice how the words are linked. Elicit after each phrase whether the -ed ending is pronounced /t/, /d/, or /ɪd/.

Pronunciation notes

Linking

These phrasal verbs related to technology are often used with the pronoun it followed by the particle, and the three words are linked. When the verbs are in the past tense (they are all regular), the linking also enables Sts to hear clearly how the -ed is pronounced.

Because many of these are common phrases (e.g., switch it off, turn it down), Sts will benefit from learning to say them as one linked phrase.

You may want to point out that in H it and down are linked because it ends and down begins with very similar consonant sounds.

9.11

See sentences A–J in the Student Book on p.90

Then play it again, pausing after each sentence for Sts to listen and repeat.

Now play the audio again, getting responses from individual Sts.

Finally, tell Sts to cover sentences A–J, look at 1–10, and say A–J from memory.

- g Quickly go through questions 1–5, making sure Sts understand them.
Put Sts in pairs and get them to ask and answer the questions. Encourage them to give reasons for their answers.
Get some feedback from various pairs.

2 LISTENING & SPEAKING understanding attitude

- a Focus on the task and make sure Sts understand to be addicted to something (= unable to stop using or doing something as a habit).

Get Sts to answer the questions in pairs, or do it as a whole-class activity.

If Sts worked in pairs, get some feedback.

- b Give Sts time to read the article.

Now put them in pairs and get them to answer questions 1–3.

Check the answer to 1, then elicit opinions for question 2. Finally, check the meaning of unplug in 3, and then elicit Sts' answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the article, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

- 1 Digital detox means taking a break from technology, e.g., switching off or not using digital devices.
- 3 Unplug means "disconnect from technology."

- c 9.12 Tell Sts they are going to listen to journalist Anna Magee, who went on a three-day digital detox course. First, they are going to listen to five things that Anna said while she was on the course, and they need to decide if she is positive or negative about each one.
Play the audio once the whole way through.
Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

1 negative 2 positive 3 positive 4 negative 5 positive

9.12

- 1 Suddenly I felt cut off and panicky.
- 2 We had lots of conversations with real-life humans.
- 3 I slept really well, for the first time in months.
- 4 I felt really disconnected and lonely.
- 5 I really noticed the beauty of the countryside.

- d 9.13 Tell Sts they are now going to listen to the whole radio show and they must decide if Anna is positive or negative in general about her experience.
Play the audio once the whole way through.
Check the answer.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

9.13

(script in the Student Book on pp.130–131)

Technology addiction is real, and it's creating mental health problems all over the world. According to a recent survey, six out of ten Americans report that they are addicted to their digital devices. So it's no surprise that the idea of a "digital detox" is growing in popularity. But what is it actually like to go on one? Time to Log Off is an organization that runs three-day digital detoxes in many different locations around the world. People who go on them are not allowed to use digital devices at all for three days. Journalist Anna Magee felt she was addicted to her smartphone, so when she read about the detoxes, she decided to go on one. "When I arrived, the first thing I discovered was that there was no cell phone coverage so I couldn't even cheat if I wanted to! Suddenly I felt cut off and panicky. What if something happened to my husband? What if something terrible happened in the world? There were eight other people on the detox with me. At 6 p.m. we met in the living room and handed in our devices, our phones or tablets or whatever. People looked scared. I was worried there was going to be lots of lectures on psychology, things like that, but no. Instead, there was yoga, and walks through the countryside where we picked fruit and had lots of conversations with real-life humans. The first night I slept really well for the first time in months. But it wasn't always easy. The second evening without my phone, I felt really disconnected and lonely. At yoga that night, I burst into tears, and I felt awful not being able to call a friend. But by the third and final day, I'd changed. When we went on our walk, I really noticed the beauty of the countryside. And I was able to sit still on the sofa, reading a book for nearly half an hour without losing concentration. I started coloring in pictures in books. I was even eating more slowly, in a more relaxed way. At lunchtime the next day, we got our devices back, and said goodbye. When I finally managed to get coverage, I hungrily checked my phone for messages, likes, comments, news. But nothing had really happened. I managed the whole two-hour train trip back without checking my phone again, just noticing the countryside instead. It's now three weeks since I went on the detox and though I can't quite believe it, I have managed to control my use of technology. I have one full day unplugged each week, on Saturdays, and I feel incredibly rested on Sundays as a result. I don't do email after 8 p.m., and that really helps me to sleep. I know they're tiny steps, but I feel that I've changed. When I'm talking to friends, I feel that I'm much more present. I'm really focusing on them and not getting distracted by my phone. And I find that when I have a break, instead of wanting to scroll through Twitter or check WhatsApp, what I really want is real-life conversation.

- e Tell Sts they are going to listen to the show again and this time they must mark 1–8 T (true) or F (false). Give Sts time to read sentences 1–8. Remind them to correct the false ones.

Play the audio again, pausing if necessary after each answer to give Sts time to write.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and play the audio again if necessary.

Check answers.

- 1 F (Six out of ten Americans feel they are addicted to their digital devices)
- 2 T
- 3 T
- 4 F (The second evening, she felt very disconnected and lonely, and burst into tears during yoga.)
- 5 T
- 6 F (She didn't check her phone on the train.)
- 7 F (She's "technology-free" on Saturdays and doesn't do email after 8:00 p.m.)
- 8 T

EXTRA SUPPORT Elicit first if the answers are true or false. Then play the audio again for Sts to correct the false sentences.

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the script on pp.130–131, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

- f Put Sts in pairs and get them to discuss questions 1–3. Get some feedback from various pairs.

3 GRAMMAR quantifiers

- a Put Sts in pairs and tell them to try to guess what the missing words in sentences 1–6 are. Tell them not to write anything yet.
- b 9.14 Tell Sts to listen and fill in the blanks in a. Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers. Drill the pronunciation where necessary, e.g., enough /ɪˈnʌf/.

- | | | | |
|--------------|-----------------|------------|---------|
| 1 a lot | 2 enough money | 3 too much | 4 a few |
| 5 big enough | 6 too expensive | | |

9.14

- 1 I used to have a lot of different gadgets, but now I use my phone for almost everything.
- 2 I'd like to have a better computer, but I don't have enough money to buy one right now.
- 3 I spend too much time online. I think I need a digital detox.
- 4 I have a lot of friends on Facebook, but only a few of them are close friends.
- 5 I never watch TV or movies on my phone because the screen isn't big enough.
- 6 I like Apple products, but I can't afford them. I think they're too expensive.

c Tell Sts to go to Grammar Bank 9B on p.149.

Grammar notes

Quantifiers

Sts should have seen most or all of these forms previously, but here they are brought together.

Large quantities

Lots of is a colloquial equivalent of a lot of. Be careful Sts don't say ~~a lots of~~. You may also want to teach loads of – another colloquial equivalent.

Some nationalities confuse plenty of and full of because of L1 interference.

Small quantities

A little and very little are quite different in meaning (the second is more negative). The same applies to a few and very few.

More or less than you need or want

Some typical mistakes include:

- using too much + an adjective, e.g., I'm too much busy.
- the position of enough, e.g., I'm not enough tall to open the cupboard.
- mispronouncing enough

Zero quantity

Point out that no must be used with a noun, e.g., I have no time, no brothers and sisters, etc. None is a pronoun, so it is used on its own, e.g., "Is there any milk?" "No, I'm afraid there's none left."

Focus on the example sentences and play audio 9.15, 9.16, 9.17 and 9.18 for Sts to listen and repeat. Encourage them to copy the rhythm.

Then go through the rules with the class.

Now focus on the exercises and get Sts to do them individually or in pairs.

Check answers, getting Sts to read the full sentences.

- a
- 1 a few 2 much 3 ✓ 4 very few 5 ✓ 6 a lot
7 too 8 ✓ 9 old enough 10 ✓
- b
- 1 ✗ A lot! 2 ✓ 3 ✗ There isn't enough time / There's no time
4 ✗ too loud 5 ✓ 6 ✗ isn't fast enough 7 ✗ too many emails
8 ✗ None 9 ✗ only a few people 10 ✓

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 9B.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Grammar photocopyable activity at this point.

- d Put Sts in pairs and get them to discuss whether 1–6 in a are true for them. Tell them to give as much information as possible.
- Get some feedback from various pairs.

4 PRONUNCIATION ough and ough

Pronunciation notes

The goal of these exercises is to help Sts remember the pronunciation of a group of high-frequency words that all contain -ough / -augh – a combination of letters that has rather an anarchic spelling–pronunciation relationship.

- a Focus on the ough* and *augh box and go through it with the class.
- Then focus on the six columns and elicit the picture word and sound for each, e.g., saw /ɔ/, up /ʌ/, etc.
- Now get Sts to put the words in the correct column. They could do this in pairs. Encourage them to say the words out loud and to use their instinct to help them decide.
- b 9.19 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check. Check answers.

9.19

up /ʌ/ enough, tough saw /ɔ/ bought, brought, caught, cough, daughter, thought phone /oʊ/ although cat /æ/ laugh

boot /u/ through

Then ask Sts Which is the most common sound?

The most common sound is /ɔ/.

Point out to Sts that this is true especially when there is a t after -ough or -augh. This includes the past tense / participle forms (bought, brought, caught, taught, and thought).

Now ask Sts Which four words finish with the sound /f/?

enough, tough, laugh, and cough

Emphasize that this is a small group of very common (but slightly irregular) words and it is worthwhile for Sts to memorize their pronunciation.

Finally, play the audio again, pausing after each group of words for Sts to listen and repeat.

- c 9.20 Focus on the sentences, which all contain the target sounds, and play the audio once the whole way through for Sts just to listen.

9.20

See sentences in the Student Book on p.92

Give Sts time to practice saying them in pairs.

Finally, elicit the sentences from individual Sts.

EXTRA SUPPORT Play the audio again, pausing for Sts to listen and repeat. Then get Sts to practice saying them.

5 READING & SPEAKING understanding technical language

- a Focus on the questions. Elicit the meaning of wallpaper in the penultimate question (= the background pattern or picture that you choose to have on the screen of your computer, phone, etc.) and explain its non-technology meaning, i.e., paper used for covering the walls of a room. Put Sts in pairs and get them to discuss the questions.

EXTRA SUPPORT Demonstrate the activity by answering the first few questions.

When Sts have finished, they should decide who has a more organized digital life.

Get some feedback from various pairs.

- b Focus on the task and make sure Sts understand the title, 11 ways to clean up your digital life. Then set a time limit for them to read the 11 headings and check the ones they need to clean up.

Get Sts to compare with a partner.

Get some feedback.

- c Tell Sts to now read the article and fill in the blanks with the verbs in the list.

Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the article the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

1 answer 2 make 3 find 4 Delete 5 keep 6 Update
7 forget 8 click 9 set up 10 Choose 11 recycle

- d Focus on the four tips from the article and tell Sts they need to look for adjectives in the article with the prefix un- to fill in the blanks.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers. Model and drill pronunciation.

Tip 1 unopened, unanswered Tip 2 Uninstall
Tip 5 unfollow Tip 8 unsubscribe

Help with any other new vocabulary. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.

- e Tell Sts that this time they need to complete eight sentences with the prefix un- and a word from the list. Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers. Model and drill pronunciation. You could tell Sts that Ctrl stands for Control.

1 unread 2 undo 3 unfriend 4 unlock 5 unhelpful
6 unknown 7 unclear 8 uncomfortable

You may want to point out that un- is the most common negative prefix in English, and is often used to make the negative of new "technology" verbs, e.g., unfriend, unfollow.

- f Focus on the instructions and give Sts time to read the tips in the article again and choose three that they think would be the most useful for them.

When Sts are ready, put them in small groups of three or four to discuss their choices.

Get some feedback from various groups.

6 WRITING an article – advantages and disadvantages

Tell Sts to go to Writing An article – advantages and disadvantages on p.123.

- a Focus on the instructions and give Sts time to read the article. Tell them not to worry about the mistakes. Tell Sts to cover the article. Put them in pairs and get them to answer the three questions from memory. Check answers.

- 1 It has information about more or less everything, and the information is easy to find.
It gives a good, basic introduction to a topic.
It gives links and references to other sources.
- 2 The information is sometimes inaccurate.
You don't know who's written the articles.
- 3 Generally "for"

EXTRA CHALLENGE Before Sts read the article, write on the board ADVANTAGES AND DISADVANTAGES OF WIKIPEDIA. Put Sts in pairs or small groups and tell them to think of two advantages and two disadvantages. Then get them to read the article to see if their ideas are there.

- b Tell Sts to read the article again and this time to correct the ten mistakes. Check answers, eliciting the corrections onto the board.

1 an 2 millions 3 usually 4 On 5 are 6 it's 7 written 8 In 9 you're 10 to get

- c Now tell Sts they are going to write a similar article about smartphones. As an alternative, they could write about an app or website they know well instead – depending on your Sts, they might find this more motivating. If they do, you'll need to modify the title, e.g., The pros and cons of (app / website).

Put Sts in pairs and give them time to write a list of three advantages and three disadvantages of smartphones.

- d Individually, Sts now number their advantages and disadvantages 1–3 with 1 being the most important advantage and disadvantage.

Focus on the Writing about advantages and disadvantages box and go through it with the class.

- e Write the title of the article on the board:
SMARTPHONES – ESSENTIAL FOR MODERN LIFE?

Go through the introduction with Sts and tell them to write three paragraphs following the order in the chart, and to use the Writing about advantages and disadvantages box to help them.

You may want to get Sts to do the writing in class, or you could assign it as homework. If you do it in class, set a time limit for Sts to write their article, e.g., 15–20 minutes.

- f Sts should check their work for mistakes before handing it in.

Function asking indirect questions

Language Could you tell me why...? Do you know if...?, etc.

Lesson plan

In this final episode, Sts learn how to ask questions in an indirect way, e.g., beginning with Could you tell me...? or Do you know...?

In the first scene, Jenny arrives at Rob's apartment, and is surprised to find Paul still there since Rob had said he was leaving. Paul then tells Jenny that Rob is planning to go back to the UK, and she leaves upset, just as Rob arrives. Rob is furious with Paul for telling Jenny something that simply isn't true, and makes it clear to Paul how serious he is about the relationship. In the next scene, Rob attempts to explain and make things right, but Jenny is not convinced that he is serious about the relationship. However, in the final scene, Rob does his best to prove that he is.

J Hi.

P Hi...Are you OK?

J Yes, fine. Thanks. It's just that I um...

P What?

J I wasn't expecting to see you.

P Really? Well, as you can see, I'm still here. It seems Rob just can't live without me. Yeah, he's going to miss me when I'm gone. But not for long. We'll meet up again when he goes back to London.

J Goes back...?

P Yeah, he told me last night he was planning to leave New York pretty soon.

J He what?

P Oh, come on! What's the big deal? It's not like you want to marry her.

R Well...

P What? You do?

R Well, he couldn't get a ticket to Boston...

J But you told me he was going a few days ago. Or was that another lie?

R No, of course it wasn't! He couldn't get a ticket. The buses to Boston were all full.

J So do you know if he's got one now?

R I bought it! He's leaving this evening. But that isn't really the issue here, is it? You have to believe me – I don't want to leave New York!

J How can I believe you? I know you're missing London, because you said the same thing to Kerri at the restaurant. Look, Rob, I'd like to know what you really want.

R What do you mean?

J When you and Paul were together, it was like you were a different person.

R You know what Paul's like. What was I meant to do? But that isn't the kind of life I want any more. I'm not like that.

J I know you're not, but I wonder if you really want to be here. I wonder if...

R Jenny, what is it?

J Forget it.

R Jenny... what are you worrying about?

J I don't know if this is going to work out.

- G relative clauses: defining and nondefining
V compound nouns
P word stress

Lesson plan

The theme of this lesson is icons, both people and objects. The first half of the lesson focuses on nine famous people who died in 2016. This context is used to review and extend Sts' knowledge of relative clauses, and leads to a quiz with relative clauses. Finally, the new grammar (nondefining clauses) is reinforced in a writing activity about Umberto Eco, the Italian author of The Name of the Rose.

The second half of the lesson focuses on four American design icons, such as the Tiffany lamp. Sts listen to information about these icons and how they were designed. They then talk about iconic people and objects they admire. The lexical and pronunciation focus is on compound nouns, and the lesson ends with a vocabulary race reviewing compound nouns that have been learned earlier in the book.

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN (BOOKS CLOSED)

Elicit from Sts the names of famous national or international figures who have died in the last year. Get Sts to say as much as they can about their lives and achievements.

Then tell Sts that they are going to look at the lives of nine iconic people who died in 2016, a year that had an unusual number of celebrity deaths.

1 READING reading with purpose

- a Books open. Focus on the photos and read the introduction as a class, making sure Sts understand all the vocabulary, especially the meaning of icon here (= a famous person that people see as a symbol of a particular idea, way of life, etc.).

Put Sts in pairs and get them to tell each other if they recognize any of the people in the photos.

EXTRA SUPPORT Do this as a whole-class activity.

Now tell Sts to go to Communication The year our heroes died on p.110 to check their answers.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 10A.

Get Sts to write the people's names in the blanks in the text headings.

- b Tell Sts to read the texts about the nine people. Elicit from Sts which people they already knew most about and any other interesting information they know about them, and which people (if any) they hadn't heard of at all.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the texts the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

- c Focus on the nine questions and quickly go through them with the class.

Give Sts time to read the texts again and answer the questions with the people's initials.

Check answers.

- 1 P (Prince) 2 JC (Johan Cruyff) 3 CF (Carrie Fisher)
 4 ZH (Zaha Hadid) 5 MA (Muhammad Ali)
 6 AR (Alan Rickman) 7 HL (Harper Lee)
 8 LC (Leonard Cohen) 9 DB (David Bowie)

Help with any other new vocabulary. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.

- d Do this as a whole-class activity. If there are any famous people you admire, you could tell the class.

2 GRAMMAR relative clauses

- a Tell Sts to cover the texts and look at extracts 1–5. They should fill in the blanks with a relative pronoun from the list in the rubric.

Check answers and ask Sts who each extract is about.

- 1 which (Harper Lee) 2 where, who (Leonard Cohen)
 3 which (Carrie Fisher) 4 who (Muhammad Ali)
 5 whose (Zaha Hadid)

EXTRA CHALLENGE You could write these two questions on the board:

- 1 WHICH TWO RELATIVE CLAUSES GIVE INFORMATION THAT IS ESSENTIAL TO UNDERSTAND WHAT COMES BEFORE?
 2 IN WHICH RELATIVE CLAUSE IS THE RELATIVE PRONOUN NOT NECESSARY?

Check answers. For question 2, point out to Sts that the relative clause can be left out because it gives extra information, and that this extra information is between commas.

- 1 2 – who he lived with on the Greek island of Hydra
 3 – which made her famous
 2 2 – the Norwegian woman (who) he lived with on the Greek island of Hydra

Tell Sts that they will learn the rules in the Grammar Bank for when they can leave out the relative pronoun and when they can use that instead of who / which.

b Tell Sts to go to Grammar Bank 10A on p.150.

Grammar notes

Sts who used American English File Level 2 have already had an introduction to defining relative clauses, but not to nondefining ones. Highlight that while defining clauses give important information that can't be left out (e.g., *Alan Rickman is the actor who played Snape in the Harry Potter movies), nondefining clauses give extra information that can be left out and the sentence will still make grammatical sense (e.g., Alan Rickman, who died in 2016, is the actor who played Snape in the Harry Potter movies). Nondefining clauses appear between commas in written English.

Although that is a common alternative to who / which in defining relative clauses, it cannot be used in nondefining relative clauses.

Whom is also sometimes used as a relative pronoun instead of who to refer to the object of the verb in the relative clause, or after prepositions, e.g., *She's the woman whom I met yesterday. He's the man to whom I spoke yesterday. It is much less common and more formal than who. You may wish to point out its use to Sts.

Some typical mistakes include:

- confusing who and which, e.g., *She's a friend which lives near her.
- using a personal pronoun, e.g., *He is the man who he works with my father.
- using that in nondefining relative clauses, e.g., The movie, that won an Oscar in 2018, will be shown on TV tonight for the first time.

Focus on the example sentences and play audio 🎧 10.1 and 🎧 10.2 for Sts to listen and repeat. Encourage them to copy the rhythm.

Then go through the rules with the class.

Now focus on the exercises and get Sts to do them individually or in pairs.

Check answers, getting Sts to read the full sentences.

a

- 1 Rob and Corinna, who have twins, often need a babysitter.
- 2 The White House, where the president of the United States lives, is in Washington, D.C.
- 3 The sandwich that / which you made me for lunch was delicious.
- 4 The woman who lived here before us was a writer.
- 5 David Bowie, whose songs inspired us for nearly 50 years, died in 2016.
- 6 My computer is a lot faster than the one that / which I used to have.
- 7 The Mona Lisa, which has been damaged several times, is now displayed behind glass.
- 8 Look! That's the woman whose dog bit me last week.
- 9 On our last vacation, we visited Stratford-upon-Avon, where Shakespeare was born.

10 We all went to the game except Miu, who doesn't like basketball.

11 That man who / that you saw at the party was my boyfriend!

12 That's the park where I learned to ride a bike.

b

The following sentences should be checked: 3, 6, and 11

c

3 Beijing, which is one of the world's biggest cities, has a population of over 25 million.

4 Adele's 25, which was released in 2015, is one of the best-selling albums of the last ten years.

6 Sally and Joe, who got married last year, are expecting their first baby.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 10A.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Grammar photocopiable activity at this point.

c Put Sts in pairs, A and B, and get them to cover the texts in 1 and look only at the photos. Focus on the instructions. Sts A say one sentence about a person, using a relative clause, and Sts B add any information that he / she can. Monitor and help if necessary.

Elicit information about each celebrity from the class.

EXTRA IDEA Put Sts in pairs, A and B. Sts A (texts covered) tell Sts B what he / she can remember for 1–5. Sts B (texts uncovered) help. Then they switch roles for 6–9.

3 SPEAKING

a Tell Sts to answer the quiz questions individually. You could point out that the answers are all vocabulary that Sts have studied earlier in the course. Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers. Model and drill pronunciation.

- 1 an extra 2 a crosswalk 3 your tongue 4 the roof
5 her fiancé

Find out with a show of hands if any Sts got all five correct. Now tell Sts that they are going to write similar quiz questions of their own.

b Put Sts in pairs, A and B, preferably face-to-face, and tell them to go to Communication Relative clauses quiz, A on p.110, B on p.114.

Go through the instructions and make sure Sts understand what they have to do. You could demonstrate the activity by doing number 1 (for A and B) with the whole class, before getting Sts to write their questions. Monitor to help Sts with the questions.

Sts then take turns asking their questions to their partner.

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 10A.

4 WRITING a biography

Tell Sts to go to Writing A biography on p.124.

- a Focus on the instructions and find out if Sts know who Umberto Eco is.

Give Sts time to read the biography, and then find out if they know any more information about him.

- b Now focus on the first sentence of the biography, the extra information in 1, and the example.

Tell Sts to read the biography carefully and rewrite it using sentences 2–7. Point out that sentences 2–7 are in the correct order. Remind Sts that they might have to change or delete some information.

Check answers.

- 2 After he graduated, he worked for Radiotelevisione Italiana, where he became friends with artists, painters, musicians, and writers.
- 3 In September 1962, he married Renate Ramge, who was a German art teacher.
- 4 They lived in an apartment in Milan, where Eco had a library of 30,000 books.
- 5 Eco is best known for his novel The Name of the Rose, which was published in 1980 and made into a movie six years later.
- 6 The book, which sold 15 million copies and made him an international literary star, is a murder mystery set in a 14th-century Italian monastery.
- 7 Eco, who had been diagnosed with cancer, died in Milan in 2016.

EXTRA IDEA Tell Sts to cover sentences 1–7 and read the biography to see if they can remember the extra information.

- c Tell Sts they are going to write a biography of an interesting or successful person that they know enough information about. They should write three to five paragraphs, and try to use relative clauses.
- You may want to get Sts to do the writing in class, or you could assign it as homework. If you do it in class, set a time limit for Sts to write their biography, e.g., 15–20 minutes.
- d Sts should check their work for mistakes before handing it in.
- Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 10A.

5 LISTENING listening for facts

- a 10.3 Focus on the instructions and make sure Sts know what a decade /'dekeɪd/ is (= a period of ten years). Elicit / Explain how we say decades in English, e.g., the 1960s = the (nineteen) sixties. Elicit some answers and ideas.

1 The Tiffany lamp

Louis Comfort Tiffany was an artist and designer who specialized in decorative arts like glass design, jewelry making, and metalwork. He began his career as a painter and he studied under George Inness and Samuel Colman. But then he became interested in glassmaking. In 1882, US president Chester Alan Arthur asked Tiffany to redesign a number of rooms in the White House. Tiffany repainted walls, changed wall paper, and added beautifully colored stained glass to gas lamps and windows throughout the house. After this, Tiffany then turned his attention to designing common home objects like lamps and vases. In 1893, he exhibited some of his stained-glass lamps at The World's Fair in Chicago. Soon after, he started producing the lamps commercially. His lamps and other home products were handmade by skilled craftsmen and they had complicated designs inspired by nature, including insects, flowers, and tree leaves. With his innovative designs, he became one of the leaders of the Art Nouveau movement. His beautiful lamps were popular with homeowners of the time and they are still considered an iconic American design today.

2 The Ford F-Series pick-up truck

The F-Series pick-up truck, introduced in 1948, was the first post-World War II truck designed by the Ford Motor Company. It had several innovations, for example it had a wide cab for the driver and new options like a windshield washer. Ford F-Series trucks were very popular with Americans looking for a reliable, but stylish vehicle to carry heavy loads or help with work on the farm. Over the years, the Ford F-Series has been redesigned 13 times including making it bigger, faster, more luxurious, and even fitting it with a special bed to sleep in. The latest Ford F-Series trucks are now made of lightweight aluminum. The original trucks were made of heavy and more expensive steel. This iconic American pick-up truck has been the best-selling vehicle in the United States since 1986—that's more than 30 years. It's difficult to stay at the top of the US auto industry, but Ford has found a way with the F-Series' classic design and reliability.

3 The Barbie doll

Until the late 1950s, most American girls played with baby dolls, which often limited their imaginations. They only played the role of being mothers. At around the same time, Ruth Handler noticed that her young daughter was playing with paper dolls, giving them adult roles such as actresses or secretaries. On a trip to Europe, Ruth saw a doll with an adult figure in Germany. Handler had the idea that girls could expand their imagination and play-acting roles with a doll that looked like an adult. So she and engineer Jack Ryan redesigned the doll for the US market and called her Barbie. The first Barbie dolls were produced in 1959 and sold over 350,000 in the first year.

Barbie is still popular today, and billions have been sold around the world since 1959. Mattel, Inc., the company that produces Barbie, reports that 90 percent of American girls between the ages of three and ten have a Barbie doll.

4 The Love sculpture

In 1965, artist Robert Indiana had an idea for a painting with the word "LOVE" as the main focus. He decided to break the word up into two lines, putting the "LO" on top of the "VE." He then changed the angle of the "O" a little, and an iconic American design was born. In fact, it became so popular that the Museum of Modern Art and the United States Postal Service asked the artist to create versions of his "LOVE" painting for cards and stamps. In the early 1970s, Indiana made a series of "LOVE" sculptures for display in public parks. The first of these "LOVE" sculptures was placed in New York City, on the corner of Sixth Avenue and Fifty-fifth Street. Other "LOVE" sculptures were placed in New Orleans, Philadelphia, Vancouver, Tokyo, and Singapore, as well as many other cities. Unfortunately, Robert Indiana didn't make much money from his "LOVE" paintings and sculptures. He never signed his paintings or applied for copyright, so he didn't have legal protection against the many imitations of his work.

- c Get Sts to compare notes with a partner.

Now play the audio again the whole way through for Sts to add more information.

Get Sts to compare again with their partner.

- d In pairs, Sts cover their notes, look at the four designs, and see how much they can remember about each one.
Elicit as much information as possible from the class for each design.

See script 10.4

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the script on p.131, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

- e Do this as a whole-class activity. You could tell the class which design you find the most attractive and why.

6 SPEAKING

- a This is a free-speaking activity that gives Sts a chance to talk about their own icons.
Give Sts time to write a name or item in as many of the seven categories as possible, and give them a few minutes to prepare to talk about them (who they are, what they have done, and why they admire them, why they like the landmark / object, etc.). Monitor and help Sts with any vocabulary they may need.
- b Put Sts in small groups of, ideally, three Sts (or if this is impractical, in pairs).
Sts share information about each category.
Get some feedback.

EXTRA IDEA Begin by telling Sts about two or three of your own answers and explain why.

7 VOCABULARY & PRONUNCIATION

compound nouns; word stress

Pronunciation notes

Compound nouns, e.g., bus stop, have more stress on the first word, e.g., bus stop. Depending on their L1, some Sts may tend to stress the second word, i.e., bus stop. This rule applies whether the compound noun is one word, e.g., sunglasses, or two, e.g., traffic jam.

- a Focus on the instructions and elicit what a compound noun is (Sts have seen them in Lesson 2A on p.17, and in the Vocabulary Bank Transportation on p.155).

Now focus on the two columns and tell Sts to match a noun from A to one from B to form a compound noun. Tell Sts that all the compound nouns are in Lesson 10A.

Get Sts to compare with a partner.

- b  10.5 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.

Check answers, getting Sts to tell you if the compound nouns are one word or two.

The three written as one word are sunglasses, bookcase, and classmate.

10.5

soccer field, speed camera, sunglasses, town hall, bookcase, classmate, profile picture

Now ask Sts which noun is usually stressed more in compound nouns.

The stress is usually on the first noun.

Put Sts in pairs and get them to practice saying the words, paying particular attention to stress.

- c Tell Sts that the answers to questions 1–12 are all compound nouns from Files 1–10. They have three minutes, in pairs, to answer as many as possible.
When time is up, check answers. The pair with the most correct answers is the winner.

1 a bicycle lane 2 the rush hour 3 a parking ticket
4 a tennis court 5 a traffic jam 6 a seat belt
7 a sports arena 8 the soundtrack 9 science fiction
10 a flash drive 11 the second floor 12 a public school

EXTRA IDEA Get Sts to write their names on a piece of paper and then the answers to the questions. When time is up, collect all the pieces of paper and redistribute them. Sts correct each other's answers.

Lesson plan

The topic of this lesson is murder mysteries: first, the true story of Jack the Ripper and three theories as to who he was, and then a well-known short story by Ruth Rendell.

The lesson begins with a vocabulary focus on words and phrases related to crime. Then Sts activate the new vocabulary by completing an article about Jack the Ripper. In Listening, Sts listen to an expert on Jack the Ripper giving his opinion about three people's theories on who Jack the Ripper was. The grammar focus is tag questions, which are further practiced in Pronunciation and Speaking.

In the second half of the lesson, Sts read and answer questions about the first two parts of the Ruth Rendell short story called May and June, and then they listen to and answer questions on the third part. The lesson ends with a video about Ruth Rendell and Agatha Christie.

If you would like to end the last lesson without the book, there is a Communicative review photocopiable activity on p.198 (instructions p.175).

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN (BOOKS CLOSED)

Write the word MURDER on the board and elicit what it means and how it's pronounced /'mɜːdər/.

Then give Sts, in pairs, three minutes to brainstorm as many words connected with murder as they can.

Elicit their suggestions onto the board.

Possible words include:

murderer, kill, victim, detective, knife, gun, police, police station, body, blood, suspect, crime, witness, etc.

Finally, ask Sts if they can think of a famous murderer from the past. Tell Sts they are going to learn about one in the lesson.

1 VOCABULARY & READING crime

- a Books open. Elicit answers to the questions. You could write down anything Sts know about Jack the Ripper on the board, but don't say whether any of the information is correct. Tell Sts that they will find out later.
- b Tell Sts to read definitions 1–9 and then match them to the words in the list.
Get Sts to compare with a partner.
- c 10.6 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check.
Check answers. Model and drill any tricky words for your Sts. You can use the audio to do this. You could also tell Sts that suspect can be a verb, but is then stressed on the second syllable /sə'spekt/.

10.6

- 1 detectives
- 2 witnesses
- 3 victims
- 4 murderer
- 5 murder
- 6 evidence
- 7 suspects
- 8 solve
- 9 prove

In pairs, Sts practice saying the words.

- d Tell Sts they are now going to read about Jack the Ripper. They need to fill in each blank with a word from the list in b. Point out that the first one (murder) has been done for them.

Give Sts time to do the task, and then get them to compare with a partner.

Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read the article the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

- | | | | |
|------------|-----------|-------------|--------------|
| 2 murderer | 3 victims | 4 witnesses | 5 detectives |
| 6 evidence | 7 prove | 8 suspects | 9 solve |

- e Focus on the instructions and the questions, making sure Sts understand all the vocabulary.

Now set a time limit for Sts to read the article again and answer the questions.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

- | | | |
|--|--------|----------------|
| 1 In London in the autumn of 1888 | 2 Five | 3 Three months |
| 4 A doctor, a businessman, a painter, a sailor, a singer, and a member of the royal family | | |

2 LISTENING listening and making notes

- a 10.7 Focus on the six photos and tell Sts that the photos at the top are of people who have investigated Jack the Ripper.
Tell Sts they are going to listen to Part 1 of an interview with a retired police detective. They must write 1 in the box next to the person Jan Bondeson suspects, and complete the man's occupation.

Now play the audio once the whole way through.
Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

1 Hendrik de Jong, a sailor

10.7

(script in the Student Book on p.131)

I = interviewer, M = Detective Morton

Part 1

- I Good morning, and thank you for coming, Mr. Morton – or should it be Detective Morton—you were a detective with Scotland Yard, weren't you?
- M Yes, that's right. For 25 years. I retired last year.
- I People today are still fascinated by the identity of Jack the Ripper, over 130 years after the crimes were committed. It's incredible, isn't it?
- M Well, it's not really that surprising. People are always interested in unsolved murders – and Jack the Ripper has become a sort of cult horror figure.
- I So what can you tell us about some of the new theories about his identity?
- M Well, a recent new theory was put forward by a crime historian called Jan Bondeson. He thinks that Jack the Ripper was a Dutch sailor called Hendrik de Jong.
- I What evidence does he have?
- M Well, de Jong was definitely a murderer. He killed four women in Holland and Belgium, including two of his ex-wives. He also traveled to London a lot, and he was there when the Jack the Ripper murders took place. He also matches the descriptions we have of Jack the Ripper.
- I How credible is his theory?
- M Well, even Dr. Bondeson says that it's impossible to know for certain if de Jong was Jack the Ripper. I would say it's possible, but there isn't really enough conclusive evidence.

b Now focus on the chart and tell Sts they are going to listen to the interview again and this time they need to complete the first column.

Then play the audio again the whole way through.
Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

what evidence there is He had a history of violence against women, was in London when the murders took place, and he matches the descriptions of Jack the Ripper.

what Detective Morton thinks Detective Morton thinks he could be the murderer, but there isn't enough evidence.

- c 10.8, 10.9 Now tell Sts they are going to listen to Bruce Robinson's theory (Part 2). The first time they listen, they must focus on the photos in a and write 2 in the box next to the person Bruce Robinson suspects, and complete his occupation.
- Play the audio once the whole way through.
Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

2 Michael Maybrick, a musician (a singer and a composer)

10.8

(script in the Student Book on p.131)

Part 2

- I The next recent theory I'm interested in comes from the movie director Bruce Robinson, who wrote a book in 2016 called They All Love Jack. What can you tell us about it?
- M Bruce Robinson is convinced that Jack the Ripper was in fact Michael Maybrick, the brother of one of the original suspects, James Maybrick. He thinks that the style of the murders indicates that there was a connection with the Freemasons – which both brothers were.
- I What did Michael do?
- M He was a popular singer and composer of songs at the time, and Robinson thinks that the Ripper's letters are similar in style to some of his songs, and the fact that they were posted from so many different parts of the UK makes sense because Michael was on tour at the time. Robinson thinks he was a psychopath and was responsible for at least 16 more murders that took place in England later. He even thinks that Michael went on to murder his brother James.
- I But he was never arrested, was he?
- M No, he wasn't. However, Bruce thinks that by 1893 the police had begun to suspect him, but because many of the police themselves were Freemasons they allowed him to escape to the Isle of Wight, where he lived for the rest of his life.
- I And what do you think?
- M I think the book is well researched, but I don't really believe his conspiracy theory, that the police knew it was Michael and let him get away. I think the reason the Ripper was never caught was because the police were incompetent, not corrupt.

Now tell Sts they are going to listen again and this time they need to complete the second column in the chart in b.

Before playing the audio, read the definition of the Freemasons and the Isle of Wight in the Glossary.

Then play the audio again the whole way through.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

what evidence there is The Ripper's letters are similar in style to some of his songs. The letters were mailed from different parts of the UK, and Maybrick was on tour at the time.

what Detective Morton thinks He doesn't believe this theory.

Finally, tell Sts they are going to listen to Part 3 – Patricia Cornwell's theory. The only name remaining in a is Walter Sickert, so this time Sts only need to complete his occupation.

Now play the audio once the whole way through.

Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check the answer.

3 Walter Sickert, a painter

10.9

(script in the Student Book on p.131)

Part 3

- I Finally, let's talk about Patricia Cornwell's research. In her 2002 book Jack the Ripper – Case Closed she said that she had identified the murderer and that she was convinced that Jack the Ripper was in fact Walter Sickert, the painter. What evidence did she put forward to support this claim?
- M Well, she mainly used DNA analysis. She actually spent over $2.5 million buying thirty-two paintings by Sickert. She cut up one of them to get the DNA from it – people in the art world were furious.
- I I can imagine.

- M And then she compared the DNA from the painting with DNA taken from the letters that Jack the Ripper sent to the police. Patricia Cornwell said that she was 99% certain that Walter Sickert was Jack the Ripper.
- I And now she's written a new book with more evidence.
- M Yes, it's called Ripper: the Secret Life of Walter Sickert. She says she's found new evidence, including letters that were written by Jack the Ripper and by Walter Sickert on the same very unusual type of paper. She also points out that some of his paintings are very violent and frightening.
- I But you don't think she's right, do you?
- M Well, I think she might be right. She has a lot of evidence, although I don't think it's completely reliable. And a lot of people think she's wrong!
- I So, who do you think the murderer was?
- M I can't tell you because I don't know.
- I Do you think we'll ever solve the mystery?
- M Yes, I think one day the mystery will be solved. Some new evidence will appear that proves 100% who Jack the Ripper was, and we'll be able to say that the case is finally closed. But right now it's still a mystery, and people like a good mystery.

Now tell Sts they are going to listen again and this time they need to complete the third column in the chart in b. Before playing the audio, read the definition of DNA in the Glossary.

Then play the audio again the whole way through. Get Sts to compare with a partner, and then check answers.

what evidence there is An analysis suggests that DNA from his paintings matches DNA from Jack the Ripper's letters. Letters written by both men are on the same unusual paper. Sickert's paintings are violent and frightening.

what Detective Morton thinks He thinks this theory might be correct, but he doesn't know for sure.

EXTRA SUPPORT If there's time, you could get Sts to listen again with the scripts on p.131, so they can see exactly what they understood / didn't understand. Translate / Explain any new words or phrases.

- d Do this as an open-class activity, making sure Sts know the meaning of credible /'kredəbl/ (= that can be believed).

3 GRAMMAR tag questions

- a Focus on the instructions and questions 1–4. Give Sts time to complete them.
- b 10.10 Play the audio for Sts to listen and check. Check answers.

1 weren't you 2 isn't it 3 was he 4 do you

EXTRA CHALLENGE You could elicit ideas first for what the two missing words are.

10.10

- 1 You were a detective with Scotland Yard, weren't you?
- 2 It's incredible, isn't it?
- 3 But he was never arrested, was he?
- 4 But you don't think she's right, do you?

Now tell Sts to change them to direct questions. Check answers.

- 1 Were you a detective with Scotland Yard?
- 2 Is it incredible?

- 3 Was he ever arrested?
- 4 Do you think she's right?

Finally, ask Sts what the difference is between direct questions and questions with tag questions.

Tag questions are used to check that a statement is correct.

- c Tell Sts to go to Grammar Bank 10B on p.151.

Grammar notes

Tag questions are difficult for Sts to use because they need to use the correct auxiliary each time, depending on the tense or modal verb they are using. Getting the correct intonation can also be tricky. This lesson provides Sts with a gentle introduction and focuses on the most common use of tag questions, which is to check information.

This lesson doesn't cover the tag question aren't I? used with statements beginning I'm, e.g., I'm late, aren't I? This form is irregular, and isn't very common for checking information.

Focus on the example sentences and play audio 10.11 for Sts to listen and repeat. Encourage them to copy the rhythm.

Then go through the rules with the class.

Now focus on the exercises and get Sts to do them individually or in pairs.

Check answers, getting Sts to read the full sentences.

 - 8 He won't go to prison, will he?
 - 9 You haven't seen the suspect, have you?
 - 10 They couldn't find enough evidence, could they?

Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 10B.

EXTRA SUPPORT If you think Sts need more practice, you may want to give them the Grammar photocopyable activity at this point.

4 PRONUNCIATION & SPEAKING intonation in tag questions

Pronunciation notes

The usual intonation for a tag question when we say something that we think is correct or true, and that we expect the other person to agree with, is a falling tone. Examples would include It's hot today, isn't it? You're French, aren't you? (= I'm almost sure you're French). This is what is modeled on the audio in these exercises.

1 Tag questions can sometimes be used as real questions with rising intonation, usually to express surprise, or to check information that we are not very sure about. This use is not focused on here.

- a 10.12 Focus on the task and the conversation, and elicit that the police officer probably already has the information and is just checking what he knows.
Now play the conversation once the whole way through for Sts just to listen.

10.12

P = police officer, S = suspect

- P Your last name's Jones, isn't it?
S Yes, it is.
P And you're 27, aren't you?
S Yes, that's right.
P You weren't home last night at 8:00, were you?
S No, I wasn't. I was at the movie theater.
P But you don't have any witnesses, do you?
S Yes, I do. My wife was with me.
P Your wife wasn't with you, was she?
S How do you know?
P Because she was with me. At the police station. We arrested her yesterday.

Give Sts a few minutes to complete the tag questions, and then play the audio again for them to listen and check.
Check answers.

1 isn't it 2 aren't you 3 were you 4 do you 5 was she

- b 10.13 Ask Sts if they think the intonation of the tag questions goes up or down (demonstrate both ways), and elicit that it goes down. Point out that this is the usual intonation when you are checking information, not asking a new question.
Play the audio, pausing for Sts to listen and repeat the policeman's questions.

10.13

- 1 Your last name's Jones, isn't it?
2 And you're 27, aren't you?
3 You weren't at home last night at 8:00, were you?
4 But you don't have any witnesses, do you?
5 Your wife wasn't with you, was she?

Then repeat the activity, eliciting responses from individual Sts.

EXTRA SUPPORT Give Sts extra practice by getting them to read the conversation in a in pairs.

- c Put Sts in pairs, A and B, preferably face-to-face. Tell them to go to Communication Just checking, A on p.110, B on p.114. If there is an odd number of Sts, you should take part in the activity yourself.
Go through the instructions. Make sure Sts are clear that first Sts A (as police detective) will ask Sts B some questions and try to remember the answers, and then they will check them with tag questions. Then Sts switch roles. Demonstrate the activity by taking A's role and asking one student the questions, and then checking. Monitor and help Sts to form the tag questions correctly. When both Sts have done their interviews, get feedback to find which "police detectives" had the best memory. Tell Sts to go back to the main lesson 10B.

EXTRA IDEA Write the following fill-in-the-blank sentences on the board:

- 1 YOU HAVE _____ BROTHERS AND SISTERS, _____?
2 YOU'RE FROM _____, _____?
3 YOU DON'T LIKE _____, _____?
4 YOU'D LIKE TO GO TO _____, _____?
5 YOU CAN'T _____, _____?
6 YOU WENT TO _____ LAST WEEKEND, _____?

Put Sts in pairs and get them to try to complete the sentences for each other with the correct tag question. They then read their sentences to each other, checking if the information is true.

- d Put Sts in pairs and get them to ask and answer the questions, giving as much information as possible. Get some feedback.

5 READING & LISTENING understanding referencing

- a Get Sts to do this in pairs or as a whole-class activity. If Sts worked in pairs, get some feedback. If you have a favorite crime author, tell Sts who it is and why you like them.
- b 10.14 Tell Sts they are going to read and listen to a short story by Ruth Rendell (1930–2015), a very famous author of thrillers and psychological murder mysteries. You might want to tell them that many of her novels have been made into TV shows and movies.
Play the audio for Sts to listen and read at the same time. Now put Sts in pairs and give them time to look at the highlighted phrases in 1–5 and explain what they refer to. Tell Sts that they need to find each highlighted phrase in the story to work out what they refer to.
Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read and listen to Part 1 of the short story the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

- 1 was both = pretty and smart
2 During that time = the time when May was engaged to Walter
3 It was all very unfortunate = the fact that Walter fell in love with June and left May 4 "She's ruined my life." = "I will never be happy again."
5 This thought = that perhaps Walter was sorry he had married June and not her

10.14

See Part 1 in the Student Book on p. 102

Finally, help with any other new vocabulary. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.

- c 10.15 Tell Sts they are going to read and listen to Part 2 of the story.
Give Sts time to read questions 1–5.
Now play the audio once the whole way through. In pairs, Sts answer the questions.

Check answers.

EXTRA SUPPORT Before Sts read and listen to Part 2 of the short story the first time, check whether you need to pre-teach any vocabulary.

- 1 a She refused to speak to her.
b She was reconciled with her.
- 2 Because they were both alone and May didn't have very much money. June wanted to recompense May for marrying Walter.
- 3 Possible answers: Because she hadn't been very happy with Walter and it was painful for her OR She had been very happy with Walter and she didn't want to hurt May.
- 4 She was looking for proof that Walter hadn't really loved June.
- 5 Possible answer: Because she now believed that Walter had really loved her.

10.15

See Part 2 in the Student Book on p. 103

Finally, help with any other new vocabulary. Model and drill the pronunciation of any tricky words.

- d Focus on the task and make sure Sts understand all the words.
Give Sts time to find the words in both parts of the short story.
Check answers. Model and drill pronunciation.

- 1 changeable, wealthy 2 unfortunate, unknown
- 3 extremely, passionately 4 death, marriage
- 5 wedding ring, engagement ring

- e Do this as a whole-class activity.

- f 10.16 Tell Sts they are going to listen to Part 3 of the story.
Play the audio once the whole way through for Sts to check their ideas in e.
Check the answer.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts listen.

May sees a letter from Walter to June, saying how much he loved her. May picks up a gun and kills June.

10.16

N = narrator, J = June, M = May, W = Walter, P = police

Part 3

- N May never cried now, though June did.
J I'm an old fool; I can't help it. You're strong, May, but I'm weak, and I miss Walter so.
M I missed him, too.
N said May.
J He was always fond of you...
N said June.
J He often talked about you. You have forgiven me, haven't you, May?
M As a matter of fact, I have...
N said May.
M I think you've been punished for what you did. It was a marriage without love...
N she thought.
M Walter probably talked constantly about me.
N For the first time in 40 years, she was happy.

- N One night, May woke up and heard a noise.
M A burglar...
N she thought. She put on her dressing gown and went to June's room. The bed was empty. She looked out of the window and saw a car parked outside the house, and a light in the living room window. Then she heard a cry and saw a man running out of the house, covered in blood. He got into the car and drove away. May went into the living room. June was standing next to her desk. This was a desk that she always kept locked, so May had never been able to see what was in it. The desk was open now, and the contents were all over the room. There was broken glass on the floor, and a gun. May went up to her.
M Are you all right?
J Yes, I'm fine. I threw a bottle at him and he ran away. He pointed a gun at me, but I wasn't afraid. He only took a few pieces of silver. He heard you coming and he panicked.
N Suddenly, May saw a letter that was open in the desk. It was a letter to June from Walter, the last one he wrote to her when he was dying.
W My darling love, I want to tell you how happy I have been all these years with you. If I die, I want you to know that you are the only woman I have ever loved.
J Could you call the police, please, May?
N asked June.
M Yes...
N said May. She picked up the gun. The police arrived fifteen minutes later. They brought a doctor with them, but June was already dead.
P Don't worry, Miss Thrace, we'll catch the person who did this...
N said the detective.
P But it's a pity you touched the gun. I suppose you weren't thinking.
M That's right...
N said May.
M It was the shock. I've never had a shock like that, not since I was a girl.

6 VIDEO LISTENING

- a Tell Sts that they are going to watch a video about two crime writers, Ruth Rendell (the author of May and June) and Agatha Christie. Focus on the photos and ask if they know who is who, and approximately when they lived. Now focus on the questions. Play the video once the whole way through for Sts to watch and answer the questions.

Get Sts to discuss the questions with a partner, and then elicit opinions from the class.

EXTRA SUPPORT Read through the script and decide if you need to pre-teach any new vocabulary before Sts watch the video.

Possible answers

Ruth Rendell may have had a more interesting life because she worked as a journalist before becoming a writer – but Agatha Christie's life had some interesting events, like her mysterious disappearance.

Ruth Rendell's life may have been happier because Agatha Christie had an unhappy first marriage..

Queens of crime

Crime fiction is loved all over the world: from British writers – like Arthur Conan Doyle and Val McDermid – to Americans – like Raymond Chandler and Patricia Highsmith – to Scandinavian and European writers – like Henning Mankel and Georges Simenon. But two British novelists are called “Queens of Crime” – Agatha Christie and Ruth Rendell.

Ruth Grasemann was born in London in 1930. Her father was English and her mother was Danish. After she left school, she became a journalist. She married Don Rendell, who was also a journalist. In 1964, Rendell published the first Inspector Wexford novel From Doon with Death. Wexford, a British police officer, who appeared in twenty-four novels and some short stories, is still Rendell's best-known character, over fifty years after his first appearance.

In 1975, Ruth and Don Rendell got divorced, but they remarried in 1977. Ruth Rendell continued to write and she also started to write under the pseudonym, Barbara Vine. The Barbara Vine novels are also crime novels, but they are much darker and more psychological. Some of her novels have been made into movies, not only in English, but in other languages too. The French film, La Cérémonie, was adapted from the novel, Judgement in Stone, and Pedro Almodóvar's film, Carne Trémula, is also based on a Rendell novel, Live Flesh.

Ruth Rendell died in 2015. Today she is considered a Queen of Crime, but most people would probably agree that the original Queen of Crime is Agatha Christie.

Agatha Miller was born in Torquay in southwestern England in 1890. Her father was American and her mother British. In 1914, she married Archie Christie, who was an army pilot.

Christie started to write and published her first novel in 1920, The Mysterious Affair at Styles, in which she created a Belgian private detective, Hercule Poirot.

In December 1926, Christie became the center of her very own mystery, when she suddenly disappeared from the family home in Sunningdale near London. Her disappearance was big news in the UK and in the US. For eleven days, the police and the press searched for her. The police also asked Arthur Conan Doyle – the creator of Sherlock Holmes – for help, but even he couldn't solve the mystery. The police eventually found Christie in Harrogate in northern England. She apparently couldn't remember anything and the mystery of her disappearance was never solved. Soon afterwards, she and Archie divorced.

Agatha Christie continued to write. She also married again – to Max Mallowan, who was an archaeologist. This marriage was happy. She created another detective, Jane Marple. Miss Marple is a little old, English lady. She lives in a small village and solves crimes quietly and often without leaving her armchair. She is totally different from Hercule Poirot, who Christie described as “a complete egoist.” She also wrote more personal novels under the pseudonym of Mary Westmacott.

Agatha Christie died in 1976, but her books are still read all over the world, and watched in movies – like Murder on the Orient Express – plays – like The Mousetrap – and television shows – like the Miss Marple series.

Ruth Rendell and Agatha Christie had many things in common.

They were both very successful crime writers, and they both wrote different novels under pseudonyms. They both divorced and remarried. And they're also both strongly associated with the detectives they created.

But their approaches were very different. Rendell was always more interested in characters, while Christie loved plots. And, while Agatha Christie's readers will read to the end to find out who committed the murder, Ruth Rendell's readers will also want to find out why.

- b Focus on the chart. Give Sts time to make some notes in it based on what they remember from watching the video once. Remind Sts that they should just be writing notes, not full sentences.

- c Put Sts in pairs and get them to compare their notes, and add to them.

Then play the video again for Sts to complete their notes. Check answers.

I = interviewer, S = Sean

I Have you ever helped a stranger or been helped by a stranger?
S Yes, a few months ago, I was, um, I was catching a train home from work and I went past, um, a little girl with her two grandparents, and she was crying and she was really unhappy and I thought "Oh dear!" but there's nothing I can do, um, so I went into the station and I went up the stairs, over the bridge, um, down the other side, and then on the floor I saw, um, a little toy panda, and immediately I knew that that was the little girl's panda and that's why she was crying. Um, so I ran back up the stairs, over the bridge, um, out of the station and I saw the family in the car park. I could still hear the, the little girl crying, and I ran up and said, "Is this yours?", um, and the little girl took it and the grandparents just said "Oh thank you, thank you, thank you," so that was nice.

I = interviewer, D = Daniel

I Do you think we rely too much on technology?
D I think sometimes we rely too much on technology because I do not know any of my family or friends' phone numbers anymore. I used to have all of their phone numbers memorized, but now if I lost my phone, I would not be able to call them.

I = interviewer, N = Nick

I Do you like detective or mystery novels or TV shows?
N Yeah, I have done, so I, um, I really like the Nordic noirs that were very popular a few years ago, so like The Killing and The Bridge especially I found really fascinating.
I Do you have a favourite author or detective?
N Uh, yes but can I remember her name... It's actually the one in The Bridge.
I Do you usually guess who the murderer is?
N Uh, I'll always try. Sometimes I get it, sometimes it's too difficult, yeah.

I = interviewer, E = Emma

I Do you have a favourite designer?
E I've recently started wedding dress shopping and I really like the dresses by Maggie Sottero.
I Why do you like her clothes?
E Uh, the dresses are quite a vintage style, um, which is really flattering, and when I've tried them on, um, I think they're probably the ones I'm gonna go for.

I = interviewer, G = Gina

I Do you think you are generally a lucky person?
G I think I'm a pretty lucky person.
I Can you think of a time when you've been very lucky?
G I think the process of moving to New York City I've been lucky, um, everything just kind of laid in place, like finding an apartment or, um, getting a job has just kind of laid perfectly.
