INTRODUCTION

Collins English for Life: Listening will help you to improve your understanding of English and develop your listening skills. Using the book and CD will help you develop:

- listening for general understanding
- listening for specific details or information
- awareness of clear usage and structures
- your range of everyday English vocabulary
- cultural awareness

Who is this book for?

Collins English for Life: Listening is suitable for:

- elementary to intermediate learners
- learners who are CEF (Common European Framework) level A2+.

You can use Listening

- as a self-study course
- as supplementary material on a general English course.

Using Listening

Listening comprises a book and CD. The book consists of 20 units, divided into the following sections:

- | | |
|----------------------|----------------------|
| 1 Who are you? | 3 What do you do? |
| 2 Where do you live? | 4 What do you enjoy? |

You can either work through the units from Unit 1 to Unit 20 or pick and choose the units that are most useful to you.

At the back of the book are the following useful documents:

- a mini-dictionary
- the answer key
- the transcripts for the audio recordings

The mini-dictionary lets you look up unfamiliar words and phrases. It contains definitions and examples from Collins COBUILD dictionaries. The audio transcripts highlight words or phrases that feature in the mini-dictionary with an underline.

Using the CD

This icon indicates that there is an audio track that you should listen to on the CD. Please note that the Listening CD is designed for use on a computer. If you want to play the audio on a CD player, you should download the tracks to a computer and then burn the tracks you require onto a CD.

Some of the recordings will be difficult to understand at first, but the task will be to follow the main ideas expressed and to familiarize yourself with unfamiliar ways of speaking English.

Unit structure

Getting started

Each unit begins with a few simple questions to introduce the topic and to help you prepare for the recordings and exercises which follow.

Exercises

Each unit is organized into several parts (A, B, C, etc.) with an audio track number to show you which recording to listen to. Exercises (1, 2, 3, etc.) progress from a basic check of your general understanding through to a more in-depth check of more detailed information.

Working through exercises in this book will allow you to:

- use photos or graphics to help you understand what you are listening to
- answer simple questions to check your understanding of what is said
- decide if statements are true or false
- choose from multiple-choice answers
- fill in gaps to increase your awareness of particular language areas
- match words and phrases with similar meanings to widen your vocabulary
- complete tables with information based on what you hear

Features

In addition to the exercises, each unit contains several features to provide useful information relating to what you hear in the recordings. These are:

Clear usage

These sections focus on specific words, phrases, or grammar forms used by the speakers in the audio recordings. These are clearly explained in order to help you use the words and forms correctly and understand them better when you hear them.

Useful vocabulary and phrases

These sections highlight key words and phrases that relate to the unit topic. The words or phrases are often used in the audio recordings, but extra material may also be included here to help you improve your English vocabulary.

Listening tip

These offer tips and advice to help you improve your listening skills. Tips may help you complete an exercise or develop your awareness of different features of spoken English.

Speech bubbles

Sections set in speech bubbles highlight and give the meanings of words or phrases that may be unfamiliar to learners of English. These may include regional or more informal expressions.

COBUILD check

To help you understand and improve your vocabulary, key words or phrases from the recordings are presented, with definitions and examples from Collins COBUILD dictionaries and the COBUILD corpus.

My review

At the end of each unit you will find a checklist of the main listening skills covered in the unit. This helps you to keep track of which skills you have learned.

FAMILY LIFE

Getting started

- 1 Do you have brothers and sisters?
- 2 Who is the oldest and youngest in your family?
- 3 Where does your family live?
- 4 Do you have similar or very different personalities?

Part A

In this recording, you will hear six people answer the questions 'Do you have brothers and sisters?' and 'Who is the oldest and youngest in your family?'

Look at the pictures. Circle the person who is speaking.

EXAMPLE:

Useful vocabulary and phrases: your family

Part B

In this recording, Andrew, the twin brother from Section A talks about where his brother and sisters live and how often they meet up. Andrew lives in London.

© Collins Bartholomew Ltd 2012

Listen to the recording. Add arrows to show where Andrew's brother and sisters live in England on the map.

Clear usage: 'try and' + (verb)

Andrew says:

'we try and meet up when we can'

'we try and make excuses to meet up'

Putting try and before a verb means you want to do something, and you make an effort to do it – Andrew and his family make an effort to meet up.

You may also hear try to + (verb), which means exactly the same thing.

Read the questions first, then play the recording. The questions check your general understanding. Circle the correct answers.

- 1 Which brother or sister lives closest?

a his brother	b his older sister	c his twin sister
---------------	--------------------	-------------------
- 2 Which brother or sister lives furthest away?

---------------	--------------------	-------------------
- 3 When do they meet up?

a once a year	b in the holidays	c all the time
---------------	-------------------	----------------
- 4 What do all the brothers and sisters like?

a food	b music	c sports
--------	---------	----------
- 5 Why do they meet up?

a to travel	b because they want to	c for sports competitions
-------------	------------------------	---------------------------

Listening tip: hearing repeated words

Andrew often repeats words. He says 'play tennis or or squash'. Don't be distracted by this. Repeating words is natural and helps the speaker to stop and think. Repeated words are often small, like articles (a, an, the), pronouns (we, she), and conjunctions (but, and, or).

- 3 Listen again carefully to Andrew. Complete the gaps in what Andrew says with the words / phrases in the box.

make excuses several hours away close in particular as well holiday times

- 1 I live quite to my brother – he lives in London
- 2 My twin sister lives in Durham so she's on the train.
- 3 We try and meet up when we can especially Christmas and Easter so, really.
- 4 When we meet up we'll play tennis or squash and hockey, really.
- 5 We try and to meet up still.

Part C

In this recording, Lily talks about where members of her family live and how often she sees them. She also talks about her relationship with her older sister.

- 1 Read the questions first, then play the recording. Are these statements true or false? Put a tick (✓) to show the correct answer.

	True	False
1 Her dad lives in the north of England. ✓
2 She has two brothers.
3 Her older sister has two children.
4 Lily does not have a good relationship with her older sister.
5 Lily and her older sister have similar personalities.

Listening tip: preparing for a true / false question

In a true / false exercise, read all the statements before you listen, and imagine how the speaker in the recording might express them.

COBUILD CHECK: 'getting on'

If you get on with someone, you like them and have a friendly relationship with them.

- We get on really well together.
- I don't get on with my father.
- My sister and I get on very well.
- Claire and I got on very well as children, but now we're very different.

2 Now listen again to Lily and fill in the gaps.

- 1 I have sisters.
- 2 My sister lives in the north as well.
- 3 We get really well.
- 4 She works at a quite close to her house.
- 5 We both teaching.
- 6 She's very interested in

Useful vocabulary and phrases: personality

Lily talks about her sister's personality:

'She's quite funny. She makes me laugh.'

'She's really clever and she works very hard.'

'She's quite talkative, like me.'

3 Fill in the table with a tick (✓) to show which information goes with each person.

	lives in the north of England	sees Lily once a year	makes Lily laugh	likes teaching	lives in London	lives in India
Lily
Lily's mum
Lily's dad
Lily's sister

Clear usage: 'quite'

Quite means very but not extremely. Note that Lily often uses quite when she is describing things:

'She works at a school quite close to her house.'

'She's quite funny. She makes me laugh.'

My review

- I can understand people saying how many brothers and sisters they have.
- I can understand people talking about who is the youngest or oldest in their family.
- I can listen for details about family members, for example, where they live.
- I can understand people talking about relationships and personalities in their family.

2 DAILY LIFE

Getting started

- 1 What time do you get up in the morning?
- 2 What things do you usually do?
- 3 What do you do in the evening?
- 4 What time do you normally go to bed?

Part A

In this recording, five people have been asked 'What time do you get up in the morning?'

Choose the correct answer for each person.

- | | | | | | |
|-----|-------|---|-------|---|-------|
| 1 a | 07:00 | b | 08:00 | c | 09:00 |
| 2 a | 06:00 | b | 06:30 | c | 06:45 |
| 3 a | 06:45 | b | 07:45 | c | 08:45 |
| 4 a | 09:30 | b | 08:30 | c | 07:30 |
| 5 a | 15:00 | b | 16:00 | c | 17:00 |

Clear usage: 'getting up' in the morning

time	phrase	time	phrase
07:00	I get up at seven o'clock. I get up at seven a.m.	07:10	I get up at ten past seven. I get up at ten after seven. (US)
07:15	I get up at seven fifteen. I get up at quarter past seven. I get up at a quarter after seven. (US)	07:30	I get up at seven thirty. I get up at half past seven.
07:45	I get up at seven forty-five. I get up at quarter to seven. I get up at a quarter before seven. (US)	07:50	I get up at seven fifty. I get up at ten to eight. I get up at ten before eight. (US)

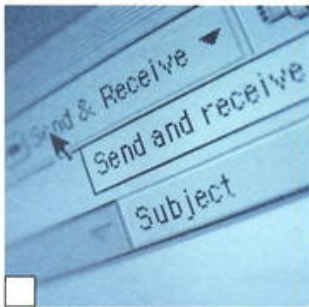

Part B

In this recording, Sam talks about what he usually does in the morning.

Look at the pictures, then listen to the recording. Number each picture to show Sam's daily routine.

Listening tip: using images

Photos or images can really help you to understand the context of something you are listening to.

- Look at the images before you listen and try to think of words in English that describe the things you can see.
- If you don't understand something you hear, can the image help by giving you context?
- Images can act as an equivalent to the gestures and movements you would use in a face-to-face conversation.

Clear usage: 'usually', 'normally' and 'sometimes'

If something usually or normally happens, it is the thing that most often happens.

Usually I get up at six thirty a.m.

I normally get up at seven a.m. for work.

Sometimes means on some occasions rather than all the time.

I sometimes sit out in the garden and read.

- 2 Now listen again and complete the gaps with the action words in the box. Listen carefully for the action words Sam uses, like do, make, or have.

have	do	check	head off	eat	jump
------	----	-------	----------	-----	------

- Usually the first thing I would is put the kettle on to make a cup of coffee.
- Then I would in the shower, a shave.
- Sometimes I breakfast.
- And then just toward the train station.
- Then I my email and get started for the day.

Clear usage: everyday activities kettle = a covered container that you use for boiling water to make hot drinks, like tea or coffee.

to put the kettle on = to switch it on to boil water (UK) jump in the shower = to have a quick shower head off = to go to a place in a particular direction

Part C

In this recording, Deborah talks about her daily routine.

- 1 Read the questions first, then play the recording. Are these statements true or false? Put a tick (✓) in the correct column.

	True	False
1 Deborah travels to work by train.	✓
2 She normally gets to work at 7 o'clock.
3 She works in a hospital.
4 When she gets home, she cooks her dinner.
5 Then she might go to the cinema.

Clear usage: 'catching a train'

Deborah says: 'I catch the train'.

If you catch a train (or a bus or plane), you get on it in order to travel somewhere.

You may also hear take the train / bus, or get the train / bus'.

Both have the same meaning as catch the train / bus.

- 2 Listen again carefully to the recording. Match Deborah's actions to the correct times.
- | | |
|-------------------------------|---------|
| 1 Deborah gets up at | a 16:30 |
| 2 She gets to work at | b 06:45 |
| 3 She comes home from work at | c 23:00 |
| 4 She goes to bed at | d 08:30 |

Part D

Listen to Ana talking about her routine.

1

Read the questions first, then play the recording. Choose 'a' or 'b'.

- | | | | | | |
|---|---------------------------------------|---|----------------|---|----------------|
| 1 | What is Ana's job? | a | doctor | b | journalist |
| 2 | When does she sometimes have to work? | a | at night | b | at the weekend |
| 3 | She gets up at five o'clock ... | a | in the morning | b | in the evening |
| 4 | What does Ana make after she gets up? | a | breakfast | b | dinner |
| 5 | She works until nine o'clock ... | a | in the morning | b | in the evening |

Listen again to the recording. Fill in the table with a tick (✓) to show what Ana does before and after work.

	has breakfast	watches TV	gets up	goes to bed	makes dinner	has a shower
after work

Listening tip: stress on important words

Ana speaks quickly, but listen to how she puts more stress on the important words:

'... and I make my dinner, and then I watch some TV, and I have a shower, then I go to work.'

Ana says 'I have a bit of breakfast'. A bit of means a small amount of something.
Would you like a bit of lunch?

My review

- I can understand people talking about regular activities.
- I can listen for different times of day.
- I can understand what time of day people do things.
- I can understand how regularly people do things.

3 CHILDHOOD

Getting started

- 1 What is your earliest childhood memory?
- 2 What activities did you enjoy?
- 3 How would you describe your childhood?
- 4 Did you do things with your parents or on your own?

Part A

In this recording, five people talk about their earliest childhood memory.

Look at the pictures of things the speakers mention. Number the pictures in the order you hear them.

Listen again. What expressions do they use for talking about their childhood? Find the right words / phrases in the box.

would go when I was would spend brought up grew up spent would take used to

- 1 I was in the countryside.
- 2 five years old I learned to ride a bike and my dad, every weekend, me round the block on it.
- 3 Myself and my brother to the sweet shop and we our 50 pence.
- 4 The house I in was on the same street as the library [...] I spend all my time reading.
- 5 During my childhood I every weekend at the beach.

Part B

In this recording, Patrick talks about his childhood memories of growing up in North Carolina in the USA.

Tick (✓) the words Patrick uses to describe his childhood.

different crazy brilliant happy healthy great lively interesting OK colourful

The word OK (or okay) is used in many ways. Patrick says 'everyone was perfectly OK with that'. He means that the situation was acceptable to everyone.

She wanted to know if the trip was OK with the government.

Read the questions first, then play the recording. Listen carefully, and take notes about Patrick's childhood. There are some pictures to help you.

pellet gun

camping gear fishing gear

crayfish

snakes hiking

hunting

- 1 Where did Patrick grow up?
- 2 What did Patrick do in the woods?
- 3 What things did Patrick own when he was ten?
- 4 What creatures did Patrick try to catch?
- 5 How old was Patrick when he could pack a backpack?
- 6 Does Patrick think his kind of childhood is a good way for children to grow up?

Patrick talks about his 'fishing gear' and 'camping gear'.

Gear refers to the things you need for an activity. Fishing gear could be a rod, a net, bait, etc. and camping gear could be a tent, a small stove to cook on, firelighters, etc.

Other words you might hear for the same thing are equipment or kit.

Read the definitions below. Can you find nouns in the recording which mean the same to complete the phrase on the right?

- | | |
|--|----------------|
| 1 The opposite of 'inside'. | ou_ _ _ _ _ |
| 2 To try and get away from someone or something. | es_ _ _ _ |
| 3 A clear difference between two things. | con_ _ _ _ _ |
| 4 Energy you put into a task. | eff_ _ _ |
| 5 The way you live your life. | life_ _ _ _ _ |
| 6 A chance to do something. | oppor_ _ _ _ _ |

A kid is an informal word for a child of any age. Patrick says 'if I have kids one day', meaning children in general. More specifically, it might be a young child who is older than a baby but younger than a teenager. Patrick says he had these adventures 'when I was a kid'.

Part C

In this recording, Abie talks about her childhood memories of growing up in Hong Kong.

1

Look at the pictures below. Listen to the recording and write the words Abie uses for each one. The first one has been done for you.

a bungalow

2 Read the questions first, then play the recording. Are these statements true or false? Put a tick (✓) to show the correct answer.

	True	False
1 Abie lived in a block of flats.
2 Abie's house had one floor.
3 Abie's house was in the centre of the city.
4 Abie's house was a typical Hong Kong house.
5 Abie was sometimes lonely.
6 Abie's family shopped in the markets.
7 Abie liked growing up in Hong Kong.

Clear usage: 'really'

When Abie talks about Hong Kong, she says: 'I really loved it,' and 'I really enjoyed it.' We say really before a verb or an adverb or an adjective to emphasize it:

Was Hong Kong big? It was really big.

And was it expensive? Oh yes, it was really expensive.

3 How does Abie describe these parts of her childhood? What describing words [adjectives] does she use?

- | | | | |
|---------------|------------|---------------|-------|
| 1 The city | big | 5 Her family | |
| 2 Her house | | 6 The markets | |
| 3 Her garden | | 7 Her life | |
| 4 The weather | | | |

Listening tip: adjectives

The usual position of adjectives is immediately before the noun. But many adjectives can go both before and after.

It's a big city. The city is big.

Putting the adjective after the noun is a way of emphasizing its importance. Abie says 'the weather was just beautiful'.

My review

- | | |
|---|--------------------------|
| I can understand people talking about their childhood memories. | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| I can understand people explaining the activities they enjoyed as a child. | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| I can follow the significance of simple descriptive words in a conversation. | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| I can recognize the importance of some different types of emphasis in a conversation. | <input type="checkbox"/> |

4 LIFE CHANGES

Getting started

- 1 Have you had an experience which changed your life?
- 2 How did your life change?
- 3 What did you learn?
- 4 Was the change good or bad?

Part A

In this recording, five people answer the question 'Have you had an experience which changed your life?'

1

Listening tip: picture questions

In a photo or picture exercise, look at all the pictures first. Ask yourself what you see in the pictures and think of the vocabulary you associate with it (a plane flying – travel, passport, journey, holiday, new country). How does the picture relate to the question? How might the people in the recording express themselves?

Part B

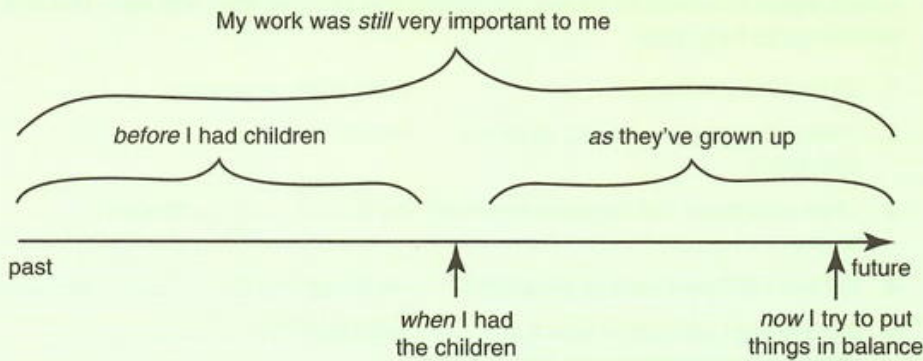

In this recording, Karen talks about an experience which changed her life.

Read the questions first, then play the recording. Are these statements true or false? Put a tick (✓) to show the correct answer.

	True	False
1 Karen has one child.
2 Before she was a mother work was the most important thing for Karen.
3 Karen gave up working after she became a mother.
4 Other things became important to Karen after her children were born.
5 The life change was easy for Karen.
6 Karen thinks that the life change has made her calmer and more relaxed.

Clear usage: 'before', 'when', 'still', 'as', and 'now'

Karen uses some important short words to put her story in the right order.

2 Now listen again and complete the gaps in what Karen says with the words in the box. The first one has been done for you.

difficult everything seriously children important different priorities

- 1 ... before I had my work was to me.
- 2 When I had the children although my work was still very to me,
- 3 I think my changed and I started to see things in a way.
- 4 It's been to juggle and balance out work and home life.
- 5 I think now I try to put things in balance and not take things too

COBUILD CHECK: 'change'

- It would be unwise to make a change at this time.
- People, I'm asking you to please make a change for the better.
- In a changing world, we must give our workers the education and skills they need to compete.
- Sometimes we have life-changing choices to make.

Work-life balance means having a healthy mix of work and non-work activities in your life. Not too much or too little work, and not too much or too little relaxation. Maybe you have a similar phrase in your own language. Many employers and employees, like Karen, talk about balancing work and home life. And people who have a lot of home responsibilities, such as looking after children, talk about juggling their responsibilities.

Listen again carefully to Karen. Complete the phrases that she says. Use the meanings to help you.

- | | | |
|---|---|---------------------------------|
| 1 | all the time you have | every spare moment |
| 2 | making progress in your job, getting a promotion | further my c..... |
| 3 | when something else becomes important to you | my p..... changed |
| 4 | to have a different view of something | see things in a d..... w..... |
| 5 | give the right amount of time and importance to things in your life | put things in b..... |
| 6 | the opposite of 5 | let things get o..... of p..... |

Part C

In this recording, Abie talks about how she changed her life.

Listen for the phrases below and put them in the order you hear them.

- | | |
|-----------------------------|-------|
| it took up a lot of my time | |
| I went back to university | |
| to write books part time | |
| I'm my own boss | |
| I wanted to make a change | |
| five or six years ago | ..1.. |
| now I write books | |

Useful vocabulary and phrases: working hours part-time temporary full-time permanent

- 2 Listen again and answer the questions about Abie's experience.
- 1 What was Abie's original job?
 a lawyer b writer c university teacher
 - 2 She changed her job because ...
 a it was a lot of work. b it was too difficult. c she had children.
 - 3 Abie did two courses to help make a change. What were they?
 a law and writing b painting and writing c law and painting
 - 4 She wrote books and worked as a lawyer at the same time.
 a true b false c she doesn't say
 - 5 She stopped being a lawyer to study writing at university.
 a true b false c she doesn't say
 - 6 Now, Abie writes books for ...
 a artists. b lawyers. c children.
 - 7 Abie likes her new work because ...
 a she makes more money. b she works less. c she works in the way she likes.

Abie says 'I found the job a lot of hard work' and 'I found I enjoyed it more and more'.

By using found Abie means she discovered something about the experience. But she is also expressing a personal opinion, rather than a fact.

- 3 Find a word in the recording which means the same as the following.
- 1 Saturdays and Sundays
 - 2 working only some days in the week
 - 3 a qualification you get from university
 - 4 artistic
 - 5 with success

My review

- I can understand people talking about experiences which changed their lives.
- I can understand people talking about their work-life balance.
- I can listen for details about somebody's working life.
- I can understand people expressing feelings about changes in their lives.

5 YOUR FRIENDS

Getting started

- 1 Who are your friends? Why are they important to you?
- 2 Do you have a large group of friends, or just a few 'best' friends?
- 3 Do you 'hang out' with your friends regularly, or do you keep in contact with them online?

Part A

In this recording, you are going to hear six people talk about their friends.

- 1 Read the questions first and then listen to the recordings one by one. What things do they mention? Tick (✓) the correct boxes.

Which speakers talk about ...	Genevieve	Fliss	Jeremy	Catherine	Laura	Chris their friends from university?
their friends from primary school (ages 5–11)?
seeing their friends at the weekends?
friends that live in other countries?
having one 'best' friend?
talking to their friends online?
friends being important to them?

Chris says 'I try to spend time with my friends'. If you spend time with someone, you do something with them or stay with them for a period of time.

- 2 How do the speakers express that friends are important to them? Listen again and complete the sentences with the words and phrases in the box.

come and go	no time	lucky	catch up with	spend time with girlfriends	keep in contact	see	lonely	communicate with

- 1 Genevieve: It'd be a very world if you didn't have someone outside of your family to
- 2 Fliss: People kind of in your lives but there are always certain people that stay.

- 3 Jeremy: It's good to have people you can relate to and
- 4 Catherine: I don't them very often but when we do see each other it's like has passed.
- 5 Laura: I feel very to have such a wonderful group of
- 6 Chris: I try to friends because I think it's important to

Catherine says 'I don't see them [her friends] very often but when we do see each other it's like no time has passed'. We say seeing each other when we are talking about members of a group meeting or doing something together.

Clear usage: social media verbs

Chris makes verbs using the name of the internet phone service Skype, and the social network Twitter. He says 'I skype and Tweet a lot, really'. Here are some more verbs you can use to talk about using social media:

- update* (your status)
- text* (someone)
- skype* (someone)
- post* (something)
- (re)tweet* (something)
- (un)friend* (someone)
- upload* (a photo / video / music)
- block* (someone)

Part B

Eoin is from Ireland but now lives in London. In this recording, he talks about staying in touch with his friends from home.

Listen for these phrases from Section A. Number them in the order you hear them.

- | | | | |
|----------------------------|-------|-----------------------|-------|
| catch up with | | international friends | |
| spend (a lot of) time with | | keep in contact with | |
| modern technology | | hang out | |
| keep in touch | | | |

2 Read the questions and answers below first. Then listen again and tick (✓) the correct answers to each question.

- 1 How does Eoin keep in touch with his friends in Ireland?
text post phone
- 2 What do they do when he visits them in Ireland?
play sports go to see bands go for meals
- 3 Where are his new 'international' friends from?
France America Poland
- 4 What social media does Eoin use to stay in touch with his friends in Ireland?
Twitter Skype Facebook

Useful vocabulary and phrases: friendship

stay in touch / contact (with)	see
keep in touch / contact (with)	drop in
catch up (with)	drop by
hang out (with)	look in on
hook up (with)

Part C

Holly and Hannah are good friends. In this recording, they discuss friendship.

1 What three things do Holly and Hannah think make a good friendship? Number the ideas in the order you hear them.

- giving advice and listening giving each other time on their own being honest

COBUILD CHECK: 'each other'

You use each other to show that every member of a group does something to or for the other members.

- We looked at each other in silence.
- Maybe we can see each other later this week.
- Old friends always talk to each other like that.

Listening tip: listening for your turn to speak

When someone is speaking you may be listening for the right time to speak – for when it is your turn. One way that a speaker can show they have finished speaking is by making their voice go down at the end of a sentence. For example, Holly says:

'I think honesty is really important. What do you think?' ↘

When a speaker pauses, that can also be a signal for you to speak. But if the speaker uses a connective word (and ..., but ..., so ..., because ...) or even 'um ...' or 'uh ...', it probably means they want to continue speaking. For example, Hannah says:

'I think that's true because ... I'm just thinking, there's lots of times ...'

- 2 How do Holly and Hannah talk about their friendship? Listen to the recordings again and complete the sentences with the words and phrases in the box.

each other	own space	trust you	useful advice	ourselves
get your opinion	spend time with	close	make time	be honest

- Hannah: Before I leave the house [...] I'll go up to your room, just to on what I'm wearing.
- Hannah: That's what's really good about having such a friend, is because you can with me.
- Holly: I go to you for advice a lot because I know I can and hopefully I can give you as well.
- Hannah: It's sort of important we for each other but we also make time for
- Hannah: We're very good at judging when you might want your and when you might want to friends.
- Holly: I know it is important not to be on top of all the time.

My review

- I can understand people describing their friends.
- I can recognize ways of talking about friendships.
- I can understand language for talking about social media.
- I can follow a conversation about the importance of friendship.

6 YOUR HOUSE

Getting started

- 1 Where do you live?
- 2 Who do you live with?
- 3 What chores do you do?
- 4 What do you like about sharing a house?

Part A

In this recording, five people answer the question 'Who do you live with?'

1

Clear usage: 'flat' vs 'apartment'

In the UK, a flat is a group of rooms where someone lives in a large building.
In the US, this is called an apartment.

In the UK, someone's flatmate is a person who shares a flat with them.
In the US, this person is called a roommate.

Part B

Useful vocabulary and phrases: household chores

A chore is a job that you have to do, especially to keep a house clean. For example:

cleaning up / (doing the) cleaning using the washing machine hanging the washing out doing the dishes / doing the washing-up hoovering tidying up making the bed ironing

Now listen to Sarah talking about sharing a house.

18

1 Choose the correct answer for each of the following questions.

- 1 Sarah lives in ...
 - a an apartment
 - b a terraced house
- 2 Sarah lives with ...
 - a her parents
 - b two other girls
- 3 Living with others, the worst part is ...
 - a chores
 - b communicating
- 4 The best part of living with others is ...
 - a making new friends
 - b doing the cleaning

Sarah talks about something being 'the biggest challenge'.
 A challenge is something that is difficult to do.

2 Listen again carefully to Sarah and fill in the table with a tick (✓) to show what she likes about sharing a house.

cleaning up the kitchen	making new friends	having people around	having a chat	when you just want to hang out	hanging the washing out

Clear usage: 'hang out'

There are two different meanings for the phrasal verb hang out, and Sarah uses it in both ways.

First, she mentions 'hanging the washing out'.
This means hanging wet clothes outside to dry.

Then, Sarah also says she likes 'having people around when you just want to hang out'. This means to spend time with them, but not doing anything in particular. This is an informal term.

3 Now listen again and fill in the gaps in what Sarah says. Use the words in the box.

friends cultures chores communication hang

- 1 I find the biggest challenge in shared living would probably be the distribution of
- 2 You have different backgrounds, different
- 3 I think the best way to deal with that is
- 4 Just having people around when you just want to out.
- 5 They have friends, you have – it kind of brings two big circles together.

Listening tip: gap-fill exercises

- Read the gap-filler phrases before you listen.
- Pause the recording after you hear an answer.
- Listen again to the whole recording after you have filled in all the gaps.

4 Listen again carefully to Sarah. Match the words or phrases Sarah uses (on the left) with ones which have similar meanings (on the right).

- | | |
|-----------------|---|
| 1 shared living | a making clean |
| 2 probably | b the feeling of being friends with someone |
| 3 chores | c living with other people |
| 4 cleaning up | d jobs you do in the house to keep it clean |
| 5 generally | e in a general sense |
| 6 friendship | f most likely |

Part C

In this recording, Ana talks about sharing the chores with her husband.

Are these statements true or false? Put a tick (✓) to show the correct answer.

	True	False
1 Ana does the cooking.
2 Ana's husband does the cooking.
3 Ana does the washing-up.
4 Ana's husband does the washing-up.
5 Ana has only cleaned the bathroom once.
6 Now they don't argue about cleaning.

COBUILD CHECK: 'argue'

If you argue with someone, you disagree with them about something.

- He was arguing with his wife about money.
- They are arguing over details.
- We never argue.

Now listen again carefully to Ana. Underline the phrases that you hear.

- | | |
|---------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 1 I do the cooking | 4 she never cleans up the kitchen |
| 2 he does the cooking | 5 I said it wasn't acceptable |
| 3 he'd only cleaned the bathroom once | 6 now we don't argue |

Listen again to Sarah and Ana's recordings. Fill in the table below with a tick (✓) to show who mentions which chore.

	hanging out the washing	cleaning up the kitchen	doing the cooking	using the washing machine	cleaning the bathroom
Sarah
Ana

My review

- I can understand people talking about where they live.
- I can understand people talking about who they live with.
- I can understand people talking about which chores they do.
- I can understand what people like about sharing a house.

LIFE IN THE CITY

Getting started

- 1 What is the best thing about life in the city?
- 2 What is the worst thing about life in the city?
- 3 What is there to do in the city?
- 4 What would you do on your ideal day?

Part A

In this recording, Ana talks about life in her city.

1

Listen, then choose the correct answer.

- | | | |
|---|-------------------|--------------|
| 1 Which city does Ana talk about? | a Beijing | b Manchester |
| 2 How does she describe the city? | a small | b large |
| 3 Ana says there are lots of ... | a art exhibitions | b shops |
| 4 Where Ana lives, there aren't very many ... | a shops | b parks |

Clear usage: 'lots of' and 'very little'

To show there are a large number of things, Ana says:

'There's lots of stuff to do.'

To show there's a small amount of something, Ana says:

'There's very little green space.'

Listen again and use the words in the box to fill in the blanks and complete these sentences.

many

lots

little

lots

- 1 There are of art exhibitions.
- 2 And of things on at the cinema.
- 3 There's very green space.
- 4 There aren't very parks near where I live.

Part B

In this recording, Sarah talks about the city where she lives.

1

Listen, then answer the questions to check your general understanding.

- | | | |
|-------------------------------------|---------------|---------------|
| 1 Which city does Sarah talk about? | a London | b Los Angeles |
| 2 How does she describe the city? | a boring | b incredible |
| 3 She dislikes ... | a the weather | b the people |
| 4 She says the people are ... | a fantastic | b rude |

Listening tip: people who speak quickly

Sarah speaks quickly and gives a lot of information in a short space of time. Listen to the recording several times, and each time, listen for just one piece of information.

2

Listen again to Sarah and complete the table with a tick (✓) to show which words or phrases are positive (Good) and which are negative (Bad).

	Good	Bad incredible not that great awful fantastic

Part C

Now listen to Sam talking about what he likes and dislikes about city life.

Add ticks (✓) in the table below to show what Sam likes or dislikes.

	noise	coffee shops	restaurants	cost of life	meeting new people likes dislikes

COBUILD CHECK: 'noise'

Noise is a loud sound.

- I'll never forget the noise from the crowd at the end of the game.
- I can't hear you. There's too much noise.
- There was a lot of noise in the background.

2 Listen again and fill in the blanks to complete the sentences.

- 1 I like going to new and new
- 2 And it's easy to meet my and to meet new
- 3 One of the things I dislike most about living in town is the
- 4 And I don't like the in the city.

Part D

In this recording, Nikki talks about her ideal day in London.

1 Number the pictures to show the correct order of her ideal day.

Clear usage: expressing possibility

To talk about a possibility or something that may happen, Nikki says:

'I would go to the corner shop to buy my breakfast.'

'I could go to my local part of town and go to the market there.'

'I might go to a museum.'

Here are some more examples:

I would listen to music all day if I could.

I could go shopping for a new dress on Saturday.

I might call James this evening if I have time.

2 Listen again to Nikki. Are these statements true or false? Put a tick (✓) to show the correct answer.

	True	False
1 On any day, there's lots to do in the city.
2 Nikki would buy breakfast at the market.
3 You can buy clothes at the market.
4 In the afternoon, she might go to the cinema.
5 Nikki might meet friends for lunch.
6 London has some beautiful parks.

Listening tip: listening to a series of events

Nikki talks about several activities. Note how she uses then to introduce the next activity: 'Then in the afternoon I might ...'; 'Then I might go to ...'

Other words you might hear that link events are: next, afterwards, or later.

3 Listen again to the recording. Listen carefully to what Nikki says about the market. Fill in the table with ticks (✓) to show which things Nikki mentions that you can buy at the market.

	fresh fish	mobile phones	lunch	clothes	breakfast	kitchen-ware	furniture
Yes
No

Nikki says 'I could wander round there' and 'I might have a wander in one of the beautiful parks that London has'. If you wander in a place, you walk around there in a casual way, often without a plan.

My review

- I can understand people talking about the best and worst things about life in the city.
- I can understand people talking about what there is to do in their city.
- I can understand people talking about what they would do on their ideal day.
- I can listen for details about what you can do or buy in a market.

LIFE IN THE COUNTRYSIDE

Getting started

- 1 What does the word 'countryside' mean to you?
- 2 What words do you know to describe the countryside?
- 3 Do you live there now or have you lived there before?
- 4 Would you like to live there in the future?

Part A

What things remind you of the countryside? Animals? Rivers? In this recording, five people tell you what the countryside means to them.

Look at the pictures. Number the pictures in the order you hear them.

Part B

Sam comes from a place in the UK called the New Forest. What does he like about life in the countryside?

1

Put a tick (✓) by the things Sam mentions.

- | | | | |
|----------------------------|-------|-----------------|-------|
| quiet | | friendly people | |
| clean air | | hiking | |
| lots to do in the evenings | | beautiful views | |
| horse-riding | | nice food | |
| going to the sea | | trees | |

COBUILD CHECK: 'be able to'

If you are able to do something, you have skills or qualities that make it possible for you to do it.

- A 10-year-old should be able to prepare a simple meal.
- The company says they're able to keep prices low.

Listen again to Sam. Find a word in the recording which means the same as the phrases below.

- 1 close to
- 2 where the sea meets the land
- 3 where the sea / land meets the sky
- 4 after 6 p.m.
- 5 not in the house
- 6 the best thing
- 7 a break from work

Clear usage: describing a place noun + (be) the water's fresh

the houses are old pronoun + (be)

it's very pretty they are small there + (be)

there's plenty to see

there are farms

3

What words did Sam use to describe the New Forest? Fill the gaps in what he said.

- 1 The 's really clean.
- 2 beautiful views.
- 3 The friendly.
- 4 less to do in the evenings.
- 5 the ideal place to go.

Clear usage: emphasizing a feeling

Sam says: 'what I like about it is that it's quieter and the air's really clean'. But he could just have said 'it's quieter and the air's really clean'.

Sam added what I like about it is to emphasize the verb like. He also stresses this word slightly.

What we demand is jobs!

What the people want is peace and freedom.

What this place needs is a good clean.

Part C

In this recording, we hear Bartley. Bartley is from Teignmouth, a place by the sea in the UK. Listen to him talk about things you can find there.

Look at the pictures and choose the correct word for each.

tourists

river hotels

harbour

countryside

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

Bartley says that the fair comes to town. The fair is an event that happens once a year in the town. There are goods on display at the fair which you can buy, and you can play games to win prizes. There are big, fun machines called rides which you can pay to use.

2

Listen again to Bartley. Are these statements true or false? Put a tick (✓) to show the correct answer.

	True	False
1 Teignmouth is a very different from other English seaside towns.
2 It has a population of 28,000.
3 Bartley thinks Teignmouth is a good place for a child.
4 Bartley thinks Teignmouth is better in winter than in summer.
5 Bartley has changed his opinion of Teignmouth now he is older.

Clear usage: describing a place with 'you have' or 'you get'

Bartley describes Teignmouth in the same way as Sam. He says: 'there's the fiesta in the harbour' and 'it's very pretty'.

But he also uses an informal way of describing a place. He says: 'you have the beach, you have a river, you have the countryside' and 'you get people that come on holiday'.

You have and you get is the same as saying you can see (the following things:). This is common in spoken English, but not in written English.

3 Bartley now compares Teignmouth to London. He talks about the things he 'misses' – the things he is sad he does not have now. Listen and write down the things Bartley misses.

4 Listen again. First, find the missing word in the expression on the left. Then match them with the meanings on the right.

- | | |
|--------------------------------|---|
| 1 you really miss | a did not see how valuable and good it was |
| 2 I took it for | b see something unusual |
| 3 you that every day | c realize how valuable and good something was |
| 4 but it makes you more | d feel sad because you do not have something you used to have |

Useful vocabulary and phrases: things you miss from the past

It's sad that the area is not as quiet as it used to be.

I'm sorry that I don't live next to a river any more.

Thinking about it now, I had a wonderful childhood.

I regret not staying in touch with old friends.

Looking back, the city used to be much dirtier than it is now.

I took it for granted that I could visit them easily.

My review

- I can recognize common vocabulary for talking about the countryside.
- I can understand language describing what a person likes about a place.
- I can recognize language used to talk about somewhere you miss.

9 LIVING IN ANOTHER COUNTRY

Getting started

- 1 Have you ever lived in another country?
- 2 If you have, what was different about that country?
- 3 What new experiences did you have?
- 4 Did the experience change you?

Part A

In this recording, five people speak about a part of their life they spent living in another country.

1

Which country or city did they live in and how long did they live there for?

	Country or city?	How long?
1	Japan	1 year
3

Listening tip: listening for numbers

If you are listening for key information like numbers, ask yourself what the number might be: small numbers or big numbers. Will they be spoken as cardinal numbers (one, two, three, etc.) or ordinal numbers (first, second, third, etc.)? Think about the words which they might say with the number (e.g. years old, hours, people, per cent) and listen for them in the audio.

Part B

In this recording, Pauline, from New Zealand, speaks about how she went to live in Austria when she was a student.

1

Read the questions and listen for the numbers in her story.

- 1 How old was Pauline when she went to Austria?
- 2 How many hours was the flight from New Zealand to Austria?
- 3 How many years did she live with the family in Austria?
- 4 How old were the little boy and little girl in the Austrian family? and
- 5 How many people lived in the small Austrian village?

Pauline says she had a host brother and sister. A host family is a family who invite someone, often a student from another country, to stay with them in their home.

Useful vocabulary and phrases: away from home

I'm homesick.

I want to give (someone) a call.

I have jetlag.

I got up at 3 in the morning and I'm tired.

I love backpacking.

I'm an independent traveller.

I'm staying with a host family in the town.

I'm at the hostel in the centre of the city.

2 Listen again to Pauline and read the statements below. Are these statements true or false? Put a tick (✓) to show the correct answer.

	True	False
1 Pauline had a job in Austria.
2 Pauline couldn't speak German well before she got to Austria.
3 Pauline knew a lot about Austria before she went there.
4 Pauline lived in somebody's house in Austria.
5 Pauline was often unhappy in Austria.

Clear usage: 'used to'

Pauline says: 'it was very different to what I was used to'.

In unit 3 you heard 'I used to spend all my time reading'. They are using used to in two different ways.

Pauline says used to to talk about a situation she is familiar with, that she knows very well. Used to + noun.

I have lived here in this city for two years, so I'm used to the noise and traffic.

In unit 3 the speaker says used to to talk about something she often did in the past, but does not do now. Used to + verb.

When I was young I used to wear short trousers.

- 3 Listen again. Think about the true and false answers in exercise 2. Look at the pictures and complete the sentences.

Action

Sentence

I went to there.

I learned to speak another

I got to know another

I lived with a

I didn't get very

Part C

On the next two tracks, Celia speaks about how she left England to live in Japan for a 'gap year'.

- 1 Read the questions and choose the best ending to each sentence.

- | | | |
|---|---------------------|---------------------------|
| 1 During a gap year, students often ... | a study. | b go travelling. |
| 2 In Japan, Celia lived ... | a with her friends. | b with a Japanese family. |
| 3 Celia worked in Japan ... | a at a school. | b at a company. |
| 4 Celia stayed in Japan ... | a for a year. | b for eighteen years. |
| 5 Celia thought that Japanese and English family life ... | a were similar. | b were different. |

- 2 The sentences below gave you the answers to exercise 1. Listen again and complete the missing phrase.

- They often work to save enough money and then sometimes they
- I stayed with a Japanese family who were of
- Once I was out there I was able to earn money
- I was away for a
- I was living with a Japanese family who were from my family.

COBUILD CHECK: 'gap'

A gap is a space between two things:

- There was a narrow gap between the curtains.
- His horse escaped through a gap in the fence.

A gap year is a period of time during which a student takes a break from studying after they have finished school and before they start college or university. This expression is mainly British.

- I went around the world in my gap year.

Read the summary of track 31 below and think about what words might be missing. Listen to the recording and find the words to fill the gaps in this summary.

Celia's time in Japan made her think about Japanese and English and also about who she was – her She began to ..... her own English family more. Her Japanese host parents were very
..... and didn't allow their children much or

Listening tip: false starts

You have heard ums and uhs in the recordings and also repeated words (see transcript for how these appear in the recording). Another feature of natural speech is false starts. This is when a speaker might begin a sentence, and then change the way they express themselves in the middle.

They may change a word. Celia changes when for once: 'And then when – once I was out there I was able to ...'

They may add a phrase. Celia adds for me: 'Um ... it ... for me it was ... um ... the first time I'd been away from my family.'

Or they may stop completely and restart the sentence. Celia says: 'It just gave me a real ... um ... It allowed me to look in depth in – into Japanese culture.'

10 GETTING AROUND

Getting started

- 1 Can you ask how to get somewhere?
- 2 Would you understand the answer?
- 3 Can you name landmarks and buildings often found in cities?
- 4 Can you understand directions on the phone?

Part A

In this recording, you will hear Shawn, a visitor to London from the United States, asking directions to different places.

Look at the pictures. Listen to the recording and write the name of the location under the picture.

Clear usage: imperative sentences

When listening to directions you will often hear the sentence start with a verb. This is the most common way of giving clear instructions.

go up this road here

walk for about five minutes

keep on going down

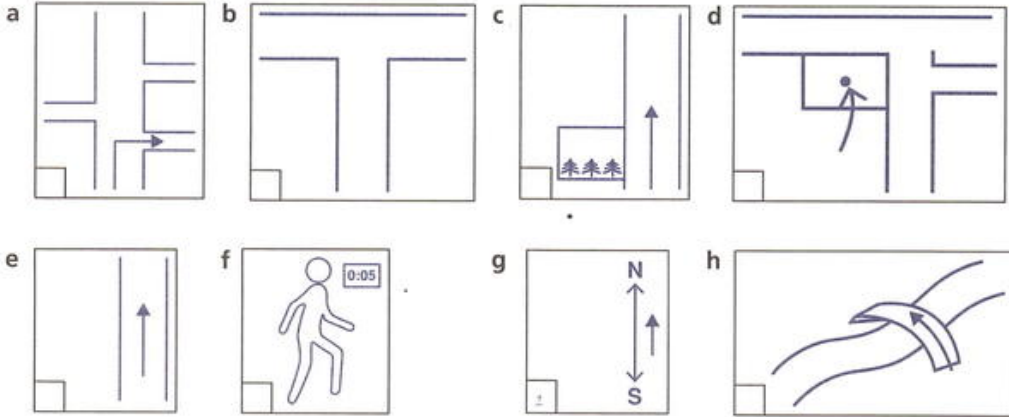

take the first left

American English and British English sometimes use different words for the same thing – here the American speaker says 'Where is the closest movie theatre here?' The other (British) person replies 'Oh, you mean the cinema?'

Look at the signs and directions below. Listen to the recording and write the number next to the correct picture.

Look at the map below and listen to the full recording of Shawn asking for directions. Number the places on the map for each of the directions that are given.

Listening tip: polite speech

When you say thank you to an English speaker, they may say:

You're (very) welcome.

No worries.

No problem.

Any time.

They all mean I'm pleased to help you.

4 What else did you remember? Fill in the missing information from these sentences. Listen again to the recording if you can't remember.

- 1 The Apollo Theatre is about hundred metres away.
- 2 The cinema is called Studios.
- 3 The hospital is a big building.
- 4 The hotel is on a road called
- 5 You can get to the sports ground by

Part B

Now let's try some longer directions given over the phone. Listen to the phone conversation Shawn had with his cousin Lorna when he arrived at the airport.

1 Tick (✓) the locations she mention on the way to her house.

2 Read the questions first, then play the recording. The questions check your general understanding. Play the recording again if you need to.

- 1 Where is Shawn?
a At the airport. b At Lorna's house. c In America.

- 2 Where is Shawn going?
 - a To the airport.
 - b To Lorna's house
 - c Piccadilly
- 3 Where does Lorna live?
 - a Heathrow
 - b Piccadilly
 - c Hammersmith
- 4 Which type of transport does Shawn take?
 - a Tube
 - b Bus
 - c Taxi
- 5 What luggage does Shawn have?
 - a one suitcase
 - b one backpack
 - c two backpacks
- 6 What road does Lorna live on?
 - a Fulham Palace Road
 - b Charing Cross Road
 - c Ellaline Road
- 7 What colour is Lorna's door?
 - a Red
 - b Blue
 - c Black

Clear usage: 'if' sentences

When giving directions many people use some if-sentences (conditionals) instead of the imperative.

Adding a few of these sounds a little more polite. Lorna says:

'if you head for the tube stop, you'll see signs for the underground'.

'if you pass the supermarket, [...] that'll take you out the right exit of the shopping centre'.

- 3 Complete Shawn's notes of the way to Lorna's house.

Take the line from the airport. Get off at station.

Take the exit marked for the , go through the Walk down Fulham Palace Road for minutes.

Past the park on your , and a hospital on your

Take the turn on the right after the Lorna's house - from the end on the left.

My review

I can recognize the name of places and landmarks around the city.

I can understand simple directions.

I can follow a series of directions.

11 STUDYING AND LEARNING

Getting started

- 1 What/where have you studied previously?
- 2 What have you learned to do – e.g. play a musical instrument or drive a car?
- 3 What should someone do if they want to learn this?

Part A

In this recording, five people answer the question 'What have you studied previously?' or 'Where have you studied previously?'

Look at the words below. Number the photos in the order you hear them.

English

Music

University of Exeter

Argentina

English & Biology

2

Listen again carefully to the five people. Match the subject or location (on the left) with the correct phrase (on the right).

- | | |
|------------------------|------------------------------------|
| 1 English | a 'the university in Buenos Aires' |
| 2 English and Biology | b 'I studied music' |
| 3 Argentina | c 'I did two degrees there' |
| 4 University of Exeter | d 'a double major' |
| 5 Music | e 'I really enjoyed it' |

One of the speakers mentions a double major. At a university or college in the United States, a student's major is the main subject that they are studying. A double major means that two main subjects are being studied.

Part B

Kerry is from New York. She recently completed an MBA at university.

Listen to the recording. Choose the correct answer for each of the following questions.

- | | | | | | |
|---|-------------------|---|------------------------------------|---|----------------------------|
| 1 | MBA stands for | a | Masters of Business Administration | b | Marine Biology Association |
| 2 | Kerry studied at | a | the University of Cambridge | b | the University of Oxford |
| 3 | You can do an MBA | a | anywhere in Europe | b | anywhere in the world |
| 4 | Kerry studied for | a | two years | b | twelve months |
| 5 | The work is | a | stressful | b | easy |

Listening tip: multiple-choice answers

Look at all the possible answers and imagine how they might sound. Listen carefully before you decide which answer you hear. Listen again to check your answers.

COBUILD CHECK: 'attend'

If you attend a school, college, or university, you go there regularly.

- They attended college together.
- Their children attend private schools.
- She moved east to attend university.

Now listen again and fill in the gaps in what Kerry says. Use the words in the box below.

working	doing	did	attended	learn	offer
---------	-------	-----	----------	-------	-------

- 1 When I was my MBA.
- 2 I full time for about one year at the university.
- 3 Most universities the MBA as a two-year course.
- 4 although the one I was twelve months.
- 5 It is also, for some, sort of a break from work and a chance to something new.
- 6 And oftentimes the friendships you form when so hard can be the most rewarding part.

Kerry uses the word oftentimes. This is an American word. It has the same meaning as often.

3 Complete the table to give the correct details about what Kerry did.

Name:
University:
Course of study:
Number of months:

Clear usage: 'study' vs 'learn'

	study	learn
meaning	spend time learning about a particular subject	get knowledge or a skill common patterns	'study' + (subject)	'learn' + 'about' + (subject) 'learn' + 'to' + (verb)
examples	She studied History and Economics. He is studying Music at university.	She learned about History and Economics. I learned to drive a car when I was seventeen.

Part C

Useful vocabulary and phrases: learning to play a musical instrument chord (= musical notes played at the same time) lesson (= a time when you learn something) play along (= produce music while listening to music)

cover (= to play or record a new version of an old song)

Dave is from Northern Ireland. In the recording, he offers advice to anyone wanting to learn to play the guitar.

1 Listen to the recording. Are these statements true or false? Put a tick (✓) to show the correct answer.

	True	False
1 Dave has been playing the guitar for ten years.
2 He recommends that you don't learn chords.
3 You should play along with music you like.
4 He recommends lessons.
5 He recommends playing music with friends.
6 You should learn just two or three chords.

2 Match each phrase on the left with one on the right to create a list of the advice that Dave gives.

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|--|
| 1 Take some time to ... | a lessons. |
| 2 I wouldn't really recommend ... | b friends playing different instruments. |
| 3 Try to play along with ... | c learn chord structures. |
| 4 Get together with your ... | d what you like. |

Dave says 'you could even get together with some of your friends'. This means you could meet with friends.

3 Now listen again and fill in the gaps in what Dave says. Use the words in the box below.

trying playing taking learn get together

- I've been the guitar for about ten years now.
- I would recommend just some time to learn the chord structures.
- and then to learn some of the chords to the music that you like.
- It's more fun initially to just the basics and try to play along with what you like.
- You could even with some of your friends playing different instruments.

Clear usage: 'should' + (verb)

Dave says: 'You should learn probably about six or seven chords'. You use should when you are describing the best thing to do in a particular situation.

You should exercise more.

We should wait a while longer.

You shouldn't stay up so late.

What should I do?

12 STARTING WORK

Getting started

- 1 What was your first job? Did you like it?
- 2 What questions might employers ask you?
- 3 What skills or qualities do employers look for?
- 4 What's it like to look for a job? Is it difficult or easy?

Part A

In this recording, you will hear the speaker ask five questions about your first job.

The following answers were given to these questions. Write the number of the question they answer.

- I was sixteen years old.
- About 8 weeks.
- I hated the whole job.
- I worked in a toy store.
- About $5.50 an hour.

Look at the table below. Listen to five speakers answer the questions and complete the table.

Where was your first job?	How old were you?	How much were you paid?	How long did you spend there?	Did you enjoy it?
 smoked salmon factory	16	£3.50	1 day	No
 store	X
 kiosk		X	X

Where was your first job?	How old were you?	How much were you paid?	How long did you spend there?	Did you enjoy it?

Part B

Rosie works in Human Resources. When people want to work for her company, she asks them certain questions.

- 1 Listen to the questions Rosie asks. Number each question in the order you hear them.

What qualifications do you have?

Do you have a valid driving licence?

What experience do you have that is relevant for this role?

And can you tell me what you know about the company already?

Have you worked in a similar job before?

Are you able to work in the evenings or the weekends?

- 2 Listen again carefully to Rosie's questions. Match the words she uses (on the left) with words or phrases with similar meanings (on the right).

1 experience

a important

2 qualifications

b acceptable

3 relevant

c card that shows you are allowed to drive

4 company

d knowledge or skill in a job you have done for a long time

5 valid

e exam results or skills

6 driving licence

f business

Part C

Now listen to Caroline, who is a manager in a large business based in London. She is currently looking for someone to work for her company.

1

Caroline talks about the most important things she is looking for. Put a tick (✓) next to the things Caroline mentions.

- | | | | |
|----------------------|-------|-----------------|-------|
| communication skills | | experience | |
| technical skills | | driving licence | |
| research | | qualifications | |
| dressing smartly | | handshake | |

Clear usage: present continuous + 'at the moment'

Caroline says: 'I'm recruiting at the moment'. This means she is looking now for someone to work for her company. Note that she uses the present continuous form (recruiting) to show that this is something she is doing now.

Listen again carefully to Caroline. Circle the correct word to complete each phrase that she uses.

- 1 It's a junior / senior / part-time position, within a sales team.
- 2 I'm looking for somebody who is a good writer / speaker / communicator.
- 3 Somebody who gets on with people, and also is willing to learn / work / study.
- 4 Somebody who's thought about the company that they're going to work for, so they've done some thinking / research / work.
- 5 Age / Experience / Personality is important when you're employing somebody.
- 6 It's important to think about how you look / you behave / you're dressed.
- 7 Dressing smartly / casually / formally gives a good impression.
- 8 A handshake is very important 'cause it gives a bad / positive / negative impression.

Part D

In this recording, Sara talks about looking for a job.

1

Read the statements first, and then play the recording. Are these statements true or false? Put a tick (✓) to show the correct answer.

	True	False
1 Sara has a job now.
2 Sara has worked for a long time.
3 Sara thinks it is easy to find a job.
4 Sara is hopeful she will get a job.
5 Sara works for charities.

Sara says she has 'an updated CV'. A CV is the sheet of information that shows an employer all about your education, work experience and qualifications. In America and some other English-speaking countries, it is called a résumé.

2 What information does Sara give? Read the questions below. You can tick (✓) more than one answer.

- 1 Where does Sara look to find a job?
 agencies websites on TV
- 2 What advantages does Sara have?
 friends with jobs good qualifications lots of experience
- 3 What advice does Sara give?
 have an updated CV call employers be disciplined
- 4 What does Sara say makes it hard to find a job?
 bad employers a lot of unemployment not being organized

Clear usage: 'have to' + (verb)

Sara says: 'you have to be very disciplined with yourself – you have to make sure that you don't just sleep in'.

You use have to + (the infinitive of the verb) when you want to say that it is very important that something is done. For example:

I have to get to work before eight. My boss is very strict.

You'll have to study hard if you want to pass your exams.

3 Listen again. What verbs does Sara use to talk about trying to find a job? Find the right words / phrases in the box.

comes up have to make sure have to applying for looking for look for

- 1 I don't need to very long in order to get a job.
- 2 I seven years of work experience.
- 3 If a job in that sector I have a good chance of getting it.
- 4 depending on which job I'm
- 5 a job can be quite hard.
- 6 So you be very disciplined.
- 7 that you're applying every single day.

My review

I can understand people talking about their first jobs.

I can understand questions an employer might ask.

I can understand language about important skills or qualities that employers look for.

I can understand people talking about looking for a job.

13 WORKING FROM HOME

Getting started

- 1 Do you work from home?
- 2 If you don't, would you like to and why?
- 3 Is there anything you wouldn't like about it?

Part A

In this recording, you will hear four people talk about working from home.

- 1 Number the photos in the order you hear them.

Furniture maker

Translator

Caterer

Childminder

- 2 Listen again. Use the speaker's words to answer the questions below.

- 1 What does the first speaker help the kids do?
- 2 What does the second speaker translate into German?
- 3 What does the third speaker prepare for her clients? and
- 4 What types of furniture does the fourth speaker make? and

Part B

In this recording, Abie talks about working from home as a writer.

- 1 Look at the table below and fill in the information about her work.

How long?	Why?	Job
Good points	Bad points	Does she enjoy it?

COBUILD CHECK: 'suits'

If something suits you, it is the best thing for you in a particular situation.

- I love my country. I like it there. It suits me.
- It was an arrangement which suited them both.

2 Listen again and complete the phrases using the definitions on the right.

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|---------------------|
| 1 a long | the journey to work |
| 2 I'm there | organized and ready |
| 3 at your desk | unable to move |
| 4 the children after school | collect |
| 5 the work | going very fast |
| 6 I'm quite at home | doing a lot of work |

3 Abie uses the words and phrases in the box to give reasons and explain things. Use them to complete what she says. You might have to use them more than once.

means	because	just to	in that	'cause	so
-------	---------	---------	---------	--------	----

- 1 ... it suits me very well I've small children, I have to take them to school.
- 2 ... working from home I'm nearer to their school.
- 3 I'm a writer it's quite easy for me to work from home.
- 4 ... go to the shop and buy something small get out of the house.
- 5 you feel a bit stuck at your desk otherwise.
- 6 But often the day goes very quickly I'm racing through the work.
- 7 You have to be quite self-disciplined you're the one that makes yourself ...

Useful vocabulary and phrases: giving reasons and explanations

Because, since and as are normally followed by a verb:

- I make furniture because I enjoy it.
 Childminding suits me since I really love kids.
 I'm going back to work as I need the money.

Because of, due to and thanks to are normally followed by a noun:

- Because of the weather, the event was cancelled.
 I can't finish the job on time due to circumstances beyond my control.
 The book sold well thanks to an excellent translation.

1

Dave also works at home. Does he have a similar experience to Abie?

Are these statements true for Abie and Dave? Tick (✓) the boxes which you think are true.

	Abie	Dave
They work from home every day.
It's a long way from their homes to work / the city.
They use a computer for work.
They stay in touch with work during the day.
They like to see people during the day.
They prefer to work at home all the time.

Complete the gaps in what Dave says with the verbs in the box.

access rely on provides keep up with connect into do

- 1 My company remote access.
- 2 I the network ...
- 3 ... and all the same files.
- 4 It was pretty easy to things.
- 5 Go out and errands.
- 6 You kind of email.

Clear usage: 'kind of'

Dave says: 'you kind of rely on email'. Kind of is an informal expression meaning the same as 'a little' or 'in some way'. You will hear it a lot in spoken English, but not often in written English. You may hear it:

before adjectives: It's kind of dark in here. Turn on the light.

before verbs: I kind of need my book for my homework. Can I have it back?

before adverbs: He left the shop kind of quickly when he saw the police officer coming in.

3

Like Abie, Dave also gives reasons and explanations using because and so. Listen again and note down what Dave is explaining.

- 1 I work from home because
- 2 It's about an hour's drive so
- 3 It's good 'cause

- 4 I do miss being able to just go up to someone and ask a question, because
- 5 It can be hard to stay motivated, just because so

Clear usage: 'because' and 'so'

We use because to introduce a reason for a situation:

[result] because [reason]

I work from home because I live quite far from my office.

It's quite easy for me to work from home because I'm a writer.

We use so to introduce the result of a reason:

[reason] so [result]

I live quite far from my office so I sometimes work from home.

I'm a writer so it's quite easy for me to work from home.

What does Dave think will happen in the future? Read the statements first, then play the recording. Are these statements true or false? Put a tick (✓) to show the correct answer.

	True	False
1 Dave thinks that in the future more people will work from home.
2 Dave thinks people don't work well when they are at home.
3 Dave thinks working from home makes people happy.
4 When Dave is in the office he always talks to people before sending them an email.

Dave says that 'you can access everything you need to' from home. This means that you have everything you need to do your job from home. If you access information on a computer, you find or get it.

My review

- I can listen for basic details when someone describes their job.
- I can identify particular vocabulary about homeworking.
- I can compare descriptions of people's experiences of work.
- I can understand when someone is giving reasons or explanations.

14 YOUR CAREER

Getting started

- 1 What job do you do?
- 2 What did you do before that?
- 3 How did you find it?
- 4 What would you like to do in the future?

Part A

In this recording, Hazel talks about her job.

1

Answer the questions to test your general understanding.

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1 Hazel works for a a bank

a six people
b three people |
| 3 She has worked there for a three years
b four years | 6 She finds her job
a demanding
b relaxing |

Clear usage: 'for' and 'in'

- Hazel works for a supermarket (= she is employed by the company)
- Hazel works in the finance department (= this is the place where she works)
- Hazel works in finance (= her job is related to this industry)

Listen again carefully to Hazel. She talks about the past, present and future. Fill in the gaps using the correct word from the box.

Part B

Now listen to Patrick talking about his previous job working with customers.

1 Which of these statements best describes how Patrick feels?

- a Working with customers was always very pleasant.
- b Working with customers was sometimes pleasant and sometimes stressful.
- c Working with customers was always very stressful.

Useful vocabulary and phrases: describing jobs

Positive	Negative
demanding	difficult
challenging	dull
busy	slow
pleasant	stressful

2 Listen again to both Hazel and Patrick. They use positive and negative adjectives to describe their jobs. Complete the table with a tick (✓) to show who uses each adjective.

	demanding	pleasant	busy	stressful	challenging
Hazel
Patrick

COBUILD CHECK: 'deal with'

When you deal with something or someone, you give your attention to them.

- Could you deal with this customer, please?
- We make sure that any complaints are dealt with quickly and fairly.
- I'm not sure I can deal with that right now.
- We need to take care when dealing with financial matters.
- How are you going to deal with this situation?

- 3 Listen again carefully to Patrick. He talks about how he dealt with customers. Fill in the gaps using the correct word/phrase from the box.

happy complain face to face deal with stressful requested

- 1 I had to deal with customers on a daily basis.
- 2 Dealing with customers could be quite
- 3 A lot of my job as a manager was to their complaints.
- 4 I didn't have the pleasure of dealing with the people who were all the time.
- 5 ... but just the people who to speak with the manager.

Part C

Mary works for a university. In this recording, Mary talks about retirement. Listen to the recording.

- 1 Are these statements true or false? Put a tick (✓) to show the correct answer.

	True	False
1 Mary could stop working soon.
2 She is not entitled to a pension.
3 Universities are hiring more staff.
4 Mary likes the idea of retirement.

Mary says 'I'm not far off retirement now'. Retirement is when people leave their job and usually stop working completely. In the UK, the standard age for retirement is around 65. What about where you're from?

Listening tip: matching words with similar meanings

When you are matching words or phrases, here are some tips to help you find the correct answer:

- Read all the words and phrases before you listen.
- Listen carefully to how the words or phrases are used to help you understand their meanings.

Once you have matched these words and you know what they mean, try to use them yourself in a sentence.

2 Listen carefully to Mary again. Match the words or phrases Mary uses (on the left) with ones which have similar meanings (on the right).

- | | |
|----------------------|--|
| 1 not far off | a allowed |
| 2 retirement | b reducing the number of |
| 3 pension | c fast and busy |
| 4 entitled | d activities you enjoy |
| 5 cutting down on | e money you receive after you stop working |
| 6 hurried | f (an action) done because someone else has made you do it |
| 7 do things you want | g close to |
| 8 forced | h the time when you stop working |

Mary says that she doesn't mind if she has to retire.

If you don't mind something, you don't feel annoyed or angry about it. You feel relaxed about it.

Other examples:

- It was hard work, but she didn't mind.
- I don't mind the hot weather.

3 Listen again carefully to Mary. Choose the correct word to complete each phrase that Mary uses.

- 1 I'm not far off retirement / pension / university now.
- 2 I could take a retirement / pension / holiday now. I'm entitled to one.
- 3 There may not even be any food / money / work come September.
- 4 Universities are cutting down on the staff / workers / employees.
- 5 It will / could / might be a forced retirement!
- 6 ... but I don't mind / care / know really.
- 7 It'll be nice just to have a less hurried job / day / life.
- 8 ... a little bit more of the things you want / need / like.

My review

- I can understand people talking about where they work and what they do.
- I can understand people talking about previous jobs.
- I can understand how people feel about their jobs.
- I can understand people talking about what they will do in the future.

15 YOUR FUTURE

Getting started

- 1 If you could live anywhere, where would you choose?
- 2 If you could do anything, what would you do?
- 3 What would be your ideal job?
- 4 Why would you like to do these things?

Part A

Oscar is from Sweden. He lives in London now. In this recording, he talks about where he would like to live and what he would like to do in the future.

1

Listen to the recording then answer the questions to test your general understanding.

- 1 Oscar currently works with ... a animals b computers c children
- 2 He would like to live ...
a in the city b in the countryside c near the ocean
- 3 He says that in London, there's not a lot of ...
a people b nature c money
- 4 He'd like to work as ...
a a doctor b a teacher c a blacksmith
- 5 He'd like to create things with ... a his hands b machines c other people
- 6 He'd feel better because of ... a the money he'd get b the exercise he'd get c the people

Oscar talks about the job of a 'blacksmith'. A blacksmith is a person whose job is making things out of metal.

2 Listen again carefully to Oscar. Match the words he uses (on the left) with the correct meanings (on the right).

- | | |
|-----------------------------|--|
| 1 IT professional | a things that you hold in your hands and use to do a particular kind of work |
| 2 nature | b very attractive to look at |
| 3 tools | c a person who works with computers |
| 4 physical | d a feeling that you have made or done something special |
| 5 a sense of accomplishment | e trees, plants, and animals |
| 6 beautiful | f connected with a person's body, not their mind |

Listening tip: matching words to meanings

- Listen carefully for each word or phrase as it is spoken in the recording.
- Try to listen to the whole sentence to help you understand the meaning of the word or phrase.
- Listen to the whole recording – the word or phrase may be repeated.

Clear usage: conditional form

Oscar uses the conditional form: 'It would be very physical'.

We use the conditional form of verbs to talk about situations that do not exist now, but may exist in the future:

'would' + (verb), e.g. I would feel happy

'would like to' + (verb), e.g. I would like to go there.

3 Listen again to Oscar. Decide if each of these words and statements are about his current job or his ideal job. Put a tick (✓) in the correct column.

	current job	ideal job
1 blacksmith
2 IT professional
3 in the countryside
4 works with hands
5 makes tools from metal
6 can't create anything you can touch
7 can create something beautiful
8 in the city
9 fixes computers

COBUILD CHECK: 'ideally'

If you say that ideally something should happen, you mean that you would like it to happen, but know it may not be possible.

- Ideally, I'd like the bathroom to be even bigger.
- People should, ideally, eat much less fat.

4 Listen again carefully to Oscar. What verbs does Oscar use to talk about what he would like to do? Find the right verbs in the box.

feel	like	be	be	move	work
------	------	----	----	------	------

- 1 Ideally I would like to away from London, where I live now.
- 2 What I would about living in the countryside is probably the clean air.
- 3 I would like to as a blacksmith.
- 4 It would very nice to work as a blacksmith.
- 5 I would probably exhausted at the end of the day.
- 6 I think I would much better if I were a blacksmith.

Part B

Laura is from Los Angeles in America. She talks about her ideal job and why she would like to do this.

1 Are these statements true or false? Put a tick (✓) to show the correct answer.

	True	False
1 Laura currently works in real estate in Los Angeles.
2 She currently works as a travel blogger.
3 She would like to work as a professional travel blogger.
4 She enjoys sharing her photos and experiences with other people.
5 She would like to work as a doctor.
6 She went to the Croatian Islands last summer.
7 She is planning a trip to the Croatian Islands next summer.

Laura talks about travel blogging. Blogging is the activity of writing a blog. A blog is a website that describes the daily life of the person who writes it, and also their thoughts and ideas. A travel blogger is someone who writes a blog about travel.

2 Listen again carefully to Laura. Choose the correct word to complete each phrase that she uses.

- 1 If I could pick anything to do, I'd love to get paid to write / travel / talk.
- 2 I would love to create my own website and be able to share / view / create and upload photos.
- 3 When you're on travel advice / writing / blogging sites you're hearing from so many different people.
- 4 "Wow, you know what? If she liked it, I know I'm gonna love / like / hate it."
- 5 You know, next summer I'm already planning a trip with my girlfriends to the Croatian capital / Islands / coast.
- 6 When I get back from there I just can't wait to post / send / print all the photos about the places I've been.
- 7 There are so many things, um, I would love to speak / write / talk about.
- 8 If I could get paid to do that, I can't think of a good / better / worse job on the planet.

Laura says she 'just can't wait'. If you can't wait to do something, you are very excited about it.

3 Listen again carefully to Laura. Match the words she uses (on the left) with the correct meanings (on the right).

- | | |
|------------------------|--|
| 1 to get paid | a feel that you understand someone |
| 2 professional | b be given money for doing something |
| 3 get caught up in | c a permanent job |
| 4 hype | d become influenced by |
| 5 relate to one person | e publicity or advertising to make people interested |
| 6 post | f send information to a website |

4 Listen again to Laura. Complete the table with ticks (✓) to show which information about her trip Laura thinks she might share.

videos	the wildlife	the nightlife	the beaches	places she's been	places she ate in	places she swam	photos

My review

- I can understand people talking about where they would like to live in the future.
- I can understand people talking about what work they would like to do in the future.
- I can understand people describing their ideal job.
- I can understand people's reasons for wanting to do particular things.

16 FOOD

Getting started

- 1 What's your favourite food?
- 2 Do you enjoy cooking?
- 3 What words do you know for describing food?
- 4 Do you prefer the food of another culture?

Part A

In this recording, you will hear people talking about their favourite type of food or meal.

1

Put the name of the type of food or meal under the correct picture. You can listen as many times as you like.

Part B

In this recording, Abie talks about making pancakes for her children at the weekend.

What ingredients does Abie mention? Tick (✓) the photos.

COBUILD CHECK: 'reminds me'

If something reminds you of another person or event, it has features which make you think of them or it.

- It's the first record I ever had and it reminds me of my childhood.
- He reminds me of myself.
- It reminds me of the movie 'Jaws' where the mayor didn't want to tell the tourists that there was a shark in the water.

2 Listen again. What measurements does Abie use?

- 1 of plain flour
- 2 or so of baking power
- 3 of sugar
- 4 eggs
- 5 of butter
- 6 of milk

Useful vocabulary and phrases: food measurements

Some food measurements in recipes are related to kitchen equipment:

a teaspoon

a tablespoon

a dessertspoon

a cup

Other measurements are more specific:

For weight: gram (g), kilogram (kg), ounce (oz), pound (lb)

For liquids: millilitre (ml), litres (l), fluid ounce (fl oz), pint (pt)

Clear usage: 'about', 'around' and '...or so'

Abie uses some words and expressions which mean not quite or not exactly: 'around 225 grams of plain flour' and 'about 30 grams'. Here are some more words or expressions which mean not exactly:

Roughly 100 people live in that block of flats.

It will take approximately 30 minutes to cook.

I should be more or less finished by 5pm.

The box is almost full.

There were something like 20 people who arrived late.

I'd say they'll be more interested in the film than the book.

- 3 What words does Abie use to describe how she makes the pancakes? Use the verbs below to fill the gaps in what she says.

wait	heat	put	melt	flip	mix
------	------	-----	------	------	-----

- 1 some butter
- 2 them altogether
- 3 a pan
- 4 a little bit of butter in
- 5 for bubbles to form on the top of the mixture
- 6 the pancake over

Listening tip: intonation in lists

Listen to Abie's intonation (the sound of her voice) when she says what the children put on their pancakes:

'They cover their pancakes with maple syrup, or honey, or chocolate spread, or sometimes lemon and sugar.'

A speaker's intonation usually rises on each thing in a list, then falls on the last thing.

Part C

In this recording, Chris, an American living in the UK, talks about the food he likes to eat in both countries.

1

What ingredients does Chris mention? Tick (✓) the photos.

COBUILD CHECK: 'goes with'

If one thing goes with another thing it means they make each other better:

- The handsome scarf and hat that went with the suit.
- If there are words that go with a piece of music ...

2 Are these statements true or false? Put a tick (✓) to show the correct answer.

	True	False
1 Chris thinks the UK has great Mexican food.
2 Chris doesn't like Indian food at all.
3 Chris thinks that some people don't know what Mexican food is really like.
4 Chris thinks the most important thing about Mexican food is the spice.
5 Chris says that Mexican food is mostly meat and beans.

Useful vocabulary and phrases: adjectives that describe tastes

hot	fresh	savoury
bitter	mild	stale
bland	rich	sour
creamy	salty	sweet

3 Listen again and complete the gaps in what Chris says with words and phrases about food.

tastes	goes with	flavour	veggie	spices	fresh
--------	-----------	---------	--------	--------	-------

- 1 There's a real depth of there.
- 2 It has to be very ingredients, a lot of bright
- 3 There are there but it's not about fire.
- 4 It's very -heavy.
- 5 it kind of a little bit of everything.

My review

- I can recognize expressions of preference for meals and food types.
- I can follow descriptions of recipes including ingredients and quantities.
- I can understand words for describing food.
- I can understand descriptions of food cultures from different countries.

GAMES AND SPORTS

Getting started

- 1 Which games or sports do you enjoy?
- 2 Why do you like them?
- 3 Do you prefer playing or watching?
- 4 How often do you play them?

Part A

In this recording, six people answer the question 'Which games or sports do you enjoy?'

1

Look at the pictures. Number the pictures in the order you hear them.

baseball

golf football (UK)

running squash

soccer (US)

Speaker 2 describes sport as huge in her country. This means that sport is very popular there.

Speaker 4 describes her sport as 'a huge favourite'. This means that she really enjoys this sport.

Clear usage: 'soccer' vs 'football'

2 Listen again carefully to the six people. Fill in the table with ticks (✓) to show which information goes with each sport.

	plays twice a week	likes watching	plays with friends	played from age 4 or 5 soccer
squash
baseball

Listening tip: focus on the question

When they are answering a question, people often give extra information. Sometimes this can help you to understand better. But try to stay focused on the important information while you listen.

Part B

Now listen to Hazel talking about a sport she enjoys playing.

1 Answer the questions to check your general understanding.

- 1 Hazel plays ... a hockey b golf
- 2 She likes ... a playing alone b playing in a team
- 3 She used to be a member of a ... a club b gym
- 4 She found going there ... a fun b difficult
- 5 She prefers ... a outdoor sports b team sports

- 2 Listen again to Hazel. Fill in the gaps with words from the box to complete what she says.

like	interact	being	go	playing
------	----------	-------	----	---------

- I like team sports.
- It's nice to with a team.
- I found it quite difficult to motivate myself to
- I kind of prefer in a team sport.
- That's why I playing hockey.

Hazel says 'you're just sort of having fun'.

You use sort of to talk about how something is in a general, but not exact way.

You may also hear kind of, which has the same meaning.

Part C

Now listen to a recording of Tim talking about a sport he enjoys watching.

- 1 Answer the questions to check your general understanding.

- Tim's favourite sport is ...
 - rugby
 - baseball
 - hockey
- The sport can be played by ...
 - tall players
 - small players
 - every kind of player
- Tim watches a particular tournament ...
 - every week

- 3 It means that you get, uh, a great of people who enjoy the sport.
- 4 The '..... Nations' rugby tournament is an annual tournament.
- 5 Teams from England,, Scotland, Wales,
- 6 ... and, most recently joined,

Tim says that rugby is a sport which 'generates great team spirit'.

Team spirit is the feeling of pride and loyalty that makes players want their team to do well or to be the best.

3 Listen again to both Hazel and Tim's recordings. They both talk about being in a team. Listen for the expressions below and complete the table with a tick (✓) to show who says each one.

	Hazel	Tim
I like playing in a team working towards the same goal together as a team you get a great variety of, people who enjoy the sport it's nice to interact with a team come together in order to win a match

COBUILD CHECK: variety

A variety of things is a number of different examples of the same thing.

- People change their mind for a variety of reasons.
- The university offers a wide variety of courses.
- They offer advice on a variety of topics.

My review

- I can understand people talking about their favourite game or sport.
- I can understand why people enjoy particular games or sports.
- I can understand descriptions of sports players.
- I can listen for details about sports competitions.

18 MUSIC AND FILMS

Getting started

- 1 What kind of music or films do you like?
- 2 Do you like popular, 'mainstream' music or films?
- 3 Or do you prefer something more unusual?
- 4 Do you like talking about music and films with your friends?

Part A

In this recording, six people talk about their favourite type of music or films.

1

Look at the pictures and number them in the order you hear them.

Useful vocabulary and phrases: types of music and films

Music

blues classical country (and western)

Part B

In this recording, Kerry and Kara talk about the type of films that they like. Kerry likes big 'blockbuster' films, but Kara likes smaller films.

- 1 What does Kerry like about blockbuster films and what does Kara like about smaller films? Choose your answers from the box below and write them under the correct heading.

interesting stories not about everyday life glamorous actors earn a sensible amount of money good acting fun

Why Kerry likes blockbuster films

.....

Why Kara likes smaller films

.....

Kerry says 'I really like blockbuster movies, mainstream movies'.

- A movie is the American word for a film.
- A blockbuster is a film that is very popular and successful, usually because it is very exciting.
- A mainstream movie is a film that most people know or like.

- 2 Read the statements first, then play the recording. Are these statements true or false? Put a tick (✓) to show the correct answer.

	True	False
1 Kerry thinks good stories aren't important.
2 Kerry agrees that the acting in blockbusters is not good.
3 Kerry thinks that blockbuster movies are well made.
4 Kara says she prefers to talk about movies with her friends.
5 Kara says she likes to see movies that other people don't see.

- 3 Here are some expressions from the recording. Listen to them again in context and match them with their meaning on the right.

- | | |
|-----------------------------|---|
| 1 larger than life | a to hate something |
| 2 what (something) is about | b the escape from everyday life |
| 3 getting away from it all | c something obvious and expected |
| 4 can't stand | d something bigger and more important than everyday things |
| 5 so predictable | e to fight back, and do the opposite of what most people do |
| 6 rebel against | f the real meaning or significance behind something |

Part C

In this recording, Graham talks to Nikki about the music he loves. He describes the difference between 'big band' music and a more unusual style that was heard in smaller clubs.

1

Graham mentions six types of music. How many can you hear?

- | | | | |
|---|-------------|---|-------|
| 1 | swing music | 4 | |
| 2 | | 5 | |
| 3 | | 6 | |

Graham talks about 'the more underground stuff'. You can use underground to describe something if it is unusual and is not popular or well known by most people.

2

Listen again to Graham and Nikki and answer the questions below.

- What music is Graham listening to at the moment?
a swing music b dance music c jazz music
- When did that type of music start?
a The 1920s b The 1930s–40s c The 1950s
- How many horn-players did the big bands have?
a 3 or 4 b 5 c maybe 10
- How many horn-players did the smaller bands have?
a 3 or 4 b 5 c maybe 10
- Which one of these musicians played in small band?
a Benny Goodman b Glenn Miller c Louis Jordan
- Why does Graham think people liked the smaller clubs?
a they liked to drink b they were cheaper c they liked to dance
- What style of music was played in the smaller clubs?
a underground b jump blues c rock 'n' roll

What adjectives do you hear for describing the music and musicians that Graham likes? Tick (✓) the words he uses.

rocking	amazing	superb
very hip	marvellous	unbelievably good brilliant	fantastic	absolutely fantastic
great	really cool	wonderful

4 Look at the phrases below. Who says them: Graham or Nikki? Put a tick (✓) in the correct column.

	Graham	Nikki
1 There's a jazz night that we go to.
2 It loses the dance floor.
3 That's a great style of music to play.
4 My boyfriend's really into jazz.
5 What era does he like?
6 I like some of it.

You can say you are into something to mean you are very interested in it. It is an informal expression.

My boyfriend's really into jazz.

5 Read the statements first, then play the recording. Are these statements true or false? Put a tick (✓) to show the correct answer.

	True	False
1 Nikki's boyfriend loves jazz music.
2 Nikki loves all jazz music.
3 Graham thinks you can't dance to some jazz music
4 They all like Ella Fitzgerald.
5 Graham goes to a jazz club in London.

Clear usage: 'lose'

Graham says that after the war, jazz 'loses the dance floor'. He means that people stop dancing to it (because it has become complicated and hard to enjoy).

Nikki says her boyfriend 'just loses himself in' jazz music when he goes to the club. She means that he enjoys it a lot.

My review

- I can recognize different types of music and films.
- I can follow people's likes and dislikes when talking about music and films.
- I can understand whether music or films are more popular or more unusual.
- I can follow discussions about why people like music or films.

19 TRAVEL AND TOURISM

Getting started

- 1 Where did you go on your last trip?
- 2 Where would you like to go next?
- 3 What do you generally like to do on holiday?
- 4 How do you like to travel?

Part A

In this recording, six people talk about a place they visited, or would like to visit.

1

Look at the pictures and number them in the order you hear them.

Tunisia

Greek Islands

Thailand

Maputo

Budapest

Washington DC

2

Read this list of places. Now listen again to the six people. Underline the names of the places you hear.

- | | |
|-----------------|-------------|
| 1 America | 6 Santorini |
| 2 Spain | 7 Hong Kong |
| 3 Mozambique | 8 London |
| 4 Argentina | 9 Paris |
| 5 Sahara Desert | 10 Budapest |

Useful vocabulary and phrases: ways to travel

	walk go / travel on foot		go / travel by bus take the bus cycle / bike go / travel by bike		go / travel by train take the train drive go / travel in the car take the car		sail go / travel by boat / ferry take the boat / ferry
	go / travel by taxi take a taxi		fly go by plane

Part B

Now listen to Lily talking about travel in Argentina.

1

Read the questions before you listen. Are these statements true or false? Put a tick (✓) to show the correct answer.

	True	False
1 There are mountains in the south of the country.
2 Argentina is a beautiful country.
3 Argentina is a small country.
4 It is expensive to fly.
5 Most people travel by train.
6 Bus journeys can be very long.

Clear usage: 'have to' and 'can'

Lily says: 'you have to travel quite long distances'. You use have to when you are saying that someone must do something.

You have to buy a ticket before you get on the train.

She also says: 'you can fly'. If you can do something, you are able to do it or it is possible to do it.

You can take a taxi from the airport.

2 Listen again carefully. Match the items (on the left) with the word or phrase Lily uses to describe them (on the right).

- | | |
|-------------------|--------------------------------|
| 1 landscape | a quite long |
| 2 places to visit | b really beautiful |
| 3 country | c quite expensive |
| 4 distances | d sixteen or twenty hours long |
| 5 flying | e really beautiful |
| 6 journeys | f big |

Clear usage: 'there's' vs 'there're'

Lily says: 'there's mountains in the south'. You usually use there's [= there is] to talk about singular nouns and there're [= there are] to talk about plural nouns:

There're mountains in the south.

But in practice, English speakers often use there's instead of there're. You can do this too, but be careful to always use the correct form when writing.

Listening tip: repetition for emphasis

Lily uses the expression 'really beautiful' twice. By using an expression more than once, the speaker is placing extra importance on that idea.

However, if you do this too often it could sound as though you just don't know how to say something a different way! So don't overuse the technique.

Part C

Now listen to Jen talking about where she likes to go and what she likes to do on holiday.

1 Which one of the three statements best represents her feelings about holidays?

- a She likes to go to the mountains, especially to go skiing.
- b She likes to go to the beach, but she also enjoys sightseeing in the city.
- c She likes to go on long bus journeys and to visit new cities.

Jen talks about being 'on holiday'. In the UK, a holiday is a period of time when you relax and enjoy yourself away from home. In the US, this is called a vacation.

Jen also talks about having 'a week off work'. If you have time off, you do not go to work or school.

COBUILD CHECK: 'sightseeing'

If you go sightseeing or do some sightseeing, you travel around visiting the interesting places that tourists usually visit.

- During our vacation, we had a day's sightseeing in Venice.
- The hotel offers guided sightseeing tours.
- We spent the rest of the day shopping and sightseeing.

2 Now listen again and fill in the gaps in what Jen says. Use the words in the box below.

sightseeing holiday off weekends beach (x2) day

- 1 I like to relax when I'm on
- 2 I spend so much of my working in quite stressful situations.
- 3 I like to just get on a and lie on a
- 4 I also quite like having away to interesting places.
- 5 I quite like just having a couple of days of city or
- 6 If I have a week work, I like to sit on a beach.

Jen mentions 'weekends away'. If you have a weekend away, you leave the place where you live and visit another place for a day or two at the weekend.

3 Jen says that she 'likes' some activities but that she only 'quite likes' others. Listen again to the recording and fill in the table with a tick (✓) below to show how Jen feels about each activity.

	to relax	to lie on a beach	weekends away	sightseeing	different activities	to read a book	to get a tan likes quite likes

My review

- I can understand people talking about where they went on a trip.
- I can understand information about different ways of travelling.
- I can understand people talking about where they would like to go.
- I can understand people's attitudes about holiday activities.

20 SHOPPING

Getting started

- 1 What kind of things do you like to go shopping for?
- 2 What do you like to buy online?
- 3 Where do you prefer to shop?
- 4 Do you prefer to shop in the high street or online?

Part A

In this recording, five people answer the question 'What do you like to buy online?'

1

Look at the pictures, then listen to the recording. Number the pictures in the order you hear them.

holidays

clothes

music groceries

books

2

Listen again to the five people talking about the things they buy online. Fill in the gaps with the word you hear in the recording. Use the words from exercise 1.

- 1 I love buying my online, buying the flights and booking the hotels.
- 2 I find it easier to buy online. I think you can get them delivered very conveniently.
- 3 I never buy CDs any more. I buy all my online.
- 4 I don't have time to go to the supermarket, so I buy all my online.
- 5 So I shop for a lot online, because when I go into stores I struggle to find clothes in my size.

COBUILD CHECK: 'online'

If you do something online, you do it using the Internet.

- I buy most of my clothes and shoes online.
- Users can view the map online.
- You can order tickets online.

Clear usage: 'shop for'

If you shop for something, you look for it before you buy it. You can visit stores or look online.

I like shopping for clothes online.

I prefer to shop for clothes in department stores.

Part B

Now listen to Catherine talking about her experience of shopping.

1

Choose the correct answer for each of the following questions.

- Catherine likes to go shopping for ...
 - clothes
 - books
 - food
- She likes to look round ...
 - supermarkets
 - book shops
 - department stores
- Catherine says department stores have ...
 - everything in one place
 - everything she wants
 - everything you can imagine
- She goes shopping ...
 - once a week
 - once a month
 - once a year
- Catherine says she hates ...
 - crowded shops
 - quiet shops
 - large shops

Catherine says she likes it when the store is nicely laid out. This means the store or the products on sale are arranged in an attractive way.

Useful vocabulary and phrases: clothes shopping high street shopping online shopping

free delivery

logo department store changing room lighting

good / bad customer service

Listening tip: understanding conversations

- Don't try to understand every single word – just listen for key words.
- Use the information given in the exercises to help you.
- Listen several times – each time you listen, you might hear something new.

- 2 Listen again carefully to Catherine. She uses several adjectives. Fill the gaps to complete the sentences. Choose from the adjectives in the box.

careful obvious crowded big exhausting fussy

- 1 It's not too looking round and seeing what you'd like to buy.
- 2 I'm really and about what I buy.
- 3 I really hate shops.
- 4 I'll often buy from the same companies, but I don't like it to be too
- 5 I don't like clothes which have got logos on them or things like that.

Part C

Genevieve and Fliss both live in London. Listen to their conversation about shopping. Genevieve starts the conversation by asking Fliss whether she prefers online or high street shopping.

- 1 Choose the correct answer for each of the following questions.

- 1 Fliss likes online shopping because it's ...
a easier b quicker c cheaper
- 2 Fliss likes online shops that have ...
a big discounts b free delivery c new clothes
- 3 Fliss thinks it's better to try clothes on ... a in a store b in your own home c with friends
- 4 Genevieve likes high street shopping because it's more ...
a interesting b expensive c personal
- 5 Genevieve has experienced what type of customer service?
a only good b mostly good c mostly bad
- 6 Genevieve thinks high street shopping is ...
a busy and fun b boring and dull c relaxing

Genevieve and Fliss talk about shopping in the high street. In the UK, the high street of a town is the main street where most of the shops and banks are. High street shopping means shopping in large shops or stores in a town or city.

Clear usage: 'try on'

If you try on a piece of clothing, or if you try it on, you put it on in order to see if it fits you or if it looks nice.

Try on the shoes to make sure they fit.

2 Listen carefully again to Genevieve and Fliss. Choose the correct word to complete each phrase that they use.

- 1 So, do you prefer city centre / high street / department store shopping or online shopping?
- 2 I like online / electronic / home shopping more.
- 3 I do like online shopping, just because it's easier and I haven't got money / time / energy to shop all the time.
- 4 You get the customer service and you can wear / buy / try on your clothes.
- 5 Yeah, sometimes / occasionally / often bad, but the majority I've experienced is good.
- 6 You can try it on in your own home and you don't have to be in a squashed, hot high street / department store / changing room.

3 Listen again to Genevieve and Fliss. Use what you hear and the answers you gave for exercises 1 and 2 to help you decide if the descriptions are for online shopping or for high street shopping. Put a tick (✓) in the correct column.

	online shopping	high street shopping
1 easier
2 more personal experience
3 safer
4 takes less time
5 customer service
6 more fun
7 free delivery
8 can try on clothes at home
9 busy

My review

- I can understand what things people like to shop for.
- I can understand language about differences between online and high street shopping.
- I can understand people's preferences about where they shop.

TRANSCRIPT

The transcript below is an exact representation of what each speaker on the Listening CD says. No corrections or adaptations have been made.

Unit 1 Family life

Track 01

Example: I've got two younger sisters.

- 1 I have two brothers and one sister; and they're all younger than me.
- 2 I've got two sisters. I'm the youngest.
- 3 I have a twin sister, and an older brother and sister who are also twins.
- 4 I have one brother and one sister, and there's quite a big age gap. My brother's fourteen years older than me and my sister's ten years older than me.
- 5 Um, I've got one sister— younger sister. Um, yes— so just one, there's— there's just two of us, me and my sister.

Track 02

My family are quite spread out as we're all grown up and left home now. Um, but I live quite close to my brother— he lives in London as well. And my older sister, she lives in Salisbury so the three of us are quite close but my twin sister lives in Durham so she's several hours away on the train so I don't see her very much at the moment um ... but uh ... yeah, we try and meet up when we can, especially Christmas and Easter. So ... um ... holiday times, really. And ... um ... we— we still like to play sport together occasionally. When we meet up we'll play tennis or— or squash and ... um ... hockey in particular, really. This— this summer the— the four of us are meeting up for a hockey tournament in Boscombe. Um, yeah, we try and make excuses to to meet up still.

Track 03

My mum lives in the north of England ... um ... and I live in London now, so ... um ... I don't see her very often. Um, my dad ... he lives the furthest away. He lives in India. Um, and I see him once a year. Um, I've got— Yeah, I said I have two sisters. Um, so my older sister ... she lives in the north as well. She lives quite near my mum. Um, and ... uh ... she has two children. Um, she's quite funny. She makes me laugh— and she's— she's really clever and she works very hard.

Um, we get on really well. She's training to be a teacher at the moment. Um, she's going to be a ... religious education teacher. Um, she— she works at a school quite close to her house. Um, I suppose in terms of personality we're quite similar because ... um ... we both like teaching and ... um ... I used to be a teacher. She— Also, she's quite talkative, like me. Um, I think I talk the most, though. Um ... and she's ... um ... very interested in languages. I— I studied Spanish at university and she speaks Italian.

Unit 2 Daily life

Track 04

- 1 I usually get up at about eight o'clock.
- 2 I get up in the morning at 6.30.

- 3 I normally get up at six forty-five in the morning.
- 4 I usually wake up about seven fifteen and get up about seven thirty.
- 5 Sometimes I have to work at night, and when I get up at night, I get up at about five o'clock in the evening.

Track 05

Usually the first thing I would do is put the kettle on to make a cup of coffee. And then I would jump in the shower, have a shave, uh ... sometimes I eat breakfast. But if I'm running late, which is usually the case, I would skip breakfast ... and then just head out toward the train station.

It takes about forty-five minutes to get to work. And then ... uh ... I check my email and get started for the day.

Track 06

I normally get up at six forty-five in the morning. I then have my breakfast and get dressed and leave for work. I catch the train. And I normally get to work at about eight thirty, where I work in a clinic and also in a hospital. I come home from work at about four thirty and I get back and I cook my dinner, and maybe go out for a walk or watch some TV. And I go to bed at about eleven.

Track 07

I'm a journalist on a morning TV programme, so sometimes I have to work at night. And when I get up at night, I get up at about five o'clock in the evening. And I make my dinner. And then I watch some TV and I have a shower and I go to work. And I work until nine o'clock the next morning, so I work all through the night. And then I come home, I have a bit of breakfast, and I go back to bed.

Unit 3 My childhood

Track 08

- 1 I was brought up in the countryside ... um ... so we had a— a really big garden and one summer my brothers and sisters and I built a fantastic tree house.
- 2 When I was five years old I learned to ride a bike and my dad, every weekend, would take me round the block on it.
- 3 One of the things I remember from my childhood was ... um ... when— was when we had our pocket money and then myself and my brother would go to the sweet shop and we would spend our 50 pence each and we would be able to get bags and bags of sweets.
- 4 The house I grew up in was on the same street as the library so after school and at the weekends I used to spend all my time reading in the library.
- 5 Uh, during my childhood I spent every weekend at the beach because my grandparents lived there.

Track 09

I grew up in the countryside ... um ... in the— kind of the middle of North Carolina which is on the east coast of the United States. Um, and yeah, it was— it was a great life actually, growing up in the countryside. Um, when I was a kid, I spent most of my time outside ... uh ... in the woods, camping, hiking, hunting, various things, fishing. Um, I think I had my first— you know, I had my own fishing gear and my own, kind of, pellet gun, and all my own camping gear probably by the age of ten. Um, and we were— it was our escape ... uh ... as— as children to get away from our parents for the weekend, we would go camping in the woods all weekend, and, everyone was perfectly OK with that. That's normal where I come from and I think your parents are quite happy to see you off for the weekend and as— as a— as a child it's— it's brilliant to have your independence, even if it is in the— the middle of the woods. Um ... but yeah, we ... uh ... we— we had a lot of interesting wildlife there. Um, so I spent most of my childhood trying to catch snakes and ... uh ... crayfish and various creatures that live in the woods. Uh, so it was— it was a colourful childhood. Quite a contrast I think to people who live in the city. Um, for me it's— even today it's interesting when I think of people who put so much effort into making a camping trip for the weekend or something. And I know that just as a— as a twelve-year-old boy I could pack a backpack and— and survive all weekend in the woods on very little. Um, so yeah, so, it was a very different kind of life than I think most people are used to, but ... uh ... it was a healthy lifestyle and ... uh ... yeah, I hope that if I have kids one day that they'll have the same opportunity.

Track 10

I grew up in Hong Kong. Um, it's a big city, Hong Kong, and I've always liked cities. Um, we lived in a little house – a bungalow – so it had no upstairs and just a downstairs. And it was on the edge of the city and had a little garden which is quite unusual for Hong Kong because most of Hong Kong is lots of big flats. Um, I really loved it. The weather was just beautiful so because it was warm you were outside most of the year, just playing in the garden and things.

Um, we had lots of friends there, and ... um ... I'm from a big family – I'm one of six children – so there was always— there were always children to play with and we were always outside swinging on swings or playing in the garden. Um, I liked going into the city too. Hong Kong's got so many wonderful markets and that's where we used to do all our shopping for food or clothes – just to walk around the markets and look at all the vegetables and choose the different fish and things for dinner. It was a lovely life. I really enjoyed it.

Unit 4 Life changes

Track 11

- 1 I got my first job in London about five years ago and that was probably the biggest life-changing job so far.
- 2 My life changed greatly when I had— Uh, so I have now one son who is eight years old and ... uh ... one daughter who is four years— years old.
- 3 At the moment I'm single but my life is going to change very soon because I'm getting married in the next few months.
- 4 I recently moved out of my parents' house ... uh ... to the city so it was a big change, ... um ... but it's made me much more independent.
- 5 I used to live in New York but two years ago I moved to England, to London, so that was a major life change – but for the better.

Track 12

Well, before I had children ... um ... my work was everything to me. I loved what I did and ... um ... threw every spare moment I had into my work, really. When I had the children, although my work was still very important to me and I was travelling a lot and ... um ... still was furthering my career. I think my priorities changed and I started to see things in a different way. And ... um ... as they've grown up it's been difficult to juggle and balance out work and home life. Um, and where I used to be perhaps more concerned with ... um ... the hours that I was spending in the office and all that kind of thing, I think now I try to put things in balance and ... um ... not take things too seriously, and not to let things ... uh ... get out of perspective.

Track 13

About ... um ... five or six years ago, I was a lawyer. Um, I found the job a lot of hard work and it was very stressful and it took up a lot of my time over the weekends as well as late evening hours during the week, and I wanted to make a change. So ... um ... I did a course in painting and I did a course in writing. And I started to enjoy it and I started to write books part time while I was working in law, so I'd find some time on a Saturday or something. Um, and then I found I enjoyed it more and more and in the end I decided to leave law. And ... um ... I went back to university and started an art degree and started writing more and more. And now I write books for children and I'm really pleased that I made the change. I enjoy the work a lot more. It's a lot more creative. Um, I'm my own boss ... and I work in the way that I like working— so for me it's been a really successful change.

Unit 5 Your friends

Track 14

- Genevieve Yeah, friends are very important to me. Um, I've had different friends as I've grown up. So I started off with my primary school and secondary school friends that I don't see as often now as I do ... um ... my current friends from uni. Um, they're— yeah— so important to me. Um, it just it'd be a very lonely— lonely world if you didn't have someone outside of your family to ... um ... communicate with.
- Fliss Um, I have one sort of best— best friend that I've had since I was in primary school, actually. Um ... we went through a stage— we were really close growing up, we went to secondary school together, and then we went to uni, we didn't talk very much at all. And I think it was about four years that we were still— we were still close and we'd talk now and then, but it was difficult because we were sort of located in opposite ends of the country, so that was quite a hard time. When you go to uni you meet a lot of people. And people kind of come and go in your lives, but there are always certain people that stay.
- Jeremy So, I'm an expatriate here so I've got a huge network of friends all over the world. Um, I have friends from America, from California, who are my great friends and I'll always keep in touch with them but I just talk to them really online nowadays. Then I have my friends who live in London and they're really— they're guys I see on the weekend really so ... Um, but I also have friends who I live with— who are my housemates— who— I didn't know them before I moved in with them, but they're all international as well, so from France and Spain and Poland. Um, well, without friends I think I'd go crazy. I just wouldn't know to do with myself or my time. So it's good to have people you can relate to and catch up with and express your views and ...
- Catherine My friends are very important to me but some of my friends live quite far away from me now – even in different countries – so I don't see them very often. But when we do see each other, it's like no time has passed.
- Laura I feel very lucky to have such a wonderful group of girlfriends. You know, on the weekends we enjoy hanging out at the beach and getting together for barbecues.
- Chris I try to spend time with friends ... um ... because I think it's important to keep in contact ... but I'm often busy at work so I use social media like Facebook and Twitter. Modern technology's really good for that, I think. Um Skype and Tweet a lot, really— I actually have an old best friend who ... um ... lives a long way away but I Skype him at least twice a week.

Track 15

The weirdest thing about moving to— to London was leaving my friends behind. Um, so I— I try and keep in— try and keep up— try and keep in touch with them as much as possible. Um, even to the fact that ... uh ... they— they visit quite a lot. Uh, sorry, they visit quite a lot. They— they come and use my couch and I use their couch – whenever. Um, I text them once in a while. Um, it's— well— it's not too expensive to— to call them, but ... uh ... I— I think it's nicer, whenever I land in Dublin, ... um ... I— I basically just drop into my friends ... um ... to surprise them. Maybe nine o'clock in the morning— maybe seven o'clock in the morning.

Um, but it's just nice to catch up with people without Facebook sometimes. 'Cause with Facebook you kinda know everything about them, but not ... um ... you don't know anything. Um ... so I— I— I spend a lot of time with them ... um ... and normally ... uh ... just go to some— some— some gigs. Um ... just eat a lot of food, hang out, that's it.

Yeah, since I've moved to London, ... um ... I've— I've got— I've found a lot of international friends as well. Um ... so I'm— I'm friends with ... uh ... a lot of Spanish people. Uh, French, Spanish, Italian, American ... Uh, like, less Irish people than I've ever been surrounded with before, and ... um ... I mean, to be honest ... uh ... with— with— with modern technology ... uh ... you spend a lot of time with your iPhone and Whatsapp and ... uh ... Twitter and Facebook and emails, and ... uh ... basically it's— it's a lot easier to— to keep in contact with people.

Track 16

- Hannah OK so, Hol, what do you think, like, the ingredients for a really good friendship, like, are?
- Holly Um, I think honesty is really important. What do you think?
- Hannah Yeah, I think that's true because ... I'm just thinking, there's a lot of times, before I leave the house, where I'll go up to your room, just to get your opinion on what I'm wearing. Because I know, especially if it's a special occasion, then you'll definitely be honest with me, [yeah] even if— even if I don't want to hear it.
- Holly Yeah, but I wouldn't want you to go out of the house in something that I didn't think you'd be comfortable in, and—
- Hannah Yeah exactly, no, and that's what's really good about having such a close friend – is because you can be honest with me and I won't begrudge you for it.
- Holly Yeah, so I'm the same as well. I know that I can trust you and I can trust your opinion, and I think that's really important.
- Hannah Yeah, and I think that's often why I'll listen to your advice as well – because you know me really well ...
- Hannah ... and therefore it's sort of more difficult to trust them because they don't know me as well. So I think that's something that really comes with time.
- Holly Yeah, I— I agree. And I think being able to give advice and— and listen as well at the same time is important.
- Hannah That's true, yeah, you're a really good listener.
- Holly I think I— I go to you for advice a lot because I know I can trust you and— and hopefully I can give you useful advice as well.
- Hannah Yeah, you do.
- Holly So, I think that's really important ...
- Holly ... Um, what else?
- Hannah Um, well I think something that's particular to us is, because we live together, it's sort of important we— we make time for each other but we also make time for ourselves because it's— it can be very, I suppose, like, tempting to always go and, like, knock on your door as soon as I get in. But sometimes I know that you'll just want time just to read a book or to speak to someone on the phone and I think because we've lived together now for quite a long time, then we're very good at judging when you might want your own space and when you might want to spend time with friends. And so I think that's something that we're pretty good at now.
- Holly Yeah, I agree, I think that's true. I think it's easy to try and do everything together and if I'm seeing another friend, I would love to invite you along, but I know it is important not to be on top of each other all the time.
- Hannah Yeah. Not to always be a pair.
- Holly Yeah ... um ... I think that's— I think that's a really good— a good point.

Unit 6 Your house

Track 17

- 1 I live in an apartment with my husband. It's just us, no pets, no other family, just us.
- 2 Uh, I live with my wife and our two children, and our three chickens.
- 3 So there's three people in my flat. There's me, my husband and my three-year-old son.
- 4 I live in a house with my partner and my two children.
- 5 I share a house with three other people. My flatmates are two French girls and a girl from England.

Track 18

I live in a really nice terraced house with two other girls. I find the biggest challenge in shared living would probably be the distribution of chores. Cleaning up the kitchen, doing the cleaning generally, the washing machine, hanging the washing out—I think when you're living with people you don't know or you've just met—you have different backgrounds, different cultures—I think the best way to deal with that is communication. The best points about living with other people would be making new friends. Um, just having people around when you just want to hang out, have a chat, someone to come home to. And ... uh ... yeah, I think the friendship aspect of it – they have friends, you have friends – it kind of brings two big circles together.

Track 19

I do the cooking, and he does the washing-up afterwards, but when it comes to cleaning we disagree on how to clean the house. When we were living together for two years, I realised that he'd only cleaned the bathroom once, and I said it wasn't acceptable, so I made us get a cleaner, and now we don't argue about the cleaning anymore.

Unit 7 Life in the city

Track 20

I like living in Manchester because it's a small city and you can walk everywhere. There's lots of stuff to do. And there are lots of art exhibitions and lots of things on at the cinema. The worst thing about living in Manchester is there's very little green space. There aren't very many parks near where I live. And if I want to go and sit in the sunshine, I have to get on the train.

Track 21

Yeah, London is just incredible. I mean, the weather's not that great ... um ... uh ... the weather's awful! But the people are fantastic and there's always something happening.

Track 22

I think that what I like most about living in town— living in the city is the ability to explore things very easily. I like going to new coffee shops and new restaurants. And it's easy to meet my friends and to meet new people. I think one of the things I dislike most about living in town is the noise. And I don't like the cost of life in the city ... and also, it's very busy.

Track 23

Living in a big city, there's lots to do on any one day. So maybe on a typical day off I would get up and I would go to the corner shop to buy my breakfast, because I don't need to plan ahead. And then I would— Um, when I've had my breakfast I could go to my local part of town and go to the market there, which is a really vibrant market with lots of clothes and ... uh ... kitchenware and ... uh ... fresh fish, and everything there: mobile phones; anything you could want. I could wander round there. Then in the afternoon I might ... um ... meet some friends for lunch and then I might go to a museum. Or I might have a wander in one of the beautiful parks that London has. That's a real positive of London – it has some beautiful parks.

Unit 8 Life in the countryside

Track 24

- 1 When I think of the countryside I think of animals: sheep and cows.
- 2 When I think of the countryside I think of beautiful rivers and peace and quiet.
- 3 When I think of the countryside I think of— there's no cars ... um ... no pollution.
- 4 I think about horses in a field because that's what I saw from my window when I was growing up.
- 5 I think of long country lanes with flowers and wildlife.

Track 25

I'm from the country originally and often go back to my home town in the New Forest. I think what I like about it is that it's quieter and the air's really clean. There are beautiful views and I live near the coast. So I really like being able to go to the sea and see a horizon. The people are friendly ... Um, there's less to do in the evenings but more to do during the day. I like outdoor activities like hiking and horse-riding so it's the ideal place to go, and going home feels like going on holiday sometimes.

Track 26

I'm from a seaside town called Teignmouth in Devon. I was born in Teignmouth, I went to school— um ... grew up there— lived there for eighteen years. Um, Teignmouth is a typically English seaside town ... um ... so you have the beach, you have a river, you have the countryside. Um, it's maybe 20,000 people. Um ... and it's a great place to grow up. But when you grow up you want to leave! So it's— it's got a slow rhythm and it comes alive in summer a bit more because you get people that come on holiday. They stay in hotels and guest houses, and the fair comes to town and there's the— there's the fiesta in the harbour. But most of the time you know what life is like in Teignmouth, but ... uh ... It's very pretty and I think when you go back to visit now and when you're older you appreciate just how pretty it is, and what a nice town.

Track 27

I think when you live in a city you really miss the— you miss nature. When I was a child you— you know, I took it for granted that when I woke up every morning you'd see the sea, and you'd see trees and you'd see birds, or you'd hear birds. Um, but you don't see that every day when you live in London – when you live in the city – but it makes you appreciate it more. I mean, yes, there are parks. Yes, there are lots of trees in London. But when you live in— when you grow up in the countryside or on the coast you're surrounded by it more. So yeah, I think that's what I miss.

Unit 9 Living in another country

Track 28

- 1 I lived in Japan for a year as part of my university degree.
- 2 I was born in London ... um ... but when I was ... uh ... six years old my parents moved to Hong Kong. And so from the age of six to sixteen – so for ten years – I lived in Hong Kong.

- I lived and worked in Argentina for six months just before I went to university.
- I moved to Germany when I was about two years old with my family ... um ... and I lived there until I was about seven ... uh ... when I was sent to boarding school in the UK.
- I was born in Sydney and then moved to London about five years ago now.

Track 29

When I was seventeen years old ... um ... I left New Zealand and went to Austria which is ... um ... about a 36-hour flight away. And I lived there with a family for one year ... uh ... and I went to school there and this has changed my life completely. Um ... because I learned to speak another language ... um ... and I got to know another culture and I think this has changed ... um ... what has happened in my life and it— my life would be very different if I didn't ... uh ... go away to Austria when I was seventeen. I lived with ... um ... a family— with a mum and a dad and I had a host brother and sister who were eight and ten years old when I was there. And I lived in a very small village with only 620 people. Uh, so it was very different to what I was used to in Wellington. Um, and the people in the village were very friendly and welcoming. There were lots of festivals on all the time, and I didn't get very homesick because everybody was so warm and friendly.

Track 30

A lot of British students between finishing what they call their A levels and moving to university do ... um ... something called a gap year where they often work to ... um ... earn enough money and then sometimes they go travelling. So for my gap year ... uh ... I went to Japan and I stayed with a Japanese family who were friends of friends. Um, and I lived with them and I knew that when I was out there I would be able to teach English and so I'd be able to earn enough money to survive. So, before I went out I worked at a company to earn enough money to pay for the flight. And then when— once I was out there I was able to ... um ... earn money teaching English. Um, it— For me it was ... um ... the first time I'd been away from my family for a long period of time. So I was eighteen and I was away for a whole year and I was living with a Japanese family who were very different from my family and it really ... um ... opened my eyes ... um ... to the differences between Japanese culture – and also made me look at English culture and ...

Track 31

It allowed me to look in depth in— into Japanese culture and also English culture. And made me think about who I am and my identity and why I do things. And it ... um ... really also made me appreciate my family because I found the family that I lived with quite— a little bit difficult. Um, they were very, very strict and they didn't allow their ... um ... children – they had two children of their own, a boy and a girl – and they didn't allow them much freedom or independence whereas my parents ... um ... allowed my sister and I much more independence and I think ... um ... overall I think that's a good thing. And so it made me appreciate my family and family life a lot more.

Unit 10 Getting aroundTrack 32

- Excuse me, is the Apollo theatre ... uh ... around here?
- Excuse me, where is the closest movie theatre here? / Oh, you mean the cinema?
- Hey, excuse me ... um ... do you know where the hospital is?
- Excuse me, I'm meeting a friend at the hotel. Uh, which way is it from here?
- Excuse me ... uh ... I'm trying to get to the sports grounds. How do I get there?

Track 33

- 1 walk for about five minutes
- 2 take the first right
- 3 over the bridge
- 4 past the park
- 5 on the left hand corner
- 6 go straight down this road
- 7 T-junction
- 8 carry on north

Track 34

- 1 Excuse me, is the Apollo Theatre, ... uh ... around here?
Uh yeah, it is. It's— if you carry on north up this road about seven hundred metres and then it's on the left hand corner when you reach the T-junction.
OK, great, thank you very much.
Any time.
- 2 Excuse me, where is the closest movie theatre here?
Oh, you mean the cinema?
Uh, yes— yes.
Right, you go up this road here, [uh huh] past the park, [uh huh] take the first left, [OK] then your ri— take the first right and it's on the left. And it's called Riverside Studios.
Perfect, thank you very much.
You're welcome.
- 3 Hey, excuse me ... um ... do you know where the hospital is?
Oh, yeah, sure, you just go straight down this road for— walk for about five minutes, and then it's on the right. It's a really big grey building – you can't miss it.
OK, great, thank you very much.
You're welcome.
- 4 Excuse me, I'm meeting a friend at the hotel. Uh, which way is it from here?
OK, if you ... um ... walk to the end of the road [uh huh] and take a right, [yep] and it's— it'll be on your left. [OK] You need to find a road called Shortlands.
OK, perfect. Thank you very much.
No problem.
- 5 Excuse me ... uh ... I'm trying to get to the sports grounds. How do I get there?
OK, you're quite a bit— distance— You're gonna, ... um ... have to head back to the bus station [OK] and possibly get a bus directly from there. It's over the bridge, [OK] so be— then it'll be on your right-hand side.

Track 35

[phone rings]

Lorna Hello?

Shawn Hey, how you doing?

Lorna Shawn, hi! Have you arrived?

Shawn I have—I have. I just ... uh ... I got through customs, ... uh ... and passport control. I'm, ... uh ... just, ... uh ... standing here in the middle of the airport. Just ... uh ... I just need some directions to your house.

Lorna Fantastic, fantastic. Oh, it's really easy to get to my place. Um, so, if you come out of customs ... uh ... and you've got your bag and everything— the tube— uh ... if you head for the tube stop, ... um ... you'll see signs for the underground and it'll take you down to Heathrow tube stop ... uh ... down to the Piccadilly line. [OK] Um, can— can— can you see them? Just now, at the side ...

- Shawn Yeah, I— I— I see the tube. Uh ... I— I— I see the tube stops right in front of me. So I'm gonna— I'm gonna take that down right now. Then— and then, once I'm down there, where do I go?
- Lorna Um, so there's only one line, because Heathrow is the— the last stop. So if you take the Piccadilly line, it's the dark blue line ... uh ... [OK] eastbound, that— that'll take you, ... um ... towards— towards me. Uh, you don't have to change. [OK] It's just— it's just, you just sit on the train for about half an hour and it'll take you to Hammersmith – that's my stop. [OK] Um, and then when you get to Hammersmith, the tube station is in a shopping centre, so if you take the exit marked for the bus station, you— [OK] you won't actually have to— you— I don't know— Do you have a lot of luggage with you?
- Shawn No, no, I just have ... uh ... two backpacks, so I'm gonna— I'd rather walk.
- Lorna OK, that, that's fine ... um ... but take the— the exit for the bus station anyway because that's the right exit. And then [OK] you'll come out into the shopping centre. [OK] Uh, if you pass the supermarket, it should be on your left, ... um ... and that'll take you out the right exit of the shopping centre. [OK] Um, when— when you get out of the shopping centre, ... uh ... you come to Fulham Palace Road. [Yep] Um, and that's the main road in— in my area of Hammersmith. You just walk straight down that road. [OK] Um, so, ... uh ... it's about, ... uh ... I think maybe a ten minute walk. You probably walk quite quickly, so it'll be ten minutes at the most.
- Shawn Yeah, it shouldn't be a problem.
- Lorna Um, OK, great. Uh, you'll pass a park on your right, [uh huh] and then ... um ... after about five minutes you'll see a huge, big concrete building – that's the hospital – it's called Charing Cross Hospital – on your left. [OK] Um, then my— my house is about— about two or three minutes' walk from there. Uh, it's called Ellaline Road. It's, [OK] I think it's about four streets after the hospital and it's on the right-hand side. [OK] And my— my house is— it's the second one from the end. It's got a— a blue door. Um, [OK] but if you— if you want, you can just call me when— when you get there.
- Shawn Yeah, definitely. So, just to confirm, [OK] ... um ... I'm gonna take the Piccadilly line all the way to— to ... uh ... Hammersmith, get off at Hammersmith, ... um ... go through the mall, take the bus exit, ... uh ... don't get on the bus – obviously, 'cause I wanna walk – walk all the way down for about ten minutes ... um ... four streets after the hospital make a right ... um ... on the ... uh ... on the road— on the— on the street, and yours is second from the end, ... um ... with, on the left, you said, with a blue door? On the— or on the right?
- Lorna It's on the left.
- Shawn On the left, so second house [yep] from the end on the left with a blue door. And ... um ..., [yep] I'll give you a call when I'm outside.
- Lorna OK, great, fantastic. I can't wait to see you, uh ...
- Shawn Perfect, me neither.
- Lorna Have a safe— safe trip, OK? Bye.
- Shawn Thanks, I'll see you soon. [bye] OK, bye. [Bye]

Unit 11 Studying and learning

Track 36

- I studied music at university.
- I ... um ... I did a degree – a double major – in English and Biology.
- Um, I studied English, ... um ... at university and I really enjoyed it.
- Uh, I went to Argentina for a year, to study at the university in Buenos Aires.
- I studied at the University of Exeter. Um, I did two degrees there – my— my first was a BA in Theology.

Track 37

I recently completed my MBA, which stands for Masters of Business Administration. When I was doing my MBA, I attended full time for about one year at the University of Oxford, in England. You could do an MBA, ... um ... I think pretty much anywhere in the world. Uh, most universities offer the MBA as a two-year course, ... um ... although the one I did was twelve months. I think the work is extremely demanding, especially if you do a shorter one-year course. Um, then the amount of work is very stressful and it is graded very harshly. However, it is also, for some, a— sort of a break from work and a— a chance to learn something new and sort of progress, and a break out of the routine that we all are in. And oftentimes the friendships you form when working so hard can be the most rewarding part, and I am still in touch with my six best friends from business school.

Track 38

I've been playing the guitar for about ten years now, and if someone was wanting to learn, I would recommend just taking some time to learn the chord structures, and then trying to learn some of the— the chords to the music that you like so you can play along with that. I wouldn't really recommend lessons unless you want to get into the more technical side of things, or play really complicated things. I think it's more fun initially to just learn the basics and try to play along with what you like. And you could even get together with some of your friends playing different instruments and— and try to cover some of your favourite music. You should learn probably about six or seven chords, and that's probably enough for most popular songs. Uh, and then you can combine those in a variety of different ways and— and come up with— with lots of different sounds.

Unit 12 Starting work

1

- | | |
|----------------------------|---------------------------------|
| 1 What was your first job? | 4 How long did you spend there? |
| 2 How old were you? | 5 Did you enjoy it? |
| 3 How much were you paid? | |

Track 40

- 1 So my first job was— I worked in a factory and I had to pack smoked salmon. I worked there for— I think I only lasted one day, because I really didn't like it. And I did this work when I was about 16. I was still a student and this was a holiday job to earn some extra money. And the money I got was, I think, three pounds fifty an hour – which was minimum wage at the time.
- 2 My first job I got in High School and I had that job for two years and I worked in a toy store across the street from my High School. It was a very good experience because the people who owned the shop lived down the street from my parents' house and they used to have us round for really big Christmas parties. I think I was paid five dollars and eighty-five cents an hour when I first started.
- 3 My first job ... um ... was a job I got at the age of seventeen ... um ... I believe I worked in a photographic kiosk— let's say in Durban in South Africa. I was paid ... uh ... cash on a weekly basis ... uh ... every Saturday – it was a— a weekend job ... um ... which I was ... uh ... I was doing to earn some pocket money, really. But it was very interesting. Um, I would process ... um ... uh ... camera film for customers who would come in with their cameras and I would process their film ... um ... and print their photos for them. It was a fun job, and I did enjoy it.
- 4 My first ever job was when I was sixteen and I worked at a fast food restaurant. Uh, I worked there for the whole summer holidays, ... uh ... which was about ... uh ... 8 weeks and ... uh ... I got to work in all the areas ... uh ... within the restaurant from serving customers, to making chips, to cleaning up the floors. I was paid, I think, three pounds fifty per hour, and I hated the whole job.

- 5 My first job was when I was sixteen years old and it was as a waitress in an expensive restaurant in the local town. It wasn't a great job because the manager was horrible – he was just so— he shouted all the time and he was always angry. The pay was pretty bad – I think I got about five pounds an hour. But we got tips as well, which was good. And I worked there for I think about a year and half in total.

Track 41

- 1 What experience do you have that is relevant for this role?
- 2 What qualifications do you have?
- 3 Have you worked in a similar job before?
- 4 And can you tell me what you know about the company already?
- 5 Are you able to work in the evenings or the weekends?
- 6 Do you have a valid driving licence?

Track 42

So I'm recruiting at the moment. It's a junior position ... uh ... within a sales team. And so, I'm looking for somebody who is a good communicator and somebody who gets on with people, and also is willing to learn. So, what I look for in my candidate is somebody who's thought about the company that they're going to work for, so they've done some research. Um, that they are open in their communication and that they can express themselves clearly, ... um ... that they can demonstrate a willingness to learn. Experience is important when you're employing somebody, but if they're a young graduate, it's not always essential. It's more that they can demonstrate they can learn. When a candidate turns up, first impressions do count, so it's important to think about how you're dressed. Dressing smartly gives a good impression, to smile, ... um ... a good handshake – a handshake is very important, 'cause it gives a positive impression.

Track 43

Um, looking for a job at the moment is quite difficult ... um ... because there is a lot of unemployment in this country. Um, I am lucky because I have seven years of work experience which means that I don't need to look for very long in order to get a job. Um, I also have worked in the same sector for a long time which means that I— I have a lot of experience. Um, so if a job comes up in that sector I have a good chance of getting it. Um, and I do all the usual things – I've got ... um ... an updated CV which I ... um ... I tailor depending on which job I'm applying for. Um, I have gone to many different agencies ... um ... and that's the way I've got actually all of my jobs in this sector – through agencies. Um, but there's also a very good website called 'Charityjob' which— basically any job that comes up in a charity that is advertised you'll find on that website. Um, looking for a job can be quite hard ... um ... it's ... um ... it's hard to motivate yourself when you don't have structure to your days. Um, so you have to be very disciplined with yourself. You have to make sure that you don't just sleep in and ... um ... watch daytime TV – you actually make sure that you're applying every single day.

Unit 13 Working from home

Track 44

- 1 I look after kids after school. Um, they come to my house and I help them with their homework and make them an afternoon snack.
- 2 I translate technical documents from English into German.
- 3 I prepare the menus and the food for events and parties. Generally, I work at home but sometimes I have to go out to meet clients.
- 4 I work at home or— or really I work in a shed in the garden ... um ... which is where I keep the tools and all the different types of wood that I work with. I make chairs and cupboards and cabinet and things like that.

Track 45

Um, I've been working at— from home for a few years now, and it suits me very well because I've small children, so I have to take them to school. Um, and working from home means I'm nearer to their school and I don't have so much of a long commute into the city. Um, I'm a writer so it's quite easy for me to work from home – I have my computer and I have my study, and I'm set up there. Um, it can be a little bit lonely sometimes. I have to make sure that I make time to have a little walk or maybe just go to the shop and buy something small just to get out of the house sometimes. Um, 'cause you sort of— you feel a bit stuck at your desk otherwise, and you haven't had any fresh air and you haven't said 'hello' to anyone. But often the day goes very quickly because I'm racing through the work to try and get time to pick up the children after school. Um, I find I'm quite productive at home – you have to be quite self-disciplined in that you're the one who makes yourself work. Um, there's no one there telling you what to do, ... um ... which would be easier sometimes! But I enjoy working at home – I like it.

Track 46

I work in an office Monday to Thursday, and on Fridays I work from home ... uh ... because I live quite far from my office. It's about an hour's drive, ... um ... so my company provides remote access so I can connect into the— the network and access all the same files and programs from home that I would be able to if I was in the office which makes it pretty easy to— to keep up with things. It's— It's good 'cause it's a lot more relaxed and ... uh ... gives you time to go out and do errands and other jobs around the house which you don't always have time for. Although I do miss being able to just go up to someone and ask a question, because you kind of rely on email and phone calls which aren't always as good as just getting someone face to face at their desk and asking them what you need to know.

It can be hard to stay motivated, just because there's a lot more distractions around the house than there would be in the office, so I don't know if I could work from home all the time. I don't think I'd get as much done.

Track 47

Yeah, I think it's quite common for people to work from home now because with the internet it's— it's possible for people to— to work just as effectively when they're not in the office. So I think people are happier to let you work from home, if they know you can access everything you need to. And so much communication is done by email now anyway that quite often, even when I'm in the office I don't always talk to people or interact with people. I'd probably send them an email first. So I think it's ... uh ... yeah, it's definitely gonna become more common.

Unit 14 Your career

Track 48

I work for a supermarket, and I work in the finance department. So, I've worked there for four years. And, um, I decided to work there because I wanted to work in finance. Um, I work quite a lot of hours. The days are quite long. Um, I've got a team of six people that I look after, so there's quite a lot of stuff that I have to kind of help them with. Um, so it is quite demanding but it's— I quite like it and it's busy all the time, so that's good. So, at some point in the future, I would like to have children, and I think I will continue to do my job, although I might not do it as much as I do at the moment.

Track 49

I used to be ... uh ... a ma— the manager of a youth hostel, ... uh ... which is a backpackers hostel. Uh, it was quite a challenging job, in that ... um ... I had to deal with customers face to face on a daily basis, ... um ... which sometimes is very pleasant and sometimes is very stressful. Uh, dealing with customers could be quite stressful, because, ... uh ... a lot of my job as a manager was to deal with their complaints. Um, so I didn't have the pleasure of dealing with the people who were happy all the time, but just the people who requested to speak with the manager ... uh ... so that they could complain about ... uh ... whatever issue ... uh ... was troubling them.

Track 50

Um, I'm not far off retirement now. In fact, I could take a pension now – I'm entitled to— ... uh ... entitled to one. Um, there— there may not even be any work come September because universities are cutting down on the staff, so it might be a— a forced retirement! But I don't mind really 'cause I think it'll be nice just to have a less hurried life ... and to do a few— a little bit more of the things you want rather than the things that you feel you have to do.

Unit 15 Your future

Track 51

Right now, I work ... uh ... as an IT professional, which means that I fix computers when they don't work ... uh ... and I go out and— and talk to a lot of people about what they need to do with their computers. Ideally, I would like to move away from London, where I live now. It's a big city with a lot of people, ... um ... but there's not a lot of nature. What I would like about living in the countryside is probably the clean air ... um ... and the easy access to nature. Um, I would like to work as a blacksmith, which means that you take ... um ... metal and make it into tools and different things that you can use. Um, I think it would be very nice to work as a blacksmith because I like creating things with my hands. And when you work on a computer, ... um ... you can't create anything. You don't get anything that you can touch or feel after you are done with your work. Currently it's— it's very easy to sit by a computer and not do a lot. Um, but if you are creating things out of metal, it would be very physical and I would probably be exhausted at the end of the day. I think I would feel much better if— if I were a blacksmith, because of the general exercise you get, because of how you get a sense of accomplishment when you've created something very beautiful.

Track 52

Right now, I live in Los Angeles and I work in real estate selling residential homes. If I could pick anything to do, I'd love to get paid to travel and basically become a professional travel blogger. I would love to create my own website and be able to share and upload photos and— and share my experiences with other people, and places to go, places to eat. You know, sometimes as a tourist, you get caught up in the hype of, you know, things you've read maybe from one travel book or another, but when you're on travel blogging sites you're hearing from so many different people and their different experiences. Maybe you relate to one person more than another and you go, 'wow, you know what? If she liked it, I know I'm gonna like it.' You know, next summer, I'm already planning a trip with my girlfriends to the Croatian Islands and when I get back from there, I— I just can't wait to post all the photos about the places I've been, the places I ate, you know, the nightlife, the beaches. There are so many things ... um ... I would love to talk about. And if I could get paid to do that, I can't think of a better job on the planet.

Unit 16 Food

Track 53

- 1 Favourite food? Uh ... would be pasta. I do enjoy pasta. Um, I like pasta and meatballs. Spaghetti and meatballs.
- 2 My favourite meal is roast chicken because I really enjoy meat, and I enjoy the vegetables and the Yorkshire puddings that come with it.
- 3 I think my favourite food is fruit ... um ... because it's really healthy, and ... um ... my favourite fruit is strawberries.
- 4 My favourite food is Thai food and particularly curry— red curry from Thailand is my— is my favourite food.

Track 54

On ... um ... Saturday mornings I make pancake mixture for my children. Um, I make it partly because it reminds me of my own childhood – my mother used to make pancakes for us when we were small and ... um ... my children love having them. It's quite an easy recipe to— to follow. Um, you just need around 225 grams of plain flour ... uh ... you need a tablespoon or so of baking powder, a bit of sugar, maybe about a teaspoon. 2 eggs. Um, you have to melt some butter, about 30 grams or so of butter is fine. And 300 ml of milk. And you mix them altogether until it makes a smooth white mixture. And then ... um ... you heat a pan, you put a little bit of butter in and you pour maybe two or three tablespoons of mixture in. And then you wait for bubbles to form on the top of the mixture and then you flip the pancake over. Um, my children really love it ... um ... and they cover their pancakes with maple syrup, or honey, or chocolate spread, or sometimes ... um ... lemon and sugar. And they— they— they always look forward to Saturdays and they can't wait till I make the pancakes.

Track 55

My favourite food, hands down, is Mexican food and it's so difficult to find it where I live now, the trade-off being that you get amazing Indian food. But, absolutely, Mexican food, when I go back to the U.S. I just gorge on it. I think Mexican food is so good because— people have made the assumption that it's just hot, and it's not. There's a real depth of flavour there. It's usually— It has to be very fresh ingredients, a lot of bright tastes. Um, there are spices there but it's not about fire – it's about depth. Um, oftentimes people think that it's just layers and layers of beans and meat but it's not – it's very veggie-heavy. Um, I like the fact that it's very mobile food and that it kind of goes with a little bit of everything.

Unit 17 Games and sports

Track 56

- 1 The sport I most enjoy is running. I do quite a few triathlons, but running is my favourite aspect.
- 2 Well, sports is huge for girls in America. Um, so we grow up from the young age of four and five playing soccer, so that's my favourite sport.
- 3 Golf is my first love, really. I have enjoyed it for some time, and I try and play ... um ... twice a week if I can.
- 4 Squash has become a huge favourite. So, love playing squash, and it's a great way to socialize as well, with friends.
- 5 Uh, I really love football ... uh ... and my favourite player is Zinedine Zidane.
- 6 I think my favourite thing about sports, which is not playing them, but watching them ... um ... is watching baseball – because traditionally in America girls don't play baseball, but every family has its own allegiance to their, you know, local team. And for me it was the Yankees, and I love rooting for them.

Track 57

At the moment, I play hockey in a hockey team. Um, it tends to be just over the winter because that's when the hockey season, ... um ... is. But I really enjoy that and I like playing in a team. Um, so I like playing team sports because ... um ... it's nice to interact with a team and kind of feel like you're all working towards the same— same goal. Um, I did used to be a member of a gym but I found it quite difficult to motivate myself to go. And ... um ... I kind of prefer being in a team sport because you're kind of exercising without really realising it – you're just sort of having fun in a team sport, so that's why I like playing hockey.

Track 58

Uh, rugby is my favourite sport. And ... uh ... I think that's because ... um ... it's a sport which ... uh ... generates great team spirit. Um, uh ... there's ... uh ... there's a place in rugby for ... um ... every kind of player. Uh, tall, thin players; small, fat players; fast players; strong players. And, um ... uh ... it means that you get ...

uh ... a great variety of ... um ... of people who enjoy the sport ... um ... who all come together ... um ... in order to— to win a— a match ... uh ... together as a team. I generally ... uh ... watch the Six Nations every year. The Six Nations, ... uh ... rugby tournament is an annual tournament that involves teams from ... uh ... England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, France and, ... uh ... most ... uh ... recently joined, Italy.

Unit 18 Music and films

Track 59

- 1 I like listening to music where a group of people sing together ... um ... in ... uh ... often a church setting.
- 2 I like war films because ... uh ... I'm a big fan of history and they— they help to bring it to life.
- 3 I like dance music. Um, the— I mean, I guess partly I like the social side – going out to clubs with friends and stuff and just getting lost in the music and dancing really till, you know, till the morning.
- 4 I like ... um ... horror movies. I like them because they scare me and there's something about them that's really funny as well because they're fake. And there's monsters that jump out at you, and they're good fun to watch with friends.
- 5 I like music that tells a story ... um ... has instruments like guitars and violins 'cause ... um ... they're very natural sounding and passionate and vivid and it seems to me that that's what music's about.
- 6 I really like films that make me laugh, that are light-hearted and have a bit of romance in.

Track 60

- Kerry I really like blockbuster movies, mainstream movies, because they're really escapist. They're larger than life, they're really fun, and they're just, to me, what the movies are about – Hollywood, glamour, again larger than life, bigger than reality and just, getting away from it all for about two hours.
- Kara I completely disagree with you. I can't stand the big blockbuster films. There's just too much action and it's so predictable. Um, when I go to the movies I wanna be absorbed in a beautiful storyline with really good actors that aren't earning twenty millions dollars. Um, that there's a real core to the movie – a core story.
- Kerry I agree with the core story, I think it's a really good point and really good actors. But I don't think a blockbuster precludes those things. I think that generally once you get to blockbuster level the people who are working on the movie are all so talented and well paid because there's a kind of guarantee that it's gonna be really entertaining at that level.
- Kara Maybe I just hate going to see what everyone else is seeing and everyone else is talking about so I rebel against going to that one movie that's making all the money.

Track 61

- Graham Right now I'm listening to a lot of swing music. It's just amazing. It's very hip at the moment as well. Um, if you listen to a lot of ... um ... dance music, there's a lot of swing being put in to dance music at— at the moment. Um, yeah the music I listen to first came out in the United States – America – in the 1930s and 40s and had developed from ... uh ... jazz music in the 1920s. The— the band set-up, typically, might be ... um ... ten horns, ... uh ... a drummer, singer— but then there was the— the more underground stuff ... uh ... in the— in the bars. Um, the 'speakeasies' just have fewer horns, maybe three or four horns, ... uh ... a drummer, ... uh ... and a singer.
- Well-known names might be ... uh ... Benny Goodman, Glenn Miller ... uh ... for the big stuff. And then the small stuff ... uh ... is some great, great guys – uh ... Louis Jordan, just check him out, absolutely fantastic. Uh, Cab Calloway. Brilliant stuff. 'Cause you know big band? It is fantastic, ... um ... but that's very much the clean side of it. You get into the ... uh ... the jitterbug stuff, the small bands, 'cause not everyone can afford to have a big band or go to clubs where there were ... um ... you know, loads of, ... um ... instruments and stuff so in the small bars, 'Jump Blues' is the sort of like underground version of swing in the 1940s. That is just unbelievably good. And all the Rock 'n' Roll that came out – all your Chuck Berry, Elvis – it is Jump Blues.

- Nikki My boyfriend's really into jazz and everything so ...
- Graham Well, jazz— for me— does it— what era does he like? Do you know?
- Nikki Um, he likes ...
- Graham Has it got a tune?
- Nikki He— oh— he likes all the kind of ... um ... Ella Fitzgerald and all that kind of stuff.
- Graham Brilliant, yeah that's the good stuff, 'cause after the Second World War when 'bop' came, it just gets— it loses the dance floor. Uh, the— Ella Fitzgerald is just absolutely wonderful.
- Nikki Yeah, he's really into it. There's a— there's a jazz night that we go to in London Bridge every month that he just adores, and just loses himself in it every night. I like some of it but not the really hardcore stuff that you almost can't feel the rhythm in anymore because it's so all over the place.
- Graham Well there— I mean, that's a great ... uh ... style of music to play, but not to listen to.

Unit 19 Travel and tourism

Track 62

- 1 Recently, ... um ... I went to visit my friend who lives in Mozambique. He lives in the capital, Maputo, ... um ... not far from the sea.
- 2 I went to Tunisia about two months ago. Um, we had a really nice camel ride out in the Sahara Desert.
- 3 My favourite vacation that I took recently was a trip to the Greek Islands. We were there for about ten days and we visited three islands— um, Santorini, Paros and Mykonos.
- 4 I used to work in export sales, so I travelled a lot to ... uh ... Thailand, Taiwan, Hong Kong, Japan, and other Asian countries.
- 5 I recently went to the east coast of America with a friend and had the most amazing time. Uh, my friend and I travelled from Boston, to Washington DC, to New York.
- 6 Um, I recently went to Budapest with my mother. So we got to walk along the river and go to some bathhouses, and ... um ... see a castle.

Track 63

In Argentina there's lots of really beautiful landscape. So there's mountains in the south, and ... um ... really beautiful places to visit. Um, but because it's such a big country, you have to travel quite long distances. You can fly, but it can sometimes be quite expensive. So most people travel by bus ... um ... because there aren't any trains. Um, so, some of the bus journeys are sixteen or twenty hours long.

Track 64

I like to relax when I'm on holiday, I think because I spend so much of my working day in quite stressful situations, so I do like to just get on a beach and lie on a beach. Um, but I also quite like having weekends away to interesting places, so— you know, European cities or even places in the UK that I've never been to before. I quite like just having a couple of days of city or sightseeing or— or doing different activities, but— no, when I— if I have a week off work, I like to sit on a beach, read a book, get a tan ...

Unit 20 Shopping

Track 65

- 1 I don't have time to go the supermarket, so I buy all my groceries online.
- 2 I never buy CDs any more. Um, I buy all my music online.

- 3 I love buying my holidays online – buying the flights and booking the hotels ...
- 4 Um, so I shop for clothes a lot online ... um ... because when I go into stores I struggle to find ... um ... clothes in my size.
- 5 I find it easier to buy books online. I think you can get them delivered very conveniently.

Track 66

One of my favourite things to do is to go shopping for clothes. Um, I like to look round department stores. I often go back several times to look at the same thing. The great thing about department stores is that they have everything in one place, so it's not too exhausting looking round and seeing what you'd like to buy. Um, I probably go shopping once a month. I might not buy something every month but I do like to go and have a look around. I'm really fussy and very careful about what I buy. I tend to go back to the same places, because I really like it when the store is really nicely laid out and it's more of an experience to go shopping. I really hate ... um ... crowded shops, or where they haven't displayed the things properly. Um, I do like some brands and I'll often buy ... um ... from the same companies, but I don't like it to be obv— too obvious. I don't like clothes which have got big logos on them or things like that.

Track 67

- Genevieve So, do you prefer high street shopping or online shopping?
- Fliss I like online shopping more. I— don't get me wrong – I do like shopping, in the high street, in Oxford Street, that kind of thing. But I do like online shopping, just because it's easier and I haven't got time to shop all the time. There are certain really good online shops as well, that have free delivery.
- Genevieve I love high street shopping. [Oh, OK] I— I think it's more person— uh, personal. Um, you get the customer service and you can try on your clothes before you bring it back.
- Fliss But good customer service, do you get?
- Genevieve Yeah, occasionally bad, but the majority I've experienced is good. [It's OK] And I think it's more— it's more personal and you— you get a feel for the clothes and that— I think that whenever I have bought things online, I end up bringing it— bringing it back [Yeah] because it doesn't fit or it's not quite right and it doesn't quite look like the picture.
- Fliss But then— but then I just think you get the safety— And you can try it on in your own home and you don't have to be in a squashed, hot changing room, where it's horrible lighting, and—
- Genevieve But that's the fun of it! [Oh] I love the busy— the busyness of it. It's fun. I think it's really fun. It's— Yeah, you get that kind of personal experience, and it's— it's just a nice experience.
