Exercise 2*A*Problem:

... there is sometimes a lack of understanding and respect between students and teachers.

Solution:

... have a teacher-student swap day once a semester.

Benefits:

... students could see what teachers have to do to prepare for a class.

... teachers could learn new ideas from students and how students learn best.

... students could find out if teaching is something they'd like to do as a career.

How the solution will be implemented:

Each semester, every teacher would become a student and let two students take over the class.
